Report Communists Flee City—Hope To Mediate Longshoremen's Strike

SAN FRANCISCO, July 20.—With the hectic, four-day general strike declared off, industrial clouds lifted in the San Francisco bay district today as 122,000 union workers went back to their jobs and swung the city back to its normal pace of activity.

Encouraged by this development, mediators were striving to effect a settlement of the waterfront walkout which brought about the sympathetic general strike.

The wheels of business whirred again. San Francisco had taken an estimated loss of $150,000,000 and was glad to get going once more after having been shackled for four eventful, never-to-be-forgotten days.

Back To Normal

Theaters were open, taxicabs running, hotels and barber shops operating as usual and the big department stores doing a rush business. The ominous quiet of a few days ago had given way to the joyful clamor

IN DAKOTA GOVERNORSHIP BATTLE

With the legislature summoned to special session at Bismarck, N. D., to act on the ousting of Gov. William Langer by an order of the state supreme court, the state has been plunged into political turmoil over the battle between Langer and Lieut. Gov. Ole Olson for the governorship. Langer was declared disqualified following conviction in federal district court on charges of conspiracy to defraud the government by soliciting political funds from relief workers. An order issued by Olson revoking the special legislative session went unheeded, most members of the two houses being adherents of Langer. Governor Langer, at his desk; Ole Olson, his rival, and the capitol at Bismarck, are shown above.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

Janitors of the New Castle schools are engaged in annual repairs and renovations in the schools at the present time. One of the jobs being done is washing of the walls of the administration building. The accumulation of smoke and grime in the past several years has turned the walls almost to a mahogany and the janitors are restoring the walls to their former color.

New Castle folks sat around and sweltered until after midnight, when a cooling breeze started in, preceding the thundershower. As the storm broke, windows had to be lowered and many forgot to open them again, the effect of the cooler atmosphere being lost by many. There was another storm around 6 o'clock this morning.

People should be extremely cautious about wading into Slippery Rock creek, unless they know exactly the depth of the stream. There are many treacherous spots, where the current is swift and the stream bed contains those slippery rocks from which the creek gets its name. Two persons who were in wading in the creek, unable to swim, have lost their lives already this season.

A Croton resident said this morning: "Now that the lower end of the wall along the Croton hillside has been completed, I wonder what the Pennsylvania Railroad Company will do to make the crossing safe for pedestrians." He said that pedestrians are obliged to walk in the cartway at the foot of the hill to cross the tracks.

SCORCHING, RECORD HEAT KEEPS GRIP ON MID-WEST

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, July 20.—Scorching, record-breaking heat held sway over the plains states today, deepening the tragedy of drought.

Human suffering was intense and crop damage widespread in temperatures that ranged above the 100 degree level in several states. At Knoxville, Pa., the mercury yesterday climbed to 113 degrees.

According to the official weather forecast there was little hope for relief within the next 48 hours.

A baking sun and scorching winds from the south-west intensified the already acute drought conditions that prevail in the agricultural middle west. Herds of thirsting cattle were dying. Crops withered to destruction in dusty fields that farmers have deemed too dry for cultivation.

Chicago's millions suffered with an official reading of 96 degrees which

Oregon Governor Calls Out Troops

Moves To Prevent Trouble As General Strike Is Threatened

MILITIA ENCAMPED OUTSIDE PORTLAND

(International News Service)

PORTLAND, Ore., July 20.—As 1,000 Oregon national guard troops staked out their tents and assembled warlike equipment today on the p...ins of Camp Withycombe, near here, threat of a general strike hung darkly over Portland.

The mobilization order came as a bolt out of clear skies as Governor Julius L. Meier moved to forestall bloodshed and rioting on Portland's waterfront when shippers declared they intended to proceed with wholesale loading of vessels in Portland's strike clogged harbor.

First violence occurred on the waterfront today when an explosion tore heavy railings from the fence around huge stacks of railroad ties

BISMARCK, N. D., July 20.—Supporters of William A. Langer, declared ousted as governor by the supreme court, announced today that Langer would address the special session of the state legislature at noon today. This indicated, observers said, that Langer had found enough votes to organize the senate.

Bismarck, N. D., July 20.—Extreme tenseness marked today's situation in Bismarck, where there are two governors claiming authority, national guardsmen on duty and federal troops at Fort Lincoln.

Developments hinged on the outcome of the attempt to get the state legislature into session under the call issued by William Langer, the governor deposed by the State supreme court. Langer was charged with soliciting federal relief workers' funds for campaign purposes and sentenced by the federal district court to 18 months in prison and $10,000 fine.

The house, controlled by Langer forces, met yesterday and announced to both Langer and acting Governor Ole H. Olson, who has peacefully taken possession of the governor's office, that it had met and was ready to do business.

Senate Is Key

But in the senate, there were but 19, at the most, of the 49 members present, and they di[d] not organize under the special call.

Morning Fire Destroys Barn

Lightning Hits John Pherson's Barn In Washington Township

ESTIMATE LOSS IS AROUND $3,500

Fire by lightning totally destroyed the barn of John L. Pherson of John L. Pherson of Washington township at 6 o'clock this morning, causing a loss of approximately $3500. The barn and silo burned to the ground, there being no chance of saving them whatever.

Inside the barn were about two tons of hay, two pigs, some straw, a potato digger, a harrow and a wagon, all of them destroyed. Fortunately Mr. Pherson did not have his oats or hay or current crop of wheat in the barn.

The lightning struck during the heavy storm which swept the county early today. Mr. Pherson and his family were in bed when the lightning hit and by the time they got to the barn it was a mass of flames.

The farm is located on the Pinchot road leading from Harlansburg to Rich Hill.

Unable To Swim, Husband Plunges Into Deep Hole At McConnell's Mills

SECOND DROWNING IN SLIPPERY ROCK

Tragedy Occurs On Thursday Evening At Little Family Outing

Slippery Rock creek claimed another victim last evening, when L. Nelson Hamilton, aged 35 years, of Harrison avenue, Swissvale plunged into the water to rescue his wife, Winifred, who had slipped off a rock into the current, and was drowned in the swift current of Slippery Rock creek at McConnell's Mills.

Hamilton, his wife and two small children, and W. A. Chamberlain, of Perrysville road, Pittsburgh, had come to McConnell's Mills to spend the afternoon. They were in wading about 6:45 in the evening, when Mrs. Hamilton slipped off a rock. She screamed for help and her husband although unable to swim plunged into the stream, not knowing the depth of the water at the point. He sank beneath the surface and drowned.

COUNTY MOTOR FATALITIES SHOWING BIG INCREASE

Automobile fatalities in Lawrence county, which showed a remarkable decline last year, have increased to the point where there were but three less during the first six months of the year, than there were all during the year of 1933, the records of Coroner Orville Potter show.

Motor vehicle fatalities in 1933 were 18, his figures show, which was a decrease over 1932. During the first six months of 1934, there were 15 fatalities, with two more since that date.

If motor vehicle accidents occur at the same rate that they have during the first half of the year, it is likely that all records will be exceeded.

In connection with these fatal accidents, carelessness and excessive speed has been shown in most instances, the reports of the coroner reveal, very few being due to purely accidental causes.

Conners Refuses To Sign It; Both Judges Sign The Order Refusing It

County Commissioners P. O. Elder and F. R. Woods are apparently determined not to give up the fight for a new Lawrence county court house, until they have exhausted every means at their command. This morning they presented to Judge R. L. Hildebrand and James A. Chambers, a petition asking them to revoke the order made yesterday refusing their latest recommendations for a site, and call in a judge from another county to help them decide the matter.

Refuse Petition

In the event that they could not agree on what judge to call in, it was suggested that they leave the matter of the appointment of a third judge to the supreme court. Judges Hildebrand and Chambers both signed an order refusing to sign the petition, so that it was presented to the court signed by Elder and Woods.

County Commissioner Conner stated this morning that he did not know anything about the petition until it was presented to him to sign. He is of the opinion that it is not necessary to call in another judge.

Power Company Lineman Hurt

Burned By Electrical Flash While Clearing Trouble At West Pittsburg

TROUBLE CAUSED BY SEVERE STORM

John F. Papst, Fairmont avenue extension, lineman for the Pennsylvania Power Company, received serious burns about the right arm and shoulder early this morning due to an electrical flash at the West Pittsburg substation of the Pennsylvania Power Company.

Mr. Papst, with W. H. Luikhart, line foreman, had gone to West Pittsburg to clear up trouble caused by the lightning storm which had interrupted service to that section. He had climbed to a platform about 30 feet above the ground to examine the 22,000 volt switches, when a severe arc flashed over him. He fell to the ground but due to the fact that the fall was broken by wires, he received no broken bones. He was rushed to the New Castle hospital where his condition is reported as fair.

Bucket Brigade Unable To Save Building; House Over 100 Years Old

One of the few remaining old log houses in this section of the state was destroyed by fire early this morning, when lightning started a blaze which razed the home occupied by Angelo Rotullo and family on the Mt. Jackson-Edenburg Road, just outside Edenburg. The loss is approximately $1,000.

The lightning bolt did not strike the house, but hit a tree nearby and the bolt followed a wire clothesline to the garage and chickencoop in the rear, exploding a barrel of oil, which was showered over the back of the house.

Conners Refuses To Sign It; Both Judges Sign The Order Refusing It

County Commissioners P. O. Elder and F. R. Woods are apparently determined not to give up the fight for a new Lawrence county court house, until they have exhausted every means at their command. This morning they presented to Judge R. L. Hildebrand and James A. Chambers, a petition asking them to revoke the order made yesterday refusing their latest recommendations for a site, and call in a judge from another county to help them decide the matter.

Refuse Petition

In the event that they could not agree on what judge to call in, it was suggested that they leave the matter of the appointment of a third judge to the supreme court. Judges Hildebrand and Chambers both signed an order refusing to sign the petition, so that it was presented to the court signed by Elder and Woods.

County Commissioner Conner stated this morning that he did not know anything about the petition until it was presented to him to sign. He is of the opinion that it is not necessary to call in another judge.

Lightning Strikes Circut Breaker

Severe rain, wind and electrical storm of last night and early this morning caused considerable damage by direct lightning hits at various points, according to Pennsylvania Power system attaches.

A circuit breaker was damaged at the Cedar street substation and a transformer, controlling the street light circuit was put out of service at the West Washington street substation.

Transformer fuses were burned out at various places on the company's system. The heavy downpour of rain was a severe handicap in clearing up the trouble but practically all service was restored at six a. m. today.

Burned By Electrical Flash While Clearing Trouble At West Pittsburg

TROUBLE CAUSED BY SEVERE STORM

John F. Papst, Fairmont avenue extension, lineman for the Pennsylvania Power Company, received serious burns about the right arm and shoulder early this morning due to an electrical flash at the West Pittsburg substation of the Pennsylvania Power Company.

Mr. Papst, with W. H. Lukhart, line foreman, had gone to West Pittsburg to clear up trouble caused by the lightning storm which had interrupted service to that section. He had climbed to a platform about 30 feet above the ground to examine the 22,000 volt switches, when a severe arc flashed over him. He fell to the ground but due to the fact that the fall was broken by wires, he received no broken bones. He was rushed to the New Castle hospital where his condition is reported as fair.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 20.—With the hectic, four-day general strike declared off, industrial clouds lifted in the San Francisco bay district today as 122,000 union workers went back to their jobs and swung the city back to its normal pace of activity.

Encouraged by this development, mediators were striving to effect a settlement of the waterfront walkout which brought about the sympathetic general strike.

The wheels of business whirred again. San Francisco had taken an estimated loss of $150,000,000 and was glad to get going once more after having been shackled for four eventful, never-to-be-forgotten days.

Theaters were open, taxicabs running, hotels and barber shops operating as usual and the big department stores doing a rush business. The ominous quiet of a few days ago had given way to the joyful clamor

IN DAKOTA GOVERNORSHIP BATTLE

With the legislature summoned to special session at Bismarck, N. D., to act on the ousting of Gov. William Langer by an order of the state supreme court, the state has been plunged into political turmoil over the battle between Langer and Lieut. Gov. Ole Olson for the governorship. Langer was declared disqualified following conviction in federal district court on charges of conspiracy to defraud the government by soliciting political funds from relief workers. An order issued by Olson revoking the special legislative session went unheeded, most members of the two houses being adherents of Langer. Governor Langer, at his desk; Ole Olson, his rival, and the capitol at Bismarck, are shown above.

SCORCHING, RECORD HEAT KEEPS GRIP ON MID-WEST

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, July 20.—Scorching, record-breaking heat held sway over the plains states today, deepening the tragedy of drought.

Human suffering was intense and crop damage widespread in temperatures that ranged above the 100 degree level in several states. At Knoxville, Pa., the mercury yesterday climbed to 113 degrees.

According to the official weather forecast there was little hope for relief within the next 48 hours.

A baking sun and scorching winds from the south-west intensified the already acute drought conditions that prevail in the agricultural middle west. Herds of thirsting cattle were dying. Crops withered to destruction in dusty fields that farmers have deemed too dry for cultivation.

Chicago's millions suffered with an official reading of 96 degrees which

Well, I went to San Francisco and I tell you we are not so "nutty" under stress as you might think. It was as quiet as the British. The only thing went haywire was the headlines in the out-of-Frisco papers.

I hope we never live to see the day when a thing is as bad as some of our newspapers make it. There is lots of sense in this country yet.

National Guard Is On Duty At Bismarck Due To Political Battle

BISMARCK, N. D., July 20.—Supporters of William A. Langer, declared ousted as governor by the supreme court, announced today that Langer would address the special session of the state legislature at noon today. This indicated, observers said, that Langer had found enough votes to organize the senate.

Bismarck, N. D., July 20.—Extreme tenseness marked today's situation in Bismarck, where there are two governors claiming authority, national guardsmen on duty and federal troops at Fort Lincoln.

Developments hinged on the outcome of the attempt to get the state legislature into session under the call issued by William Langer, the governor deposed by the State supreme court. Langer was charged with soliciting federal relief workers' funds for campaign purposes and sentenced by the federal district court to 18 months in prison and $10,000 fine.

The house, controlled by Langer forces, met yesterday and announced to both Langer and acting Governor Ole H. Olson, who has peacefully taken possession of the governor's office, that it had met and was ready to do business.

Senate Is Key

But in the senate, there were but 19, at the most, of the 49 members present, and they did not organize under the special call.

Morning Fire Destroys Barn

ESTIMATE LOSS IS AROUND $3,500

Fire by lightning totally destroyed the barn of John L. Pherson of John L. Pherson of Washington township at 6 o'clock this morning, causing a loss of approximately $3500. The barn and silo burned to the ground, there being no chance of saving them whatever.

Inside the barn were about two tons of hay, two pigs, some straw, a potato digger, a harrow and a wagon, all of them destroyed. Fortunately Mr. Pherson did not have his oats or hay or current crop of wheat in the barn.

The lightning struck during the heavy storm which swept the county early today. Mr. Pherson and his family were in bed when the lightning hit and by the time they got to the barn it was a mass of flames.

The farm is located on the Pinchot road leading from Harlansburg to Rich Hill.

Pick Beaver And Mahoning Canal Route

Army Engineers Say This Route Is Most Feasible One For Waterway

Following a series of hearings in various localities during the spring, the board of engineers for rivers and harbors, has handed down its decision, recommending the selection of the Beaver-Mahoning route, over the three other routes projected.

Those discarded as unfeasible, are the Allegheny and French Creek route, to the vicinity of Erie; via the Scioto and Sandusky Rivers from Portsmouth, O., to Sandusky, O.; and via the Miami and Maumee rivers from the vicinity of Cincinnati, O., to Toledo, O.

Makes Five For Camp Rentz —Need 10 To House Camp's Enrollment

Another frame cabin for Camp Fred L. Rentz of the New Castle Y. M. C. A., the fifth so far, was donated today by Jack Gerson, merchant.

In the wooded Slippery Rock creek camp grounds workmen have already erected four, three of them gifts of generous citizens and one of them built by the Y.

For the comparatively small cost of $200, the cabins are being erected to replace the tent equipment used at the camp since it opened. The sturdy cabins allow for more convenience and, when heavy storms rage, may be completely closed to keep out the elements.

It is the hope of the Y. M. C. A. that five more may be erected this season. A row of about 10 will care for a capacity attendance there.

COUNTY MOTOR FATALITIES SHOWING BIG INCREASE

Automobile fatalities in Lawrence county, which showed a remarkable decline last year, have increased to the point where there were but three less during the first six months of the year, than there were all during the year of 1933, the records of Coroner Orville Potter show.

Motor vehicle fatalities in 1933 were 18, his figures show, which was a decrease over 1932. During the first six months of 1934, there were 15 fatalities, with two more since that date.

If motor vehicle accidents occur at the same rate that they have during the first half of the year, it is likely that all records will be exceeded.

In connection with these fatal accidents, carelessness and excessive speed has been shown in most instances, the reports of the coroner reveal, very few being due to purely accidental causes.

CHARGES DISCRIMINATION AGAINST STATE

Waters Presents Relief Problem

State Treasurer Is Against Demand For Special Legislature Session

FEDERAL RELIEF TO STATE UNFAIR

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, July 20—Accusing the federal emergency relief administration of a "sustained, systematic and astounding discrimination" against Pennsylvania, State Treasurer Charles A. Waters in an open letter to his fellow members of the state emergency relief, board today offered five methods by any one of which he said he believed a special legislative session to provide relief funds might be avoided.

Water's five plans in relief were to:

1. Notify the federal government the state proposed to meet the relief problem at the next regular session of the legislature in January and will depend in the meantime upon federal funds.

2. Transfer or borrow the money from the motor fund.

3. Advance the money to the state liquor stores from the motor fund or otherwise in anticipation of the liquor board's profits at the end of the year.

4. Advise the counties and poor boards to exercise their own borrowing powers to obtain the necessary funds.

5. Allott any money obtained by anticipation of the liquor profits to the various counties and obtain the additional amount needed to meet the federal allocation from the county poor boards.

Waters, who was delegated by the relief board to study the situation, made public his findings in advance of the next meeting of the board at the National Guard Camp in Mt. Gretna on Monday in order to permit the board members to study the proposals before the meeting, he said.

Not Getting Fair Break

With his proposals Waters submitted a mass of data which he said showed Pennsylvania was not receiving relief funds in proportion to the federal tax payments of its residents.

Reviewing the ultimatum of Harry L. Hopkins, federal relief administrator, that Pennsylvania must reassume a share of the relief burden after September, Waters declared.

"To my mind the situation resolves itself into one of two contingencies, either we as public officials find a way out of the difficulties or our taxpayers must be put on the spot by convening a special session of the legislature."

Declaring he was strongly opposed to a special session, Waters said his conclusions were based on the following premises:

"In the first place, we all realize the commonwealth cannot borrow any money under the constitution until 1938. Again, I believe it would be impossible to realize upon any new taxing statute for several month after a special session. Yet, it is evident from the ultimatum of the federal authorities that it is cash on the table that is expected from Pennsylvania since no consideration is now given to our appropriation liability of $20,000,000 from the state stores fund not yet realized.

"Furthermore, the costs alone of a special session may take $500,000 of the taxpayer's money, yet within five months of the time a special session could be convened, the regular session of the legislature will be under way at Harrisburg.

"And, finally, I am impressed with the fact that it is the federal government which is forcing more taxes on our people without sufficient time for deliberation, and at the same time it is apparent from the records of the federal emergency relie administration that there has been a sustained, systematic and astounding discrimination against the people of this state.

PICK BEAVER AND MAHONING CANAL ROUTE

selection of the Beaver-Mahoning route, believing that greater benefits in comparison with the funds expended would accrue from that route than from any other.

"In accordance with law, the reports have been referred to the Board of Engineers for Rivers and Harbors for consideration and recommendation.

"All parties interested in the proposed canal are invited to submit, within a period of thirty days from the date of this notice, any statements and arguments in opposition to the selection of this route. Such statements should be addressed to "The Board of Engineers for Rivers and Harbors, Room 2848, Munitions building, Washington, D. C." Should a hearing be desired this can be arranged by correspondence with the board.

"The Board is considering at this time only the selection of the best route, without a determination as to whether any canal shall be constructed."

More Troubles For Roxie Long

Federal Government Enters Case Of Man Held In Jail Here

Trouble continues to pile up for Roxie Long who is in the county jail on charges of conspiracy to defraud seven wholesale grocers. He has been unable to get any Lawrence county bail to insure his freedom until the September term of court and now the federal government has entered the case.

United States Marshal George G. O'Brien has entered a detainer against Roxie, charging violation of a five year parole under which he was released from the Lewisburg penitentiary in April. His charge at that time was violation of the National Prohibition Act. In addition he had pleaded to evasion of income tax returns.

On top of all this added trouble, his colleagues in the conspiracy charge have pleaded nolle contendere. The four include Abraham Coury, Louis Cardamons, Anthony Adise and Jacob Exler. They were also charged with conspiracy to defraud but their plea obviates the necessity of a trial. However the fact that they have pleaded doesn't help Roxie any.

As the matter stands now he is charged with seven counts of conspiracy to defraud. Should he get free of these charges he will be picked up by the federal marshal and taken back to Lewisburg to serve out the terms he was paroled from.

Attention in San Francisco was focused today on two points where strikes still exist, the Market street railways and the waterfront. The railway company ran cars on three lines yesterday to avoid possible violence. The company planned to put an additional 100 cars in operation this morning.

Mediators At Work

The movement to settle San Francisco's waterfront strike, which has been in progress since May 9, proceeded with mediators in a hopeful frame of mind. General Hugh S. Johnson, NRA administrator who is on the scene acting as spokesman for the national longshoremen's board, radioed President Roosevelt he thought the "whole situation" should be settled within twenty-four hours.

Johnson planned to take time out to make a quick flight to Los Angeles today, where he was scheduled to make a speech in the Hollywood bowl.

Senator Robert F. Wagner of New York was expected to arrive in San Francisco today from Portland, where he has been active smoothing over labor difficulties.

The situation in Portland, however, still was menacing. Gov. Julius L. Meier has ordered the Oregon National Guard to mobilize to protect life and property in the event of strife. The governor had been notified that waterfront employers at Portland intend to open that port to commerce regardless of the longshoremen's strike in progress there.

Return To Work

In the East Bay district, including Oakland, Berkeley, Alameda and several other smaller communities 107 unions went back to work this morning. Forty-seven thousand workers were affected. Street car transportation on the key system ferry lines was resumed. In Oakland the labor "strategy committee" for Alameda county voted unanimously last night to end the general strike at once.

While the labor vote calling off the strike was close it was enough to demonstrate that the conservative union leaders were in control of their organizations.

Unionism in San Francisco, one of the greatest union cities in America, has been under pressure from a radical element who, in some quarters, are accused of having built up and engineered a comparatively small strike—the longshoremen's walkout—into a general strike that threatened the economic life of the community.

Radicals Licked

Radical ringleaders took a severe beating as a result of calling off the general strike. The peaceful settlement of the situation brought to an abrupt end all talk of "revolution."

Communists have been having a hard time of it for the past few days—and the end is not yet. Anti-radical activities by both police and civilian posses have progressed from spectacular raids on communistic headquarters to relentless prosecution of cases on hand.

More than 300 persons have been arrested in raids on communist gathering places during the past few days.

The record of many alleged radicals were being checked up to determine the status of each individual involved as an alien. District attorney Matthew Brady announced that in cases which merit such action he will recommend deportation.

Communists Flee

Many communists are reported to have fled the city. Every known communist headquarters in San Francisco has been raided.

The situation on San Francisco's waterfront was watched closely by union leaders. Trucks have been busy along the waterfront, under the armed protection of national guardsmen, moving freight between piers in preparation for wider movements.

Union truck drivers view this situation with unconcealed concern. The teamsters' union—of which the truck drivers are a part—held a stormy session last night and decided to hold a secret referendum ballot today on the question "Shall the teamsters go back to work?"

Sentiment was strong against truck drivers doing any hauling to the docks while the longshoremen's strike is still in progress.

Michael Casey, president of the teamster's union, said if the men vote "yes" on the question submitted it will be up to the union officers to decide whether the men shall be asked to handle waterfront cargo.

In Oakland, Charles W. Real, secretary of the East Bay teamster's union said: "We are going back to work, but we are not handling freight unloaded by non-union men."

Efforts to end the strike of longshoremen and maritime unions now hinge on arbitration. Today the waterfront buzzed with rumors that the longshoremen were ready to return to work pending arbitration. Waterfront workers who previously showed an uncompromising attitude showed indications of a lessened resistance as a result of the calling off of the general strike.

LATEST MOVE TO GET COURT HOUSE IS TURNED DOWN

which the petition referred was one refusing to approve two sites, and a statement by Judge R. L. Hildebrand that he did not believe conditions are such that a new court house should be built at this time.

The petition presented to court this morning was as follows:

Petition Presented

"The petition of the county commissioners represent:

That they have presented petitions to this honorable court asking the approval of this honorable court of the selection of five different sites for the proposed new court house, pursuant to a contract with the United States of America dated May 23, 1934, which in turn was entered into for the purpose of carrying out the contract with The Thayer Company for the preparation of the plans and specifications for said county building, which said contract with The Thayer Company was approved by this honorable court in November, 1933.

That further, in pursuance of the said contract with The Thayer Company your petitioners have incurred large indebtedness, to-wit: about $7,800 has already been paid out. Your petitioners find that section 566 of the General County Law of 1929 provides that the selection of a site by the county commissioners is subject to the approval of the court of quarter sessions; and not of the judges thereof.

That the amount of the gift or grant from the United States of America under contract aforesaid plus the indebtedness that this county has already incurred in this matter is approximately two hundred fifty thousand dollars, the loss of which your petitioners believe ought not to be sustained except after the most careful consideration by the court of quarter sessions.

In the matter of the five sites that already have been submitted to this court by your petitioners, the two sitting judges have agreed only once, and have disagreed four times.

Believing that it is now plain that the judges of this court have hopelessly disagreed in this matter, and in order that this matter, which is of so much importance to this county, may not be left in its present controversial and unsatisfactory condition, which your petitioners believe not to be for the best interests of this county or any others concerned, your petitioners respectfully pray this honorable court to set aside the order made after disagreement of the sitting judges in this case on July 19 and either to call upon a judge from another district to sit with the resident judges of this court and judicially decide the matter, or to request the supreme court of this commonwealth to send a judge from another district into this district for that purpose.

able discharge in October, 1935. He had previously escaped from the military reservations at Fort Thomas, Ky., and Fort Benjamin Harrison, Ind., following his conviction by a general courtmartial at the former post in 1931.

First reports were that two gunmen had invaded the island and freed Blanton and a short term Garrison prisoner but army officers at the post later announced that only one man had participated in the daring raid and that Blanton was the only prisoner freed.

According to the official version, Blanton and two other general prisoners were working at a dump at the south end of the island under the guard of Private Stephen Grezedorek, Company 1, 16th infantry who was armed with a shotgun.

The daring gunman, clad in civilian clothes, pulled up to a dock under the repair in a rowboat, clambered ashore and approached the prisoners.

Grezedorek thought him a laborer working at the dock until the civilian drew a pistol, disarmed the soldier and with Blanton, turned and raced for the rowboat. Two more soldiers appeared as they reached the rowboat. The civilian fired a shot in the air, then he and Blanton leaped in the boat and set out for the Brooklyn shore.

Morrison To Be Present On Old Timers Day

Former Local Man Will Take Charge Of Pageant And Grand March

PICNIC PLANS ARE SHAPING UP

William T. Butz, general chairman for the Old Timers Day reunion and picnic on Thursday, August 16, announced today that he had received definite assurance from Howard D. Morrison, of Pittsburgh, that he will be present for the picnic this year and will take charge of the pageant and grand march.

Mr. Morrison who will direct the marchers as marshal, is an experienced hand at this, having had charge of many of the grand marches in the dancing pavilion in the past, and his coming is looked forward to as an event of interest. He is a member of the executive committee of the Old Timers Association, and a descendant of one of the pioneer families of the county.

Mrs. C. J. Kirk, chairman of the pageant committee, which is arranging a parade of costumes of the olden days in the county, announces the names of additional descendants of pioneer families who will take part in the pageant, costumed in days of long ago.

These are:

Ralph M. Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Kirk, representing the Kirk-Peebles family; Mrs. Maude Hamilton, representing the Whinery family; W. T. Butz and Miss Effie Butz, the Butz family; Mrs. Laura Linton, the White family; and Mr. and Mrs. Howard McGill, the McKay family.

Blinded Man Identifies Two

Declares Two Are Men Who Robbed And Blinded Him, After Hearing Voices

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, July 20.—True to his promise that he could and would identify two bandit suspects by their voices, George Strutigos, 40, proprietor of an Oakland bowling alley, blinded by hold-up men last April, today made good his threat.

The suspects gave their names as John Arendash and Nick Derembeis, Homestead.

The proprietor of the bowling alley had his eyes jabbed out by three men who ransacked his place last April 12. The robbers obtained $25.

In a back room of the bowling alley the men went through his pockets. While one of them did this another jabbed something into each of his eyes, Strutigos told police.

Three suspects were lined up with three detectives and the blind man brought in. City Detective Thomas Morgan questioned each of them and Strutigos identified the two suspects the first time he heard them speak. The order of their appearance and questioning was changed twice. Three times he heard the men speak and three times he identified them positively as his assailants.

Detectives held the pair for further investigation.

Express Train Claims Record

Express Train Makes Milwaukee-Chicago 85-Mile Run In 67 Minutes

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, July 20—Claiming a new world's record for high average speeed on steel rails, the Milwaukee Express of the Milwaukee road, made the 85 mile run between Chicago and Milwaukee in 67 minutes today. At one point a speed of 103 miles per hour was attained and between Malyfair, Ill., and Oakwood, Wis., the train averaged 96.6 miles per hour.

A great western train made a run from Smithton, England to London a distance of 150 miles at the average speed of 81.6 miles per hour; said to have been the record until today for average speed.

The heat belt was widespread, extending as far westward as the Rocky Mountains where Denver, Colo., reported 100 degrees readings. At Miles City, Mont., and Havre, Mont., the mercury hit 104.

Omaha, Neb., reported a maximum temperature of 110, just short of the all-time record. Sioux City, Ia., had a reading of 106; Wichita, Kas., 106; Des Moines, Ia., 105; Springfield, Mo., and St. Louis, 102; Topeka, Kan., 105, and Springfield, Ill., 100.

Deaths of the Day

Arthur Middleton.

Arthur Middleton, aged 48, son of Frank J. Middleton, 602 Court street, died at Phoenix, Ariz., Thursday after an illness of several years' duration. Mr. Middleton went west about seven years ago in the hope of regaining his health. He was well known here.

His father, a retired conductor of the Pennsylvania railroad, went to Phoenix several days ago when his son's condition became critical and Mrs. Sidney B. Johns, Garfield avenue, sister of Mrs. Middleton, left Thursday evening for there.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Leota Perry Middleton; a daughter, Pauline, and a son, Frank; his father, two sisters, Mrs. William Koonce and Mrs. L. L. Barnhart, and a brother, R. F. Middleton, all of New Castle.

Funeral services will be held at Phoenix, Ariz., Saturday.

James E. Flemming.

James E. Flemming, aged 68, died at 10:20 o'clock Thursday evening at his home, No. 1 Flemming way, of a complication of diseases from which he had been suffering for some time.

Mr. Flemming was born in Lowellville, O., May 30, 1866; he came to New Castle when he was very small. He was the son of Mrs. Mary Crosby Flemming.

About 40 years ago he married Ann Sullivan, who survives him. He was a member of St. Mary's church, having joined when quite young.

Funeral services will be conducted Saturday morning from St. Mary's church at 10 o'clock. Until the time of the funeral the body will be at the late residence.

William Stoner.

William Stoner, aged 72, a well known farmer of Rose Point, was found dead in his home at 10:30 this morning from a heart attack.

He had lived in the Rose Point vicinity the past 25 years and was well known.

No funeral arrangements have been completed.

Mrs. Anna Shea.

Mrs. Anna Shea, aged 59, wife of Patrick Shea, English avenue, R. D. 2, died in the New Castle hospital at 11:45 p. m. Thursday following a long illness.

She was born at Dublin, Ireland, the daughter of Nicholas and Margaret Carr Markey, and had been a resident of New Castle the past 22 years. She was a member of St. Mary's church.

Surviving are her husband; four children, Mrs. J. Ray Jones, Mrs. Harry Shaffer, Lillian and William Shea, a sister, Mrs. Bertha Kelly, and four grandchildren, all of New Castle.

Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

TWO GOVERNORS BATTLE FOR POWER IN NORTH DAKOTA

office, and Langer occupied the governor's mansion.

Following the dramatic "return from Elba" of Langer, who had been in hiding in a cabin along the Missouri river since Tuesday, the Langer forces held a caucus and declared they would have 26 votes in the senate when the session was called today.

Meanwhile, Adj. Gen. Earle Sarles, in command of the national guard which Langer called out when he declared martial law, placed four guardsmen about the quarters of acting Gov. Olson in the Prince Hotel.

He did this after speakers at a meeting suggested that Langer supporters should not throw stones at Olson.

For Five Year Moratorium

Langer appeared before the meeting of shirt sleeved, tanned farmers, and declared that they constituted "the greatest holiday association in the country." There was the sinister beating of an Indian tom-tom in the farmers' band that greeted him.

The "holiday" is a proposal for a five year moratorium on the foreclosure of farm mortgages—and the drouth and farm mortgages are the causes of most of the grief in this huge state, which is so burned up that there are practically no crops west of the Red river and cattle are dying for lack of water and forage.

In his speech to the crowd, and in later statements, Langer declared:

"I am for a five year moratorium on farm mortgage foreclosures, and I will work to the end for the pauperized farmers as well as the laboring man.

"If I have to make the supreme sacrifice of going to jail, I will go with my conscience clear in the knowledge I have done my duty."

Langer frankly admitted he had been in hiding from the State supreme court, which would have, in the opinion of most lawyers, invalidated his call for the special session.

OREGON GOVERNOR CALLS OUT TROOPS

stored for shipment to China on the harbor wall just a few blocks from the heart of Portland's business center. Investigating police said a stick of dynamite apparently had been touched off.

Acknowledgment by city officials that their police force was insufficient to cope with the situation hastened the crisis.

In an executive order to Major General George A. White, commanding officer of the guard, Governor Meier said that Mayor Carson of Portland had advised him that "a state of tumult, riot and disorder" was fast moving beyond control.

The governor expressed the hope it would not be necessary to move troops to Portland.

Don't worry. When war finds us unprepared, those who opposed preparedness will apologize nicely.

Perry Highway Swamp Fill Is Now Being Paved

Famous Marsh Route Near Sheakleyville Has Been Conquered

GREENVILLE, July 20.—The unfinished portion of the famous Conneaut marsh fill on route 19 north of Sheakleyville and between Custards and Geneva is now being surfaced, which indicates the highway department considers the sinking fill beaten.

After battling with the fill for months at an enormous cost the problem was referred by Governor Pinchot, in 1931, to three independent engineers, C. F. Bohler, engineer of design, Michigan state highway department, Lansing, Mich.; C. A. Burn, Newark, N. J., division construction engineer, New Jersey, and Frank R. Layng, chief engineer, B. & L. E. R. R. of Greenville. They took elaborate tests and made a report that real progress had been made and that a continuation of the methods then being used would, in due time, produce the desired results.

After more filling had been done it was decided to shorten the time by the use of trestle approaches. The road was opened two years ago but a stretch of road at either end of the bridge and trestles was left unsurfaced. These unsurfaced portions have stood up solidly under traffic and it is now considered safe to make the roadway permanent.

Funny man! Every time he invents a new way to get killed, he calls it progress.

Fall Planting

This is the dull season for cut flowers. It is too warm to think of formal parties, the June bride rush is over, and dinner parties are abandoned for picnic lunches. But it isn't too early to begin thinking about your fall planting in the garden. Prepare this fall for a garden that will show you results next spring. Get the jump on Dame Nature and get your shrubbery in this fall. We are prepared to handle any order you care to name.

CHARGES DISCRIMINATION AGAINST STATE

Waters Presents Relief Problem

State Treasurer Is Against Demand For Special Legislature Session

FEDERAL RELIEF TO STATE UNFAIR

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, July 20—Accusing the federal emergency relief administration of a "sustained, systematic and astounding discrimination" against Pennsylvania, State Treasurer Charles A. Waters in an open letter to his fellow members of the state emergency relief board today offered five methods by any one of which he said he believed a special legislative session to provide relief funds might be avoided.

Water's five plans in relief were to:

1. Notify the federal government the state proposed to meet the relief problem at the next regular session of the legislature in January and will depend in the meantime upon federal funds.

2. Transfer or borrow the money from the motor fund.

3. Advance the money to the state liquor stores from the motor fund or otherwise in anticipation of the liquor board's profits at the end of the year.

4. Advise the counties and poor boards to exercise their own borrowing powers to obtain the necessary funds.

5. Allott any money obtained by anticipation of the liquor profits to the various counties and obtain the additional amount needed to meet the federal allocation from the county poor boards.

Waters, who was delegated by the relief board to study the situation, made public his findings in advance of the next meeting of the board at the National Guard Camp in Mt. Gretna on Monday in order to permit the board members to study the proposals before the meeting, he said.

Not Getting Fair Break

With his proposals Waters submitted a mass of data which he said showed Pennsylvania was not receiving relief funds in proportion to the federal tax payments of its residents.

Reviewing the ultimatum of Harry L. Hopkins, federal relief administrator, that Pennsylvania must reassume a share of the relief burden after September, Waters declared.

"To my mind the situation resolves itself into one of two contingencies, either we as public officials find a way out of the difficulties or our taxpayers must be put on the spot by convening a special session of the legislature."

Declaring he was strongly opposed to a special session, Waters said his conclusions were based on the following premises:

"In the first place, we all realize the commonwealth cannot borrow any money under the constitution until 1938. Again, I believe it would be impossible to realize upon any new taxing statute for several month after a special session. Yet, it is evident from the ultimatum of the federal authorities that it is cash on the table that is expected from Pennsylvania since no consideration is now given to our appropriation liability of $20,000,000 from the state stores fund not yet realized.

"Furthermore, the costs alone of a special session may take $500,000 of the taxpayer's money, yet within five months of the time a special session could be convened, the regular session of the legislature will be under way at Harrisburg.

"And, finally, I am impressed with the fact that it is the federal government which is forcing more taxes on our people without sufficient time for deliberation, and at the same time it is apparent from the records of the federal emergency relie administration that there has been a sustained, systematic and astounding discrimination against the people of this state.

selection of the Beaver-Mahoning route, believing that greater benefits in comparison with the funds expended would accrue from that route than from any other.

"In accordance with law, the reports have been referred to the Board of Engineers for Rivers and Harbors for consideration and recommendation.

"All parties interested in the proposed canal are invited to submit, within a period of thirty days from the date of this notice, any statements and arguments in opposition to the selection of this route. Such statements should be addressed to "The Board of Engineers for Rivers and Harbors, Room 2848, Munitions building, Washington, D. C." Should a hearing be desired this can be arranged by correspondence with the board.

"The Board is considering at this time only the selection of the best route, without a determination as to whether any canal shall be constructed."

from the stream. Search was begun for the body of her husband, but it was not recovered until 7:45 by Anthony Starcevic, Jr., of 1220 Morningside avenue, Pittsburgh.

A call had been dispatched for the city pulmotor and officers Hillers and Hanna responded, but Hamilton had been in the water so long that it was not thought possible to resuscitate him.

The deceased was an insurance salesman, it was stated.

The body is being taken to Irwin, Pa., where funeral services will be held.

The drowning occurred about a quarter of a mile below the bridge at McConnell's Mills, Coroner Orville Potter stated. It was the second of the season in the Slippery Rock.

immediate vicinity tried to form a bucket brigade and save the house, but their facilities were limited. The blaze burned slowly, permitting the furniture to be removed. Everything was saved, it was stated, except two beds on the second floor.

The fire was a spectacular one and attracted a great number of people from the surrounding district, who braved the storm to try and render assistance.

The house, which was owned by Walter Raub, is said to have been more than a hundred years old. It was built when Edenburg was very young and was pointed to as one of the few remaining landmarks of the days when Lawrence county was first settled.

More Troubles For Roxie Long

Federal Government Enters Case Of Man Held In Jail Here

Trouble continues to pile up for Roxie Long who is in the county jail on charges of conspiracy to defraud seven wholesale grocers. He has been unable to get any Lawrence county bail to insure his freedom until the September term of court and now the federal government has entered the case.

United States Marshal George G. O'Brien has entered a detainer against Roxie, charging violation of a five year parole under which he was released from the Lewisburg penitentiary in April. His charge at that time was violation of the National Prohibition Act. In addition he had pleaded to evasion of income tax returns.

On top of all this added trouble, his colleagues in the conspiracy charge have pleaded nolle contendere. The four include Abraham Coury, Louis Cardamons, Anthony Adise and Jacob Exler. They were also charged with conspiracy to defraud but their plea obviates the necessity of a trial. However the fact that they have pleaded doesn't help Roxie any.

As the matter stands now he is charged with seven counts of conspiracy to defraud. Should he get free of these charges he will be picked up by the federal marshal and taken back to Lewisburg to serve out the terms he was paroled from.

WORKERS RETURN TO THEIR OBS IN SAN FRANCISCO

and bustle of this typical American city swinging back to normal.

National Guard troops, ordered here to protect life and property, were expected to be withdrawn shortly. More than 5,000 officers and men on duty on the San Francisco and Oakland waterfronts awaited instructions to depart. At Sacramento, the state capitol, Acting Gov. Frank F. Merriam after a conference with Adjutant General Seth E. Howard of the California National Guard, decided that the first units will be recalled at once if no further complications develop.

Attention in San Francisco was focused today on two points where strikes still exist, the Market street railways and the waterfront. The railway company ran cars on three lines yesterday to avoid possible violence. The company planned to put an additional 100 cars in operation this morning.

Mediators At Work

The movement to settle San Francisco's waterfront strike, which has been in progress since May 9, proceeded with mediators in a hopeful frame of mind. General Hugh S. Johnson, NRA administrator who is on the scene acting as spokesman for the national longshoremen's board, radioed President Roosevelt he thought the "whole situation" should be settled within twenty-four hours.

Johnson planned to take time out to make a quick flight to Los Angeles today, where he was scheduled to make a speech in the Hollywood bowl.

Senator Robert F. Wagner of New York was expected to arrive in San Francisco today from Portland, where he has been active smoothing over labor difficulties.

The situation in Portland, however, still was menacing. Gov. Julius L. Meier has ordered the Oregon National Guard to mobilize to protect life and property in the event of strife. The governor had been notified that waterfront employers at Portland intend to open that port to commerce regardless of the longshoremen's strike in progress there.

Return To Work

In the East Bay district, including Oakland, Berkeley, Alameda and several other smaller communities 107 unions went back to work this morning. Forty-seven thousand workers were affected. Street car transportation on the key system ferry lines was resumed. In Oakland the labor "strategy committee" for Alameda county voted unanimously last night to end the general strike at once.

While the labor vote calling off the strike was close it was enough to demonstrate that the conservative union leaders were in control of their organizations.

Unionism in San Francisco, one of the greatest union cities in America, has been under pressure from a radical element who, in some quarters, are accused of having built up and engineered a comparatively small strike—the longshoremen's walkout—into a general strike that threatened the economic life of the community.

Radicals Licked

Radical ringleaders took a severe beating as a result of calling off the general strike. The peaceful settlement of the situation brought to an abrupt end all talk of "revolution."

Communists have been having a hard time of it for the past few days—and the end is not yet. Anti-radical activities by both police and civilian posses have progressed from spectacular raids on communistic headquarters to relentless prosecution of cases on hand.

More than 300 persons have been arrested in raids on communist gathering places during the past few days.

The record of many alleged radicals were being checked up to determine the status of each individual involved as an alien. District attorney Matthew Brady announced that in cases which merit such action he will recommend deportation.

Communists Flee

Many communists are reported to have fled the city. Every known communist headquarters in San Francisco has been aided.

The situation on San Francisco's waterfront was watched closely by union leaders. Trucks have been busy along the waterfront, under the armed protection of national guardsmen, moving freight between piers in preparation for wider movements.

Union truck drivers view this situation with unconcealed concern. The teamsters' union—of which the truck drivers are a part—held a stormy session last night and decided to hold a secret referendum ballot today on the question "Shall the teamsters go back to work?"

Sentiment was strong against truck drivers doing any hauling to the docks while the longshoremen's strike is still in progress.

Michael Casey, president of the teamster's union, said if the men vote "yes" on the question submitted it will be up to the union officers to decide whether the men shall be asked to handle waterfront cargo.

In Oakland, Charles W. Real, secretary of the East Bay teamster's union said: "We are going back to work, but we are not handling freight unloaded by non-union men."

Efforts to end the strike of longshoremen and maritime unions now hinge on arbitration. Today the waterfront buzzed with rumors that the longshoremen were ready to return to work pending arbitration. Waterfront workers who previously showed an uncompromising attitude showed indications of a lessened resistance as a result of the calling off of the general strike.

which the petition referred was one refusing to approve two sites, and a statement by Judge R. L. Hildebrand that he did not believe conditions are such that a new court house should be built at this time.

The petition presented to court this morning was as follows:

Petition Presented

"The petition of the county commissioners represent:

That they have presented petitions to this honorable court asking the approval of this honorable court of the selection of five different sites for the proposed new court house, pursuant to a contract with the United States of America dated May 23, 1934, which in turn was entered into for the purpose of carrying out the contract with The Thayer Company for the preparation of the plans and specifications for said county building, which said contract with The Thayer Company was approved by this honorable court in November, 1933.

That further, in pursuance of the said contract with The Thayer Company your petitioners have incurred large indebtedness, to-wit: about $7,800 has already been paid out. Your petitioners find that section 566 of the General County Law of 1929 provides that the selection of a site by the county commissioners is subject to the approval of the court of quarter sessions; and not of the judges thereof.

That the amount of the gift or grant from the United States of America under contract aforesaid plus the indebtedness that this county has already incurred in this matter is approximately two hundred fifty thousand dollars, the loss of which your petitioners believe ought not to be sustained except after the most careful consideration by the court of quarter sessions.

In the matter of the five sites that already have been submitted to this court by your petitioners, the two sitting judges have agreed only once, and have disagreed four times.

Believing that it is now plain that the judges of this court have hopelessly disagreed in this matter, and in order that this matter, which is of so much importance to this county, may not be left in its present controversial and unsatisfactory condition, which your petitioners believe not to be for the best interests of this county or any others concerned, your petitioners respectfully pray this honorable court to set aside the order made after disagreement of the sitting judges in this case on July 19 and either to call upon a judge from another district to sit with the resident judges of this court and judicially decide the matter, or to request the supreme court of this commonwealth to send a judge from another district into this district for that purpose.

able discharge in October, 1935. He had previously escaped from the military reservations at Fort Thomas, Ky., and Fort Benjamin Harrison, Ind., following his conviction by a general courtmartial at the former post in 1931.

First reports were that two gunmen had invaded the island and freed Blanton and a short term Garrison prisoner but army officers at the post later announced that only one man had participated in the daring raid and that Blanton was the only prisoner freed.

According to the official version, Blanton and two other general prisoners were working at a dump at the south end of the island under the guard of Private Stephen Grezedorek, Company 1, 16th infantry who was armed with a shotgun.

The daring gunman, clad in civilian clothes, pulled up to a dock under the repair in a rowboat, clambered ashore and approached the prisoners.

Grezedorek thought him a laborer working at the dock until the civilian drew a pistol, disarmed the soldier and with Blanton, turned and raced for the rowboat. Two more soldiers appeared as they reached the rowboat. The civilian fired a shot in the air, then he and Blanton leaped in the boat and set out for the Brooklyn shore.

Morrison To Be Present On Old Timers Day

Former Local Man Will Take Charge Of Pageant And Grand March

PICNIC PLANS ARE SHAPING UP

William T. Butz, general chairman for the Old Timers Day reunion and picnic on Thursday, August 16, announced today that he had received definite assurance from Howard D. Morrison, of Pittsburgh, that he will be present for the picnic this year and will take charge of the pageant and grand march.

Mr. Morrison who will direct the marchers as marshal, is an experienced hand at this, having had charge of many of the grand marches in the dancing pavilion in the past, and his coming is looked forward to as an event of interest. He is a member of the executive committee of the Old Timers Association, and a descendant of one of the pioneer families of the county.

Mrs. C. J. Kirk, chairman of the pageant committee, which is arranging a parade of costumes of the olden days in the county, announces the names of additional descendants of pioneer families who will take part in the pageant, costumed in days of long ago.

These are:

Ralph M. Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Kirk, representing the Kirk-Peebles family; Mrs. Maude Hamilton, representing the Whinery family; W. T. Butz and Miss Effie Butz, the Butz family; Mrs. Laura Linton, the White family; and Mr. and Mrs. Howard McGill, the McKay family.

Blinded Man Identifies Two

Declares Two Are Men Who Robbed And Blinded Him, After Hearing Voices

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, July 20.—True to his promise that he could and would identify two bandit suspects by their voices, George Strutigos, 40, proprietor of an Oakland bowling alley, blinded by hold-up men last April, today made good his threat.

The suspects gave their names as John Arendash and Nick Derembeis, Homestead.

The proprietor of the bowling alley had his eyes jabbed out by three men who ransacked his place last April 12. The robbers obtained $25.

In a back room of the bowling alley the men went through his pockets. While one of them did this another jabbed something into each of his eyes, Strutigos told police.

Three suspects were lined up with three detectives and the blind man brought in. City Detective Thomas Morgan questioned each of them and Strutigos identified the two suspects the first time he heard them speak. The order of their appearance and questioning was changed twice. Three times he heard the men speak and three times he identified them positively as his assailants.

Detectives held the pair for further investigation.

Deaths of the Day

Arthur Middleton.

Arthur Middleton, aged 48, son of Frank J. Middleton, 602 Court street, died at Phoenix, Ariz., Thursday after an illness of several years' duration. Mr. Middleton went west about seven years ago in the hope of regaining his health. He was well known here.

His father, a retired conductor of the Pennsylvania railroad, went to Phoenix several days ago when his son's condition became critical and Mrs. Sidney B. Johns, Garfield avenue, sister of Mrs. Middleton, left Thursday evening for there.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Leota Perry Middleton; a daughter, Pauline, and a son, Frenk; his father, two sisters, Mrs. William Koonce and Mrs. L. L. Barnhart, and a brother, R. F. Middleton, all of New Castle.

Funeral services will be held at Phoenix, Ariz., Saturday.

James E. Flemming.

James E. Flemming, aged 68, died at 10:20 o'clock Thursday evening at his home, No. 1 Flemming way, of a complication of diseases from which he had been suffering for some time.

Mr. Flemming was born in Lowellville, O., May 30, 1866; he came to New Castle when he was very small. He was the son of Mrs. Mary Crosby Flemming.

About 40 years ago he married Ann Sullivan, who survives him. He was a member of St. Mary's church, having joined when quite young.

Funeral services will be conducted Saturday morning from St. Mary's church at 10 o'clock. Until the time of the funeral the body will be at the late residence.

William Stoner.

William Stoner, aged 72, a well known farmer of Rose Point, was found dead in his home at 10:30 this morning from a heart attack.

He had lived in the Rose Point vicinity the past 25 years and was well known.

No funeral arrangements have been completed.

Mrs. Anna Shea.

Mrs. Anna Shea, aged 59, wife of Patrick Shea, English avenue, R. D. 2, died in the New Castle hospital at 11:45 p. m. Thursday following a long illness.

She was born at Dublin, Ireland, the daughter of Nicholas and Margaret Carr Markey, and had been a resident of New Castle the past 22 years. She was a member of St. Mary's church.

Surviving are her husband; four children, Mrs. J. Ray Jones, Mrs. Harry Shaffer, Lillian and William Shea, a sister, Mrs. Bertha Kelly, and four grandchildren, all of New Castle.

Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

office, and Langer occupied the governor's mansion.

Following the dramatic "return from Elba" of Langer, who had been in hiding in a cabin along the Missouri river since Tuesday, the Langer forces held a caucus and declared they would have 26 votes in the senate when the session was called today.

Meanwhile, Adj. Gen. Earle Sarles, in command of the national guard which Langer called out when he declared martial law, placed four guardsmen about the quarters of acting Gov. Olson in the Prince Hotel.

He did this after speakers at a meeting suggested that Langer supporters should not throw stones at Olson.

For Five Year Moratorium

Langer appeared before the meeting of shirt sleeved, tanned farmers, and declared that they constituted "the greatest holiday association in the country." There was the sinister beating of an Indian tom-tom in the farmers' band that greeted him.

The "holiday" is a proposal for a five year moratorium on the foreclosure of farm mortgages—and the drouth and farm mortgages are the causes of most of the grief in this huge state, which is so burned up that there are practically no crops west of the Red river and cattle are dying for lack of water and forage.

In his speech to the crowd, and in later statements, Langer declared:

"I am for a five year moratorium on farm mortgage foreclosures, and I will work to the end for the pauperized farmers as well as the laboring man.

"If I have to make the supreme sacrifice of going to jail, I will go with my conscience clear in the knowledge I have done my duty."

Langer frankly admitted he had been in hiding from the State supreme court, which would have, in the opinion of most lawyers, invalidated his call for the special session.

stored for shipment to China on the harbor wall just a few blocks from the heart of Portland's business center. Investigating police said a stick of dynamite apparently had been touched off.

Acknowledgment by city officials that their police force was insufficient to cope with the situation hastened the crisis.

In an executive order to Major General George A. White, commanding officer of the guard, Governor Meier said that Mayor Carson of Portland had advised him that "a state of tumult, riot and disorder" was fast moving beyond control.

The governor expressed the hope it would not be necessary to move troops to Portland.

Don't worry. When war finds us unprepared, those who opposed preparedness will apologize nicely.

Perry Highway Swamp Fill Is Now Being Paved

Famous Marsh Route Near Sheakleyville Has Been Conquered

GREENVILLE, July 20.—The unfinished portion of the famous Conneaut marsh fill on route 19 north of Sheakleyville and between Custards and Geneva is now being surfaced, which indicates the highway department considers the sinking fill beaten.

After battling with the fill, for months at an enormous cost the problem was referred by Governor Pinchot, in 1931, to three independent engineers, C. F. Bohler, engineer of design, Michigan state highway department, Lansing, Mich.; C. A. Burn, Newark, N. J., division construction engineer, New Jersey, and Frank R. Layng, chief engineer, B. & L. E. R. R. of Greenville. They took elaborate tests and made a report that real progress had been made and that a continuation of the methods then being used would, in due time, produce the desired results.

After more filling had been done it was decided to shorten the time by the use of trestle approaches. The road was opened two years ago but a stretch of road at either end of the bridge and trestles was left unsurfaced. These unsurfaced portions have stood up solidly under traffic and it is now considered safe to make the roadway permanent.

Funny man! Every time he invents a new way to get killed, he calls it progress.

CHARGES DISCRIMINATION AGAINST STATE

Waters Presents Relief Problem

State Treasurer Is Against Demand For Special Legislature Session

FEDERAL RELIEF TO STATE UNFAIR

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, July 20—Accusing the federal emergency relief administration of a "sustained, systematic and astounding discrimination" against Pennsylvania, State Treasurer Charles A. Waters in an open letter to his fellow members of the state emergency relief, board today offered five methods by any one of which he said he believed a special legislative session to provide relief funds might be avoided.

Water's five plans in relief were to:

1. Notify the federal government the state proposed to meet the relief problem at the next regular session of the legislature in January and will depend in the meantime upon federal funds.

2. Transfer or borrow the money from the motor fund.

3. Advance the money to the state liquor stores from the motor fund or otherwise in anticipation of the liquor board's profits at the end of the year.

4. Advise the counties and poor boards to exercise their own borrowing powers to obtain the necessary funds.

5. Allott any money obtained by anticipation of the liquor profits to the various counties and obtain the additional amount needed to meet the federal allocation from the county poor boards.

Waters, who was delegated by the relief board to study the situation, made public his findings in advance of the next meeting of the board at the National Guard Camp in Mt. Gretna on Monday in order to permit the board members to study the proposals before the meeting, he said.

Not Getting Fair Break

With his proposals Waters submitted a mass of data which he said showed Pennsylvania was not receiving relief funds in proportion to the federal tax payments of its residents.

Reviewing the ultimatum of Harry L. Hopkins, federal relief administrator, that Pennsylvania must reassume a share of the relief burden after September, Waters declared.

"To my mind the situation resolves itself into one of two contingencies, either we as public officials find a way out of the difficulties or our taxpayers must be put on the spot by convening a special session of the legislature."

Declaring he was strongly opposed to a special session, Waters said his conclusions were based on the following premises:

"In the first place, we all realize the commonwealth cannot borrow any money under the constitution until 1938. Again, I believe it would be impossible to realize upon any new taxing statute for several month after a special session. Yet, it is evident from the ultimatum of the federal authorities that it is cash on the table that is expected from Pennsylvania since no consideration is now given to our appropriation liability of $20,000,000 from the state stores fund not yet realized.

"Furthermore, the costs alone of a special session may take $500,000 of the taxpayer's money, yet within five months of the time a special session could be convened, the regular session of the legislature will be under way at Harrisburg.

"And, finally, I am impressed with the fact that it is the federal government which is forcing more taxes on our people without sufficient time for deliberation, and at the same time it is apparent from the records of the federal emergency relie administration that there has been a sustained, systematic and astounding discrimination against the people of this state.

PICK BEAVER AND MAHONING CANAL ROUTE

selection of the Beaver-Mahoning route, believing that greater benefits in comparison with the funds expended would accrue from that route than from any other.

"In accordance with law, the reports have been referred to the Board of Engineers for Rivers and Harbors for consideration and recommendation.

"All parties interested in the proposed canal are invited to submit, within a period of thirty days from the date of this notice, any statements and arguments in opposition to the selection of this route. Such statements should be addressed to "The Board of Engineers for Rivers and Harbors, Room 2848, Munitions building, Washington, D. C." Should a hearing be desired this can be arranged by correspondence with the board.

"The Board is considering at this time only the selection of the best route, without a determination as to whether any canal shall be constructed."

from the stream. Search was begun for the body of her husband, but it was not recovered until 7:45 by Anthony Starcevic, Jr., of 1220 Morningside avenue, Pittsburgh.

A call had been dispatched for the city pulmotor and officers Hillers and Hanna responded, but Hamilton had been in the water so long that it was not thought possible to resuscitate him.

The deceased was an insurance salesman, it was stated.

The body is being taken to Irwin, Pa., where funeral services will be held.

The drowning occurred about a quarter of a mile below the bridge at McConnell's Mills, Coroner Orville Potter stated. It was the second of the season in the Slippery Rock.

immediate vicinity tried to form a bucket brigade and save the house, but their facilities were limited. The blaze burned slowly, permitting the furniture to be removed. Everything was saved, it was stated, except two beds on the second floor.

The fire was a spectacular one and attracted a great number of people from the surrounding district, who braved the storm to try and render assistance.

The house, which was owned by Walter Raub, is said to have been more than a hundred years old. It was built when Edenburg was very young and was pointed to as one of the few remaining landmarks of the days when Lawrence county was first settled.

More Troubles For Roxie Long

Federal Government Enters Case Of Man Held In Jail Here

Trouble continues to pile up for Roxie Long who is in the county jail on charges of conspiracy to defraud seven wholesale grocers. He has been unable to get any Lawrence county bail to insure his freedom until the September term of court and now the federal government has entered the case.

United States Marshal George G. O'Brien has entered a detainer against Roxie, charging violation of a five year parole under which he was released from the Lewisburg penitentiary in April. His charge at that time was violation of the National Prohibition Act. In addition he had pleaded to evasion of income tax returns.

On top of all this added trouble, his colleagues in the conspiracy charge have pleaded nolle contendere. The four include Abraham Coury, Louis Cardamons, Anthony Adise and Jacob Exler. They were also charged with conspiracy to defraud but their plea obviates the necessity of a trial. However the fact that they have pleaded doesn't help Roxie any.

As the matter stands now he is charged with seven counts of conspiracy to defraud. Should he get free of these charges he will be picked up by the federal marshal and taken back to Lewisburg to serve out the terms he was paroled from.

WORKERS RETURN TO THEIR OBS IN SAN FRANCISCO

and bustle of this typical American city swinging back to normal.

National Guard troops, ordered here to protect life and property, were expected to be withdrawn shortly. More than 5,000 officers and men on duty on the San Francisco and Oakland waterfronts awaited instructions to depart. At Sacramento, the state capitol, Acting Gov. Frank F. Merriam after a conference with Adjutant General Seth E. Howard of the California National Guard, decided that the first units will be recalled at once if no further complications develop.

Attention in San Francisco was focused today on two points where strikes still exist, the Market street railways and the waterfront. The railway company ran cars on three lines yesterday to avoid possible violence. The company planned to put an additional 100 cars in operation this morning.

Mediators At Work

The movement to settle San Francisco's waterfront strike, which has been in progress since May 9, proceeded with mediators in a hopeful frame of mind. General Hugh S. Johnson, NRA administrator who is on the scene acting as spokesman for the national longshoremen's board, radioed President Roosevelt he thought the "whole situation" should be settled within twenty-four hours.

Johnson planned to take time out to make a quick flight to Los Angeles today, where he was scheduled to make a speech in the Hollywood bowl.

Senator Robert F. Wagner of New York was expected to arrive in San Francisco today from Portland, where he has been active smoothing over labor difficulties.

The situation in Portland, however, still was menacing. Gov. Julius L. Meier has ordered the Oregon National Guard to mobilize to protect life and property in the event of strife. The governor had been notified that waterfront employers at Portland intend to open that port to commerce regardless of the longshoremen's strike in progress there.

Return To Work

In the East Bay district, including Oakland, Berkeley, Alameda and several other smaller communities 107 unions went back to work this morning. Forty-seven thousand workers were affected. Street car transportation on the key system ferry lines was resumed. In Oakland the labor "strategy committee" for Alameda county voted unanimously last night to end the general strike at once.

While the labor vote calling off the strike was close it was enough to demonstrate that the conservative union leaders were in control of their organizations.

Unionism in San Francisco, one of the greatest union cities in America, has been under pressure from a radical element who, in some quarters, are accused of having built up and engineered a comparatively small strike—the longshoremen's walkout—into a general strike that threatened the economic life of the community.

Radicals Licked

Radical ringleaders took a severe beating as a result of calling off the general strike. The peaceful settlement of the situation brought to an abrupt end all talk of "revolution."

Communists have been having a hard time of it for the past few days—and the end is not yet. Anti-radical activities by both police and civilian posses have progressed from spectacular raids on communistic headquarters to relentless prosecution of cases on hand.

More than 300 persons have been arrested in raids on communist gathering places during the past few days.

The record of many alleged radicals were being checked up to determine the status of each individual involved as an alien. District attorney Matthew Brady announced that in cases which merit such action he will recommend deportation.

Communists Flee

Many communists are reported to have fled the city. Every known communist headquarters in San Francisco has been aided.

The situation on San Francisco's waterfront was watched closely by union leaders. Trucks have been busy along the waterfront, under the armed protection of national guardsmen, moving freight between piers in preparation for wider movements.

Union truck drivers view this situation with unconcealed concern. The teamsters' union—of which the truck drivers are a part—held a stormy session last night and decided to hold a secret referendum ballot today on the question "Shall the teamsters go back to work?"

Sentiment was strong against truck drivers doing any hauling to the docks while the longshoremen's strike is still in progress.

Michael Casey, president of the teamster's union, said if the men vote "yes" on the question submitted it will be up to the union officers to decide whether the men shall be asked to handle waterfront cargo.

In Oakland, Charles W. Real, secretary of the East Bay teamster's union said: "We are going back to work, but we are not handling freight unloaded by non-union men."

Efforts to end the strike of longshoremen and maritime unions now hinge on arbitration. Today the waterfront buzzed with rumors that the longshoremen were ready to return to work pending arbitration. Waterfront workers who previously showed an uncompromising attitude showed indications of a lessened resistance as a result of the calling off of the general strike.

which the petition referred was one refusing to approve two sites, and a statement by Judge R. L. Hildebrand that he did not believe conditions are such that a new court house should be built at this time.

The petition presented to court this morning was as follows:

Petition Presented

"The petition of the county commissioners represent:

That they have presented petitions to this honorable court asking the approval of this honorable court of the selection of five different sites for the proposed new court house, pursuant to a contract with the United States of America dated May 23, 1934, which in turn was entered into for the purpose of carrying out the contract with The Thayer Company for the preparation of the plans and specifications for said county building, which said contract with The Thayer Company was approved by this honorable court in November, 1933.

That further, in pursuance of the said contract with The Thayer Company your petitioners have incurred large indebtedness, to-wit: about $7,800 has already been paid out. Your petitioners find that section 566 of the General County Law of 1929 provides that the selection of a site by the county commissioners is subject to the approval of the court of quarter sessions; and not of the judges thereof.

That the amount of the gift or grant from the United States of America under contract aforesaid plus the indebtedness that this county has already incurred in this matter is approximately two hundred fifty thousand dollars, the loss of which your petitioners believe ought not to be sustained except after the most careful consideration by the court of quarter sessions.

In the matter of the five sites that already have been submitted to this court by your petitioners, the two sitting judges have agreed only once, and have disagreed four times.

Believing that it is now plain that the judges of this court have hopelessly disagreed in this matter, and in order that this matter, which is of so much importance to this county, may not be left in its present controversial and unsatisfactory condition, which your petitioners believe not to be for the best interests of this county or any others concerned, your petitioners respectfully pray this honorable court to set aside the order made after disagreement of the sitting judges in this case on July 19 and either to call upon a judge from another district to sit with the resident judges of this court and judicially decide the matter, or to request the supreme court of this commonwealth to send a judge from another district into this district for that purpose.

The daring gunman, clad in civilian clothes, pulled up to a dock under the repair in a rowboat, clambered ashore and approached the prisoners.

Grezedorek thought him a laborer working at the dock until the civilian drew a pistol, disarmed the soldier and with Blanton, turned and raced for the rowboat. Two more soldiers appeared as they reached the rowboat. The civilian fired a shot in the air, then he and Blanton leaped in the boat and set out for the Brooklyn shore.

Omaha, Neb., reported a maximum temperature of 110, just short of the all-time record. Sioux City, Ia., had a reading of 106; Wichita, Kas., 106; Des Moines, Ia., 105; Springfield, Mo., and St. Louis, 102; Topeka, Kan., 105, and Springfield, Ill., 100.

Deaths of the Day

Arthur Middleton.

Arthur Middleton, aged 48, son of Frank J. Middleton, 602 Court street, died at Phoenix, Ariz., Thursday after an illness of several years' duration. Mr. Middleton went west about seven years ago in the hope of regaining his health. He was well known here.

His father, a retired conductor of the Pennsylvania railroad, went to Phoenix several days ago when his son's condition became critical and Mrs. Sidney B. Johns, Garfield avenue, sister of Mrs. Middleton, left Thursday evening for there.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Leota Perry Middleton; a daughter, Pauline, and a son, Frank; his father, two sisters, Mrs. William Koonce and Mrs. L. L. Barnhart, and a brother, R. F. Middleton, all of New Castle.

Funeral services will be held at Phoenix, Ariz., Saturday.

James E. Flemming.

James E. Flemming, aged 68, died at 10:20 o'clock Thursday evening at his home, No. 1 Flemming way, of a complication of diseases from which he had been suffering for some time.

Mr. Flemming was born in Lowellville, O., May 30, 1866; he came to New Castle when he was very small. He was the son of Mrs. Mary Crosby Flemming.

About 40 years ago he married Ann Sullivan, who survives him. He was a member of St. Mary's church, having joined when quite young.

Funeral services will be conducted Saturday morning from St. Mary's church at 10 o'clock. Until the time of the funeral the body will be at the late residence.

William Stoner.

William Stoner, aged 72, a well known farmer of Rose Point, was found dead in his home at 10:30 this morning from a heart attack.

He had lived in the Rose Point vicinity the past 25 years and was well known.

No funeral arrangements have been completed.

Mrs. Anna Shea.

Mrs. Anna Shea, aged 59, wife of Patrick Shea, English avenue, R. D. 2, died in the New Castle hospital at 11:45 p. m. Thursday following a long illness.

She was born at Dublin, Ireland, the daughter of Nicholas and Margaret Carr Markey, and had been a resident of New Castle the past 22 years. She was a member of St. Mary's church.

Surviving are her husband; four children, Mrs. J. Ray Jones, Mrs. Harry Shaffer, Lillian and William Shea, a sister, Mrs. Bertha Kelly, and four grandchildren, all of New Castle.

Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

office, and Langer occupied the governor's mansion.

Following the dramatic "return from Elba" of Langer, who had been in hiding in a cabin along the Missouri river since Tuesday, the Langer forces held a caucus and declared they would have 26 votes in the senate when the session was called today.

Meanwhile, Adj. Gen. Earle Sarles, in command of the national guard which Langer called out when he declared martial law, placed four guardsmen about the quarters of acting Gov. Olson in the Prince Hotel.

He did this after speakers at a meeting suggested that Langer supporters should not throw stones at Olson.

For Five Year Moratorium

Langer appeared before the meeting of shirt sleeved, tanned farmers, and declared that they constituted "the greatest holiday association in the country." There was the sinister beating of an Indian tom-tom in the farmers' band that greeted him.

The "holiday" is a proposal for a five year moratorium on the foreclosure of farm mortgages—and the drouth and farm mortgages are the causes of most of the grief in this huge state, which is so burned up that there are practically no crops west of the Red river and cattle are dying for lack of water and forage.

In his speech to the crowd, and in later statements, Langer declared:

"I am for a five year moratorium on farm mortgage foreclosures, and I will work to the end for the pauperized farmers as well as the laboring man.

"If I have to make the supreme sacrifice of going to jail, I will go with my conscience clear in the knowledge I have done my duty."

Langer frankly admitted he had been in hiding from the State supreme court, which would have, in the opinion of most lawyers, invalidated his call for the special session.

OREGON GOVERNOR CALLS OUT TROOPS

stored for shipment to China on the harbor wall just a few blocks from the heart of Portland's business center. Investigating police said a stick of dynamite apparently had been touched off.

Acknowledgment by city officials that their police force was insufficient to cope with the situation hastened the crisis.

In an executive order to Major General George A. White, commanding officer of the guard, Governor Meier said that Mayor Carson of Portland had advised him that "a state of tumult, riot and disorder" was fast moving beyond control.

The governor expressed the hope it would not be necessary to move troops to Portland.

Don't worry. When war finds us unprepared, those who opposed preparedness will apologize nicely.

Fall Planting

This is the dull season for cut flowers. It is too warm to think of formal parties, the June bride rush is over, and dinner parties are abandoned for picnic lunches. But it isn't too early to begin thinking about your fall planting in the garden. Prepare this fall for a garden that will show you results next spring. Get the jump on Dame Nature and get your shrubbery in this fall. We are prepared to handle any order you care to name.

Perry Highway Swamp Fill Is Now Being Paved

Famous Marsh Route Near Sheakleyville Has Been Conquered

GREENVILLE, July 20.—The unfinished portion of the famous Conneaut marsh fill on route 19 north of Sheakleyville and between Custards and Geneva is now being surfaced, which indicates the highway department considers the sinking fill beaten.

After battling with the fill, for months at an enormous cost the problem was referred by Governor Pinchot, in 1931, to three independent engineers, C. F. Bohler, engineer of design, Michigan state highway department, Lansing, Mich.; C. A. Burn, Newark, N. J., division construction engineer, New Jersey, and Frank R. Layng, chief engineer, B. & L. E. R. R. of Greenville. They took elaborate tests and made a report that real progress had been made and that a continuation of the methods then being used would, in due time, produce the desired results.

After more filling had been done it was decided to shorten the time by the use of trestle approaches. The road was opened two years ago but a stretch of road at either end of the bridge and trestles was left unsurfaced. These unsurfaced portions have stood up solidly under traffic and it is now considered safe to make the roadway permanent.

Funny man! Every time he invents a new way to get killed, he calls it progress.

AFTERNOON TEA FOR EARLY FALL BRIDE

Miss Charlotte Patterson of New Wilmington, a bride of early fall, was guest of honor at a tea given by Mrs. W. K. Hugus and Miss Jennie Morgan in the former's home on Highland avenue, Thursday afternoon.

The home was decorated profusely in summer flowers and a pretty decorative theme prevailed in pink and white. Guests included friends of Miss Patterson from New Wilmington and New Castle.

Presiding at the tea table were the bride-elect's mother, Mrs. R. C. Patterson and Mrs. C. R. Balph. Aides included Mrs. George R. Balph, Mrs. A. Hughes Bartlett, the Misses Ann Patterson, Isabel Balph, Jane Hawkins, Helen Jameson and Frances Aiken.

JOLLY TEN GOES TO YOUNGSTOWN

The members of the Jolly Ten club and their husbands motored to Youngstown, O., Thursday evening, where they enjoyed the hospitality of the lovely home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank McArthur on McClead avenue.

The group included 24 and an evening of informality was enjoyed with Mrs. Arthur serving a most delectable lunch to her New Castle friends ere the evening came to a close.

The club planned for a tureen dinner at Cascade pak August 3, when the husbands will again be guests.

EVENING BRIDGE FOR CLUB MEMBERS

Prizes for prowess at bridge were awarded Mrs. J. H. Gibson, Mrs. S. H. Rhoads, C. Ed. Smith, Jr., and A. B. Street Thursday evening at the New Castle Field club when a large number of the members spent an evening at cards, with Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Strayer as hosts.

When play was concluded a delicious lunch was served and a period of sociability enjoyed.

Hoovers As Hosts.

Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Hoover were genial hosts Thursday evening when they entertained the members of Section B of the Y. L. B. class of the Third United Presbyterian church at their home on the Harlansburg road with places arranged for 40 at a basket picnic dinner in the yard.

Lovely garden flowers adorned the table and formed a pretty setting for the fete. Mrs. Anna McLure, Mrs. Floyd Moore, Mrs. B. Daugherty and Mrs. John Kaufman formed the committee on arrangements.

Special guests were Mrs. Lizzie Good of Hubbard, O.; Mrs. Virginia Book and daughter, Shirley, Helen Davis and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Porter and daughter Jean.

Class Has Picnic.

Members of the Workers Together class of Croton M. E. Sunday school, taught by Mrs. Charles E. Allen, had a picnic at Cascade park last evening as a courtesy to Miss Ruth Joshua, who has but recently returned from London, Eng.

Afternoon hours were spent in swimming and enjoying the pleasures of the park, and a picnic supper was served later in the evening.

Other special guests were Rev. and Mrs. C. S. Joshua and daughter Betty, and Miss Marjorie Rhodes, superintendent of the Sunday school.

Birthday Party

Honoring the birthday anniversary of Miss Annabelle Cherol, of Division street, a group of friends held a party Thursday night at Cascade Park. Dancing proved the popular pastime. The honored guest was presented with a useful gift.

DELIGHTFUL AFFAIR FOR MISS GOODMAN

A delightful affair of Thursday evening was a miscellaneous shower presided over by Miss Isabel Jones of 324 East Moody avenue for Miss Harriet Goodman, whose engagement to Norman F. Gorcys has been announced for July 30.

Several tables of bridge were provided for the amusement of the guests, and beautiful prizes were awarded to Miss June Webster and Miss Alice Newman. For a late supper, throughout which pastel colors predominated, the hostess was assisted by Miss Maree Biddle.

The guest of honor received lovely gifts.

CALIFORNIA VISITOR HOSTESS AT DINNER

Returning many lovely social courtesies which have been extended Mrs. Laura Maloney since her arrival in New Castle from Watsonville, Cal., Mrs. Maloney was hostess Thursday evening at a 6 o'clock dinner in the home of her mother, Mrs. Robert Freed on West Cherry street.

Guests were members of the L. A. B. club and several other friends, Mrs. Charles Gilson, Mrs. Ruth Maloney, Mrs. Charlotte Emery and Mrs. Robert Freed, covers being arranged for 20 at tables artistic with garden floral centerpieces.

Aides in serving a very tempting menu were Mrs. Emma Sweet, Mrs. Maud Jones, Mrs. Lottie McCullough, Mrs. Nellie Taylor and Mrs. Olive Book.

Evening hours were given over to cards and music. Piano solos were rendered by Mrs. Charlotte Emery and several choral numbers were given by Mrs. Bertha Shaffer, Mrs. Anna McClymonds, Mrs. Emma Sweet and Mrs. Annabelle McFadden.

At cards, favors were won by Mrs. Tina Grove and Mrs. Nellie Taylor while at bingo Mrs. Flora Cunningham was the fortunate winner.

Tuesday, July 24, the club will be entertained in Edenburg by Mrs. Olive Book.

PICNIC REPLACES USUAL PROGRAM

Westside Garden club members with their children spent Thursday, delightfully, at the cottage of Mrs. Chauncey Davis on the Slippery Rock.

Dinner at noon was served under the big trees near the water and covers for seventeen included three visitors, Mrs. William Baltes, Mrs. Charles Body and Betty Glass.

Swimming was the main diversion with "just loafing out of doors" additional pleasure. The customary program was dispensed with for the day.

In August, there will be the usual meeting at the home of Mrs. George Glass on North street, on the eighth.

Maciarella Reunion

What proved to be a delightful affair was the annual reunion of the Maciarella family on Thursday night at Cascade Park. Following a delicious dinner which was served in the grove, the large gathering enjoyed the different amusements.

Dancing was in vogue until a late hours. The committee in charge included Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Maciarello, Mr. and Mrs. Nick Maciarello and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Maciarello.

On Western Tour.

George Edell, ten-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Edell of Shaw street, left yesterday with his grandmother, Mrs. Joseph Edell of Butler, for a three months' tour of the west.

They will visit the world's fair at Chicago and go on to San Francisco, Cal., and other points of interest on the coast.

KATHRYN R. KING WEDS RALPH J. McCONNELL

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph S. McConnell are on their honeymoon through Kentucky and Mississippi and upon its conclusion they will be at home to their scores of friends in a newly furnished apartment on East Washington street, this city.

The bride was formerly Miss Kathryn R. King, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. King of McClelland avenue, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Orin B. McConnell of Adams street.

Their marriage was a large church event of Tuesday, July 17, at Paducah, Ky., the ceremony being performed at six o'clock in the evening in the First Christian church, by the bride's uncle, Dr. F. B. Braden, pastor. Mr. and Mrs. Norman Braden, cousins of the bride, were attendants.

The bride was becomingly costumed in a white crepe ensemble with large brimmed hat while her attendant wore pink crepe with hat and accessories matching. A wedding dinner supplemented the ceremony.

Both Mr. and Mrs. McConnell are well and popularly known in New Castle. Mrs McConnell is a graduate of Union High school and for the past five years has been a teacher in Union High school. Mr. McConnell is a graduate of New Castle High school and is associated with the G. R. Kinney Shoe company.

VETS AUXILIARY HONORS MEMBER

Members of the Ladies Auxiliary of Harry L. McBride Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, gave a farewell party in honor of Mrs. Margaret Bowen, of Harrison street, who will leave August 1, to make her home in Washington, D. C.

There were 25 present and the evening hours were spent with cards and bingo. Prizes in cards went to Mrs. Helen Dunlap and Mrs. Elsie Staeber, while prizes at bingo went to Lucy Wooley and Margaret Bowen.

The committee in charge of arrangements was composed of Evelyn Wood, Etta Keelan, and Mae Christoph, who served a delicious lunch. Mrs. Bowen was presented with a beautiful and appropriate gift as a remembrance of the occasion.

ANNUAL PICNIC AT METZLER COTTAGE

Tuesday kensington members have chosen a lovely, cool spot along the Slippery Rock for their annual picnic which will be an event of Thursday, July 26, at the cottage of Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Metzler at Kennedy's Mills.

The women will motor out early in the day, taking with them a box lunch for noon luncheon. At supper time they will be joined by their husbands and families for an appetizing picnic, which will be served at several long tables under the shade trees. A pleasing program of entertainment has been planned for the day.

Bestyette Club

Mrs. Ned Chapman was hostess to the members of the Bestyette club at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Leohner, Highland avenue, Thursday evening, with bridge in play during the get-together.

Mrs. David Leonardson succeeded in winning the prize given for high score. Special guests were Delores Gould, Mrs. Louis Southern, Mrs. Hubert Sadler and Mrs. Don McCleary of Clairton.

Pink and blue were prettily combined in the table appointments with a bowl of pink roses as the centerpiece.

Miss Catherine Hodge, Wallace avenue, will be hostess to the group August 3, when the husbands will be guests at a dinner party at 6:30.

Enjoy Wiener Roast.

Among those who enjoyed a wiener roast given at Hubbard, O., on Wednesday night were: Yolanda, Florence and Carl Carney, Rose, Antonetta, Jennie and Devi DeSalvo, Tony Cook, Sam Audia, Joseph Lillamo, Frank Gimeney, G. DeYillio, Albert DeYillio and Charles DiPaola of this city. The affair was given by Miss Rose Marino of Hubbard, O.

At Camp Freed.

Martha Jo Harris of Garfield avenue and Betty Lou Orr of Hillcrest avenue are at Camp Freed at New Galilee for the next ten days. They are chaperoned by Mrs. George Hackett of Beaver.

QUOTA CLUB HAS CONTEST BANQUET

The Gray team of the Quota club, captained by Marguerite Cordes, was feted last evening at the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Williams of Walmo. The Blues, captained by Mrs. Reva Gormley, proved themselves to be excellent hostesses.

A most delicious chicken dinner was served at six o'clock at tables attractively centered with bowls of beautiful flowers.

Miss M. Arline Waid snapped a number of pictures of the group.

Mrs. Claire Brown and Mrs. Orra K. Snyder, who acted as delegates to the Quota Club International Convention at The Homestead, Hot Springs, Virginia, gave very interesting and detailed reports on the convention. The reports were so interesting that the girls felt as though they had also attended the convention.

Dispensing with regular dinner meetings during the summer months, only a few social affairs will be held, among which will be a breakfast which will be served on Wednesday morning, August 1, at Sunnycrest, at which time the Grays, the winning team in the attendance contest, will be hostesses to the Blues, the losers.

A committee composed of Mrs. Elizabeth Williams, Lila Henshaw, Anne Sweeney, Dr. Rozella Popp, Martha Bigley and Marian Ferver are making plans for a picnic to be held at Cascade Park on Monday evening, August 20, at which time the Crawford-Oakridge children will be guests of the Quota club girls. A program of sports and rides will be enjoyed.

CLASS SHOWERS BRIDE AND GROOM

Thursday evening the members of the Upstreamers' class of the Epworth Methodist church honored one of their members, and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Mills, at a delightful party at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Webster on the Butler road.

There were 24 enjoyed games on the spacious lawn until darkness fell then all trouped to the orchard where a large fire was built. Each person, armed with a long fork, stabbed the "doggies" and roasted them in the glowing embers and topped off the feast with toasted marshmallows. From the orchard the group returned to the house where Mr. and Mrs. Mills found a stack of packages piled high on a table, each bearing their name. These were opened and found to contain lovely gifts useful to a couple just starting to housekeeping. Miss Marjorie Clark, for the class, presented Mrs. Mills with a handsome picture.

Special guests included Mr. and Mrs. William Johns, a recent bride and groom, Theda Watters, Harold Wigton, John Thompson, Mrs. Ralph Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. William Dampier, Janet Clark and Bob Gillespie of Slippery Rock.

EMPLOYES ENJOY DINNER AT HOTEL

Honoring the employees of the Cudahy Company of the New Castle district for their splendid work in an intra-company contest held during the past month, a dinner was given the employes in the Castleton Hotel Thursday night.

The contest had as its prize a trip to the World's Fair for the branch manager of the high district. Through the efforts of the employees of the New Castle branch this district was high and the manager W. S. Crozier and his wife leave for the World's Fair Sunday morning at the company's expense.

Those present were Manager and Mrs. W. S. Crozier, C. W. Brown, W. H. Stafford, W. E. Ollinger, C. E. Tindall, Kenneth Wise, Harold Boughter, J. E. Lee, E. R. Kerr, M. Bentley, J. R. Bentley, C. Frank Kelley, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Leighty, Miss Sarah Thomas, Andy Fitsue, Lee Starr. Special guests were J. W. Christian, J. A. Johnson, M. G. Gorman, and Bert Lamb all of McKeesport and L. S. Bears, of Chicago.

NEIGHBORS PICNIC AT CASCADE PARK

Neighbors in the 2300 block on Highland avenue held their annual picnic Thursday at Cascade park, the occasion being a most enjoyable one.

Among the 20 guests present were several from out of town, including Wallace Eisenuth, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Roper, Miss Anna Roper and Herman Rhodes, all of New Kensington.

The day was delightfully spent with park amusements with delicious menus served under the direction of the president, Mrs. W. E. Harris, and her aides.

So successful have these picnics been for the past few years that it is planned to continue them, holding another next year at the same place.

Picnic Dinner.

Sam Gettings of McCaslin entertained a group of friends from New Castle, Princeton and Ellwood City at his home Thursday evening.

A picnic dinner featured the 6 o'clock hour after which a series of amusing games were played on the lawn.

Later the group went into the house and enjoyed a period of old-fashioned music.

PRETTY WEDDING IN ST. MICHAEL'S CHURCH

One of the prettiest of the July brides was Miss Anna Shellock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Shellock of 103 Charles street, whose marriage to James Quinn, son of James Quinn, Sr., of West Pittsburg, took place Thursday morning at 9:30 in St. Michael's church.

Rev. Father Ambrose Capitan solemnized the service before an assembly of several hundred people. The bride was atttired in a beautiful gown of white satin, made close fitting with a long train over which fell from a pearl beaded cap and clusters of orange blossoms, a handsome lace veil. She carried an arm bouquet of calla lilies.

She was attended by her sister, Miss Margaret Shellock, as maid of honor, who wore a pink chiffon frock with large pink horsehair hat and matching accessories. Her bouquet was of pink rosebuds.

Miss Veronica Hardy of Cleveland was bridesmaid, gowned in yellow chiffon and large yellow hat and carrying an arm bouquet of tea roses. John Elsesser was best man and Richard Elsesser, usher.

A wedding dinner of 50 covers was served at noon in the bride's home. Last evening several hundred relatives and friends were entertained at a reception in Slovak hall on Charles street. Dancing to delightful orchestra music was the chief entertainment, the bride's dance being a feature.

Among those present were employes from the J. A. Wright market and restaurant with whom the bride has been associated for a number of years and guests from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Hassage of Youngstown, Mrs. George Hassage of Hubbard and Mr. and Mrs. Steve Hardy of Cleveland.

The groom is connected with the Baltimore Life Insurance company and he and his bride will reside in this city where they have scores of friends.

M. & K. Class Meets.

The M. & K. class of the People's Mission met at the home of Mrs. C. S. Caldwell, Porter street, Thursday evening with 21 members present.

After a devotional opening a business session was called at which time the members decided upon making two quilts and to breakfast at Cascade park Friday, July 27.

Refreshments of a delicious nature were served by the hostess and her sister, Mrs. Jennie Cameron.

Mrs. Herman Byler of the Harbor will be hostess for the August meeting, which will be in the form of a corn roast, with the husbands as guests.

Returning To Hospital.

Miss Elizabeth Theis will return to her duties at the New Kensington Citizens General hospital, where she is a student nurse, this evening, after a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Theis of Garfield avenue.

Miss Theis was accompanied here early last week by Mr. and Carl Theis of New Kensington and being joined in this city by Miss Anna Theis, the party left from here for the world's fair at Chicago.

Dinner and Swim.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward McKissick, Crawford avenue, most graciously entertained a group of friends on Thursday evening at a chicken dinner in their home.

The table was attractive in green and white appointments, with a bowl of garden flowers as a centerpiece, flanked by green tapers in crystal holders.

When dinner was over the group motored to Nashua where a swimming party featured the twilight hours. Mrs. Gertrude Bowden won the fancy diving contest.

EVENING SHOWER FOR EDITH MILLER

Wednesday evening Mr. and Mrs. John Miller, Harbor street, entertained 75 young people at a bridal shower for their daughter, Edith, whose wedding to John Lang of Hamilton street, will be an August event.

Lights were strung through the spacious yard at the Miller home and the young people enjoyed an evening of music and dancing after extending their congratulations to the young couple.

A shower of miscellaneous gifts was presented Mr. Lang and Miss Miller, including many lovely things for their new home.

At a late hour refreshments were served at long tables arranged amid the flower garden.

Other pre-nuptial fetes have been arranged for Miss Miller and her fiance.

Prizes for prowess at bridge were awarded Mrs. J. H. Gibson, Mrs. S. H. Rhoads, C. Ed. Smith, Jr., and A. B. Street Thursday evening at the New Castle Field club when a large number of the members spent an evening at cards, with Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Strayer as hosts.

When play was concluded a delicious lunch was served and a period of sociability enjoyed.

Hoovers As Hosts.

Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Hoover were genial hosts Thursday evening when they entertained the members of Section B of the Y. L. B. class of the Third United Presbyterian church at their home on the Harlansburg road with places arranged for 40 at a basket picnic dinner in the yard.

Lovely garden flowers adorned the table and formed a pretty setting for the fete. Mrs. Anna McLure, Mrs. Floyd Moore, Mrs. B. Daugherty and Mrs. John Kaufman formed the committee on arrangements.

Special guests were Mrs. Lizzie Good of Hubbard, O.; Mrs. Virginia Book and daughter, Shirley, Helen Davis and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Porter and daughter Jean.

Class Has Picnic.

Members of the Workers Together class of Croton M. E. Sunday school, taught by Mrs. Charles E. Allen, had a picnic at Cascade park last evening as a courtesy to Miss Ruth Joshua, who has but recently returned from London, Eng.

Afternoon hours were spent in swimming and enjoying the pleasures of the park, and a picnic supper was served later in the evening.

Other special guests were Rev. and Mrs. C. S. Joshua and daughter Betty, and Miss Marjorie Rhodes, superintendent of the Sunday school.

Birthday Party

Honoring the birthday anniversary of Miss Annabelle Cherol, of Division street, a group of friends held a party Thursday night at Cascade Park. Dancing proved the popular pastime. The honored guest was presented with a useful gift.

DELIGHTFUL AFFAIR FOR MISS GOODMAN

A delightful affair of Thursday evening was a miscellaneous shower presided over by Miss Isabel Jones of 324 East Moody avenue for Miss Harriet Goodman, whose engagement to Norman F. Gorcys has been announced for July 30.

Several tables of bridge were provided for the amusement of the guests, and beautiful prizes were awarded to Miss June Webster and Miss Alice Newman. For a late supper, throughout which pastel colors predominated, the hostess was assisted by Miss Maree Biddle.

The guest of honor received lovely gifts.

CALIFORNIA VISITOR HOSTESS AT DINNER

Returning many lovely social courtesies which have been extended Mrs. Laura Maloney since her arrival in New Castle from Watsonville, Cal., Mrs. Maloney was hostess Thursday evening at a 6 o'clock dinner in the home of her mother, Mrs. Robert Freed on West Cherry street.

Guests were members of the L. A. B. club and several other friends, Mrs. Charles Gilson, Mrs. Ruth Maloney, Mrs. Charlotte Emery and Mrs. Robert Freed, covers being arranged for 20 at tables artistic with garden floral centerpieces.

Aides in serving a very tempting menu were Mrs. Emma Sweet, Mrs. Maud Jones, Mrs. Lottie McCullough, Mrs. Nellie Taylor and Mrs. Olive Book.

Evening hours were given over to cards and music. Piano solos were rendered by Mrs. Charlotte Emery and several choral numbers were given by Mrs. Bertha Shaffer, Mrs. Anna McClymonds, Mrs. Emma Sweet and Mrs. Annabelle McFadden.

At cards, favors were won by Mrs. Tina Grove and Mrs. Nellie Taylor while at bingo Mrs. Flora Cunningham was the fortunate winner.

Tuesday, July 24, the club will be entertained in Edenburg by Mrs. Olive Book.

PICNIC REPLACES USUAL PROGRAM

Westside Garden club members with their children spent Thursday, delightfully, at the cottage of Mrs. Chauncey Davis on the Slippery Rock.

Dinner at noon was served under the big trees near the water and covers for seventeen included three visitors, Mrs. William Baltes, Mrs. Charles Body and Betty Glass.

Swimming was the main diversion with "just loafing out of doors" additional pleasure. The customary program was dispensed with for the day.

In August, there will be the usual meeting at the home of Mrs. George Glass on North street, on the eighth.

Maciarella Reunion

What proved to be a delightful affair was the annual reunion of the Maciarella family on Thursday night at Cascade Park. Following a delicious dinner which was served in the grove, the large gathering enjoyed the different amusements.

Dancing was in vogue until a late hours. The committee in charge included Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Maciarello, Mr. and Mrs. Nick Maciarello and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Maciarello.

On Western Tour.

George Edell, ten-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Edell of Shaw street, left yesterday with his grandmother, Mrs. Joseph Edell of Butler, for a three months' tour of the west.

They will visit the world's fair at Chicago and go on to San Francisco, Cal., and other points of interest on the coast.

KATHRYN R. KING WEDS RALPH J. McCONNELL

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph S. McConnell are on their honeymoon through Kentucky and Mississippi and upon its conclusion they will be at home to their scores of friends in a newly furnished apartment on East Washington street, this city.

The bride was formerly Miss Kathryn R. King, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. King of McClelland avenue, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Orin B. McConnell of Adams street.

Their marriage was a large church event of Tuesday, July 17, at Paducah, Ky., the ceremony being performed at six o'clock in the evening in the First Christian church, by the bride's uncle, Dr. F. B. Braden, pastor. Mr. and Mrs. Norman Braden, cousins of the bride, were attendants.

The bride was becomingly costumed in a white crepe ensemble with large brimmed hat while her attendant wore pink crepe with hat and accessories matching. A wedding dinner supplemented the ceremony.

Both Mr. and Mrs. McConnell are well and popularly known in New Castle. Mrs McConnell is a graduate of Union High school and for the past five years has been a teacher in Union High school. Mr. McConnell is a graduate of New Castle High school and is associated with the G. R. Kinney Shoe company.

VETS AUXILIARY HONORS MEMBER

Members of the Ladies Auxiliary of Harry L. McBride Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, gave a farewell party in honor of Mrs. Margaret Bowen, of Harrison street, who will leave August 1, to make her home in Washington, D. C.

There were 25 present and the evening hours were spent with cards and bingo. Prizes in cards went to Mrs. Helen Dunlap and Mrs. Elsie Staeber, while prizes at bingo went to Lucy Wooley and Margaret Bowen.

The committee in charge of arrangements was composed of Evelyn Wood, Etta Keelan, and Mae Christoph, who served a delicious lunch. Mrs. Bowen was presented with a beautiful and appropriate gift as a remembrance of the occasion.

ANNUAL PICNIC AT METZLER COTTAGE

Tuesday kensington members have chosen a lovely, cool spot along the Slippery Rock for their annual picnic which will be an event of Thursday, July 26, at the cottage of Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Metzler at Kennedy's Mills.

The women will motor out early in the day, taking with them a box lunch for noon luncheon. At supper time they will be joined by their husbands and families for an appetizing picnic, which will be served at several long tables under the shade trees. A pleasing program of entertainment has been planned for the day.

Bestyette Club

Mrs. Ned Chapman was hostess to the members of the Bestyette club at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Leohner, Highland avenue, Thursday evening, with bridge in play during the get-together.

Mrs. David Leonardson succeeded in winning the prize given for high score. Special guests were Delores Gould, Mrs. Louis Southern, Mrs. Hubert Sadler and Mrs. Don McCleary of Clairton.

Pink and blue were prettily combined in the table appointments with a bowl of pink roses as the centerpiece.

Miss Catherine Hodge, Wallace avenue, will be hostess to the group August 3, when the husbands will be guests at a dinner party at 6:30.

Enjoy Wiener Roast.

Among those who enjoyed a wiener roast given at Hubbard, O., on Wednesday night were: Yolanda, Florence and Carl Carney, Rose, Antonetta, Jennie and Devi DeSalvo, Tony Cook, Sam Audia, Joseph Lillamo, Frank Gimeney, G. DeYillio, Albert DeYillio and Charles DiPaola of this city. The affair was given by Miss Rose Marino of Hubbard, O.

At Camp Freed.

Martha Jo Harris of Garfield avenue and Betty Lou Orr of Hillcrest avenue are at Camp Freed at New Galilee for the next ten days. They are chaperoned by Mrs. George Hackett of Beaver.

QUOTA CLUB HAS CONTEST BANQUET

The Gray team of the Quota club, captained by Marguerite Cordes, was feted last evening at the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Williams of Walmo. The Blues, captained by Mrs. Reva Gormley, proved themselves to be excellent hostesses.

A most delicious chicken dinner was served at six o'clock at tables attractively centered with bowls of beautiful flowers.

Miss M. Arline Wald snapped a number of pictures of the group.

Mrs. Claire Brown and Mrs. Orra K. Snyder, who acted as delegates to the Quota Club International Convention at The Homestead, Hot Springs, Virginia, gave very interesting and detailed reports on the convention. The reports were so interesting that the girls felt as though they had also attended the convention.

Dispensing with regular dinner meetings during the summer months, only a few social affairs will be held, among which will be a breakfast which will be served on Wednesday morning, August 1, at Sunnycrest, at which time the Grays, the winning team in the attendance contest, will be hostesses to the Blues, the losers.

A committee composed of Mrs. Elizabeth Williams, Lila Henshaw, Anne Sweeney, Dr. Rozella Popp, Martha Bigley and Marian Ferver are making plans for a picnic to be held at Cascade Park on Monday evening, August 20, at which time the Crawford-Oakridge children will be guests of the Quota club girls. A program of sports and rides will be enjoyed.

CLASS SHOWERS BRIDE AND GROOM

Thursday evening the members of the Upstreamers' class of the Epworth Methodist church honored one of their members, and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Mills, at a delightful party at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Webster on the Butler road.

There were 24 enjoyed games on the spacious lawn until darkness fell then all trouped to the orchard where a large fire was built. Each person, armed with a long fork, stabbed the "doggies" and roasted them in the glowing embers and topped off the feast with toasted marshmallows. From the orchard the group returned to the house where Mr. and Mrs. Mills found a stack of packages piled high on a table, each bearing their name. These were opened and found to contain lovely gifts useful to a couple just starting to housekeeping. Miss Marjorie Clark, for the class, presented Mrs. Mills with a handsome picture.

Special guests included Mr. and Mrs. William Johns, a recent bride and groom, Theda Watters, Harold Wigton, John Thompson, Mrs. Ralph Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. William Dampier, Janet Clark and Bob Gillespie of Slippery Rock.

EMPLOYES ENJOY DINNER AT HOTEL

Honoring the employees of the Cudahy Company of the New Castle district for their splendid work in an intra-company contest held during the past month, a dinner was given the employes in the Castleton Hotel Thursday night.

The contest had as its prize a trip to the World's Fair for the branch manager of the high district. Through the efforts of the employees of the New Castle branch this district was high and the manager W. S. Crozier and his wife leave for the World's Fair Sunday morning at the company's expense.

Those present were Manager and Mrs. W. S. Crozier, C. W. Brown, W. H. Stafford, W. E. Ollinger, C. E. Tindall, Kenneth Wise, Harold Boughter, J E. Lee, E. R. Kerr, M. Bentley, J. R. Bentley, C. Frank Kelley, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Leighty, Miss Sarah Thomas, Andy Fitsue, Lee Starr. Special guests were J. W. Christian, J. A. Johnson, M. G. Gorman, and Bert Lamb all of McKeesport and L. S. Bears, of Chicago.

NEIGHBORS PICNIC AT CASCADE PARK

Neighbors in the 2300 block on Highland avenue held their annual picnic Thursday at Cascade park, the occasion being a most enjoyable one.

Among the 20 guests present were several from out of town, including Wallace Eisenuth, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Roper, Miss Anna Roper and Herman Rhodes, all of New Kensington.

The day was delightfully spent with park amusements with delicious menus served under the direction of the president, Mrs. W. E. Harris, and her aides.

So successful have these picnics been for the past few years that it is planned to continue them, holding another next year at the same place.

Picnic Dinner.

Sam Gettings of McCaslin entertained a group of friends from New Castle, Princeton and Ellwood City at his home Thursday evening.

A picnic dinner featured the 6 o'clock hour after which a series of amusing games were played on the lawn.

Later the group went into the house and enjoyed a period of old-fashioned music.

PRETTY WEDDING IN ST. MICHAEL'S CHURCH

One of the prettiest of the July brides was Miss Anna Shellock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Shellock of 103 Chartes street, whose marriage to James Quinn, son of James Quinn, Sr., of West Pittsburg, took place Thursday morning at 9:30 in St. Michael's church.

Rev. Father Ambrose Capitan solemnized the service before an assembly of several hundred people. The bride was attired in a beautiful gown of white satin, made close fitting with a long train over which fell from a pearl beaded cap and clusters of orange blossoms, a handsome lace veil. She carried an arm bouquet of calla lilies.

She was attended by her sister, Miss Margaret Shellock, as maid of honor, who wore a pink chiffon frock with large pink horsehair hat and matching accessories. Her bouquet was of pink rosebuds.

Miss Veronica Hardy of Cleveland was bridesmaid, gowned in yellow chiffon and large yellow hat and carrying an arm bouquet of tea roses. John Elsesser was best man and Richard Elsesser, usher.

A wedding dinner of 50 covers was served at noon in the bride's home. Last evening several hundred relatives and friends were entertained at a reception in Slovak hall on Chartes street. Dancing to delightful orchestra music was the chief entertainment, the bride's dance being a feature.

Among those present were employes from the J. A. Wright market and restaurant with whom the bride has been associated for a number of years and guests from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Hassage of Youngstown, Mrs. George Hassage of Hubbard and Mr. and Mrs. Steve Hardy of Cleveland.

The groom is connected with the Baltimore Life Insurance company and he and his bride will reside in this city where they have scores of friends.

M. & K. Class Meets.

The M. & K. class of the People's Mission met at the home of Mrs. C. S. Caldwell, Porter street, Thursday evening with 21 members present.

After a devotional opening a business session was called at which time the members decided upon making two quilts and to breakfast at Cascade park Friday, July 27.

Refreshments of a delicious nature were served by the hostess and her sister, Mrs. Jennie Cameron.

Mrs. Herman Byler of the Harbor will be hostess for the August meeting, which will be in the form of a corn roast, with the husbands as guests.

Returning To Hospital.

Miss Elizabeth Theis will return to her duties at the New Kensington Citizens General hospital, where she is a student nurse, this evening, after a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Theis of Garfield avenue.

Miss Theis was accompanied here early last week by Mr. and Carl Theis of New Kensington and being joined in this city by Miss Anna Theis, the party left from here for the world's fair at Chicago.

Dinner and Swim.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward McKissick, Crawford avenue, most graciously entertained a group of friends on Thursday evening at a chicken dinner in their home.

The table was attractive in green and white appointments, with a bowl of garden flowers as a centerpiece, flanked by green tapers in crystal holders.

When dinner was over the group motored to Nashua where a swimming party featured the twilight hours. Mrs. Gertrude Bowden won the fancy diving contest.

EVENING SHOWER FOR EDITH MILLER

Wednesday evening Mr. and Mrs. John Miller, Harbor street, entertained 75 young people at a bridal shower for their daughter, Edith, whose wedding to John Lang of Hamilton street, will be an August event.

Lights were strung through the spacious yard at the Miller home and the young people enjoyed an evening of music and dancing after extending their congratulations to the young couple.

A shower of miscellaneous gifts was presented Mr. Lang and Miss Miller, including many lovely things for their new home.

At a late hour refreshments were served at long tables arranged amid the flower garden.

Other pre-nuptial fetes have been arranged for Miss Miller and her fiance.

The contest had as its prize a trip to the World's Fair for the branch manager of the high district. Through the efforts of the employees of the New Castle branch this district was high and the manager W. S. Crozier and his wife leave for the World's Fair Sunday morning at the company's expense.

Those present were Manager and Mrs. W. S. Crozier, C. W. Brown, W. H. Stafford, W. E. Ollinger, C. E. Tindall, Kenneth Wise, Harold Boughter, J E. Lee, E. R. Kerr, M. Bentley, J. R. Bentley, C. Frank Kelley, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Leighty, Miss Sarah Thomas, Andy Fitsue, Lee Starr. Special guests were J. W. Christian, J. A. Johnson, M. G. Gorman, and Bert Lamb all of McKeesport and L. S. Bears, of Chicago.

NEIGHBORS PICNIC AT CASCADE PARK

Neighbors in the 2300 block on Highland avenue held their annual picnic Thursday at Cascade park, the occasion being a most enjoyable one.

Among the 20 guests present were several from out of town, including Wallace Eisenuth, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Roper, Miss Anna Roper and Herman Rhodes, all of New Kensington.

The day was delightfully spent with park amusements with delicious menus served under the direction of the president, Mrs. W. E. Harris, and her aides.

So successful have these picnics been for the past few years that it is planned to continue them, holding another next year at the same place.

Picnic Dinner.

Sam Gettings of McCaslin entertained a group of friends from New Castle, Princeton and Ellwood City at his home Thursday evening.

A picnic dinner featured the 6 o'clock hour after which a series of amusing games were played on the lawn.

Later the group went into the house and enjoyed a period of old-fashioned music.

PRETTY WEDDING IN ST. MICHAEL'S CHURCH

One of the prettiest of the July brides was Miss Anna Shellock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Shellock of 103 Chartes street, whose marriage to James Quinn, son of James Quinn, Sr., of West Pittsburg, took place Thursday morning at 9:30 in St. Michael's church.

Rev. Father Ambrose Capitan solemnized the service before an assembly of several hundred people. The bride was atttired in a beautiful gown of white satin, made close fitting with a long train over which fell from a pearl beaded cap and clusters of orange blossoms, a handsome lace veil. She carried an arm bouquet of calla lilies.

She was attended by her sister, Miss Margaret Shellock, as maid of honor, who wore a pink chiffon frock with large pink horsehair hat and matching accessories. Her bouquet was of pink rosebuds.

Miss Veronica Hardy of Cleveland was bridesmaid, gowned in yellow chiffon and large yellow hat and carrying an arm bouquet of tea roses. John Elsesser was best man and Richard Elsesser, usher.

A wedding dinner of 50 covers was served at noon in the bride's home. Last evening several hundred relatives and friends were entertained at a reception in Slovak hall on Chartes street. Dancing to delightful orchestra music was the chief entertainment, the bride's dance being a feature.

Among those present were employes from the J. A. Wright market and restaurant with whom the bride has been associated for a number of years and guests from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Hassage of Youngstown, Mrs. George Hassage of Hubbard and Mr. and Mrs. Steve Hardy of Cleveland.

The groom is connected with the Baltimore Life Insurance company and he and his bride will reside in this city where they have scores of friends.

M. & K. Class Meets.

The M. & K. class of the People's Mission met at the home of Mrs. C. S. Caldwell, Porter street, Thursday evening with 21 members present.

After a devotional opening a business session was called at which time the members decided upon making two quilts and to breakfast at Cascade park Friday, July 27.

Refreshments of a delicious nature were served by the hostess and her sister, Mrs. Jennie Cameron.

Mrs. Herman Byler of the Harbor will be hostess for the August meeting, which will be in the form of a corn roast, with the husbands as guests.

Returning To Hospital.

Miss Elizabeth Theis will return to her duties at the New Kensington Citizens General hospital, where she is a student nurse, this evening, after a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Theis of Garfield avenue.

Miss Theis was accompanied here early last week by Mr. and Carl Theis of New Kensington and being joined in this city by Miss Anna Theis, the party left from here for the world's fair at Chicago.

Dinner and Swim.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward McKissick, Crawford avenue, most graciously entertained a group of friends on Thursday evening at a chicken dinner in their home.

The table was attractive in green and white appointments, with a bowl of garden flowers as a centerpiece, flanked by green tapers in crystal holders.

When dinner was over the group motored to Nashua where a swimming party featured the twilight hours. Mrs. Gertrude Bowden won the fancy diving contest.

EVENING SHOWER FOR EDITH MILLER

Wednesday evening Mr. and Mrs. John Miller, Harbor street, entertained 75 young people at a bridal shower for their daughter, Edith, whose wedding to John Lang of Hamilton street, will be an August event.

Lights were strung through the spacious yard at the Miller home and the young people enjoyed an evening of music and dancing after extending their congratulations to the young couple.

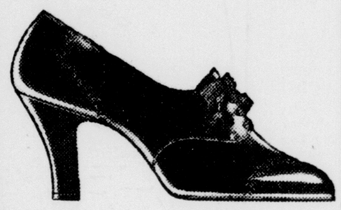

A shower of miscellaneous gifts was presented Mr. Lang and Miss Miller, including many lovely things for their new home.

At a late hour refreshments were served at long tables arranged amid the flower garden.

Other pre-nuptial fetes have been arranged for Miss Miller and her fiance.

LEANING ON UNCLE SAM

IN AN interesting articles in the Chicago Tribune, Arthur Sears Henning, Washington representative of that outstanding American newspaper, calls attention to the fact that more than 23,000,000 people in the United States are now dependent on the United States government for a part, if not all, of their support.

In listing the number of classes, Mr. Henning says that there are 16,000,000 people receiving support from federal relief funds; there are 3,000,000 farmers receiving AAA benefits; 1,120,000 veterans on the government pension rolls; 1,000,000 persons on emergency relief work; 644,000 employed in the administrative branch of the federal government.

In addition, 600,000 persons are receiving drouth relief, 400,000 are employed on public work construction, 300,000 in the civilian conservation corps, 215,100 in the army and navy, 8,500 are employed in the legislative branch of the federal government and 3,300 in the judical branch. Just add of the items yourself and get the stupendous total, and do not forget that in addition there are more than a million persons who have received government loans.

The political possibilities of the system are of course significant and by no means to be ignored. People who depend on the government for their support naturally favor the theory of government which is providing the living.

And with a fifth of our population dependent on government aid or wages in some form or other, it can readily be seen that the opponents of the New Deal have their work cut out for them if they expect to make any sort of showing in the November election.

INSULL TRIAL DATE SET

Several months ago, Samuel Insull, Sr., was brought back from Europe to face criminal charges growing out of the collapse of his industrial empire. Much energy had been shown by the government in trying to get its hands on him. His arrest and return were accomplished at considerable public expense.

The circumstances called for a prompt trial and there was a general demand that the case be brought to a hearing promptly in order to satisfy the requirements of justice.

Dilatory steps of one kind or another immediately were undertaken by attorneys for the accused man. The result has been that the case has not yet been brought to trial.

Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson in Chicago the other day, however, over-ruled a motion for a bill of particulars, described as the last of the dilatory pleas, and fixed September 18 as the date for the trial to begin. The specific charge is that of using the mails to defraud, 16 others being accused with Insull.

The resourcefulness of attorneys skilled in dilatory tactics makes it still uncertain if the trial actually will begin on the date set.

Delay in the administration of justice generally is blamed as an important factor in the high rate of lawlessness that prevails in the United States. To permit the Insull case to drag along unnecessarily would prove discouraging to those seeking to eliminate this.

It is time for the case to be disposed of. Judge Wilkerson will be promoting the ends of justice and rendering a highly valuable public service by seeing that the case comes to trial as quickly as fairness to the defendant will permit. It seems that his attorneys have had sufficient time to prepare their defense. If so, apparently there can be no justification for further delay.

AMERICAN STRENGTH

So much has been written about the problems and sufferings caused by the depression that it is startling to learn that mortality in the United States in 1933 was lower than in former years.

A survey by the Public Health Service, based on data from 28 states with a total population of 95,000,000, shows that the trend has been steadily downward, for most diseases, since 1929.

The death rate for all causes grouped in this heading was 10.5 per thousand in 1933, as compared with 10.8 in 1932, 11.0 in 1931, 11.2 in 1930, and 11.8 in 1929. Fourteen states showed declines in 1933 from 1932. in six there were no increases, and in seven more the rate remained the same.

Deaths from tuberculosis, pneumonia and typhoid fever decreased, diabetes exacted its usual toll, and only cancer and heart disease—which had been on the increase for a number of years even before the depression—claimed more victims in 1933 than in 1932. Infant mortality as a whole dropped, with diphtheria deaths reaching a new low level.

The explanation of this seeming paradox consists, on the one hand, of the fact that people who lived carelessly during times of prosperity now follow a more normal routine, with consequent improvement of their health. Relief agencies and public health bureaus, on the other hand, met emergency conditions among the very poor with prompt and extremely efficient steps. It was the combination of both factors that helped maintain the vitality of the American people largely unimpaired despite adversity. The hardy spirit that built up our nation is far from being broken.

GENERAL JOHNSON VS. GENERAL STRIKE

Whatever the merits of the basic argument at San Francisco, it developed upon General Hugh S. Johnson, disregarding advice to avoid referring to the strike in an address, to present certain axioms about the struggle in characteristically vigorous language. "It would be safer," the general said, "for a cotton-tail rabbit to slap a wildcat in the face than for this half of one per cent of our population to try to strangle the rest of us into submission by any such means as this."

Even more to the point was the general's statement that "the right of dissatisfied men to strike against a recalcitrant employer is inviolate. This government has supported it and will support it to the limit. . . . But the general strike is quite another matter . . . It is civil war.

The Johnsonian vocabulary may be longer on vituperation than on compromise, and it may be that the immediate call was for compromise. The NRA chieftain, also, may have barged in when he should have held aloof. But he has a way of stating great truths in the heat of battle.

Huey seems to be getting in some good training for the next session of congress.

STORY WITH A HAPPY ENDING

HE WAS AN old man and he had been very sad.

Here he was, an old man, coming close to the end of his living, and the world had no more use for his experience. for the knowledge he had garnered and used for so many years. It was a pity and he felt lonely and discouraged, with little hope in him.

This old man of whom I write had come to this country many years ago. . . . He knew about wines. He was what we call "an expert". He knew the wines of Spain, of France, of Germany, and he came to know well the wines of his new home. . . . He knew where the grapes grew and how they grew, knew the soils, knew the sunshine, knew all the methods of the making of wines. . . . He knew the "good years", and he knew the bad. . . . Knew which wines improved in the bottle, knew when they grew old and sickened in the bottle. . . . He knew their colors, their aromas. He could lift a glass of golden wine or ruby red wine to the light, sniff it, taste a few drops and tell you all about it. . . . He had talent and he had experience. He was an excellent judge of wines; it was his business and it was his art, most precious thing in life for him.

Then they passed a law that made wine illegal and that stripped him of the use of his talents. . . . He was not wanted any more and he was growing old. And the wine of life that was in him, as wine is in a bottle, died—and he was unhappy. . . . I do not know if he had ever read that sonnet by Milton on his blindness, in which the poet mourned over "that one talent, which is death to hide, lodged in me useless"—but the old wine taster would have understood it. His talent, too, was lodged in him useless.

And then, for him, a miracle happened. That law was repealed and he was able, once more, to use the talents that had not died, . . . He was sought out, given work. He was busy again, doing again what he knew best how to do. Life was good for him once more. He was needed, he was being used. . . Firms competed for his services and he lived in a glow of happiness . . . And the old man was happier than he had ever been. He laughed, he walked briskly, he was glad to be alive.

The other night he died. In his sleep, quietly, peacefully, he went away. He had been happy. He had been miserable. He had been happy again. . . . It was indeed for him a happy ending.

THE "GOLD DIGGING" ERA IS OVER

Changed financial conditions the past few years have made it difficult for the "gold digger' sort of girls to meet with success.

Fewer young men have money to spend and others have become familiar at last with the kind of girl who uses many devices to cause their escorts to spend extravagantly in their entertainment.

"The leg-pulling game" became a great racket with a certain class of girls, and it was a surprise to note the sort of girls who resorted to that system.

It was also surprising to find how many young men were susceptible to that game.

The only interest the girls had in these fellows was the extent of the entertainment they provided.

Even the most liberal were dropped from the list when it became impossible for them to spend in an extravagent manner.

Many young men became dishonest in their efforts to keep in with these girls.

In the colleges there were and are—many girls of this class.

Dads, who were loaded to the breaking point with expense, were called upon to provide extra money for their sons to spend foolishly.

This racket is not very profitable any more.

STRANGE STORMS

The education of the youth of America may not be all the old fellows think it ought to be, but "young America' knows enough to have a come back in most any situation.

A young naval student was being put through the paces by an old sea captain. "What would you do if a sudden storm sprang up on the starboard? "Throw out an anchor, sir." "What would you do if another storm sprang up in the starboards? "Throw out another anchor, sir." "And if a terrific storm sprang up forward, what would you do?" "Throw out another anchor."

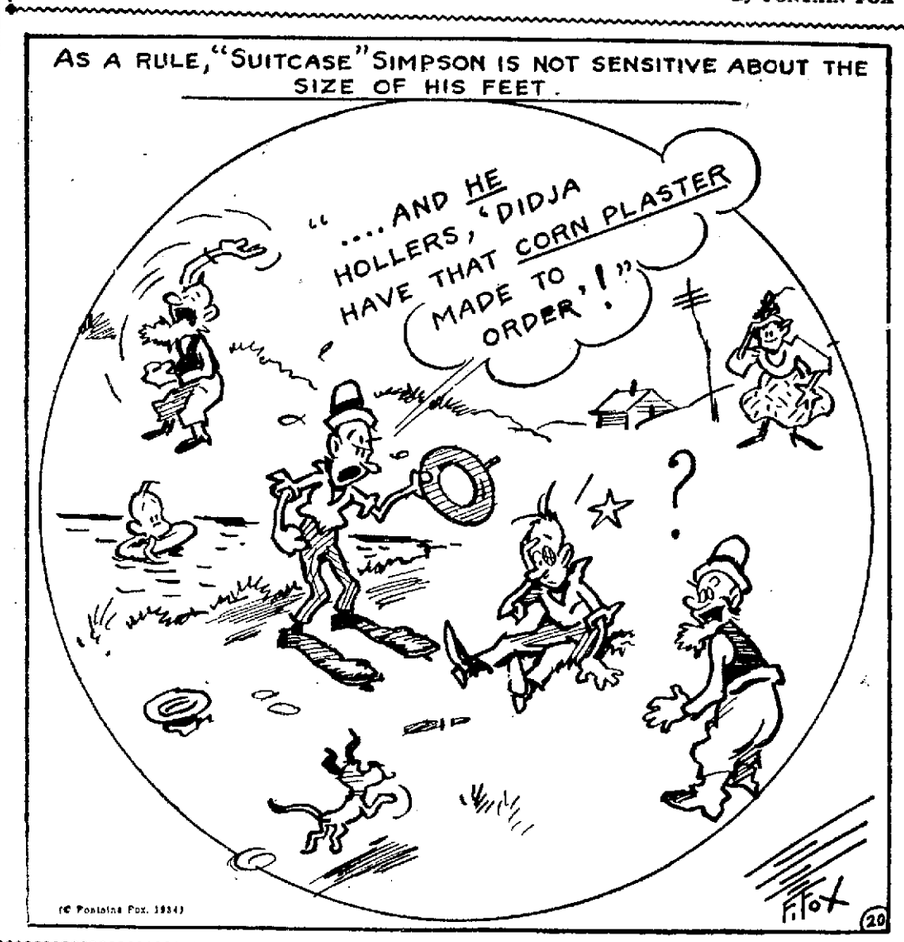

"Hold on," said the Captain, "where are you getting all your anchors from?" "From the same place you're getting your storms, sir."

CHICAGO'S CAGELESS ZOO

Those who object to the keeping of wild animals in barred cages can certainly find no fault with Chicago's new $4,000,000 zoo when it is completed. About 1,000 specimens of some 270 different kinds of animals will wander about their new home with nothing between them and their visitors but a water-filled moat 25 feet wide and 12 feet deep. This moat is just as effective as iron bars, according to Director E. H. Bean, for even the tiger, a very athletic animal, has never been able to spring more than 19 feet in a running broad jump. This so-called barless zoo was thought out by the noted circus man, Hagenbeck, who built one several years ago at Hamburg Germany. Its success encouraged construction of others. If the poet Lovelace were alive he would find his lines, "Stone walls do not a prison make, nor iron bars a cage" have taken on a new meaning.

One of our subscribers, H. H. DeWall, of Morris, Minn., sends us a clipping from a local paper which shows that farmers were getting only 13 cents for their cream, when it cost them around 30 cents to produce it. The clipping also gives other current prices such as these: eggs, 11 cents; hens, five cents a pound; turkeys, seven cents, and old roosters, two cents. Just below this list of market prices for farm products was printed an advertisement of an undertaker, and Mr. DeWall asks if the ad. could have been put there purposely; anyway, he says, it is appropriately placed. Ouch!

A. P. Nyden, a hotel man of Hebron, N. Dak., sends a clipping from the Hebron Herald which he says "shows what Congress has done for the farmers". The local scale showed they weighed 700 pounds. but by the time the pigs reached the buying scale the weight had shrunk to 570 pounds. Farmer Kraenzel received a check for $2.95, which was an average of 28½ cents a pig. Ouch!

The World At A Glance

European Editors Interested In U. S. Thought They Discerned 'Revolution' Britisher's View Of American Policy

By LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, July 20.—European newspaper editors became unusually interested in the United States at the beginning of the San Francisco strike. They desired to know whether an American Communist revolution was beginning.

EAGER

One of the American Communist leaders was eager to have it appear that the San Francisco strike was the beginning. He "spread" himself to one newspaperman who sought him out.

And Europe actually desired his interview above all other interviews!

AGE-OLD

From the New York point of view, the San Francisco ibroglio came into being through a more intense phase of the present world economic evolution.

This is the test question, throughout the world: Shall labor gain a greater share and a larger voice of what it produces?

In the dictator countries they own the governments. In the United States, the government is slipping.

That chiefly is the European view.

BRITISH VIEW

One of the most influential of British correspondents in the United States, who lived in the "states" for a quarter of a century, believes America's trouble is due to narrowistic views and aims.

Worse, he says the blame for most of the economic troubles of the world at the feet of Uncle Sam.

To him, Britain is the world's savior—and now the United States has crippled Britain.

And even the trouble in Germany is set up against Uncle Sam.

Why? "Because the United States demanded payment of huge debts in gold, not in goods. Debts that were incurred to purchase goods in the United States. The Allies were forced to strip Germany with reparations. Germany was placed in an impossible situation.

"Great Britain forgave its reparations, forgave the billions owed to it by France and Italy and others. But the United States insisted upon payment in gold, always in gold, not goods. Then set up a tariff that prevented Europe from selling to the United States. How could it get gold? How could it get anything else?

"Finally there was a collapse. Great Britain was forced off the gold standard. The United States had more gold than any country ever had in all the world's history—and it literally was on the road to starvation. Its gold would buy nothing No nation could trade with the United States—for it would take no goods."

AND NOW

What now? Prices are up—trade is better.

Ah, that—in European eyes—is a more dangerous business than ever.

The United States inflates prices, it tries to live unto itself—a nation which is the chief creditor nation in the world.

What will the result be? A San Francisco strike—in an endeavor to catch up with the dollar. An unnatural stimulation of trade, with perhaps the world bubble bursting all over again. Further devaluation of the dollar—trade wars, bitterness, hatreds, perhaps conflicts. A general repudiation of all debts—a world collapse.

"All the markets the Americans now are trying to win, all put together, are not worth a tithe of the British market, which the United States ruined by its uneconomic demands on Britain," said this Britisher.

WAGES

Of course, American wages irk many Europeans of the "upper classes." One hears that often.

But it looks as if Europe will have to come to the American standard of living.

Much of that standard—according to research organizations—is far too low as it is

For example, 11 million American women work—the majority because they are forced to—while 10 million American men can't get work. Women, in at least a third of the cases, can be obtained for much less money. That's why they work—and the men do not.

The United States labor department has some interesting figures on women workers.

Agitation For Economic Reforms Is Likely To Die Natural Death Now That Recovery Is In The Air

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, July 20—If business really is picking up, as there are beginning to be hints that it is doing, and if it continues to improve up to a tolerably satisfactory level of commercial prosperity, and pretty general employment again, and if that level is maintained long enough for depression conditions of the last four and a half years to pass somewhat from public recollection—

What will be the fate of the economic reforms so called at least) that public men have been trying to effect under the depression's influence?

Judging from widespread utterances of today one naturally would assume that, while the country of course will rejoice at a satisfactory revival it nevertheless will continue to insist strenuously upon such alterations in the "system" (whatever that may be) as will insure against another collapse of the sort it has been suffering from since the 1929 crash.

It's astonishing however, how quickly suffering when it ceases, is forgotten.

In 1927 there were unprecedented floods in the Mississippi valley.

"Never again," it was proclaimed from ocean to ocean, would a misfortune, of so preventable a character, be permitted to afflict the nation. Experts agreed that river control is perfectly practicable. It was promised, as soon as the water had subsided sufficiently to make a start on operations feasible.

But it never did start. There was talk about it in congress for a few months. Then it petered out gradually. By the season of 1928 (which was dry) Chairman Frank R. Reid of the house of representatives' flood control committee told me, it was impossible to stir up the slightest interest in the subject. "When the roof's leaking" as he expressed it, "it's impossible to repair it, in the midst of a downpour. When the downpour ends, what's the use in repairing it? It no longer's leaking

That's just one recent illustration drawn from the panorama of American history. An indefinite number of them could be cited.

I personally recall the depression of 1893 and thereafter.

It was as bad as 1919's in proportion. The figures were smaller, but they were as large relatively. There was the same kind of speculation as of late as to prospects of revolution as to the presumable necessity for a complete readjustment of the then existing system.

All of it evaporated. like a fog sucked up by the sun, with recovery

Depression-born discussion of what had been described as imperatively needed reforms ceased—and pretty rapidly, for recovery was pretty rapid. And the reforms, had they been adopted would have interfered with too many folk's plans to "get rich quick" by virtue of the boom they were hoping for.

I surmise that they genuinely were needed; might have prevented present trouble if they HAD been adopted.

But recovery as soon as it was popularity sensed, snuffed out the demand for them. A few pessimists wailed that recovery could be only temporary; not a corporal's guard of the people listened to their jeremiads.

That recovery is in the air now there are various indications.

More corporations are beginning to pay dividends. Their credit is better. Municipal credits are noticeably better. For example, the other day San Francisco notified the Reconstruction Finance corporation that it is able to dispose of an issue of its bonds upon more favorable terms than the federal government will accept them for.

More confidence is evident.

In short, there are symptoms of a business revival

If it's at hand, the Roosevelt administration will profit by it politically. To be sure, it doubtless will mean the scrapping of a score or so of the administration's recovery agencies. But a lot the administration will care for that—if it wins credit for recovery,anyway.

LEANING ON UNCLE SAM

IN AN interesting articles in the Chicago Tribune, Arthur Sears Henning, Washington representative of that outstanding American newspaper, calls attention to the fact that more than 23,000,000 people in the United States are now dependent on the United States government for a part, if not all, of their support.

In listing the number of classes, Mr. Henning says that there are 16,000,000 people receiving support from federal relief funds; there are 3,000,000 farmers receiving AAA benefits; 1,120,000 veterans on the government pension rolls; 1,000,000 persons on emergency relief work; 644,000 employed in the administrative branch of the federal government.

In addition, 600,000 persons are receiving drouth relief, 400,000 are employed on public work construction, 300,000 in the civilian conservation corps, 215,100 in the army and navy, 8,500 are employed in the legislative branch of the federal government and 3,300 in the judical branch. Just add of the items yourself and get the stupendous total, and do not forget that in addition there are more than a million persons who have received government loans.

The political possibilities of the system are of course significant and by no means to be ignored. People who depend on the government for their support naturally favor the theory of government which is providing the living.

And with a fifth of our population dependent on government aid or wages in some form or other, it can readily be seen that the opponents of the New Deal have their work cut out for them if they expect to make any sort of showing in the November election.

INSULL TRIAL DATE SET

Several months ago, Samuel Insull, Sr., was brought back from Europe to face criminal charges growing out of the collapse of his industrial empire. Much energy had been shown by the government in trying to get its hands on him. His arrest and return were accomplished at considerable public expense.

The circumstances called for a prompt trial and there was a general demand that the case be brought to a hearing promptly in order to satisfy the requirements of justice.

Dilatory steps of one kind or another immediately were undertaken by attorneys for the accused man. The result has been that the case has not yet been brought to trial.

Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson in Chicago the other day, however, over-ruled a motion for a bill of particulars, described as the last of the dilatory pleas, and fixed September 18 as the date for the trial to begin. The specific charge is that of using the mails to defraud, 16 others being accused with Insull.

The resourcefulness of attorneys skilled in dilatory tactics makes it still uncertain if the trial actually will begin on the date set.

Delay in the administration of justice generally is blamed as an important factor in the high rate of lawlessness that prevails in the United States. To permit the Insull case to drag along unnecessarily would prove discouraging to those seeking to eliminate this.

It is time for the case to be disposed of. Judge Wilkerson will be promoting the ends of justice and rendering a highly valuable public service by seeing that the case comes to trial as quickly as fairness to the defendant will permit. It seems that his attorneys have had sufficient time to prepare their defense. If so, apparently there can be no justification for further delay.

AMERICAN STRENGTH

So much has been written about the problems and sufferings caused by the depression that it is startling to learn that mortality in the United States in 1933 was lower than in former years.

A survey by the Public Health Service, based on data from 28 states with a total population of 95,000,000, shows that the trend has been steadily downward, for most diseases, since 1929.

The death rate for all causes grouped in this heading was 10.5 per thousand in 1933, as compared with 10.8 in 1932, 11.0 in 1931, 11.2 in 1930, and 11.8 in 1929. Fourteen states showed declines in 1933 from 1932, in six there were no increases, and in seven more the rate remained the same.

Deaths from tuberculosis, pneumonia and typhoid fever decreased, diabetes exacted its usual toll, and only cancer and heart disease—which had been on the increase for a number of years even before the depression—claimed more victims in 1933 than in 1932. Infant mortality as a whole dropped, with diphtheria deaths reaching a new low level.

The explanation of this seeming paradox consists, on the one hand, of the fact that people who lived carelessly during times of prosperity now follow a more normal routine, with consequent improvement of their health. Relief agencies and public health bureaus, on the other hand, met emergency conditions among the very poor with prompt and extremely efficient steps. It was the combination of both factors that helped maintain the vitality of the American people largely unimpaired despite adversity. The hardy spirit that built up our nation is far from being broken.

GENERAL JOHNSON VS. GENERAL STRIKE

Whatever the merits of the basic argument at San Francisco, it developed upon General Hugh S. Johnson, disregarding advice to avoid referring to the strike in an address, to present certain axioms about the struggle in characteristically vigorous language. "It would be safer," the general said, "for a cotton-tail rabbit to slap a wildcat in the face than for this half of one per cent of our population to try to strangle the rest of us into submission by any such means as this."

Even more to the point was the general's statement that "the right of dissatisfied men to strike against a recalcitrant employer is inviolate. This government has supported it and will support it to the limit. . . . But the general strike is quite another matter . . . It is civil war.

The Johnsonian vocabulary may be longer on vituperation than on compromise, and it may be that the immediate call was for compromise. The NRA chieftain, also, may have barged in when he should have held aloof. But he has a way of stating great truths in the heat of battle.

Huey seems to be getting in some good training for the next session of congress.

STORY WITH A HAPPY ENDING

HE WAS AN old man and he had been very sad.

Here he was, an old man, coming close to the end of his living, and the world had no more use for his experience, for the knowledge he had garnered and used for so many years. It was a pity and he felt lonely and discouraged, with little hope in him.

This old man of whom I write had come to this country many years ago. . . . He knew about wines. He was what we call "an expert". He knew the wines of Spain, of France, of Germany, and he came to know well the wines of his new home. . . . He knew where the grapes grew and how they grew, knew the soils, knew the sunshine, knew all the methods of the making of wines. . . . He knew the "good years", and he knew the bad. . . . Knew which wines improved in the bottle, knew when they grew old and sickened in the bottle. . . . He knew their colors, their aromas. He could lift a glass of golden wine or ruby red wine to the light, sniff it, taste a few drops and tell you all about it. . . . He had talent and he had experience. He was an excellent judge of wines; it was his business and it was his art, most precious thing in life for him.

Then they passed a law that made wine illegal and that stripped him of the use of his talents. . . . He was not wanted any more and he was growing old. And the wine of life that was in him, as wine is in a bottle, died—and he was unhappy. . . . I do not know if he had ever read that sonnet by Milton on his blindness, in which the poet mourned over "that one talent, which is death to hide, lodged in me useless"—but the old wine taster would have understood it. His talent, too, was lodged in him useless.

And then, for him, a miracle happened. That law was repealed and he was able, once more, to use the talents that had not died. . . . He was sought out, given work. He was busy again, doing again what he knew best how to do. Life was good for him once more. He was needed, he was being used. . . Firms competed for his services and he lived in a glow of happiness . . . And the old man was happier than he had ever been. He laughed, he walked briskly, he was glad to be alive.

The other night he died. In his sleep, quietly, peacefully, he went away. He had been happy. He had been miserable. He had been happy again. . . . It was indeed for him a happy ending.

THE "GOLD DIGGING" ERA IS OVER

Changed financial conditions the past few years have made it difficult for the "gold digger" sort of girls to meet with success.

Fewer young men have money to spend and others have become familiar at last with the kind of girl who uses many devices to cause their escorts to spend extravagantly in their entertainment.

"The leg-pulling game" became a great racket with a certain class of girls, and it was a surprise to note the sort of girls who resorted to that system.

It was also surprising to find how many young men were susceptible to that game.

The only interest the girls had in these fellows was the extent of the entertainment they provided.

Even the most liberal were dropped from the list when it became impossible for them to spend in an extravagent manner.

Many young men became dishonest in their efforts to keep in with these girls.

In the colleges there were—and are—many girls of this class.

Dads, who were loaded to the breaking point with expense, were called upon to provide extra money for their sons to spend foolishly.

This racket is not very profitable any more.

The education of the youth of America may not be all the old fellows think it ought to be, but "young America' knows enough to have a come back in most any situation.

A young naval student was being put through the paces by an old sea captain. "What would you do if a sudden storm sprang up on the starboard? "Throw out an anchor, sir." "What would you do if another storm sprang up in the starboards? "Throw out another anchor, sir." "And if a terrific storm sprang up forward, what would you do?" "Throw out another anchor."

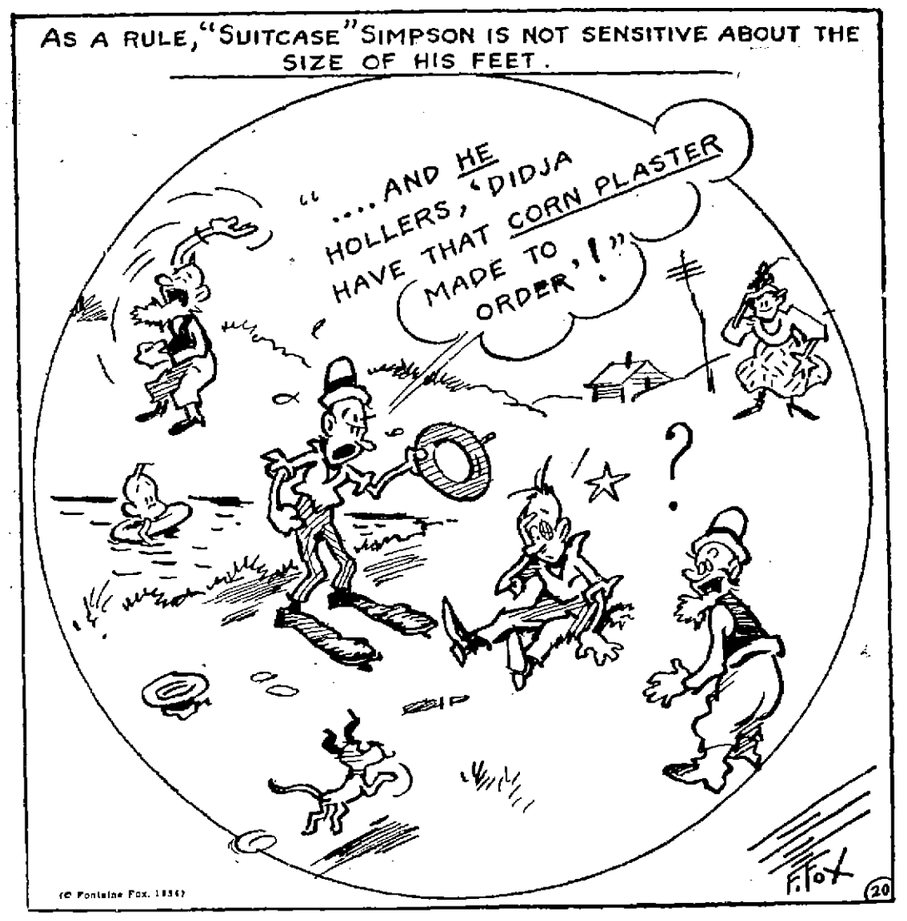

"Hold on," said the Captain, "where are you getting all your anchors from?" "From the same place you're getting your storms, sir."

Those who object to the keeping of wild animals in barred cages can certainly find no fault with Chicago's new $4,000,000 zoo when it is completed. About 1,000 specimens of some 270 different kinds of animals will wander about their new home with nothing between them and their visitors but a water-filled moat 25 feet wide and 12 feet deep. This moat is just as effective as iron bars, according to Director E. H. Bean, for even the tiger, a very athletic animal, has never been able to spring more than 19 feet in a running broad jump. This so-called barless zoo was thought out by the noted circus man, Hagenbeck, who built one several years ago at Hamburg Germany. Its success encouraged construction of others. If the poet Lovelace were alive he would find his lines, "Stone walls do not a prison make, nor iron bars a cage" have taken on a new meaning.

The local scale showed they weighed 700 pounds, but by the time the pigs reached the buying scale the weight had shrunk to 570 pounds. Farmer Kraenzel received a check for $2.95, which was an average of 28½ cents a pig. Ouch!

The World At A Glance

European Editors Interested In U. S. Thought They Discerned 'Revolution' Britisher's View Of American Policy

By LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, July 20.—European newspaper editors became unusually interested in the United States at the beginning of the San Francisco strike. They desired to know whether an American Communist revolution was beginning.

EAGER

One of the American Communist leaders was eager to have it appear that the San Francisco strike was the beginning. He "spread" himself to one newspaperman who sought him out.

And Europe actually desired his interview above all other interviews!

AGE-OLD

From the New York point of view, the San Francisco ibroglio came into being through a more intense phase of the present world economic evolution.

This is the test question, throughout the world: Shall labor gain a greater share and a larger voice of what it produces?

In the dictator countries they own the governments. In the United States, the government is slipping.

That chiefly is the European view.

BRITISH VIEW

One of the most influential of British correspondents in the United States, who lived in the "states" for a quarter of a century, believes America's trouble is due to narrowistic views and aims.

Worse, he says the blame for most of the economic troubles of the world at the feet of Uncle Sam.

To him, Britain is the world's savior—and now the United States has crippled Britain.

And even the trouble in Germany is set up against Uncle Sam.

Why? "Because the United States demanded payment of huge debts in gold, not in goods. Debts that were incurred to purchase goods in the United States. The Allies were forced to strip Germany with reparations. Germany was placed in an impossible situation.

"Great Britain forgave its reparations, forgave the billions owed to it by France and Italy and others. But the United States insisted upon payment in gold, always in gold, not goods. Then set up a tariff that prevented Europe from selling to the United States. How could it get gold? How could it get anything else?

"Finally there was a collapse. Great Britain was forced off the gold standard. The United States had more gold than any country ever had in all the world's history—and it literally was on the road to starvation. Its gold would buy nothing No nation could trade with the United States—for it would take no goods."

AND NOW

What now? Prices are up—trade is better.

Ah, that—in European eyes—is a more dangerous business than ever.

The United States inflates prices, it tries to live unto itself—a nation which is the chief creditor nation in the world.

What will the result be? A San Francisco strike—in an endeavor to catch up with the dollar. An unnatural stimulation of trade, with perhaps the world bubble bursting all over again. Further devaluation of the dollar—trade wars, bitterness, hatreds, perhaps conflicts. A general repudiation of all debts—a world collapse.

"All the markets the Americans now are trying to win, all put together, are not worth a tithe of the British market, which the United States ruined by its uneconomic demands on Britain," said this Britisher.

Of course, American wages irk many Europeans of the "upper classes." One hears that often.

But it looks as if Europe will have to come to the American standard of living.

Much of that standard—according to research organizations—is far too low as it is

For example, 11 million American women work—the majority because they are forced to—while 10 million American men can't get work. Women, in at least a third of the cases, can be obtained for much less money. That's why they work—and the men do not.

The United States labor department has some interesting figures on women workers.

Agitation For Economic Reforms Is Likely To Die Natural Death Now That Recovery Is In The Air

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, July 20—If business really is picking up, as there are beginning to be hints that it is doing, and if it continues to improve up to a tolerably satisfactory level of commercial prosperity, and pretty general employment again, and if that level is maintained long enough for depression conditions of the last four and a half years to pass somewhat from public recollection—

What will be the fate of the economic reforms so called at least) that public men have been trying to effect under the depression's influence?

Judging from widespread utterances of today one naturally would assume that, while the country of course will rejoice at a satisfactory revival it nevertheless will continue to insist strenuously upon such alterations in the "system" (whatever that may be) as will insure against another collapse of the sort it has been suffering from since the 1929 crash.

It's astonishing however, how quickly suffering when it ceases, is forgotten.

In 1927 there were unprecedented floods in the Mississippi valley.

"Never again," it was proclaimed from ocean to ocean, would a misfortune, of so preventable a character, be permitted to afflict the nation. Experts agreed that river control is perfectly practicable. It was promised, as soon as the water had subsided sufficiently to make a start on operations feasible.

But it never did start. There was talk about it in congress for a few months. Then it petered out gradually. By the season of 1928 (which was dry) Chairman Frank R. Reid of the house of representatives' flood control committee told me, it was impossible to stir up the slightest interest in the subject. "When the roof's leaking" as he expressed it, "it's impossible to repair it, in the midst of a downpour. When the downpour ends, what's the use in repairing it? It no longer's leaking.

That's just one recent illustration drawn from the panorama of American history. An indefinite number of them could be cited.

I personally recall the depression of 1893 and thereafter.

It was as bad as 1919's in proportion. The figures were smaller, but they were as large relatively. There was the same kind of speculation as of late as to prospects of revolution as to the presumable necessity for a complete readjustment of the then existing system.

All of it evaporated, like a fog sucked up by the sun, with recovery

Depression-born discussion of what had been described as imperatively needed reforms ceased—and pretty rapidly, for recovery was pretty rapid. And the reforms, had they been adopted would have interfered with too many folk's plans to "get rich quick" by virtue of the boom they were hoping for.

I surmise that they genuinely were needed: might have prevented present trouble if they HAD been adopted.

But recovery as soon as it was popularity sensed, snuffed out the demand for them. A few pessimists wailed that recovery could be only temporary: not a corporal's guard of the people listened to their jeremiads.

That recovery is in the air now there are various indications.

More corporations are beginning to pay dividends. Their credit is better. Municipal credits are noticeably better. For example, the other day San Francisco notified the Reconstruction Finance corporation that it is able to dispose of an issue of its bonds upon more favorable terms than the federal government will accept them for.

More confidence is evident.

In short, there are symptoms of a business revival

If it's at hand, the Roosevelt administration will profit by it politically. To be sure, it doubtless will mean the scrapping of a score or so of the administration's recovery agencies. But a lot the administration will care for that!—if it wins credit for recovery, anyway.

LEANING ON UNCLE SAM

IN AN interesting articles in the Chicago Tribune, Arthur Sears Henning, Washington representative of that outstanding American newspaper, calls attention to the fact that more than 23,000,000 people in the United States are now dependent on the United States government for a part, if not all, of their support.

In listing the number of classes, Mr. Henning says that there are 16,000,000 people receiving support from federal relief funds; there are 3,000,000 farmers receiving AAA benefits; 1,120,000 veterans on the government pension rolls; 1,000,000 persons on emergency relief work; 644,000 employed in the administrative branch of the federal government.

In addition, 600,000 persons are receiving drouth relief, 400,000 are employed on public work construction, 300,000 in the civilian conservation corps, 215,100 in the army and navy, 8,500 are employed in the legislative branch of the federal government and 3,300 in the judical branch. Just add of the items yourself and get the stupendous total, and do not forget that in addition there are more than a million persons who have received government loans.

The political possibilities of the system are of course significant and by no means to be ignored. People who depend on the government for their support naturally favor the theory of government which is providing the living.

And with a fifth of our population dependent on government aid or wages in some form or other, it can readily be seen that the opponents of the New Deal have their work cut out for them if they expect to make any sort of showing in the November election.

INSULL TRIAL DATE SET

Several months ago, Samuel Insull, Sr., was brought back from Europe to face criminal charges growing out of the collapse of his industrial empire. Much energy had been shown by the government in trying to get its hands on him. His arrest and return were accomplished at considerable public expense.

The circumstances called for a prompt trial and there was a general demand that the case be brought to a hearing promptly in order to satisfy the requirements of justice.

Dilatory steps of one kind or another immediately were undertaken by attorneys for the accused man. The result has been that the case has not yet been brought to trial.

Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson in Chicago the other day, however, over-ruled a motion for a bill of particulars, described as the last of the dilatory pleas, and fixed September 18 as the date for the trial to begin. The specific charge is that of using the mails to defraud, 16 others being accused with Insull.

The resourcefulness of attorneys skilled in dilatory tactics makes it still uncertain if the trial actually will begin on the date set.

Delay in the administration of justice generally is blamed as an important factor in the high rate of lawlessness that prevails in the United States. To permit the Insull case to drag along unnecessarily would prove discouraging to those seeking to eliminate this.

It is time for the case to be disposed of. Judge Wilkerson will be promoting the ends of justice and rendering a highly valuable public service by seeing that the case comes to trial as quickly as fairness to the defendant will permit. It seems that his attorneys have had sufficient time to prepare their defense. If so, apparently there can be no justification for further delay.

AMERICAN STRENGTH

So much has been written about the problems and sufferings caused by the depression that it is startling to learn that mortality in the United States in 1933 was lower than in former years.

A survey by the Public Health Service, based on data from 28 states with a total population of 95,000,000, shows that the trend has been steadily downward, for most diseases, since 1929.

The death rate for all causes grouped in this heading was 10.5 per thousand in 1933, as compared with 10.8 in 1932, 11.0 in 1931, 11.2 in 1930, and 11.8 in 1929. Fourteen states showed declines in 1933 from 1932, in six there were no increases, and in seven more the rate remained the same.

Deaths from tuberculosis, pneumonia and typhoid fever decreased, diabetes exacted its usual toll, and only cancer and heart disease—which had been on the increase for a number of years even before the depression—claimed more victims in 1933 than in 1932. Infant mortality as a whole dropped, with diphtheria deaths reaching a new low level.

The explanation of this seeming paradox consists, on the one hand, of the fact that people who lived carelessly during times of prosperity now follow a more normal routine, with consequent improvement of their health. Relief agencies and public health bureaus, on the other hand, met emergency conditions among the very poor with prompt and extremely efficient steps. It was the combination of both factors that helped maintain the vitality of the American people largely unimpaired despite adversity. The hardy spirit that built up our nation is far from being broken.

GENERAL JOHNSON VS. GENERAL STRIKE

Whatever the merits of the basic argument at San Francisco, it developed upon General Hugh S. Johnson, disregarding advice to avoid referring to the strike in an address, to present certain axioms about the struggle in characteristically vigorous language. "It would be safer," the general said, "for a cotton-tail rabbit to slap a wildcat in the face than for this half of one per cent of our population to try to strangle the rest of us into submission by any such means as this."

Even more to the point was the general's statement that "the right of dissatisfied men to strike against a recalcitrant employer is inviolate. This government has supported it and will support it to the limit. . . . But the general strike is quite another matter . . . It is civil war.

The Johnsonian vocabulary may be longer on vituperation than on compromise, and it may be that the immediate call was for compromise. The NRA chieftain, also, may have barged in when he should have held aloof. But he has a way of stating great truths in the heat of battle.

Huey seems to be getting in some good training for the next session of congress.

STORY WITH A HAPPY ENDING

HE WAS AN old man and he had been very sad.

Here he was, an old man, coming close to the end of his living, and the world had no more use for his experience, for the knowledge he had garnered and used for so many years. It was a pity and he felt lonely and discouraged, with little hope in him.

This old man of whom I write had come to this country many years ago. . . . He knew about wines. He was what we call "an expert". He knew the wines of Spain, of France, of Germany, and he came to know well the wines of his new home. . . . He knew where the grapes grew and how they grew, knew the soils, knew the sunshine, knew all the methods of the making of wines. . . . He knew the "good years", and he knew the bad. . . . Knew which wines improved in the bottle, knew when they grew old and sickened in the bottle. . . . He knew their colors, their aromas. He could lift a glass of golden wine or ruby red wine to the light, sniff it, taste a few drops and tell you all about it. . . . He had talent and he had experience. He was an excellent judge of wines; it was his business and it was his art, most precious thing in life for him.

Then they passed a law that made wine illegal and that stripped him of the use of his talents. . . . He was not wanted any more and he was growing old. And the wine of life that was in him, as wine is in a battle, died—and he was unhappy. . . . I do not know if he had ever read that sonnet by Milton on his blindness, in which the poet mourned over "that one talent, which is death to hide, lodged in me useless"—but the old wine taster would have understood it. His talent, too, was lodged in him useless.

And then, for him, a miracle happened. That law was repealed and he was able, once more, to use the talents that had not died. . . . He was sought out, given work. He was busy again, doing again what he knew best how to do. Life was good for him once more. He was needed, he was being used. . . Firms competed for his services and he lived in a glow of happiness . . . And the old man was happier than he had ever been. He laughed, he walked briskly, he was glad to be alive.

The other night he died. In his sleep, quietly, peacefully, he went away. He had been happy. He had been miserable. He had been happy again. . . . It was indeed for him a happy ending.

THE "GOLD DIGGING" ERA IS OVER

Changed financial conditions the past few years have made it difficult for the "gold digger' sort of girls to meet with success.

Fewer young men have money to spend and others have become familiar at last with the kind of girl who uses many devices to cause their escorts to spend extravagantly in their entertainment.

"The leg-pulling game" became a great racket with a certain class of girls, and it was a surprise to note the sort of girls who resorted to that system.

It was also surprising to find how many young men were susceptible to that game.

The only interest the girls had in these fellows was the extent of the entertainment they provided.

Even the most liberal were dropped from the list when it became impossible for them to spend in an extravagent manner.

Many young men became dishonest in their efforts to keep in with these girls.

In the colleges there were and are—many girls of this class.

Dads, who were loaded to the breaking point with expense, were called upon to provide extra money for their sons to spend foolishly.

This racket is not very profitable any more.

"Hold on," said the Captain, "where are you getting all your anchors from?" "From the same place you're getting your storms, sir."

CHICAGO'S CAGELESS ZOO

Those who object to the keeping of wild animals in barred cages can certainly find no fault with Chicago's new $4,000,000 zoo when it is completed. About 1,000 specimens of some 270 different kinds of animals will wander about their new home with nothing between them and their visitors but a water-filled moat 25 feet wide and 12 feet deep. This moat is just as effective as iron bars, according to Director E. H. Bean, for even the tiger, a very athletic animal, has never been able to spring more than 19 feet in a running broad jump. This so-called barless zoo was thought out by the noted circus man, Hagenbeck, who built one several years ago at Hamburg Germany. Its success encouraged construction of others. If the poet Lovelace were alive he would find his lines, "Stone walls do not a prison make, nor iron bars a cage" have taken on a new meaning.

European Editors Interested In U. S. Thought They Discerned 'Revolution' Britisher's View Of American Policy

By LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, July 20.—European newspaper editors became unusually interested in the United States at the beginning of the San Francisco strike. They desired to know whether an American Communist revolution was beginning.

EAGER

One of the American Communist leaders was eager to have it appear that the San Francisco strike was the beginning. He "spread" himself to one newspaperman who sought him out.

And Europe actually desired his interview above all other interviews!

AGE-OLD

From the New York point of view, the San Francisco ibroglio came into being through a more intense phase of the present world economic evolution.

This is the test question, throughout the world: Shall labor gain a greater share and a larger voice of what it produces?

In the dictator countries they own the governments. In the United States, the government is slipping.

That chiefly is the European view.

BRITISH VIEW

One of the most influential of British correspondents in the United States, who lived in the "states" for a quarter of a century, believes America's trouble is due to narrowistic views and aims.

Worse, he says the blame for most of the economic troubles of the world at the feet of Uncle Sam.

To him, Britain is the world's savior—and now the United States has crippled Britain.

And even the trouble in Germany is set up against Uncle Sam.

Why? "Because the United States demanded payment of huge debts in gold, not in goods. Debts that were incurred to purchase goods in the United States. The Allies were forced to strip Germany with reparations. Germany was placed in an impossible situation.

"Great Britain forgave its reparations, forgave the billions owed to it by France and Italy and others. But the United States insisted upon payment in gold, always in gold, not goods. Then set up a tariff that prevented Europe from selling to the United States. How could it get gold? How could it get anything else?

"Finally there was a collapse. Great Britain was forced off the gold standard. The United States had more gold than any country ever had in all the world's history—and it literally was on the road to starvation. Its gold would buy nothing No nation could trade with the United States—for it would take no goods."

AND NOW

What now? Prices are up—trade is better.

Ah, that—in European eyes—is a more dangerous business than ever.

The United States inflates prices, it tries to live unto itself—a nation which is the chief creditor nation in the world.

What will the result be? A San Francisco strike—in an endeavor to catch up with the dollar. An unnatural stimulation of trade, with perhaps the world bubble bursting all over again. Further devaluation of the dollar—trade wars, bitterness, hatreds, perhaps conflicts. A general repudiation of all debts—a world collapse.

"All the markets the Americans now are trying to win, all put together, are not worth a tithe of the British market, which the United States ruined by its uneconomic demands on Britain," said this Britisher.

Of course, American wages irk many Europeans of the "upper classes." One hears that often.

But it looks as if Europe will have to come to the American standard of living.

Much of that standard—according to research organizations—is far too low as it is

For example, 11 million American women work—the majority because they are forced to—while 10 million American men can't get work. Women, in at least a third of the cases, can be obtained for much less money. That's why they work—and the men do not.

The United States labor department has some interesting figures on women workers.

Agitation For Economic Reforms Is Likely To Die Natural Death Now That Recovery Is In The Air

By CHARLES P. STEWART

WASHINGTON, July 20—If business really is picking up, as there are beginning to be hints that it is doing, and if it continues to improve up to a tolerably satisfactory level of commercial prosperity, and pretty general employment again, and if that level is maintained long enough for depression conditions of the last four and a half years to pass somewhat from public recollection—

What will be the fate of the economic reforms so called at least) that public men have been trying to effect under the depression's influence?

Judging from widespread utterances of today one naturally would assume that, while the country of course will rejoice at a satisfactory revival it nevertheless will continue to insist strenuously upon such alterations in the "system" (whatever that may be) as will insure against another collapse of the sort it has been suffering from since the 1929 crash.

That recovery is in the air now there are various indications.

More corporations are beginning to pay dividends. Their credit is better. Municipal credits are noticeably better. For example, the other day San Francisco notified the Reconstruction Finance corporation that it is able to dispose of an issue of its bonds upon more favorable terms than the federal government will accept them for.

More confidence is evident.

In short, there are symptoms of a business revival

If it's at hand, the Roosevelt administration will profit by it politically. To be sure, it doubtless will mean the scrapping of a score or so of the administration's recovery agencies. But a lot the administration will care for that!—if it wins credit for recovery,anyway.

BIRTHDAY PARTY HONORS MRS. SHARPE

A most pleasant time was enjoyed on Wednesday when friends and neighbors gathered at the home of Mrs. R. L. Sharpe at Wampum to help her celebrate her 81st birthday.

The home was beautifully decorated in yellow and white and lovely garden flowers. The guests enjoyed a delicious dinner and supper at a long table decorated fittingly for the event with four large birthday cakes on each of which were the figures 81 outlined in colors.

Guests present were: Mrs. A. E. James of Lincoln university, Rev. and Mrs. S. Burson of Koppel, Mrs. J. Yates of New Castle, Mr. and Mrs. C. Buzard of Ellwood, Rev. and Mrs. W. W. Sharpe, who received a number of pretty gifts in remembrance of a most happy occasion.

Married In Sharon

Announcement was made today of the marriage of Marie Leslie of Pittsburgh to Cecil R. Gordon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Gordon of Sheridan avenue, this city.

Rev. P. A. Galbraith read the service at 4 o'clock in the afternoon in the Oakland avenue M. E. church at Sharon in the presence of members of the immediate families and a few close friends. Attendants were Mr. and Mrs. William Myers, sister and brother-in-law of the bride. The bride was gowned in white organdie with a large picture hat and she carried bride's roses.

After the wedding, a dinner was served in the Meyers home on Baldwin avenue, Sharon. The couple departed on a trip, returning from which they will reside at 1619 Huron avenue, this city. Mr. Gordon is employed in Youngstown with the B. & O. railroad.

New Deal Club.

Miss Dorothy Bartholomew, North Front street, entertained the New Deal 500 club in her home Thursday evening with cards and bingo as the evening's diversion.

Prizes were won by Mrs. Catherine Fee, Mrs. H. Bartholomew, Mrs. C. E. Miller and Mrs. Hugh Daly. Refreshments of a cooling nature were served in the dining room.

Mrs. J. Rogan, North street, will be hostess to the club members Thursday, July 26.

Neisbro Club

Plans were completed for the annual Neisbro outing, to be held Sunday at Lakewood Beach, when members of the Neisbro club held their meeting Thursday evening in the home of Miss Revina Simons, of 313 Lincoln avenue.

The picnic will start at 11 o'clock Sunday morning. The committee in charge follows: Miss Revina Simons, Miss Florence Carney, Miss Marion Gennaula, Miss Lillian Morris and Mrs. Anna Todd.

ALFRED C. REED MARRIES IN WEST

A well known former New Castle young man, Alfred C. Reed, son of Mrs. Alice Reed, of Gainsville, Fla., on Monday afternoon of this week, married Miss Kathryn Louise Eastwood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert G. Eastwood, Grand Rapids, Mich., at the South Congregational church of that city, Rev. Harold Skidmore officiating.

Following the ceremony a reception for fifty guests was held at the home of the bride. The couple departed on a trip east, stopping at the Century of Progress in Chicago enroute. They will be at home at Bonifay, Fla., after September 1.

Mr. Reed resided on Edison avenue when in New Castle. He was graduated from the New Castle senior high school with the class of '26. He commenced his higher education at Westminster College, New Wilmington, and was graduated from the University of Florida in the class of '32. He is now a member of the faculty at the Ponce De Leon high school, in Florida.

Open Door Class.

Mrs. Anna McConnell, Huron avenue, entertained the members of the Open Door class of the Third U. P. church at the regular monthly session Thursday evening.

Mrs. Edith Clement had the devotions after which Mrs. Nora Kimmel presided and plans were made for an event on August 11, also for a wiener roast at the Howard Burdette camp July 27.

Special guests were Mr. and Mrs. Dale Brown and son Bobby, Mrs. T. McNicholas and Mrs. Arthur Minick. The special guests favored the members with a musical program after which refreshments were served.

Birthday Honored

Miss Margaret Kelley's birthday was honored at a dinner given last evening at Cascade park by the G. G. G. club girls.

A delicious menu was prepared by the girls and a large birthday cake centered the table. A business meeting was held later and plans were made for the a birthday dinner honoring Mrs. Jack Bowden. This dinner will be at Cascade park August 3.

Dancing and enjoyment of the park amusements followed.

West Side Club Picnic.

West Side club members held a picnic Thursday evening at 6 o'clock at the home of Mrs. J. C. Carr on West Washington street. Going in the afternoon to the Carr home, the ladies spent pleasantly informal hours and after supper they played cards with prizes going to Mrs. P. Thornton, Mrs. Frank Steckel and Mrs. Anna Gillespie.

In two weeks the club will meet regularly, the place to be announced.

C. Of M. Club

The C. of M. club met at the home of Harlion Conti on Center street last evening. After the business session, Miss Conti and her clubmates donned their swimming suits and enjoyed a moonlight dip in Center Beach.

Swimming was followed by an appetizing luncheon served by Miss Conti and Rose DiThomas.

The next meeting will be in one week with Lucille Faella as hostess.

ASSOCIATION PICNIC AT SONTUM RESIDENCE

At several long tables arranged among the flowers and shrubbery in the yard at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Sontum on Miller avenue, Thursday evening, covers were placed for 60 guests for a delicious picnic dinner.

Included in the company were members of the Ladies' association of the First U. P. church with their husbands and families. On the committee serving were Mrs. M. E. Miller, Mrs. Harvey Robinson, Mrs. Robert Louden, Mrs. M. R. Newberry and Mrs. George Smith.

The evening was spent in an informal fashion strolling around in the beautiful garden and conversing.

Home From Waldemere

Returning yesterday from a delightful stay at a cottage at Waldemere park on Lake Erie, were a number of local girls including the Misses Elizabeth Richardson of Laurel avenue, Grace Houk, Garfield avenue, Evelyn Shriver, Hillcrest avenue, Helen Muse, Winter avenue, Mildred Updegraff, Winter avenue, and Prudence Sullivan of Homestead, Pa.

On Eastern Trip.

Mr. and Mrs. William Wignall of Maryland avenue and their house guests, Mr. and Mrs. William Worth of England with Mrs. William Young of Vancouver, B. C., left today for a trip through New York state.

They went by way of Buffalo and Niagara Falls. After spending a few days there they will go on to Chicago to attend the world's fair.

Labrador Trip

Mrs. Alice Cargill, of Pittsburgh, is the house guest of Miss Alice M. Sterling and Miss Minnie Sterling, Shaw street. She stopped enroute home after attending the convention of the American Library Association in Montreal, Canada and enjoying a boat trip to Newfoundland and Laborador.

BOY SCOUT Activities

TROOP 9 IN CAMP

Boy Scouts of troop 9 of Sunny avenue school, in Union township, are these days enjoying life in the outdoors at their camp on the beautiful Edinburg farm of Professor W. A. Hoffmaster, New Castle school principal.

With the 10 scouts is their able scoutmaster, Jack Turek, who is supervising their vacation at the farm.

The boys met for their regular meeting on Wednesday evening beneath a historical old oak tree on the farm. They took part in the usual devotional exercises, heard the roll call taken and then moved to another old oak reported to be the best specimen of oaks in western Pennsylvania which have stood for a century and a half.

Beneath this tree the boys heard Prof. Hoffmaster describe in a most interesting fashion, the history of the Mahoning river, the Tuscascan trail and the battlefield near New Castle where it has been amply proven that Indian wars were waged.

Mr. Hoffmaster, for the sake of illustration, produced an Indian tomahawk, arrowheads, an Indian's skinner knife and other relics which were found on his farm.

The boys also inspected with interest the markings on another old tree which Alexander McClain is supposed to have made for directions in a survey of 150 years ago.

In their morning walks, Scoutmaster Turek and the boys have come upon Indian arrowheads within the past few days.

At the camp are Harry Williams, Felix Viton, Glenn Borman, Warren Blair, Edward Lester, Henry Boron, Henry Mateja, Victor Emery, Anthony Macri, Roy Love and Mr. Turek.

First of All—The first tax law enacted by the congress started a revolution!

It was an excise levy on the manufacture of spirits, and led to an uprising by farmers of western Pennsylvania who largely depended upon distilleries as markets for their grain. President Washington sent troops to quell "The Whiskey Rebellion" thus fomented, but the law was subsequently repealed.

MAY STAGE BIG ROTARY DINNER HERE IN FUTURE

Possibility of a future dinner-rally of Rotary clubs of the 33rd district, the same district which met in convention at the cathedral last May, was being talked here today. No definite plans, however, have been laid.

Should such a rally be held in the fall or winter, it is believed likely that President Robert L. Hill of Rotary International, whose home is at Columbia, Mo., would attend.

Former District Governor Levi H. Beeler, of Grove City is believed to have mentioned the district dinner to the new Rotary chieftain at the recent Detroit convention.

HOMESICK

The doctor slowly shook his head.
"There's nothing I can do" he said.

"Nothing among my remedies
Will wholly put his heart at ease.

"He longs a certain street to see,
A steeple and a maple tree.

"And hurry through an open door
To see his mother's face once more.

"'Twould end his loss of appetite
"If he could dine at home tonight

If in his own bed he could sleep.

No druggist can my orders fill

"Nothing apothecaries sell
Can make a homesick youngster well."

Ten Arrested In Ohio Strike

(International News Service)

KENTON, O., July 20.—Dynamiting of a bridge and the arrest of 10 persons today marked a renewal of hostilities in the strike of 400 union onion workers in the fertile Scioto marshlands, the largest onion growing fields in the world.

The bridge dynamited was over a creek which flows into the Scioto river, south of McGuffey and apparently the blast had been set off to prevent special deputies from reaching the village, according to Sheriff Wilbur Mitchell.

First of All—The first tax law enacted by the congress started a revolution!

It was an excise levy on the manufacture of spirits, and led to an uprising by farmers of western Pennsylvania who largely depended upon distilleries as markets for their grain. President Washington sent troops to quell "The Whiskey Rebellion" thus fomented, but the law was subsequently repealed.

MAY STAGE BIG ROTARY DINNER HERE IN FUTURE

Possibility of a future dinner-rally of Rotary clubs of the 33rd district, the same district which met in convention at the cathedral last May, was being talked here today. No definite plans, however, have been laid.

Ten Arrested In Ohio Strike

(International News Service)

KENTON, O., July 20.—Dynamiting of a bridge and the arrest of 10 persons today marked a renewal of hostilities in the strike of 400 union onion workers in the fertile Scioto marshlands, the largest onion growing fields in the world.

The bridge dynamited was over a creek which flows into the Scioto river, south of McGuffey and apparently the blast had been set off to prevent special deputies from reaching the village, according to Sheriff Wilbur Mitchell.

BIRTHDAY PARTY HONORS MRS. SHARPE

A most pleasant time was enjoyed on Wednseday when friends and neighbors gathered at the home of Mrs. R. L. Sharpe at Wampum to help her celebrate her 81st birthday.

The home was beautifully decorated in yellow and white and lovely garden flowers. The guests enjoyed a delicious dinner and supper at a long table decorated fittingly for the event with four large birthday cakes on each of which were the figures 81 outlined in colors.

Guests present were: Mrs. A. E James of Lincoln university, Rev. and Mrs. S. Burson of Koppel, Mrs. J. Yates of New Castle, Mr. and Mrs. C. Buzard of Ellwood, Rev. and Mrs. W. W. Wells of Beaver Falls, Mrs. M. Mills of Hoytdale, Mrs. J. Blythe of Koppel, Mrs. O. Daugherty, Mrs. H. McDanels, Msr. C. King, Mrs. S. Riker, Mrs. W. Market, Mrs. J. Haswell, Mrs. A. Majer, Mrs. J. Wilson, Mrs. E. Langer, Msr. H. Cummings, Mrs. E. Searfoss, Mrs. J. Laughlin, Mrs. N. McClurg and son Dickey, Miss Martha Major, Mrs. C. L. Repman and son Eugene, Mrs. C. Davis, Miss Olive David, Miss Jennie McKim, Mrs. Libby Kramer, Lawrence Market and the honored guest, Mrs. R. L. Sharpe, who received a number of pretty gifts in remembrance of a most happy occasion.

Married In Sharon

Announcement was made today of the marriage of Marie Leslie of Pittsburgh to Cecil R. Gordon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Gordon of Sheridan avenue, this city.

Rev. P. A. Galbraith read the service at 4 o'clock in the afternoon in the Oakland avenue M. E. church at Sharon in the presence of members of the immediate families and a few close friends. Attendants were Mr. and Mrs. William Myers, sister and brother-in-law of the bride. The bride was gowned in white organdie with a large picture hat and she carried bride's roses.

After the wedding, a dinner was served in the Meyers home on Baldwin avenue, Sharon. The couple departed on a trip, returning from which they will reside at 1619 Huron avenue, this city. Mr. Gordon is employed in Youngstown with the B. & O. railroad.

New Deal Club.

Miss Dorothy Bartholomew, North Front street, entertained the New Deal 500 club in her home Thursday evening with cards and bingo as the evening's diversion.

Prizes were won by Mrs. Catherine Fee, Mrs. H. Bartholomew, Mrs. C. E. Miller and Mrs. Hugh Daly. Refreshments of a cooling nature were served in the dining room.

Mrs. J. Rogan, North street, will be hostess to the club members Thursday, July 26.

Neisbro Club

Plans were completed for the annual Neisbro outing, to be held Sunday at Lakewood Beach, when members of the Neisbro club held their meeting Thursday evening in the home of Miss Revina Simons, of 313 Lincoln avenue.

The picnic will start at 11 o'clock Sunday morning. The committee in charge follows: Miss Revina Simons, Miss Florence Carney, Miss Marion Gennaula, Miss Lillian Morris and Mrs. Anna Todd.

ALFRED C. REED MARRIES IN WEST

A well known former New Castle young man, Alfred C. Reed, son of Mrs. Alice Reed, of Gainsville, Fla., on Monday afternoon of this week, married Miss Kathryn Louise Eastwood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert G. Eastwood, Grand Rapids, Mich., at the South Congregational church of that city, Rev. Harold Skidmore officiating.

Following the ceremony a reception for fifty guests was held at the home of the bride. The couple departed on a trip east, stopping at the Century of Progress in Chicago enroute. They will be at home at Bonifay, Fla., after September 1.

Mr. Reed resided on Edison avenue when in New Castle. He was graduated from the New Castle senior high school with the class of '26. He commenced his higher education at Westminster College, New Wilmington, and was graduated from the University of Florida in the class of '32. He is now a member of the faculty at the Ponce De Leon high school, in Florida.

Open Door Class.

Mrs. Anna McConnell, Huron avenue, entertained the members of the Open Door class of the Third U. P. church at the regular monthly session Thursday evening.

Mrs. Edith Clement had the devotions after which Mrs. Nora Kimmel presided and plans were made for an event on August 11, also for a wiener roast at the Howard Burdette camp July 27.

Special guests were Mr. and Mrs. Dale Brown and son Bobby, Mrs. T. McNicholas and Mrs. Arthur Minick. The special guests favored the members with a musical program after which refreshments were served.

Birthday Honored

Miss Margaret Kelley's birthday was honored at a dinner given last evening at Cascade park by the G. G. G. club girls.

A delicious menu was prepared by the girls and a large birthday cake centered the table. A business meeting was held later and plans were made for the a birthday dinner honoring Mrs. Jack Bowden. This dinner will be at Cascade park August 3.

Dancing and enjoyment of the park amusements followed.

West Side Club Picnic.

West Side club members held a picnic Thursday evening at 6 o'clock at the home of Mrs. J. C. Carr on West Washington street. Going in the afternoon to the Carr home, the ladies spent pleasantly informal hours and after supper they played cards with prizes going to Mrs. P. Thornton, Mrs. Frank Steckel and Mrs. Anna Gillespie.

In two weeks the club will meet regularly, the place to be announced.

C. Of M. Club

The C. of M. club met at the home of Harlion Conti on Center street last evening. After the business session, Miss Conti and her clubmates donned their swimming suits and enjoyed a moonlight dip in Center Beach.

Swimming was followed by an appetizing luncheon served by Miss Conti and Rose DiThomas.

The next meeting will be in one week with Lucille Faella as hostess.

ASSOCIATION PICNIC AT SONTUM RESIDENCE

At several long tables arranged among the flowers and shrubbery in the yard at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Sontum on Miller avenue, Thursday evening, covers were placed for 60 guests for a delicious picnic dinner.

Included in the company were members of the Ladies' association of the First U. P. church with their husbands and families. On the committee serving were Mrs. M. E. Miller, Mrs. Harvey Robinson, Mrs. Robert Louden, Mrs. M. R. Newberry and Mrs. George Smith.

The evening was spent in an informal fashion strolling around in the beautiful garden and conversing.

Home From Waldemere

Returning yesterday from a delightful stay at a cottage at Waldemere park on Lake Erie, were a number of local girls including the Misses Elizabeth Richardson of Laurel avenue, Grace Houk, Garfield avenue, Evelyn Shriver, Hillcrest avenue, Helen Muse, Winter avenue, Mildred Updegraff, Winter avenue, and Prudence Sullivan of Homestead, Pa.

On Eastern Trip.

Mr. and Mrs. William Wignall of Maryland avenue and their house guests, Mr. and Mrs. William Worth of England with Mrs. William Young of Vancouver, B. C., left today for a trip through New York state.

They went by way of Buffalo and Niagara Falls. After spending a few days there they will go on to Chicago to attend the world's fair.

Labrador Trip

Mrs. Alice Cargill, of Pittsburgh, is the house guest of Miss Alice M. Sterling and Miss Minnie Sterling, Shaw street. She stopped enroute home after attending the convention of the American Library Association in Montreal, Canada and enjoying a boat trip to Newfoundland and Laborador.

BOY SCOUT Activities

TROOP 9 IN CAMP

Boy Scouts of troop 9 of Sunny avenue school, in Union township, are these days enjoying life in the outdoors at their camp on the beautiful Edinburg farm of Professor W. A. Hoffmaster, New Castle school principal.

With the 10 scouts is their able scoutmaster, Jack Turek, who is supervising their vacation at the farm.

The boys met for their regular meeting on Wednesday evening beneath a historical old oak tree on the farm. They took part in the usual devotional exercises, heard the roll call taken and then moved to another old oak reported to be the best specimen of oaks in western Pennsylvania which have stood for a century and a half.

Beneath this tree the boys heard Prof. Hoffmaster describe in a most interesting fashion, the history of the Mahoning river, the Tuscascan trail and the battlefield near New Castle where it has been amply proven that Indian wars were waged.

Mr. Hoffmaster, for the sake of illustration, produced an Indian tomahawk, arrowheads, an Indian's skinner knife and other relics which were found on his farm.

The boys also inspected with interest the markings on another old tree which Alexander McClain is supposed to have made for directions in a survey of 150 years ago.

In their morning walks, Scoutmaster Turek and the boys have come upon Indian arrowheads within the past few days.

At the camp are Harry Williams, Felix Viton, Glenn Borman, Warren Blair, Edward Lester, Henry Boron, Henry Mateja, Victor Emery, Anthony Macri, Roy Love and Mr. Turek.

HARRY WILLIAMS, scribe.

National Guard In Summer Camp Turn Attention To Advanced War Methods

RAILROADS ARE BEING BOMBED

(International News Service)

MOUNT GRETNA, Pa., July 20—Turning their attention to more advanced methods of modern warfare, Pennsylvania's 12,000 National guardsmen encamped here for two week's training today continued with their war games, both in the field and in the air.

Under cover of darkness last night planes of the 103rd observation squadron, commanded by Maj. J. Victor Dallin, "bombed" railways in the vicinity of Hershey and Lebanon with paper bags of lamp black and flour.

Units of the 213 anti-aircraft coast artillery, defending these sections, kept playing their powerful searchlights on the "enemy" planes in an effort to bring them down.

War Is Declared

The traditional war between the blue and red forces was declared a climax to the leadership combat problem in which more than 1600 officers and enlisted men of the 52nd cavalry brigade participated.

The mythical red army, mobilizing near Baltimore seized bridges at Columbia and near Harrisburg. Partly forced their way across the Susquehanna river in a drive to seize munition and supply stores at Mt. Gretna, and forced the blue army to retreat to their training base at Colebrook.

The blue forces slept out all night under the sky since the supposed presence of an enemy artillery regiment across the river near York prevented them from erecting tents.

Intelligence units also played their part in the war games, sending out radio messages to outposts and receiving answers from scouting parties who ascertained the strength of the advancing red army.

CONFIRMED MINISTER CRASHED CONGRESS

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, July 20.—Congressional gate-crashing via the retort courteous—

So crowded were the galleries the night Congress adjourned that Ray Baker, former director of the mint, wandered from door to door in fruitless quest of a seat.

Finally he brought up outside the diplomatic gallery.

"Are you an ambassador, sir?" queried the doorkeeper of the cloistered area.

"No," conceded Baker, "not an ambassador."

"A minister, perhaps?" urged the doorkeeper.

"Well, I've been confirmed, but not ordained," Baker explained.

"Step right inside, sir," bowed the doorman.

Afraid of a mouse, Mrs. James L. Clark, wife of the vice director of the American Museum of Natural History of New York, hunts big game in Africa and is said to be the only licensed woman taxidermist in the United States. When she accompanied her husband for a seven-month expedition in Africa, she found he would be too busy with other matters to do any hunting for a month, so she headed an expedition of her own and bagged three lions and a rhinosceros. She is pictured in her taxidermy studio with some of the various animals she has mounted.

Tear Gas Bombs Used Effectively In Breaking Up Mob

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

SEATTLE, Wash., July 20.—Throwing tear gas bombs with deadly effectiveness, followed by charges by mounted details, police today completely routed a mob of 1,000 strikers and sympathizers from piers 40 to 41 at Smith Cove.

Although the explosions of the bombs led onlookers to believe there was gunfire, police leaders at Smith Cove declared no shots were fired.

The mob fell back before the gas and when the police cavalry dashed in, the crowd scattered in every direction. Not one striker or sympathizer remained inside the yard near the dock.

Edward Veaupre, 49, was rushed to King county hospital with a face wound which he said came from being hit by a bomb. Pete Pimm, 40, was unconscious at the same hospital but doctors were unable to determine immediately whether it was from gas or a head wound.

John Linn suffered a scalp wound, presumably from being hit by a bomb, and Tom Mason was rendered hors de combat by gas.

No injuries were reported by the police but several suffered from a dose of their own gas.

Contribution Of Dog Law Agents Outstanding One

Are Not 'Dog Catchers' As Commonly Thought; Good Protection Here

State dog law enforcement agents, located here and elsewhere in the state, are not "dog catchers" as commonly referred to, it has been pointed out.

It is shown that they do not catch dogs because its not a part ow their duty. The persons specificially authorized by the dog law are the local police officials. The dog law enforcement agents check on the licensing of dogs, and prosecute law violators; they make appraisals of damage done by dogs and locate where possible the dogs responsible for the damage.

Reports of the 12 years' work of the staff of agents throughout the state indicates that they are making a fine contribution in protecting dog a fine protective work which has acually saved and revived the sheep industry in Pennsylvania, and aiding otherwise.

Agent J. Wylie Brewster, in charge of Lawrence and Beaver county, reports that damages for the first six months of 1934 are not as heavy as those for the same period of 1933.

Now Independent Of Foreign Dyes

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, July 20—That the United States is fast becoming independent of foreign sources for synthetic dyes and medicinals and is developing an export business in these products is evidenced by the trade record for the first four months of 1934 according to C. C. Concannon Chief of the Commerce department's Chemical Division.

Despite a marked increase in the consumption of dyes since the beginning of the year, Concannon points out, imports of such products as synthetic colors, dyes and stains amounted to only 1,503,500 pound, valued at $1,926,000 for the first four months of the year. Exports during the same period totalled 6,917,000 pounds, valued at $1,983,000.

WINDOW-SMASHING BANNED IN GERMANY

(International News Service)

BERLIN, July 20.—Tossing bricks through store windows of people or firms not completely in harmony with the present government brought a protest from the government and an order to abolish permanently all such playful pastimes.

It seems that most of the huge plate glass windows in Germany are insured against just such breakage with the result that the firm against which the brick is tossed loses nothing as the German insurance companies have to foot the bill.

Therefore the government insists this shall stop because it hurts none but the insurance firms.

COURT BASES RULING ON LAW OF 1563

(International News Service)

SANTE FE, N. M., July 20.—The New Mexico state supreme court recently went back 381 years for a precedent in handing down a decision. Chief Justice Watson and Justice Zinn wrote an opinion holding that common law marriages were invalid, quoting the council of Trent which ruled in 1563 that such unions did not exist under the Catholic faith.

The decision was handed down in the case of Mrs. Louis Raff Bagaldon who sued in Valencia county to gain the estate of Manual S. Gabaldon, claiming to be his common-law wife.

National Guard In Summer Camp Turn Attention To Advanced War Methods

RAILROADS ARE BEING BOMBED

(International News Service)

MOUNT GRETNA, Pa., July 20—Turning their attention to more advanced methods of modern warfare, Pennsylvania's 12,000 National guardsmen encamped here for two week's training today continued with their war games, both in the field and in the air.

Under cover of darkness last night planes of the 103rd observation squadron, commanded by Maj. J. Victor Dallin, "bombed" railways in the vicinity of Hershey and Lebanon with paper bags of lamp black and flour.

Units of the 213 anti-aircraft coast artillery, defending these sections, kept playing their powerful searchlights on the "enemy" planes in an effort to bring them down.

Now Independent Of Foreign Dyes

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, July 20—That the United States is fast becoming independent of foreign sources for synthetic dyes and medicinals and is developing an export business in these products is evidenced by the trade record for the first four months of 1934 according to C. C. Concannon Chief of the Commerce department's Chemical Division.

Despite a marked increase in the consumption of dyes since the beginning of the year, Concannon points out, imports of such products as synthetic colors, dyes and stains amounted to only 1,503,500 pound, valued at $1,926,000 for the first four months of the year. Exports during the same period totalled 6,917,000 pounds, valued at $1,983,000.

WINDOW-SMASHING BANNED IN GERMANY

(International News Service)

BERLIN, July 20.—Tossing bricks through store windows of people or firms not completely in harmony with the present government brought a protest from the government and an order to abolish permanently all such playful pastimes.

It seems that most of the huge plate glass windows in Germany are insured against just such breakage with the result that the firm against which the brick is tossed loses nothing as the German insurance companies have to foot the bill.

Therefore the government insists this shall stop because it hurts none but the insurance firms.

COURT BASES RULING ON LAW OF 1563

(International News Service)

SANTE FE, N. M., July 20.—The New Mexico state supreme court recently went back 281 years for a precedent in handing down a decision. Chief Justice Watson and Justice Zinn wrote an opinion holding that common law marriages were invalid, quoting the council of Trent which ruled in 1563 that such unions did not exist under the Catholic faith.

The decision was handed down in the case of Mrs. Louis Raff Bagaldon who sued in Valencia county to gain the estate of Manual B. Gabaldon, claiming to be his common-law wife.

Lawrence County Farms And Farmers

By H. R. McCulloch, County Agent

REDUCE DAIRY HERD TO BALANCE FEED SUPPLY.

Dairy herds should be carefully adjusted to the amount of feed on hand or in prospect.

Dry weather has caused a serious shortage of hay and other roughages on many dairy farms. This condition, coupled with rising prices for feeds of all kinds, would seem to make it urgent that an adjustment of herds to feed supplies be started very soon.

Wherever a reduction in herds-numbers is desirable a careful check should be made and the weeding out begin with the least efficient animals. Old cows, defective udders, and disease might well have first attention. Then a careful check on the milk production of each cow will show where to begin in weeding out on the production basis. Only enough heifers should be kept to maintain the herd. Any heifer that does not give promise of developing into an extra good cow probably should be eliminated.

In times of feed shortage and high feed prices all inefficient animals should be kept away from the feed supply. A few good cows well fed will return far greater net returns than a larger number of cows that are under-fed. Adjustment of the dairy herd during the summer and fall to the winter feed supply will aid greatly in reducing milk production costs during the winter.

WILD SEEDLINGS MADE GOOD STOCKS FOR SWEET CHERRY TREES.

As is usually the case after very severe winters, the sweet cherry seems to have suffered somewhat more than its share of the injury. Growers are interested in replacing their losses in these trees with new ones which are adapted as well as possible to the rigors of our Pennsylvania winters.

Growers experience and experiment station work combine to indicate that the native wild sweet cherry seedling is as good a stock as can be had for the improved varieties of this fruit. Trees on this stock are usually long-lived and productive.

Large numbers of these native seedlings can be found growing along fence rows, around woodlots, etc., wild in Lawrence county. While some have undoubtedly been injured or killed by the past winter, those which have survived in exposed locations and show no injury would make admirable stocks for orchard trees. Tests in progress at State College with trees produced from seeds of our native wild trees have been disappointing in that the young seedlings show a fairly wide range of susceptibility to cold, but it would seem that the survivors of the past winter have given ample proof of their reliability in this respect.

Young healthy wild trees may be budded at this time and transplanted to the orchard or nursery row this fall with every expectation that they will make as good an orchard tree as may be had. Since these stocks are likely to be more hardy than the variety to which they are top-worked, it is advisable to place the bud 18 to 24 inches above the ground when this can be done in order to avoid possible future trouble from sunscald or frost cracks on the trunk.

KILL LICE AND MITES BY TREATING ROOSTS.

Lice and mites on poultry become most troublesome during the summer months. This is the season when one is busy with other jobs on the farm and may fail to keep on the lookout for these parasites.

Lice stay on the birds and irritate them by biting off scales on the skin. Mites live during the daytime in cracks around the roosts, roost supports, and nests. They crawl on the birds at night and suck blood from them.

A tobacco preparation termed nicotine sulphate is commonly used to get rid of body lice. It is applied to the roosts about one-half hour before the birds go to roost. An old oil can be used to run a small stream of the material on top of the roosts. It can then be spread with an old paint brush. One pint of the material should be enough to treat 200 square feet of roosting space. The house should be well ventilated.

There are several effective mite paints which have been found satisfactory in controlling red mites. All parts of the house where hens roost should be painted with such material so that the cracks around the roosts and nests are saturated. As a matter of economy, many farmers use crank case oil. This has been found effective when the roosts were treated frequently. The application of mite paints should be made in the morning, to allow the material to dry before the birds roost at night.

LARGE VARIETY OF VEGETABLES AVAILABLE IN HOME GARDEN

Eating two vegetables besides potatoes every day is no problem now with such a variety of vegetables available in the home garden, according to Miss Eleanor Drury, home economics extension representative. Lettuce, peas, spinach, onions, swiss chard, beet tops, string beans, beets, carrots, and cabbage answer to the housewife's roll call.

What a variety to choose from and what a variety of ways of preparing them! Creamed, escalloped, buttered, in soup and salad are all attractive ways of serving them to the family. Pea soup or scalloped young cabbage with a little cheese added or baked spinach with eggs make good one-dish meals.

A salad combination of lettuce, spinach, and a little onion is delicious, and a salad made from young green cabbage and tender orange carrots is not only good to taste but looks good and is good.

Raw vegetables have vitamins A, B, C, and G for health and well-being, iron for building blood, and lime and phosphorus for building bones and teeth. Cooked ones can have those, too, if only a little water is used in boiling and the vegetables are taken off the stove when tender.

Insits on interest from the garden investment. Use all the vegetables as they are ready and serve them in a variety of ways. Can, or dry, the surplus but do this when the vegetables are in prime condition.

New Wilmington

PROJECTS INCOMPLETE

Beneficial as the RWD seems to be to the country in its entirety, many New Wilmington citizens are showing a touch of distemper as they notice the condition of the projects started under the CWA banner continued under the RWD and finally left uncompleted when the local laborers were ordered to stop work last week.

Not one project has been completed authorities state. The Maple St. extension has been put in fairly good shape but will require at least a weeks more work. The project at the swimming pool, originally intended to give New Wilmington a municipal park, is in decided need of more labor. The lawn of the school house has been littered with equipment and dirt used in the excavation for a coal cellar. The workers were called from this task before the mess was cleared.

Authorities in charge of the county RWD state that New Wilmington has already taken care of needy families. New Wilmington stands ready to coperate in the matter but vehemently ask that relief also be forthcoming from the state and county.

FLEE NOW

People of good will now rightly view world conditions with alarm. The nations of "Christendom," making loud professions of peace, increase their preparations for war. Human schemes of world recovery fail to remove oppression and suffering and distress of the people. The only means for bringing lasting prosperity, peace and happiness to man is ignored by "Christendom". Present-day fulfilments of Bible prophecy make it certain that world disaster greater than the Deluge is near and unavoidable. The rapid march of events urges upon all to FLEE NOW!

FLEE whither? Is there a way prepared, and a place of safety? These questions will be answered from the highest authority by JUDGE RUTHERFORD.

Woman Defies Police Probers

Refuses To Divulge How She Was Wounded By Bullet

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, July 20—Shot in the stomach and in critical condition in Allegheny General hospital, Anna Morris, 24, today continued to defy police to question her.

Police were inclined to accept an attempted suicide theory when they learned Joseph Morris, the girl's father had found the gun from which the bullet was fired and had forgotten in the excitement to turn it over to them.

Told her mother and father might be held for questioning, if she refused to answer questions, Anna replied:

"I don't give a —."

Lettuce, peas, spinach, onions, swiss chard, beet tops, string beans, beets, carrots, and cabbage answer to the housewife's roll call.

What a variety to choose from and what a variety of ways of preparing them! Creamed, escalloped, buttered, in soup and salad are all attractive ways of serving them to the family. Pea soup or scalloped young cabbage with a little cheese added or baked spinach with eggs make good one-dish meals.

A salad combination of lettuce, spinach, and a little onion is delicious, and a salad made from young green cabbage and tender orange carrots is not only good to taste but looks good and is good.

Raw vegetables have vitamins A, B, C, and G for health and well-being, iron for building blood, and lime and phosphorus for building bones and teeth. Cooked ones can have those, too, if only a little water is used in boiling and the vegetables are taken off the stove when tender.

Insits on interest from the garden investment. Use all the vegetables as they are ready and serve them in a variety of ways. Can, or dry, the surplus but do this when the vegetables are in prime condition.

New Wilmington

PROJECTS INCOMPLETE

Beneficial as the RWD seems to be to the country in its entirety, many New Wilmington citizens are showing a touch of distemper as they notice the condition of the projects started under the CWA banner continued under the RWD and finally left uncompleted when the local laborers were ordered to stop work last week.

Not one project has been completed authorities state. The Maple St. extension has been put in fairly good shape but will require at least a weeks more work. The project at the swimming pool, originally intended to give New Wilmington a municipal park, is in decided need of more labor. The lawn of the school house has been littered with equipment and dirt used in the excavation for a coal cellar. The workers were called from this task before the mess was cleared.

Authorities in charge of the county RWD state that New Wilmington has already taken care of needy families. New Wilmington stands ready to coperate in the matter but vehemently ask that relief also be forthcoming from the state and county.

Refuses To Divulge How She Was Wounded By Bullet

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, July 20—Shot in the stomach and in critical condition in Allegheny General hospital, Anna Morris, 24, today continued to defy police to question her.

Police were inclined to accept an attempted suicide theory when they learned Joseph Morris, the girl's father had found the gun from which the bullet was fired and had forgotten in the excitement to turn it over to them.

Told her mother and father might be held for questioning, if she refused to answer questions, Anna replied:

"I don't give a —."

ATLANTIC WHITE FLASH PLUS IS DIFFERENT!

Lawrence County Farms And Farmers

By H. R. McCulloch, County Agent

REDUCE DAIRY HERD TO BALANCE FEED SUPPLY.

Dairy herds should be carefully adjusted to the amount of feed on hand or in prospect.

Dry weather has caused a serious shortage of hay and other roughages on many dairy farms. This condition, coupled with rising prices for feeds of all kinds, would seem to make it urgent that an adjustment of herds to feed supplies be started very soon.

Wherever a reduction in herds-numbers is desirable a careful check should be made and the weeding out begin with the least efficient animals. Old cows, defective udders, and disease might well have first attention. Then a careful check on the milk production of each cow will show where to begin in weeding out on the production basis. Only enough heifers should be kept to maintain the herd. Any heifer that does not give promise of developing into an extra good cow probably should be eliminated.

In times of feed shortage and high feed prices all inefficient animals should be kept away from the feed supply. A few good cows well fed will return far greater net returns than a larger number of cows that are under-fed. Adjustment of the dairy herd during the summer and fall to the winter feed supply will aid greatly in reducing milk production costs during the winter.

WILD SEEDLINGS MADE GOOD STOCKS FOR SWEET CHERRY TREES.

As is usually the case after very severe winters, the sweet cherry seems to have suffered somewhat more than its share of the injury. Growers are interested in replacing their losses in these trees with new ones which are adapted as well as possible to the rigors of our Pennsylvania winters.

Growers experience and experiment station work combine to indicate that the native wild sweet cherry seedling is as good a stock as can be had for the improved varieties of this fruit. Trees on this stock are usually long-lived and productive.

Large numbers of these native seedlings can be found growing along fence rows, around woodlots, etc., wild in Lawrence county. While some have undoubtedly been injured or killed by the past winter, those which have survived in exposed locations and show no injury would make admirable stocks for orchard trees. Tests in progress at State College with trees produced from seeds of our native wild trees have been disappointing in that the young seedlings show a fairly wide range of susceptibility to cold, but it would seem that the survivors of the past winter have given ample proof of their reliability in this respect.

Young healthy wild trees may be budded at this time and transplanted to the orchard or nursery row this fall with every expectation that they will make as good an orchard tree as may be had. Since these stocks are likely to be more hardy than the variety to which they are top-worked, it is advisable to place the bud 18 to 24 inches above the ground when this can be done in order to avoid possible future trouble from sunscald or frost cracks on the trunk.

KILL LICE AND MITES BY TREATING ROOSTS.

Lice and mites on poultry become most troublesome during the summer months. This is the season when one is busy with other jobs on the farm and may fail to keep on the lookout for these parasites.

Lice stay on the birds and irritate them by biting off scales on the skin. Mites live during the daytime in cracks around the roosts, roost supports, and nests. They crawl on the birds at night and suck blood from them.

A tobacco preparation termed nicotine sulphate is commonly used to get rid of body lice. It is applied to the roosts about one-half hour before the birds go to roost. An old oil can be used to run a small stream of the material on top of the roosts. It can then be spread with an old paint brush. One pint of the material should be enough to treat 200 square feet of roosting space. The house should be well ventilated.

There are several effective mite paints which have been found satisfactory in controlling red mites. All parts of the house where hens roost should be painted with such material so that the cracks around the roosts and nests are saturated. As a matter of economy, many farmers use crank case oil. This has been found effective when the roosts were treated frequently. The application of mite paints should be made in the morning, to allow the material to dry before the birds roost at night.

LARGE VARIETY OF VEGETABLES AVAILABLE IN HOME GARDEN

Eating two vegetables besides potatoes every day is no problem now with such a variety of vegetables available in the home garden, according to Miss Eleanor Drury, home economics extension representative. Lettuce, peas, spinach, onions, swiss chard, beet tops, string beans, beets, carrots, and cabbage answer to the housewife's roll call.

What a variety to choose from and what a variety of ways of preparing them! Creamed, escalloped, buttered, in soup and salad are all attractive ways of serving them to the family. Pea soup or scalloped young cabbage with a little cheese added or baked spinach with eggs make good one-dish meals.

PITTSBURGH, July 20—Shot in the stomach and in critical condition in Allegheny General hospital, Anna Morris, 24, today continued to defy police to question her.

Police were inclined to accept an attempted suicide theory when they learned Joseph Morris, the girl's father had found the gun from which the bullet was fired and had forgotten in the excitement to turn it over to them.

Told her mother and father might be held for questioning, if she refused to answer questions, Anna replied:

"I don't give a —."

Troopers Take Part In "Mock Battle" At Camp

Entire Cavalry Brigade Under Fire As Units Simulate War Maneuvers

TROOPERS ARE IN GOOD HEALTH

(Special To The News By Private Jack Bryan

COLEBROOK, Pa., July 17—Troop "F" 103rd Cavalary participated in a ten mile combat and platoons leadership problem which embraced the entire 52nd Cavalry Brigade, consisting of the 103rd and 104th Regiment of Cavalry.

Under conditions as nearly as possible simulating wartime the troopers advanced. Upon being "surprised" by enemy outposts, firing blank ammunition they retaliated with live ammunition at field targets resembling enemy soldiers.

Beating back the enemy outposts they were met by hostile machine gun fire. The troopers captured an enemy detail and sent back information to headquarters. Platoon leaders kept in communication with headquarters. Six stations were set up and the operations were observed by officers, including Major Kromer, United States Army Chief of Cavalry. "Troops "F" made a very creditable showing. Their fire was accurate and well distributed. The machine riflemen did an exceptional job.

To test the adaptibility of the troops, the platoon leaders were "shot down" during the fighting and platoons sergeants were put in command.

Radio and telephone communications kept the signal troops busy while the 103rd Engineers dug trenches and erected other defences. The 28th Tank Company had seven tanks in use.

Major General Edward C. Shannon, Division Commander and Adjutant General David J. Davis inspected the four encampments at Colebrook, Mt. Gretna, Indiantown Gap and Middletown from the air.

They took off in two observation ships from Middletown Air Depot where the 103rd Observation Squadron is in camp.

With good weather prevailing the activities of this year's camp are progressing nicely. The Troopers are in good condtiion, and several of the new men in the Troop have been very busy trying to locate the "keys" to the parade grounds." "gun reports," "reveille oil" 'right angle sight finders' and "fetlock keys." The band of the 103rd Medical Regiment held a concert for the Colonel this evening their versatility was demonstrated by their ability to play both marches and jazz.

Jenkins Still Enjoying Visit In South Wales

Delaware Avenue Man Has Been In Wales Since Last December

By WILLIAM A. JOHNS
Brython

William C. Jenkins, of Delaware avenue, is still having a grand time back in Wales. He has been over there since last December having the best of everything everywhere. We understand that he visits the former home of Brython, Morriston, very often. Morriston is three miles from Swansea, where he is making his headquarters. He has good company over there—four sisters and one brother.

Griffith Thomas, of Park avenue, will occupy the pulpit of the Emmanuel Baptist church, next Sunday evening and a large crowd of people is expected to be present to hear his preaching.

A letter came from Wales this week telling that the Mayor of Swansea, Alderman Edward Harries, has received a telegram from the Prince of Wales thanking the Mayor and his fellow officers for remembering him with a beautiful letter on his 40th birthday.

Very glad to say that Mrs. William Phillips, of East Reynolds street, is still improving in her health and has become strong enough to visit her son, Frank, and family and her daughter, Seddie, and family, in the country, near here.

Mrs. Richard Griffiths, of Electric street, is still getting better right along.

Members of the Star of Wales lodge will meet Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

If You Mind the Heat!

If hot weather gets you, and if you feel tired, run down, and nervously upset when the thermometer begins to soar, probably you're eating wrong.

Stop eating heavy breakfasts for a while. Try Shredded Wheat instead. Stop bolting a sandwich for lunch. Eat Shredded Wheat instead, with milk and fruit on the side. You'll be surprised at the difference it makes in your whole life. You will be full of pep. Your digestion won't bother you, and the world will look a lot brighter, no matter how hot the sun shines.

Eat plenty of Shredded Wheat this summer. It will pay you big dividends in health and happiness!

Troopers Take Part In "Mock Battle" At Camp

Entire Cavalry Brigade Under Fire As Units Simulate War Maneuvers

TROOPERS ARE IN GOOD HEALTH

(Special To The News By Private Jack Bryan

COLEBROOK, Pa., July 17—Troop "F" 103rd Cavalary participated in a ten mile combat and platoons leadership problem which embraced the entire 52nd Cavalry Brigade, consisting of the 103rd and 104th Regiment of Cavalry.

Under conditions as nearly as possible simulating wartime the troopers advanced. Upon being "surprised" by enemy outposts, firing blank ammunition they retaliated with live ammunition at field targets resembling enemy soldiers.

Beating back the enemy outposts they were met by hostile machine gun fire. The troopers captured an enemy detail and sent back information to headquarters. Platoon leaders kept in communication with headquarters. Six stations were set up and the operations were observed by officers, including Major Kromer, United States Army Chief of Cavalry. "Troops "F" made a very creditable showing. Their fire was accurate and well distributed. The machine riflemen did an exceptional job.

To test the adaptibility of the troops, the platoon leaders were "shot down" during the fighting and platoons sergeants were put in command.

Radio and telephone communications kept the signal troops busy while the 103rd Engineers dug trenches and erected other defences. The 28th Tank Company had seven tanks in use.

Major General Edward C. Shannon, Division Commander and Adjutant General David J. Davis inspected the four encampments at Colebrook, Mt. Gretna, Indiantown Gap and Middletown from the air.

They took off in two observation ships from Middletown Air Depot where the 103rd Observation Squadron is in camp.

With good weather prevailing the activities of this year's camp are progressing nicely. The Troopers are in good condtiion, and several of the new men in the Troop have been very busy trying to locate the "keys" to the parade grounds." "gun reports," "reveille oil" 'right angle sight finders' and "fetlock keys." The band of the 103rd Medical Regiment held a concert for the Colonel this evening their versatility was demonstrated by their ability to play both marches and jazz.

Scores Isolation Of Foreign-Born By Incorporation

GREENSBURG, Pa., July 20.—Judge W. T. Dom today held that the United States needs no incorporated societies among the different foreign-born groups or classes.

Refusing a charter asked by the Hempfield Italian Community club of Hempfield township Judge Dom said:

"What we need in our country, peopled by races, is amalgamation and not isolation, and we cannot carry out such a program by isolating persons of foreign extraction or permitting them to isolate themselves."

To encourage, by law, the separations of citizens in groups on the basis of bith or extraction, bodes no good for our communities, the court held.

Air Program For Britain

Five-Year Program Is Designed To Increase British Royal Air Force

(International News Service)

LONDON, July 20.—A five-year program to increase the British royal air force by 41 squadrons, made necessary by the "increasing unrest in Europe," was announced in the House of Commons today by Stanley Baldwin, acting prime minister.

Great Britain's "commitments under the League of Nations covenant and the Locarno treaty and the many symptoms of unrest in Europe and elsewhere," Baldwin said, made it necessary to "reconsider the possibility of keeping our armaments at their present low level."

Schnader Sees More Home Rule

Attorney General Sees Need Of Greater Home Rule For Local Units

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, July 20.—Greater home rule was envisioned today by Attorney General William A. Schnader, Republican nominee for governor, as a means of simplifying the state's local governmental structure and reducing taxes.

Addressing a rally of the council of Republican women of Perry county, at Crows Ferry, yesterday afternoon, Schnader said:

"If a greater home rule should be supplied to the counties so that the people by their own will and intelligence could simplify their home government, they could reduce their taxes. With taxes reduced, the home business and industries upon which employment ultimately depends, would have a better chance of reviving and relief would be proportionately reduced."

Schnader said he favored keeping the public service commission "out of politics" but believed the legislature should increase the commission's power where necessary to protect the public.

Plan Benefit For Municipal Team

District Golf Pros Will Be Present For Exhibition Matches Sunday

As a benefit for the Municipal golf team, which will represent New Castle at the National Public Links tournament in Pittsburgh, the first week of August, a series of special matches has been arranged by Manager W. G. Fleming of the Municipal course.

The first of these will occur on Sunday afternoon, when Johnny Capabianco, pro at the Aliquippa Country Club; Herb Miller, of Aliquippa, former amateur champion of Western Pennsylvania; Dyke Monsey, pro at the New Castle Field Club; and Bob Thompson, Ellwood City champion, will be present, along with other stars from the district.

This group will be matched against some of the best golfers of the city, and some spectacular and interesting golf should result. A collection will be taken for the team which will represent the city, to help defray their expenses during the Smoky City tournament.

Those who qualified to represent the city, were Willie Grommes, Emil Mancine, James Pagley, Roger Molesworth, and Izzy Solomon.

SCIENCE SIMPLIFIED

Comets Are Harmless

Even Today Many Fear Approach Of Celestial Visitors

By RICHARD BAYLIS
Central Press Science Writer

In yesterday's article it was noted that in ancient and medieval times people looked with fear upon the approach of a comet superstitiously thinking that it heralded the beginning of a pestilence or war. Even in modern times there are many who believe and frighten others with their beliefs that a comet is a flaming mass hurtling through space and which, if it struck the earth would bring about the end of everything.

These beliefs are not true. The temperature of a comet as it approaches the earth is not high, the effect of flames being merely the glow of the gases, probably similar to the glow produced by vacuum tubes by electrical excitement. Even a collision with the head of the comet probably would not be noticed appreciably on earth, except through a heavy rain of meteors. So the next time a comet appears in the heavens do not listen to calamity howlers who might tell you that the end is near.

Planet's Families

Comets have a habit of attaching themselves to the planets, the larger outer ones, Jupiter having "captured" a considerable family. In passing near a planet the comet is usually sufficiently attracted to appreciably change its orbid and also its speed, which is variable according to its distance from the sun. Halley's comet, for example, travels on a parabolic orbit away out in space beyond the planet Neptune. In the accompanying diagram the approximate orbit of Halley's comet is shown. Its speed as it approaches the sun increases, and it remains outside of the orbit of Neptune for nearly half of its entire period.

Meteor swarms through which the earth passes are in some cases believed to be the remains of broken up comets.

Diagram shows orbit of a comet around sun and how a comet is "captured" by the attractive force of a planet.

Federal Agents Capture Myers

Alleged Mobster And Hi-Jacker Taken After Gun Battle

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, July 20—The capture of Herbert Myers, alleged mobster and hi-jacker in New York today marked another step of progress in a man hunt by federal agents after Mrs. Lenora Goslyn Fontaine, 30 year old Canadian gang girl, had been shot in a suburban apartment last April.

While attempting to thwart capture, Myers was shot down in his apartment by a New York detective yesterday, Philadelphia authorities said today that if he recovers from the wound, which doctors say is critical he will be brought here for questioning.

The shooting marked another chapter in the epic of death and violence which preceeded and followed the attempted murder of Mrs. Fontaine, who provided police with information which has been useful in tracking down a gang of mail robbers and hi-jackers.

Mrs. Fontaine, who fled the arms of her French-Canadian husband to elope with "Big George" Phillips, a member of the gang who was slain in a battle with Washington, D. C. police was "put on the spot" because she knew too much.

Police assert the woman was shot by Morris Kauffman, a Philadelphia gangster, whose boby was found in May on a Pittsburgh lot. Kauffman was killed, detectives said, because his "pals" were dissatisfied with the way he bungled the attempt to seal Mrs. Fontaine's lips.

Myers is one of seven persons for whom the United States postal authorities offered $2,000 rewards following the revelations made by the Canadian gangster "Moll." Only one, Arthur Misanas 37, is still at liberty. The others are under arrest or dead.

Third Church Plans Sunday School Picnic

Church School To Gather At Cascade Park For Afternoon And Evening Event

At a meeting of the committees held Thursday the plans were completed for the annual picnic of the Sunday School of the Third United Presbyterian church of which C. C. McKibben is superintendent.

The school has arranged the event for Cascade Park from 2 to 8 p. m., Tuesday, July 31, and dinner will be served at 6:30 in the grove.

Mrs. Earl McKnight is general chairman of the event, which promises to be one of the largest of the park's summer picnics, and she will be aided by various committees. The coffee committee includes Frew Book, Ira Alford, P. J. Sines, J. H. Sines, James Brandon and John Bruce.

The table committee: Harry Thomas, Roy Zeigler, Leroy Book, Tom McNicholas and Abe Kildoo. Audley Henderson and Edgar McCown will have charge of the horseshoe pitching contest, which will decide the champion thrower of the church; Willard Kimmel, Mrs. S. T. McEntire and Angie Kenehan will have charge of the bingo and games; Mrs. D. D. Brown, Mrs. G. H. Colnot, J. Ulrich and Jared Davies will have charge of the tug-of-war between the men and the women; Audley Henderson will have charge of the ball game between the single and married men.

B. Schonefelt, J. E. Gorman, Mrs. Margaret Moore and Mrs. J. W. Rupert will have charge of the free refreshments for the children and the playgrounds committee will include Ruth O'Neil, Cora May Boston and Elizabeth Aiken.

New Castle Hot Mills Are Affected—Thirty Hot Mills To Operate At Shenango

Due to lack of orders the hot mills of the New Castle plant, American Sheet and Tin Plate Company will shut down tonight, according to an announcement by David S. Pyle, general manager of the company here. The finishing departments of the plant will continue to operate until the first of the month when they also will shut down.

The shut down here follows similar action in other plants of the company. Mercer plant at Farrell, Wood plant at McKeesport, Sabraton plant, at Morgantown are down, and Gary, Ind., is working only part time. The New Castle plant is in shape to start immediately upon receipt of orders and it is hoped that the industry will show sufficient improvement to start in the near future.

Shenango plant will resume operations Monday night at midnight instead of Tuesday morning as was first stated. Thirty mills will operate.

The recent capacity operations of many of the tin plants has probably built up a surplus of stock, it is thought. Some months ago with the possibility of a general strike in the steel industry, mills worked capacity to get out as much production as possible. With the strike threat dissipated it is possible that the surplus stock on hand will have to be used before new stock is produced.

JAPANESE HAVE RIGID LAW ON FIRE-ARMS

(International News Service)

HSINCHING, Manchukuo, July 20.—American police might well learn a lesson from the energetic Japanese authorities of Manchukuo. Claiming that possession of fire-arms by private individuals has increased three fold since the Mukden incident, a campaign is being waged for the registration of guns and pistols.

That is all routine, anywhere in the world. However, the Japanese go a step further and insist that owners of fire-arms report to the police beforehand every time they plan to fire a single shot for any purpose. Shots fired in emergencies must be reported to the police afterwards, says the ruling.

ACCIDENT VICTIM LEAVES HOSPITAL

Mrs. Valerie Maxwell, of Orlando avenue, Neshannock township, who was seriously hurt when struck by a motorcycle driven by William Biddle, of R. F. D. No. 3, on Wednesday, July 11, has recovered sufficiently to return to her home.

Mrs. Maxwell sustained no broken bones, but for a time it was feared she might be seriously injured internally, the handle-bars of the motorcycle striking her in the side and hurling her to the side of the road. The accident occurred on Wilmington avenue, just outside the city limits.

PATROLMAN HELD

(International News Service)

ERIE, Pa., July 20.—Erie police were holding Mack W. Fessler, a fellow patrolman here today pending a ruling by a corner's jury on the charge that Fessler fatally injured Mrs. Mary Baird, 60, while driving a borrowed car here last night.

Fessler, off duty when the accident occurred, said the crash was unavoidable.

ERIE WOMAN DIES

(International News Service)

ERIE, Pa., July 20.—A lingering illness today ended in death for Mrs. Susan L. McCreary, 67, wife of Ralph S. McCreary, Erie assemblyman who recently won the Republican renomination.

Three sons, in addition to her husband, survive. She will be buried Sunday.

COAL CARS DERAILED

(International News Service)

ERIE, Pa., July 20.—Laboring train crews were rapidly restoring traffic to normalcy today on the main line of the New York Central railroad following the derailment of 36 coal cars at State Line, Pa., and Ripley, N. Y., last night.

COP PLAYS NURSEMAID TO LONESOME BABY

(International News Service)

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah.—A veteran of the Salt Lake City police force has earned the title of lonesome baby lonesome policeman.

Patrolman H. A. Peterson successfully played the part of nursemaid when called in by distraught neighbors of a crying baby.

"I found a baby in the window crying," he reported. Neighbors said this had been going on frequently over a long period. The baby's mother goes out to dances every night leaving the little child alone. The baby is about two years old.

"I put the baby to bed."

A great statesman is anybody who happens to be on the job when times are prospering.

Plan Benefit For Municipal Team

District Golf Pros Will Be Present For Exhibition Matches Sunday

As a benefit for the Municipal golf team, which will represent New Castle at the National Public Links tournament in Pittsburgh, the first week of August, a series of special matches has been arranged by Manager W. G. Fleming of the Municipal course.

The first of these will occur on Sunday afternoon, when Johnny Capablanco, pro at the Aliquippa Country Club; Herb Miller, of Aliquippa, former amateur champion of Western Pennsylvania; Dyke Monsey, pro at the New Castle Field Club; and Bob Thompson, Ellwood City champion, will be present, along with other stars from the district.

This group will be matched against some of the best golfers of the city, and some spectacular and interesting golf should result. A collection will be taken for the team which will represent the city, to help defray their expenses during the Smoky City tournament.

Those who qualified to represent the city, were Willie Grommes, Emil Mancine, James Pagley, Roger Molesworth, and Izzy Solomon.

Federal Agents Capture Myers

Alleged Mobster And Hi-Jacker Taken After Gun Battle

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, July 20—The capture of Herbert Myers, alleged mobster and hi-jacker in New York today marked another step of progress in a man hunt by federal agents after Mrs. Lenora Goslyn Fontaine, 30 year old Canadian gang girl, had been shot in a suburban apartment last April.

While attempting to thwart capture, Myers was shot down in his apartment by a New York detective yesterday, Philadelphia authorities said today that if the recovers from the wound, which doctors say is critical he will be brought here for questioning.

The shooting marked another chapter in the epic of death and violence which preceeded and followed the attempted murder of Mrs. Fontaine, who provided police with information which has been useful in tracking down a gang of mail robbers and hi-jackers.

Mrs. Fontaine, who fled the arms of her French-Canadian husband to elope with "Big George" Phillips, a member of the gang who was slain in a battle with Washington, D. C. police was "put on the spot" because she knew too much.

Police assert the woman was shot by Morris Kauffman, a Philadelphia gangster, whose boby was found in May on a Pittsburgh lot. Kauffman was killed, detectives said, because his "pals" were dissatisfied with the way he bungled the attempt to seal Mrs. Fontaine's lips.

Myers is one of seven persons for whom the United States postal authorities offered $2,000 rewards following the revelations made by the Canadian gangster "Moll." Only one, Arthur Misanas 37, is still at liberty. The others are under arrest or dead.

Third Church Plans Sunday School Picnic

Church School To Gather At Cascade Park For Afternoon And Evening Event

At a meeting of the committees held Thursday the plans were completed for the annual picnic of the Sunday School of the Third United Presbyterian church of which C. C. McKibben is superintendent.

The school has arranged the event for Cascade Park from 2 to 8 p. m., Tuesday, July 31, and dinner will be served at 6:30 in the grove.

Mrs. Earl McKnight is general chairman of the event, which promises to be one of the largest of the park's summer picnics, and she will be aided by various committees. The coffee committee includes Frew Book, Ira Alford, P. J. Sines, J. H. Sines, James Brandon and John Bruce.

The table committee: Harry Thomas, Roy Zeigler, Leroy Book, Tom McNicholas and Abe Kildoo. Audley Henderson and Edgar McCown will have charge of the horseshoe pitching contest, which will decide the champion thrower of the church; Willard Kimmel, Mrs. S. T. McEntire and Angie Kenehan will have charge of the bingo and games; Mrs. D. D. Brown, Mrs. G. H. Colnot, J. Ulrich and Jared Davies will have charge of the tug-of-war between the men and the women; Audley Henderson will have charge of the ball game between the single and married men.

B. Schonefelt, J. E. Gorman, Mrs. Margaret Moore and Mrs. J. W. Rupert will have charge of the free refreshments for the children and the playgrounds committee will include Ruth O'Neil, Cora May Boston and Elizabeth Aiken.

Lack Of Orders Halts Operations

New Castle Hot Mills Are Affected—Thirty Hot Mills To Operate At Shenango

Due to lack of orders the hot mills of the New Castle plant, American Sheet and Tin Plate Company will shut down tonight, according to an announcement by David S. Pyle, general manager of the company here. The finishing departments of the plant will continue to operate until the first of the month when they also will shut down.

The shut down here follows similar action in other plants of the company. Mercer plant at Farrell, Wood plant at McKeesport, Sabraton plant, at Morgantown are down, and Gary, Ind., is working only part time. The New Castle plant is in shape to start immediately upon receipt of orders and it is hoped that the industry will show sufficient improvement to start in the near future.

Shenango plant will resume operations Monday night at midnight instead of Tuesday morning as was first stated. Thirty mills will operate.

The recent capacity operations of many of the tin plants has probably built up a surplus of stock, it is thought. Some months ago with the possibility of a general strike in the steel industry, mills worked capacity to get out as much production as possible. With the strike threat dissipated it is possible that the surplus stock on hand will have to be used before new stock is produced.

Federal Agents Capture Myers

Alleged Mobster And Hi-Jacker Taken After Gun Battle

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, July 20—The capture of Herbert Myers, alleged mobster and hi-jacker in New York today marked another step of progress in a man hunt by federal agents after Mrs. Lenora Goslyn Fontaine, 30 year old Canadian gang girl, had been shot in a suburban apartment last April.

While attempting to thwart capture, Myers was shot down in his apartment by a New York detective yesterday, Philadelphia authorities said today that if the recovers from the wound, which doctors say is critical he will be brought here for questioning.

The shooting marked another chapter in the epic of death and violence which preceeded and followed the attempted murder of Mrs. Fontaine, who provided police with information which has been useful in tracking down a gang of mail robbers and hi-jackers.

Mrs. Fontaine, who fled the arms of her French-Canadian husband to elope with "Big George" Phillips, a member of the gang who was slain in a battle with Washington, D. C. police was "put on the spot" because she knew too much.

Police assert the woman was shot by Morris Kauffman, a Philadelphia gangster, whose boby was found in May on a Pittsburgh lot. Kauffman was killed, detectives said, because his "pals" were dissatisfied with the way he bungled the attempt to seal Mrs. Fontaine's lips.

Myers is one of seven persons for whom the United States postal authorities offered $2,000 rewards following the revelations made by the Canadian gangster "Moll." Only one, Arthur Misanas 37, is still at liberty. The others are under arrest or dead.

Third Church Plans Sunday School Picnic

Church School To Gather At Cascade Park For Afternoon And Evening Event

At a meeting of the committees held Thursday the plans were completed for the annual picnic of the Sunday School of the Third United Presbyterian church of which C. C. McKibben is superintendent.

The school has arranged the event for Cascade Park from 2 to 8 p. m., Tuesday, July 31, and dinner will be served at 6:30 in the grove.

Mrs. Earl McKnight is general chairman of the event, which promises to be one of the largest of the park's summer picnics, and she will be aided by various committees. The coffee committee includes Frew Book, Ira Alford, P. J. Sines, J. H. Sines, James Brandon and John Bruce.

The table committee: Harry Thomas, Roy Zeigler, Leroy Book, Tom McNicholas and Abe Kildoo. Audley Henderson and Edgar McCown will have charge of the horseshoe pitching contest, which will decide the champion thrower of the church; Willard Kimmel, Mrs. S. T. McEntire and Angie Kenehan will have charge of the bingo and games; Mrs. D. D. Brown, Mrs. G. H. Colnot, J. Ulrich and Jared Davies will have charge of the tug-of-war between the men and the women; Audley Henderson will have charge of the ball game between the single and married men.

B. Schonefelt, J. E. Gorman, Mrs. Margaret Moore and Mrs. J. W. Rupert will have charge of the free refreshments for the children and the playgrounds committee will include Ruth O'Neil, Cora May Boston and Elizabeth Aiken.

Lack Of Orders Halts Operations

New Castle Hot Mills Are Affected—Thirty Hot Mills To Operate At Shenango

Due to lack of orders the hot mills of the New Castle plant, American Sheet and Tin Plate Company will shut down tonight, according to an announcement by David S. Pyle, general manager of the company here. The finishing departments of the plant will continue to operate until the first of the month when they also will shut down.

The shut down here follows similar action in other plants of the company. Mercer plant at Farrell, Wood plant at McKeesport, Sabraton plant, at Morgantown are down, and Gary, Ind., is working only part time. The New Castle plant is in shape to start immediately upon receipt of orders and it is hoped that the industry will show sufficient improvement to start in the near future.

Shenango plant will resume operations Monday night at midnight instead of Tuesday morning as was first stated. Thirty mills will operate.

The recent capacity operations of many of the tin plants has probably built up a surplus of stock, it is thought. Some months ago with the possibility of a general strike in the steel industry, mills worked capacity to get out as much production as possible. With the strike threat dissipated it is possible that the surplus stock on hand will have to be used before new stock is produced.

JAPANESE HAVE RIGID LAW ON FIRE-ARMS

(International News Service)

HSINCHING, Manchukuo, July 20.—American police might well learn a lesson from the energetic Japanese authorities of Manchukuo. Claiming that possession of fire-arms by private individuals has increased three fold since the Mukden incident, a campaign is being waged for the registration of guns and pistols.

That is all routine, anywhere in the world. However, the Japanese go a step further and insist that owners of fire-arms report to the police beforehand every time they plan to fire a single shot for any purpose. Shots fired in emergencies must be reported to the police afterwards, says the ruling.

ACCIDENT VICTIM LEAVES HOSPITAL

Mrs. Valerie Maxwell, of Orlando avenue, Neshannock township, who was seriously hurt when struck by a motorcycle driven by William Biddle, of R. F. D. No. 3, on Wednesday, July 11, has recovered sufficiently to return to her home.

Mrs. Maxwell sustained no broken bones, but for a time it was feared she might be seriously injured internally, the handle-bars of the motorcycle striking her in the side and hurling her to the side of the road. The accident occurred on Wilmington avenue, just outside the city limits.

PATROLMAN HELD

(International News Service)

ERIE, Pa., July 20.—Erie police were holding Mark W. Fessler, a fellow patrolman here today pending a ruling by a corner's jury on the charge that Fessler fatally injured Mrs. Mary Baird, 60, while driving a borrowed car here last night.

Fessler, off duty when the accident occurred, said the crash was unavoidable.

ERIE WOMAN DIES

(International News Service)

ERIE, Pa., July 20.—A lingering illness today ended in death for Mrs. Susan L. McCreary, 67, wife of Ralph S McCreary, Erie assemblyman who recently won the Republican renomination.

Three sons, in addition to her husband, survive. She will be buried Sunday.

COAL CARS DERAILED

(International News Service)

ERIE, Pa., July 20.—Laboring train crews were rapidly restoring traffic to normalcy today on the main line of the New York Central railroad following the derailment of 36 coal cars at State Line, Pa., and Ripley, N. Y., last night.

COP PLAYS NURSEMAID TO LONESOME BABY

(International News Service)

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah—A versatile lot are Salt Lake City's uniformed policemen.

Patrolman H. A. Peterson successfully played the part of nursemaid when called in by distraught neighbors of a crying baby.

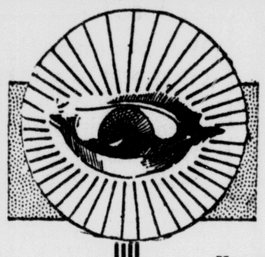

"I found a baby in the window crying," he reported. "Neighbors said this had been going on frequently over a long period. The baby's mother goes out to dances every night leaving the little child alone. The baby is about two years old.

"I put the baby to bed."

Death Toll Mounts In Mid-West As Blistering Heat Wave Descends

Severe Electrical Storm Breaks Heat Wave In Western Penna.

(International News Service)

Aided by a blazing sun and searing winds from the southwest, all parts of the country east of the Rookies remained in the grip of a man-killing heat wave today with many deaths attributed to the humidity and scorching temperatures.

The middle-west, lacking cooling breezes off the Great Lakes, suffered most intensely. Chicago recorded a thermometer reading of 96 yesterday and at 9 a. m. today the mercury had soared to 79 with the genuine suffering being mostly reflected by the humidity reading of 94. Two deaths were attributed to the heat.

Storm Breaks Heat

The intense wave that gripped Pennsylvania yesterday relented somewhat today. Relief was afforded the Pittsburgh area by a severe electrical storm which claimed one life. Three houses were hit by lightning. During the morning the mercury hovered about the 80 degree mark in the state's three key cities—Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, and Harrisburg. Showers were expected late today or tonight.

In Indianapolis at 8 a. m. the thermometer had climbed to 84 degrees, 7 degrees above yesterday's reading at the same hour. Columbus, Ohio, baked under a scorching temperature that was expected to reach 100 with three drownings reported. In Louisville today the mercury soared into the nineties.

Many Lives Taken

In Kansas City the searing heat took the frightful toll of eighteen lives with six others overcome and in serious condition, since Monday. Yesterday's thermometer reading reached 107.2 degrees, the hottest July day in the history of the weather bureau there. Three persons died at St. Joseph, Mo., where the mercury skyrocketed to 108 yesterday.

Conditions were little more comfortable along the Atlantic coast. New York reported a reading of 77 this morning with the humidity at 91 and the atmosphere oppressively muggy. Washington expected a maximum of 94 degrees this afternoon after the city had recorded 93 yesterday.

New England experienced its twelfth day without rain today with woodland fires destroying timber. Two were dead from the excessive heat in Boston where the reading this morning was 80 with rising temperatures and humidity at 93.

Denver Bakes

In the southwest, Denver baked in its warmest day in three days yesterday with the thermometer at 99.5. In the northwest Miles City, Mont., reported 104 degrees yesterday while Wyoming recorded readings as high as 102 with no relief in sight for today.

Texas suffered terrific heat yesterday when the mercury reached 101 degrees in Dallas and at 7 a. m. today had gone as high as 80. St. Louis recorded a high of 102 yesterday with 88 at 9 a. m. today.

Cool On Coast

Only the Pacific coast escaped the intense heat. In Los Angeles yesterday the natives enjoyed a reading of 80 and at 7 a. m. today it was 66. In Portland, Ore., it was 56 at 7 a. m. today with light rain a possibility before late afternoon.

High School Office Closed For Summer

Clerical Force Finishes Task Of Preparing 4,000 'Class Schedules'

Over 4,000 "class schedules" for the more than 2,000 students who will report at Senior high school in the fall had been prepared by clerks at the school as they vacated the office for the summer today.

Principal Frank L. Orth and his clerical force will not be at the office again for business until about August 20.

Since commencement occurred on June 6, the office force has busied itself in a multitude of tasks which embraced the completion of records for the past term and the preparation of materials for the 1934-35 term.

The school's enrollment in the fall Mr. Orth estimated will top the 2,000 mark by a large number. At the close of the last term there were 1,948 students attending.

Two portable buildings are being erected this summer to house the anticipated overflow of students.

The class schedules completed are to be distributed to the students on the opening day for their guidance in daily classroom work. One schedule is made for each student with a duplicate for the office files.

New Jersey Police Release Man After Questioning In Death Of Woman

(International News Service)

WOODBURY, N. J., July 20.—Death of the "diamond-toothed" woman, Mrs. Mabel Peterson, 29, of Williamsport, Pa., remained as deep a mystery as ever today following the release of her suitor, Robert F. Lynch, 45.

After a day of almost continuous questioning Lynch, a boarder at the home of Mrs. Peterson's parents in Williamsport, was released by county detective W. Clayton Apgar who said:

"I do not believe Lynch knows anything about Mrs. Peterson's death."

Lynch admitted having driven Mrs. Peterson to Camden in his automobile, but said they separated after a quarrel.

Identified through a diamond set in an upper left eye tooth, the body of Mrs. Peterson will be sent back to Williamsport, authorities said.

Young Farm Hand Dies From Self Inflicted Bullets In West Chester, Pa.

(International News Service)

WEST CHESTER, Pa., July 20.—Victim of remorse over the accidental killing of his employer, Sheldon Simpson, 19-year-old farmhand, died in Homeopathic hospital here early today from the effects of two self-inflicted bullet wounds.

The youth sent two bullets crashing into his body a short time after he had accidentally shot and killed Eber Y. Thompson, 33, while the two men were hunting groundhogs. Father of five children, Thompson was manager of a large dairy farm where young Simpson was employed.

Just before the youth died he told nurses he regretted having shot himself. He said he now wanted to live. But, he changed his mind too late.

Death Toll Mounts In Mid-West As Blistering Heat Wave Descends

HUMIDITY IS AT LOW POINT

Severe Electrical Storm Breaks Heat Wave In Western Penna.

(International News Service)

Aided by a blazing sun and searing winds from the southwest, all parts of the country east of the Rookies remained in the grip of a man-killing heat wave today with many deaths attributed to the humidity and scorching temperatures.

The middle-west, lacking cooling breezes off the Great Lakes, suffered most intensely. Chicago recorded a thermometer reading of 96 yesterday and at 9 a. m. today the mercury had soared to 79 with the genuine suffering being mostly reflected by the humidity reading of 94. Two deaths were attributed to the heat.

Storm Breaks Heat

The intense wave that gripped Pennsylvania yesterday relented somewhat today. Relief was afforded the Pittsburgh area by a severe electrical storm which claimed one life. Three houses were hit by lightning. During the morning the mercury hovered about the 80 degree mark in the state's three key cities—Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, and Harrisburg. Showers were expected late today or tonight.

In Indianapolis at 8 a. m. the thermometer had climbed to 84 degrees, 7 degrees above yesterday's reading at the same hour. Columbus, Ohio, baked under a scorching temperature that was expected to reach 100 with three drownings reported. In Louisville today the mercury soared into the nineties.

Many Lives Taken

In Kansas City the searing heat took the frightful toll of eighteen lives with six others overcome and in serious condition, since Monday. Yesterday's thermometer reading reached 107.2 degrees, the hottest July day in the history of the weather bureau there. Three persons died at St. Joseph, Mo., where the mercury skyrocketed to 108 yesterday.

Conditions were little more comfortable along the Atlantic coast. New York reported a reading of 77 this morning with the humidity at 91 and the atmosphere oppressively muggy. Washington expected a maximum of 94 degrees this afternoon after the city had recorded 93 yesterday.

New England experienced its twelfth day without rain today with woodland fires destroying timber. Two were dead from the excessive heat in Boston where the reading this morning was 80 with rising temperatures and humidity at 93.

Denver Bakes

In the southwest, Denver baked in its warmest day in three days yesterday with the thermometer at 99.5. In the northwest Miles City, Mont., reported 104 degrees yesterday while Wyoming recorded readings as high as 102 with no relief in sight for today.

Texas suffered terrific heat yesterday when the mercury reached 101 degrees in Dallas and at 7 a. m. today had gone as high as 80. St. Louis recorded a high of 102 yesterday with 88 at 9 a. m. today.

Cool On Coast

Only the Pacific coast escaped the intense heat. In Los Angeles yesterday the natives enjoyed a reading of 80 and at 7 a. m. today it was 66. In Portland, Ore., it was 56 at 7 a. m. today with light rain a possibility before late afternoon.

Parks-McFarlane Tied For Lead In State Open Play

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, July 20.—Sam Parks, Jr., of the South Hills Country Club, and Willie Mc-Farlane, former national open champion of Tuckahoe, N. Y., jumped into the leadership of the Pennsylvania state open championship at the Oakmont Club today.

Both finished with a score of 222 for 54 holes.

Al Espinosa, Akron, O., golfer, who led the players at the end of the 36th hole, shot an 80 for a total of 224.

Parks scored a 76 in today's play, while McFarlane shot a 77.

Clerical Force Finishes Task Of Preparing 4,000 'Class Schedules'

Over 4,000 "class schedules" for the more than 2,000 students who will report at Senior high school in the fall had been prepared by clerks at the school as they vacated the office for the summer today.

Principal Frank L. Orth and his clerical force will not be at the office again for business until about August 20.

Since commencement occurred on June 6, the office force has busied itself in a multitude of tasks which embraced the completion of records for the past term and the preparation of materials for the 1934-35 term.

The school's enrollment in the fall Mr. Orth estimated will top the 2,000 mark by a large number. At the close of the last term there were 1,948 students attending.

Two portable buildings are being erected this summer to house the anticipated overflow of students.

The class schedules completed are to be distributed to the students on the opening day for their guidance in daily classroom work. One schedule is made for each student with a duplicate for the office files.

New Jersey Police Release Man After Questioning In Death Of Woman

(International News Service)

WOODBURY, N. J., July 20.—Death of the "diamond-toothed" woman, Mrs. Mabel Peterson, 29, of Williamsport, Pa., remained as deep a mystery as ever today following the release of her suitor, Robert F. Lynch, 45.

After a day of almost continuous questioning Lynch, a boarder at the home of Mrs. Peterson's parents in Williamsport, was released by county detective W. Clayton Apgar who said:

"I do not believe Lynch knows anything about Mrs. Peterson's death."

Lynch admitted having driven Mrs. Peterson to Camden in his automobile, but said they separated after a quarrel.

Identified through a diamond set in an upper left eye tooth, the body of Mrs. Peterson will be sent back to Williamsport, authorities said.

Young Farm Hand Dies From Self Inflicted Bullets In West Chester, Pa.

(International News Service)

WEST CHESTER, Pa., July 20.—Victim of remorse over the accidental killing of his employer, Sheldon Simpson, 19-year-old farmhand, died in Homeopathic hospital here early today from the effects of two self-inflicted bullet wounds.

The youth sent two bullets crashing into his body a short time after he had accidentally shot and killed Eber Y. Thompson, 33, while the two men were hunting groundhogs. Father of five children, Thompson was manager of a large dairy farm where young Simpson was employed.

Just before the youth died he told nurses he regretted having shot himself. He said he now wanted to live. But, he changed his mind too late.

Another Clue On Dillinger Proves False

Chicago Police Called To Y. M. C. A. Where Dillinger Is Supposed To Have Stayed

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, July 20.—Once more John Dillinger (or someone who looks like him) has slipped the police dragnet, it appeared today.

But just why the phantom killer and two of his desperadoes would choose the Lawson branch of the Y. M. C. A. as a stopping place puzzled the police raiders.

On a report that Dillinger, John Hamilton and George "Baby Face" Nelson had registered there, a score of detectives attached to the Dillinger detail closed in.

The police found that the trio fitting descriptions of the Dillingerites had just checked out and had departed in two automobiles, each driven by a woman.

Hosiery Mill To Reopen Monday

Tennessee Mill Will Be Reopened Under Blue Eagle; Idle For Nine Months

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, July 20.—Idle hands of 600 textile workers will return to their machines on Monday under the NRA's Blue Eagle, in the little mill town of Harriman, Tenn.

NRA officials and Harriman representatives reached a settlement of the nine months battle between the hosiery mill and the NRA.

Terms of the settlement were not divulged by the recovery administration, but it was reported that most of the concessions leading to the agreement were made by officials of the hosiery mill.

The Harriman Hosiery Mill has been idle for the past three weeks as the result of the withdrawal of the Blue Eagle. As the result of the withdrawal of the NRA emblem. The company was unable to distribute its goods, and in one instance lost a single order for 3,000 dozen pairs of hose to the state of Pennsylvania.

Held In Violation

The company was held in violation of the wage and hour provisions of the hosiery code, after workers charged discrimination. Several months ago, recovery administrator Hugh S. Johnson ordered the removal of the company's blue eagle. In retaliation, a great proportion of the town's merchants advised Johnson they would surrender their blue eagles. The mill is the largest industry in the community, and as a result of its idleness, the town suffered a severe financial blow.

Steel Industry Rejects Changes

Changes In Code Proposed By General Johnson Are Rejected Today

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, July 20.—The steel industry today rejected the changes of the code proposed by Gen. Hugh S. Johnson relating to the structural steel and fabricating divisions.

The opposition was voiced at the meeting of directors of the American Institute of Steel Construction, which has a membership of 680 firms and employes upwards of 50,000 men.

Many of Gen. Johnson's suggested changes involved labor and pay schedules, and the board in its attack asserted that the "proposed deletion of the provisions of our code relating to erection work would so vitiate practically all the articles and schedules as to render impossible any intelligent interpretation, application or administration."

Another Clue On Dillinger Proves False

Chicago Police Called To Y. M. C. A. Where Dillinger Is Supposed To Have Stayed

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, July 20.—Once more John Dillinger (or someone who looks like him) has slipped the police dragnet, it appeared today.

But just why the phantom killer and two of his desperadoes would choose the Lawson branch of the Y. M. C. A. as a stopping place puzzled the police raiders.

On a report that Dillinger, John Hamilton and George "Baby Face" Nelson had registered there, a score of detectives attached to the Dillinger detail closed in.

The police found that the trio fitting descriptions of the Dillingerites had just checked out and had departed in two automobiles, each driven by a woman.

Hosiery Mill To Reopen Monday

Tennessee Mill Will Be Reopened Under Blue Eagle; Idle For Nine Months

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, July 20.—Idle hands of 600 textile workers will return to their machines on Monday under the NRA's Blue Eagle, in the little mill town of Harriman, Tenn.

NRA officials and Harriman representatives reached a settlement of the nine months battle between the hosiery mill and the NRA.

Terms of the settlement were not divulged by the recovery administration, but it was reported that most of the concessions leading to the agreement were made by officials of the hosiery mill.

The Harriman Hosiery Mill has been idle for the past three weeks as the result of the withdrawal of the Blue Eagle. As the result of the withdrawal of the NRA emblem. The company was unable to distribute its goods, and in one instance lost a single order for 3,000 dozen pairs of hose to the state of Pennsylvania.

Held In Violation

The company was held in violation of the wage and hour provisions of the hosiery code, after workers charged discrimination. Several months ago, recovery administrator Hugh S. Johnson ordered the removal of the company's blue eagle. In retaliation, a great proportion of the town's merchants advised Johnson they would surrender their blue eagles. The mill is the largest industry in the community, and as a result of its idleness, the town suffered a severe financial blow.

Steel Industry Rejects Changes

Changes Ir. Code Proposed By General Johnson Are Rejected Today

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, July 20.—The steel industry today rejected the changes of the code proposed by Gen. Hugh S. Johnson relating to the structural steel and fabricating divisions.

The opposition was voiced at the meeting of directors of the American Institute of Steel Construction, which has a membership of 680 firms and employes upwards of 50,000 men.

Many of Gen. Johnson's suggested changes involved labor and pay schedules, and the board in its attack asserted that the "proposed deletion of the provisions of our code relating to erection work would so vitiate practically all the articles and schedules as to render impossible any intelligent interpretation, application or administration."

Billion Dollar Financing Plan Being Discussed

Treasury Department Studies Plan For Huge Financing Program Sept. 15

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, July 20.—Consideration of a government financing program of more than one billion dollars September 15 was being given today by the treasury department.

If conditions continue as at present, a long term bond issue, carrying a rate of around three percent, appeared a probability.

On September 15, $524,748,500 in one and one-half percent certificates mature. The treasury has called $1,000,000,000 of the outstanding four and one-quarter Fourth Libertys for October 15. Any portion of this bloc may be retired on or before that date. It was indicated today that some of these bonds would be redeemed October 15.

Acting Secretary Coolidge declined to discuss the situation except to say that there will be no major financing before September 15.

AROUND CITY HALL

Police chronology for 24 hours ending at 3:30 p. m. July 19, three arrests on charges as follows: selling with a license 1, suspicion 1, drunkenness 1.

Mayor Mayne in police court yesterday advised a young man to leave home. The young man has been carted by police to a cell on innumerable occasions during the past two years. Either his mother or father always made the complaint, the mayor stated. The mayor said his investigation showed that while it was true the young man imbibed of the bowl he did not always cause the trouble. The young man has been the mainstay of the family. The mayor said that he had practically ordered police not to reply to calls from that particular home in the future as he believed someone other than the young man was responsible for the young man's plight. The young man said he would leave.

Indications are that the exploitation trip made by Parks Director Alexander and C. C. Coulthard of Cascade park netted fruit for the city. While on a trip to Beaver Falls they succeeded in having the Babcock-Wilcox Seamless Tube company hold its annual picnic here. Four thousand will attend the outing.

Although the volunteer firemen sometime ago suggested to city council that a fire whistle be installed here so they could help aid firemen fight serious fires, the whistle has not materialized. A volunteer in speaking of the situation yesterday said that at a recent fire not one volunteer or a paid fireman off turn knew there was a fire until it was over. It seems as though the volunteers want to give service and if there was a whistle, it is maintained, and a serious fire occur it would be notice to them to turn out.

Remodelling of the police car barn certainly has improved East street traffic. For years cars backed into the garage and when they did they tied up traffic in the thoroughfare. Since the garage was remodelled the cars have headed into the garage and traffic has not been blockaded.

Youth Training With Jack Young

Evidently Aspires To Be Dog Catcher — Carries Net In City Rounds

There's apparently one chap in town who aspires to be a dog catcher.

He has started on the task already as as assistant to Jack Young, the most famed of all the dog catchers New Castle has had.

Daily the chap, who is colored, and about 10 years old, accompanies Young on his trips throughout the city.

Like his tutor, he carries a wire with a loop that can be pulled tight when the loop sails around the canine's head.

"The only thing I don't do is to watch him shoot the dogs" said the youngster yesterday when he reported with Young at the police station to get the "tip" on "Where dogs roam".

Farm Calendar

Timely Reminders From The Pennsylvania State College School Of Agriculture

Install Running Water—Some of our farm homes with electric power do not have running water. This condition is more likely due to lack of funds rather than to a lack of appreciation. A simple system, providing water at the snap of a switch, may be had on most farms for considerably under $50. This system may be expanded later to a completely automatic pressure tank system.

To Eradicate Diseased Cows— A sum of $110,000 has been allotted from Federal funds for the eradication of tuberculous cattle in Pennsylvania herds. This money will be used in the first 60 days of an intensified campaign which will extend over 19 months, according to a report from Washington.

Mulch Tomato Plants—Cultivate tomatoes until small fruits are set and the plants begin to spread. Then mulch between the rows and the plants in the row. This mulch provides a soft bed for the plants to rest upon and ripen their fruit. It also conserves moisture and eliminates later cultivations.

Control Chicken Pests—A tobacco preparations called nicotine sulphate is commonly used to get rid of body lice of chickens. It is applied to the roosts about a half hour before the birds go to roost. Red mites can be controlled by applying mite paint to all parts of the house where the hens roost. Old crank case oil is effective if used frequently.

Save Weak Trees—A few hours spent in the orchard now in bracing weak trees may save considerable splitting later when the crop becomes heavy. The cost, in addition to labor, will be from 15 to 40 cents a tree.

Water Garden Liberally—When the garden needs moisture the ground should be given a good soaking.

Red Corpuscles Live Twenty Days

Some Interesting Experiments On Human Blood Stream Are Made

(International News Service)

LOS ANGELES, July 20.—The life of a red corpuscle in the human blood stream is about twenty days in a normal, healthy person.

This was revealed by the extensive contests conducted by Dr. Francis S. Baldwin, research professor of physiology at the University of Southern California, and his assistant, R. A. Escobar.

The new light on the life of the red corpuscle was made possible through an ingenuous method of counting the microscopic cells which course through the blood streams carrying oxygen to all tissues.

It had been known that the number of corpuscles increase in number as the oxygen supply diminishes.

Despite the difficulties of making a count, due to the minute size of the cells, Dr. Baldwin and his assistant proceeded with the test.

It was revealed that red corpuscles are very plentiful, there usually being about five million to the cubic millimeter. The size is seven or eight microns in diameter and a micron is only 1-1000 of a millimeter.

A healthy, normal human volunteered for the test and was sent to spend some time in a high altitude, and then return to sea level. During all of the time a daily count was made of the number of red corpuscles in the blood stream.

It was shown that after remaining in a high altitude for some time the blood count required approximately 20 days to become normal.

Dr. Baldwin says this indicated the life of the red corpuscle was approximately 20 days.

PLEA FOR FISH

(International News Service)

DENVER—Gov. Ed. C. Johnson called on miners of the state to cooperate in saving the Arkansas river for the fishermen. Pollution from placer mines on the headwaters of the stream, he pointed out, was killing vegetation along the bottom of the river. He asked the mining men to build settling ponds to take out silt before it destroyed the food on which fish lived.

Billion Dollar Financing Plan Being Discussed

Treasury Department Studies Plan For Huge Financing Program Sept. 15

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, July 20.—Consideration of a government financing program of more than one billion dollars September 15 was being given today by the treasury department.

If conditions continue as at present, a long term bond issue, carrying a rate of around three percent, appeared a probability.

On September 15, $524,748,500 in one and one-half percent certificates mature. The treasury has called $1,000,000,000 of the outstanding four and one-quarter Fourth Libertys for October 15. Any portion of this bloc may be retired on or before that date. It was indicated today that some of these bonds would be redeemed October 15.

Acting Secretary Coolidge declined to discuss the situation except to say that there will be no major financing before September 15.

AROUND CITY HALL

Police chronology for 24 hours ending at 3:30 p. m. July 19, three arrests on charges as follows: selling with a license 1, suspicion 1, drunkenness 1.

Mayor Mayne in police court yesterday advised a young man to leave home. The young man has been carted by police to a cell on innumerable occasions during the past two years. Either his mother or father always made the complaint, the mayor stated. The mayor said his investigation showed that while it was true the young man imbibed of the bowl he did not always cause the trouble. The young man has been the mainstay of the family. The mayor said that he had practically ordered police not to reply to calls from that particular home in the future as he believed someone other than the young man was responsible for the young man's plight. The young man said he would leave.

Indications are that the exploitation trip made by Parks Director Alexander and C. C. Coulthard of Cascade park netted fruit for the city. While on a trip to Beaver Falls they succeeded in having the Babcock-Wilcox Seamless Tube company hold its annual picnic here. Four thousand will attend the outing.

Although the volunteer firemen sometime ago suggested to city council that a fire whistle be installed here so they could help aid firemen fight serious fires, the whistle has not materialized. A volunteer in speaking of the situation yesterday said that at a recent fire not one volunteer or a paid fireman off turn knew there was a fire until it was over. It seems as though the volunteers want to give service and if there was a whistle, it is maintained, and a serious fire occur it would be notice to them to turn out.

Remodelling of the police car barn certainly has improved East street traffic. For years cars backed into the garage and when they did they tied up traffic in the thoroughfare. Since the garage was remodelled the cars have headed into the garage and traffic has not been blockaded.

Ralph Criswell, lieutenant of the night force of police, has been named a delegate by the local branch of the Fraternal Order of Police convention to be held at Uniontown in August. All members of the local department belong to the Fraternal Order of Police.

Youth Training With Jack Young

Evidently Aspires To Be Dog Catcher — Carries Net In City Rounds

There's apparently one chap in town who aspires to be a dog catcher.

He has started on the task already as as assistant to Jack Young, the most famed of all the dog catchers New Castle has had.

Daily the chap, who is colored, and about 10 years old, accompanies Young on his trips throughout the city.

Like his tutor, he carries a wire with a loop that can be pulled tight when the loop sails around the canine's head.

"The only thing I don't do is to watch him shoot the dogs" said the youngster yesterday when he reported with Young at the police station to get the "tip" on "Where dogs roam".

Farm Calendar

Timely Reminders From The Pennsylvania State College School Of Agriculture

Install Running Water—Some of our farm homes with electric power do not have running water. This condition is more likely due to lack of funds rather than to a lack of appreciation. A simple system, providing water at the snap of a switch, may be had on most farms for considerably under $50. This system may be expanded later to a completely automatic pressure tank system.

To Eradicate Diseased Cows— A sum of $110,000 has been allotted from Federal funds for the eradication of tuberculous cattle in Pennsylvania herds. This money will be used in the first 60 days of an intensified campaign which will extend over 19 months, according to a report from Washington.

Mulch Tomato Plants—Cultivate tomatoes until small fruits are set and the plants begin to spread. Then mulch between the rows and the plants in the row. This mulch provides a soft bed for the plants to rest upon and ripen their fruit. It also conserves moisture and eliminates later cultivations.

Control Chicken Pests—A tobacco preparations called nicotine sulphate is commonly used to get rid of body lice of chickens. It is applied to the roosts about a half hour before the birds go to roost. Red mites can be controlled by applying mite paint to all parts of the house where the hens roost. Old crank case oil is effective if used frequently.

Save Weak Trees—A few hours spent in the orchard now in bracing weak trees may save considerable splitting later when the crop becomes heavy. The cost, in addition to labor, will be from 15 to 40 cents a tree.

Water Garden Liberally—When the garden needs moisture the ground should be given a good soaking.

About The Strike.
Some Direct Action.
President Optimistic.
Gen. Johnson Worries.
By ARTHUR BRISBANE

THE STRIKE situation in San Francisco seems less gloomy, Mr. Green, head of the American Federation of Labor, says no general strike was authorized by his federation. Apparently he believes that striking against employers and working conditions is one thing, striking against an entire city is another, calling for careful consideration.

SAN FRANCISCO reports that powerful steel tanks of the United States Army, strong enough to plow their way through brick walls, and quite indifferent to sticks, stones and bottles thrown, have impressed the public, strikers and others.

IN SAN FRANCISCO, alleged headquarters of Communists, called "reds," were invaded by young men carrying heavy clubs, wearing labor union badges. Communist headquarters was smashed, inhabitants driven out, many arrested by police.

Those thus invaded, if they really were Communists and "reds," were the victims of the "direct action" which is understood to be what they themselves recommend. They are, therefore, not in a position to protest against methods that ought not to be necessary where courts exist.

THE GENERAL STRIKE committee, voting 207 to 180, for arbitration, expressed a desire that President Roosevelt intervene. The President, for whom fish are said to be biting well, as he sails his battleship across the Pacific to Hawaii, does not plan to intervene, and notifies Miss Frances Perkins, his Secretary of Labor, that he is quite sure "common sense and good order" will prevail and lead to a "reasonable solution".

The President said, "I have full confidence in the board of arbitration and its agencies to arrive at a reasonable solution."

General Johnson, of NRA, on the spot in San Francisco, "cracked down" verbally on both sides, accusing the shipping industry of taking a position "extreme and unreasonable".

He says the steamship men must moderate their attitude and advises the citizens of San Francisco to "run the reds out like rats," adding, "I am for organized labor and collective bargaining with all my heart and soul." But, "when the means of food supply, milk for children, and necessities of life for the whole people, are threatened, that is bloody insurrection."

MR. GREEN, head of the American Federation of Labor, which did not authorize the strike, says it is "strictly local in character and possesses no national significance."

The able leader of organized labor in the United States is mistaken about that. The strike has GREAT national significance. Americans want to know whether the country is to be run by the government as organized originally, or by private organizations. No one questions the right to strike, but when organized labor says to six hundred thousand citizens, "you may not eat or travel except with our permission," that has much "national significance."

THE GENERAL STRIKE seems considerably to worry General Johnson, whose NRA has been telling employers that they must "bargain collectively," that is to say, through union agents, with employes, whether they want to or not. He now tells union labor that what is happening in California will "set the clock back ten years on labor organization".

RUSSIA, where flying is taken seriously, produces a new parachute record. Nikolai Evdokimoff, aviator in the Russian army, established a new parachute record, jumping 26,575 feet in 142 seconds. Nobody ever dropped as far in a parachute, and Evdokimoff did not open his chute until within 650 feet of the ground, which made the great speed possible. An open parachute would have prevented it.

Evdokimoff, who has jumped one hundred times in three years, came down faster than two miles a minute, 16 feet the first second, 48 feet the next second, 148 feet in the first three seconds, 256 feet in the first four. You know how falling bodies increase in speed according to "the square of the time".

It took courage to drop through space 26,000 feet, nearly five miles, before opening the parachute.

It must have been a good parachute to stand that shock.

THE CASE of the Connor baby, supposed to be kidnaped, found half starved after it had eaten grass, and drunk rain during five days, is a warning against taking things for granted, and a warning to detectives and others to use their eyes and try to detect.

The child apparently wandered away and lost itself, not far from home. It was taken for granted that it had been kidnaped, and for five days, apparently, nobody had brains enough to search the neighborhood carefully.

Today

About The Strike.
Some Direct Action.
President Optimistic.
Gen. Johnson Worries.
By ARTHUR BRISBANE

THE STRIKE situation in San Francisco seems less gloomy, Mr. Green, head of the American Federation of Labor, says no general strike was authorized by his federation. Apparently he believes that striking against employers and working conditions is one thing, striking against an entire city is another, calling for careful consideration.

SAN FRANCISCO reports that powerful steel tanks of the United States Army, strong enough to plow their way through brick walls, and quite indifferent to sticks, stones and bottles thrown, have impressed the public, strikers and others.

IN SAN FRANCISCO, alleged headquarters of Communists, called "reds," were invaded by young men carrying heavy clubs, wearing labor union badges. Communist headquarters was smashed, inhabitants driven out, many arrested by police.

Those thus invaded, if they really were Communists and "reds," were the victims of the "direct action" which is understood to be what they themselves recommend. They are, therefore, not in a position to protest against methods that ought not to be necessary where courts exist.

THE GENERAL STRIKE committee, voting 207 to 180, for arbitration, expressed a desire that President Roosevelt intervene. The President, for whom fish are said to be biting well, as he sails his battleship across the Pacific to Hawaii, does not plan to intervene, and notifies Miss Frances Perkins, his Secretary of Labor, that he is quite sure "common sense and good order" will prevail and lead to a "reasonable solution".

The President said, "I have full confidence in the board of arbitration and its agencies to arrive at a reasonable solution."

General Johnson, of NRA, on the spot in San Francisco, "cracked down" verbally on both sides, accusing the shipping industry of taking a position "extreme and unreasonable".

He says the steamship men must moderate their attitude and advises the citizens of San Francisco to "run the reds out like rats," adding, "I am for organized labor and collective bargaining with all my heart and soul." But, "when the means of food supply, milk for children, and necessities of life for the whole people, are threatened, that is bloody insurrection."

MR. GREEN, head of the American Federation of Labor, which did not authorize the strike, says it is "strictly local in character and possesses no national significance."

The able leader of organized labor in the United States is mistaken about that. The strike has GREAT national significance. Americans want to know whether the country is to be run by the government as organized originally, or by private organizations. No one questions the right to strike, but when organized labor says to six hundred thousand citizens, "you may not eat or travel except with our permission," that has much "national significance."

THE GENERAL STRIKE seems considerably to worry General Johnson, whose NRA has been telling employers that they must "bargain collectively," that is to say, through union agents, with employes, whether they want to or not. He now tells union labor that what is happening in California will "set the clock back ten years on labor organization".

RUSSIA, where flying is taken seriously, produces a new parachute record. Nikolai Evdokimoff, aviator in the Russian army, established a new parachute record, jumping 26,575 feet in 142 seconds. Nobody ever dropped as far in a parachute, and Evdokimoff did not open his chute until within 650 feet of the ground, which made the great speed possible. An open parachute would have prevented it.

Evdokimoff, who has jumped one hundred times in three years, came down faster than two miles a minute, 16 feet the first second, 48 feet the next second, 148 feet in the first three seconds, 256 feet in the first four. You know how falling bodies increase in speed according to "the square of the time".

It took courage to drop through space 26,000 feet, nearly five miles, before opening the parachute.

It must have been a good parachute to stand that shock.

THE CASE of the Connor baby, supposed to be kidnaped, found half starved after it had eaten grass, and drunk rain during five days, is a warning against taking things for granted, and a warning to detectives and others to use their eyes and try to detect.

The child apparently wandered away and lost itself, not far from home. It was taken for granted that it had been kidnaped, and for five days, apparently, nobody had brains enough to search the neighborhood carefully.

CANS "KNOCKED' MOTOR

(International News Service)

GARDINER, Me.—A local motorist whose automobile suddenly developed unaccountable knocks and rattles was puzzled as to their cause until he took the car to a garage where it was discovered that a bag of tin cans had been tied under the car, evidently by some practical joker.

CRIME DETECTION CLASS

(International News Service)

BOSTON—Under the direction of the State University extension course, a class in crime detection is to be instituted for the benefit of detectives, policemen, lawyers, investigators and others of the public who may be interested as part of the drive which the state is waging against crime.

Liabilities Of State Climbing To Dizzy Height

Next Legislature Is Faced With Potential Liability Of $258,250,000

ESTIMATED INCOME ONLY $156,000,000

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, July 20.—The 1935 session of the legislature will be faced with a total potential liability of $258,250,000 for the 1935-37 biennium with an estimated income of $156,000,000 plus any liquor store profits for that period, according to the state chamber of commerce in its latest bulletin entitled "the crisis in state finance."

The chamber's committee on state taxation and expenditures is already at work on the problem, attempting to devise a means of reducing the tax burden and at the some time balancing the state budget.

Reviewing state expenditures of recent years, the state chamber of commerce bulletin points out:

"During 1931 to 1933 the commonwealth largely exhausted its surplus of more prosperous days; while in this biennium the general fund and relief expenditures are based upon optimistic revenue estimates and certain non-recurring or extraordinary receipts.

"The result is that the 1935 legislature will inherit a substantial general fund deficit (possibly $8,000,000) and a scale of spending far in excess of the revenue possibilities of the present state tax levies. Thus quickly has the day of fiscal reckoning come to the commonwealth, offering the choice of curtailed expenditures or an increased tax load. State bond issues are out of the question until 1938.

"General fund expenditures of the commonwealth in 1931-1933 were $208,000,000, or $28,000,000 in excess of income made possible by a large cash balance at the beginning of the biennium.

"Excluding deficiencies, the total appropriations of the 1933 legislature were nearly $200,000,000, of which $45,000,000 covered unemployment relief. As of June 1, 1933, the unencumbered balance in the general fund was $6,700,000, to which may be added appropriation lapses (estimated) of $3,000,000, reducing the proble net appropriation for this biennium to $191,000,000."

Increased state tax collections might reduce or wipe out the prospective deficit, but the outlook is not encouraging, according to the chamber of commerce. Discussing problems facing the 1935 legislature, the bulletin stated:

"Besides inheriting a general fund deficit in this biennium, the 1935 legislature will have to balance the next biennial budget without the non-recurring revenues of $54,000,000 available to its predecessor. Should no special session be held in the meantime, the 1935 legislature might have to replace the $20,000,000 allocated to unemployment relief from the liquor stores profits, and also find funds to finance unemployment relief during the first five months of 1935, to the extent of $15,000,000, perhaps, for which no provision has yet been made."

On the question of the current relief crisis, the bulletin pointed out the federal emergency relief administration should consider that Pennsylvania contributed 7.3 per cent of all federal internal revenues, was one of the 15 states that contributed more than 45 per cent of its relief expenditures out of state and public funds, received 9.81 per cent of all federal unemployment relief funds. And had 11.6 per cent of all families on relief in the country at the end of 1933.

Halt Threat Of Miners' Strike

Charter Of Logan's Ferry Miners Union Is Revoked By U. M. W. Officials

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, July 20.—Bringing to a halt a general strike threat in the Allegheny-Kiski Valley, distric number five officers of the United Mine Workers of America today had revoked the charter of the Logan's Ferry local.

Declaring the local has been "violating all terms of their agreement," the district officers of the union said the local "refused to listen and take advise of district officials and national officials of the United Mine Workers of America."

Members of the Logan's Ferry local, workers in pits of the Allegheny-Pittsburgh Coal Company, struck more than two months ago. Their move to call a general strike in the district was not given any sanction by the union officials.

Union officials earlier ordered the men to return to work after investigating their complaints.

What action may be taken by other locals believed to have given the general strike consideration will be determined at a meeting of valley locals' representatives Sunday afternoon in Acmetomia.

NEGLECT OF COMMON CONSTIPATION IS A SERIOUS MATTER

Prevent This Condition with Kellogg's ALL-BRAN

The first question your doctor asks is whether you are constipated or not. He knows that this condition may cause headaches, loss of appetite and energy, sleeplessness. It is often the starting point of serious illness.

You can prevent and relieve common constipation so easily. Just eat a delicious cereal once a day. Laboratory tests show that Kellogg's ALL-BRAN provides "bulk" and vitamin B to aid regular habits. ALL-BRAN is also a rich source of blood-building iron.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that found in leafy vegetables. Within the body, it forms a soft mass. Gently, it clears out the intestinal wastes.

Isn't this "cereal way" safer and far more pleasant than taking patent medicines — so often harmful? Two tablespoonfuls of ALL-BRAN daily are usually sufficient. With each meal in chronic cases. If seriously ill, see your doctor — ALL-BRAN is not a "cure-all."

Enjoy ALL-BRAN as a cereal, or use in cooking. Get the red-and-green package at your grocer's. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Sheriff and Mrs. Edward D. Pritchard have returned from Pittsburgh where they attended a meeting of the sheriffs and wives, from practically every county of the state.

Collections at the county treasurers office Wednesday were as follows: county taxes, $3,099.26; state, $1,026.46; poor, $1,549.64; total $5,675.36. County Treasurer Pitts said this morning that collections from the first of June had only been 2¼ per cent above last year.

County commissioners say they never knew there were so many old people in the county until the new pension bill went into effect. Although it only provides pensions for indigent persons who have reached the age of 70 years, many who have not reached that age are seeking payments. The commissioners have nothing to do with the administration of the act, but it has been hard to make people understand that their applications should be made to the officers of the Mothers Assistance fund.

Sarah Matthews, James B. Matthews and Emma Lamoree have filed a suit at the prothonotary's office against Ned Colangelo of 725 Butler avenue, in which they are seeking to recover damages to a building at 502 South Jefferson street. It is claimed that Colangelo was driving his auto down the street at such a high rate of speed that he was thrown out when the car went into a depression. The car ran 187 feet alone and crashed into a storeroom owned by plaintiffs and occupied by Antonetta Ross. The front of the building was demolished and the brick wall knocked out on the north side, near the window. Repairs for the building cost $228, which plaintiffs seek to recover from the defendant.

Settlement of the equity suit brought by Anna C. Duff, executor of Charles C. Duff; Mary E. Brown, Mary S. Gilfillan, J. Clyde Gilfillan, and others against the Pennsylvania Engineering company has been made according to a petition to dismiss the case filed in court. The case was one in which the plaintiff had objected to the consolidation of the company with a Meadville company, and wanted their money in place of stock in the new company. The petition recites that in a previous decree the bill was dismissed as to Anna C. Duff, executrix and Edward Bendel, who were parties and that settlements have been made with the other plaintiffs. Petition to dismiss the bill was granted by Judge Hildebrand.

Liabilities Of State Climbing To Dizzy Height

Next Legislature Is Faced With Potential Liability Of $258,250,000

ESTIMATED INCOME ONLY $156,000,000

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, July 20.—The 1935 session of the legislature will be faced with a total potential liability of $258,250,000 for the 1935-37 biennium with an estimated income of $156,000,000 plus any liquor store profits for that period, according to the state chamber of commerce in its latest bulletin entitled "the crisis in state finance."

The chamber's committee on state taxation and expenditures is already at work on the problem, attempting to devise a means of reducing the tax burden and at the some time balancing the state budget.

Reviewing state expenditures of recent years, the state chamber of commerce bulletin points out:

"During 1931 to 1933 the commonwealth largely exhausted its surplus of more prosperous days; while in this biennium the general fund and relief expenditures are based upon optimistic revenue estimates and certain non-recurring or extraordinary receipts.

"The result is that the 1935 legislature will inherit a substantial general fund deficit (possibly $8,000,000) and a scale of spending far in excess of the revenue possibilities of the present state tax levies. Thus quickly has the day of fiscal reckoning come to the commonwealth, offering the choice of curtailed expenditures or an increased tax load State bond issues are out of the question until 1938.

"General fund expenditures of the commonwealth in 1931-1933 were $208,000,000, or $28,000,000 in excess of income, made possible by a large cash balance at the beginning of the biennium.

"Excluding deficiencies, the total appropriations of the 1933 legislature were nearly $200,000,000, of which $45,000,000 covered unemployment relief. As of June 1, 1933, the unencumbered balance in the general fund was $6,700,000, to which may be added appropriation lapses (estimated) of $3,000,000, reducing the proble net appropriation for this biennium to $191,000,000."

Increased state tax collections might reduce or wipe out the prospective deficit, but the outlook is not encouraging, according to the chamber of commerce. Discussing problems facing the 1935 legislature, the bulletin stated:

"Besides inheriting a general fund deficit in this biennium, the 1935 legislature will have to balance the next biennial budget without the non-recurring revenues of $54,000,000 available to its predecessor. Should no special session be held in the meantime, the 1935 legislature might have to replace the $20,000,000 allocated to unemployment relief from the liquor stores profits, and also find funds to finance unemployment relief during the first five months of 1935, to the extent of $15,000,000, perhaps, for which no provision has yet been made."

On the question of the current relief crisis, the bulletin pointed out the federal emergency relief administration should consider that Pennsylvania contributed 7.3 per cent of all federal internal revenues, was one of the 15 states that contributed more than 45 per cent of its relief expenditures out of state and public funds, received 9.81 per cent of all federal unemployment relief funds. And had 11.6 per cent of all families on relief in the country at the end of 1933.

Halt Threat Of Miners' Strike

Charter Of Logan's Ferry Miners Union Is Revoked By U. M. W. Officials

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, July 20.—Bringing to a halt a general strike threat in the Allegheny-Kiski Valley, distric number five officers of the United Mine Workers of America today had revoked the charter of the Logan's Ferry local.

Declaring the local has been "violating all terms of their agreement," the district officers of the union said the local "refused to listen and take advise of district officials and national officials of the United Mine Workers of America."

Members of the Logan's Ferry local, workers in pits of the Allegheny-Pitlsburgh Coal Company, struck more than two months ago. Their move to call a general strike in the district was not given any sanction by the union officials.

Union officials earlier ordered the men to return to work after investigating their complaints.

What action may be taken by other locals believed to have given the general strike consideration will be determined at a meeting of valley locals' representatives Sunday afternoon in Acmetomia.

NEGLECT OF COMMON CONSTIPATION IS A SERIOUS MATTER

Prevent This Condition with Kellogg's ALL-BRAN

The first question your doctor asks is whether you are constipated or not. He knows that this condition may cause headaches, loss of appetite and energy, sleeplessness. It is often the starting point of serious illness.

You can prevent and relieve common constipation so easily. Just eat a delicious cereal once a day. Laboratory tests show that Kellogg's ALL-BRAN provides "bulk" and vitamin B to aid regular habits. ALL-BRAN is also a rich source of blood-building iron.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that found in leafy vegetables. Within the body, it forms a soft mass. Gently, it clears out the intestinal wastes.

Isn't this "cereal way" safer and far more pleasant than taking patent medicines—so often harmful? Two tablespoonfuls of ALL-BRAN daily are usually sufficient. With each meal in chronic cases. If seriously ill, see your doctor—ALL-BRAN is not a "cure-all."

Enjoy ALL-BRAN as a cereal, or use in cooking. Get the red-and-green package at your grocer's. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

A regular business session was held, following which the remainder of the evening was spent in social chat. Mrs. Hartford was assisted by Mrs. Myrtle Garber in serving delicious refreshments. Miss Helen Eakin was a special guest of the evening.

FORGET-ME-NOTS MEET

On Tuesday afternoon Mrs. Al Reese opened her home to the members of the Forget-Me-Not class. A very pleasant afternoon was spent at the conclusion of which the hostess served very dainty refreshments in keeping with the season.

REUNION

Yellow Creek Park, one of the beauty spots along the Mahoning valley was the rendezvous of a happy reunion on Thursday, July 19, when all present and former members of the Berean Bible class gathered for their annual reunion. A sumptous picnic dinner was served at noon. The remainder of the afternoon was spent with an impromptu program and renewing of old friendships.

PICNIC

The Hillsville M. E. Sunday school will hold its annual picnic at Yellow Creek Park on Wednesday, July 25. Transportation will be furnished for those not having such.

NEGLECT OF COMMON CONSTIPATION IS A SERIOUS MATTER

Prevent This Condition with Kellogg's ALL-BRAN

The first question your doctor asks is whether you are constipated or not. He knows that this condition may cause headaches, loss of appetite and energy, sleeplessness. It is often the starting point of serious illness.

You can prevent and relieve common constipation so easily. Just eat a delicious cereal once a day. Laboratory tests show that Kellogg's ALL-BRAN provides "bulk" and vitamin B to aid regular habits. ALL-BRAN is also a rich source of blood-building iron.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that found in leafy vegetables. Within the body, it forms a soft mass. Gently, it clears out the intestinal wastes.

Isn't this "cereal way" safer and far more pleasant than taking patent medicines — so often harmful? Two tablespoonfuls of ALL-BRAN daily are usually sufficient. With each meal in chronic cases. If seriously ill, see your doctor — ALL-BRAN is not a "cure-all."

Enjoy ALL-BRAN as a cereal, or use in cooking. Get the red-and-green package at your grocer's. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

On Court House Hill

Sheriff and Mrs. Edward D. Pritchard have returned from Pittsburgh where they attended a meeting of the sheriffs and wives, from practically every county of the state.

Collections at the county treasurers office Wednesday were as follows: county taxes, $3,099.26; state, $1,026.46; poor, $1,549.64; total $5,675.36. County Treasurer Pitts said this morning that collections from the first of June had only been 2¼ per cent above last year.

County commissioners say they never knew there were so many old people in the county until the new pension bill went into effect. Although it only provides pensions for indigent persons who have reached the age of 70 years, many who have not reached that age are seeking payments. The commissioners have nothing to do with the administration of the act, but it has been hard to make people understand that their applications should be made to the officers of the Mothers Assistance fund.

Sarah Matthews, James B. Matthews and Emma Lamoree have filed a suit at the prothonotary's office against Ned Colangelo of 725 Butler avenue, in which they are seeking to recover damages to a building at 502 South Jefferson street. It is claimed that Colangelo was driving his auto down the street at such a high rate of speed that he was thrown out when the car went into a depression. The car ran 187 feet alone and crashed into a storeroom owned by plaintiffs and occupied by Antonetta Ross. The front of the building was demolished and the brick wall knocked out on the north side, near the window. Repairs for the building cost $228, which plaintiffs seek to recover from the defendant.

Settlement of the equity suit brought by Anna C. Duff, executor of Charles C. Duff; Mary E. Brown, Mary S. Gilfillan, J. Clyde Gilfillan, and others against the Pennsylvania Engineering company has been made according to a petition to dismiss the case filed in court. The case was one in which the plaintiff had objected to the consolidation of the company with a Meadville company, and wanted their money in place of stock in the new company. The petition recites that in a previous decree the bill was dismissed as to Anna C. Duff, executrix and Edward Beadel, who were parties and that settlements have been made with the other plaintiffs. Petition to dismiss the bill was granted by Judge Hildebrand.

Allen To Give His Defense

Hollywood Central Casting Bureau Head Charges He Was "Framed"

(International News Service)

HOLLYWOOD, July 20.—In his own defense, Dave Allen, head of the Central Casting bureau for Hollywood movies, was to take the witness stand today in the "Hollywood morals" case in which he and Gloria Marsh, film actress, are accused of participating in a Babylonian revel with June DeLong, a beautiful film player.

Miss Marsh was to follow Allen to the stand.

Allen's attorney said the bureau head would admit being in Miss DeLong's apartment on the day in April when Mrs. Pearl Owings, actress, "walked in", but would deny participation in the strange revel.

Allen will testify that he was "lured" to Miss DeLong's apartment on the pretext someone was there that "knew something of great importance to him," his attorney said.

Serena Rowland, blonde visitor from San Francisco, testified that Miss DeLong and Mrs. Owings had admitted to her that they had "framed Dave Allen".

After Allen was indicted by a grand jury as a result of the "wild party" Miss DeLong was remorseful "that she had dragged Miss Marsh into the mess," Mrs. Rowland said.

"She told me that suicide was the only way out...that the police angle of the case had gone too far for her to drop the charges," Mrs. Rowland testified.

Mrs. Rowland said that Mrs. Owings had been introduced to her as "Mrs. Pat Harman".

Harman, a film "heavy", made threats against Allen, district attorney's investigators and other testified.

Lawrence School Reunion Plans

Thursday evening the committees and officers of the Lawrence School Reunion Association met at the home of Mrs. Maude Swogger, East Long avenue, and continued plans for the annual reunion which will be held Thursday, August 2 at Cascade Park, with tables being reserved in the grove for dinner at six.

Mrs. Sam Ross was appointed chairman of tables and coffee; Jack Grittic, chairman of sports for boys; Melvina Davies, sports for girls.

Cards have been mailed to the former pupils living out of town and it is expected that there will be a large crowd of the former pupils renew their friendships and reminisce on the school days.

Allen To Give His Defense

Hollywood Central Casting Bureau Head Charges He Was "Framed"

(International News Service)

HOLLYWOOD, July 20.—In his own defense, Dave Allen, head of the Central Casting bureau for Hollywood movies, was to take the witness stand today in the "Hollywood morals" case in which he and Gloria Marsh, film actress, are accused of participating in a Babylonian revel with June DeLong, a beautiful film player.

Miss Marsh was to follow Allen to the stand.

Allen's attorney said the bureau head would admit being in Miss DeLong's apartment on the day in April when Mrs. Pearl Owings, actress, "walked in", but would deny participation in the strange revel.

Allen will testify that he was "lured" to Miss DeLong's apartment on the pretext someone was there that "knew something of great importance to him," his attorney said.

Serena Rowland, blonde visitor from San Francisco, testified that Miss DeLong and Mrs. Owings had admitted to her that they had "framed Dave Allen".

After Allen was indicted by a grand jury as a result of the "wild party" Miss DeLong was remorseful "that she had dragged Miss Marsh into the mess," Mrs. Rowland said.

"She told me that suicide was the only way out...that the police angle of the case had gone too far for her to drop the charges," Mrs. Rowland testified.

Mrs. Rowland said that Mrs. Owings had been introduced to her as "Mrs. Pat Harman".

Harman, a film "heavy", made threats against Allen, district attorney's investigators and other testified.

WOODEN TOOTHBRUSH USED IN WEST AFRICA

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON—Among the curious exhibits of the Smithsonian Institution is a wooden toothbrush, used by natives of West Africa.

When the wood is chewed it produces a froth or foam, which is rubbed vigorously on the teeth to clean them.

There is no quarrel in the family over dirty toothbrushes, because the sticks are sold in bundles, and as soon as one is worn out, another is used.

RESCUER KILLED

Forest Fires In State Have Done $105,000 Damage

Some Three Thousand Fires Have Burned Over 165,000 Acres Of Land

CCC BOYS HAVE RENDERED SERVICE

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, July 20.—Thus far this year about 3,000 forest fires have occurred throughout the state, burning over 165,000 acres at a cost of the commonwealth of $105,000, according to H. B. Rowland, assistant director of bureau of forests protection of the state department of forests and waters.

Commenting on this loss, Rowland said:

"This is not the highest spring record by any means, but is considerably more severe than the average spring season which for the last 10 years, has been 2,043 fires burning 93,088 acreas at a cost of extinction of $88,123.

"The average acreage was 6 acres per fire as against 45 for the past 10 seasons. The number of fires has been exceeded only in the spring of 1930 during the past decade, and the area burned exceeded in that period only by the spring of 1926. In the decade previous to the last the number of fires never exceeded that of this year, but the area burned was exceeded 8 out of the 10 years and was doubled on three occasions."

An unusual feature of forest fires this year was the high winds of May 7 on which date about half the acreage thus far reported was burned, Rowland said.

The bureau director said the boys of the C. C. C. were a valuable aid in fighting forest fires. He added:

"To the credit of the C. C. C. and somewhat to the contrary of some preconceived notions that greenhorns and non-woodsmen are a menace when put into the woods, practically no fires were attributed to C. C. C. activities or the carelessness of the men in the camps despite the fact that some 20,000 of these were suddenly housed in our forest lands both for work and recreation."

Elijah Hears God's Voice

"Brass Tacks" On The Sunday School Lesson

The Golden Text

I Samuel 3:9—"Speak, Lord; for thy servant heareth."

By DR. ALVIN E. BELL

(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for July 22 is I Kings, 19:9-21, the Golden Text being I Samuel, 3:9, "Speak, Lord; for thy servant heareth".)

Periods of depression come into the lives of individuals as they come in the life of the world. They often follow closely upon the heels of great successes and enshroud the whole life in gloom.

From the mountain peak of high enthusiasm in his conflict with the 850 false prophets on Mt. Carmel, Elijah slumped speedily into the valley of despondency as he fled from the wrath of the wicked Queen Jezebel and hid himself under the juniper bush, begging God to take his life. Here was a prophet down in the dumps! If we inquire the secret of his being here, we find it in his centering his thought too much upon himself and his opponents and not enough on God: "And he said, I have been very jealous for the Lord, the God of hosts; for the children of Israel have forsaken thy covenant, thrown down thine altars, and slain thy prophets with the sword; and I, even I only, am left; and they seek my life to take it away." Self-pity is a dangerous and desolating attitude for anyone to assume. Our sense of perspective is always wretchedly poor when we are down in the dumps. Elijah saw his enemies enlarged and this enlargement shut out his vision of God. He saw himself enlarged and this shut out his vision of 7,000 others as loyal to Jehovah as he. Not only is there this wretchedly inaccurate perspective down in the dumps, but everything is seen through blue glasses, and we get a clear view of nothing about us or above us. Down in the dumps is no place for a Christian, and so God says, "What doest thou here, Elijah?"

The Cure For The Dumps

God's cure for the dumps in Elijah's case was to give him a new vision of God and of the work God still had for Elijah to do, "And he said, Go forth, and stand upon the mount before the Lord. And, behold, the Lord passed by, and a great and strong wind rent the mountains, and brake in pieces the rocks before the Lord; but the Lord was not in the earthquake: and after the earthquake a fire; but the Lord was not in the fire: and after the fire a still small voice. And it was so when Elijah heard it, that he wrapped his face in his mantle, and went out, and stood in the entering in of the cave."

This vision of God was his method of teaching the prophet that God's chosen method with men was not that of destructive forces arousing fear as Elijah had invoked them on Carmel, but rather the gentler and winsome methods of love and grace. Elijah was expecting too much from radical remedies. God's method is seen best in Jesus, of whom it was prophesied, "He shall not strive, nor cry aloud; neither shall any one hear his voice in the streets. A bruised reed shall he not break, and smoking flax shall he not quench, till he send forth judgment into victory."

Having lifted the prophet from the dumps by this new vision of himself, God gave him a new vision of his life's unfinished task and sent him out to anoint kings and prepare his own successor in the person of Elisha upon whose shoulders he casts his own prophetic mantle.

Money Order Rule Issued By Farley

Postmaster Steen Announces Change In Fee Collection On August 1

Postmaster Richard A. Steen has been notified, through the Postal Bulletin that Postmaster General James A. Farley has issued an order effective August 1 calling for the collection of fees for payment of money orders at offices other than those on which they are drawn.

The order reads in part:

"Under such rules and regulations as the postmaster general shall prescribe postal money orders may be issued payable at any money-order office, and on and after the date upon which such rules become effective all money orders shall be legally payable at any money order post office, although drawn on a specified office: and as compensation for the extra labor involved in paying a money order at an office other than that on which the order is drawn the postmaster general is authorized to exact a fee of the same amount as that charged for the issue of the order.

An original domestic money order is to be paid at its full face value if presented at the office at which drawn or at the office of issue at any time within the period of its validity, which is one year from the last day of the month in which issued.

A money order issued in Hawaii or Puerto Rico, drawn on an office therein located may be paid for its face value less the prescribed fee at a money order office other than that of issue or that designated for payment in the same territory in which issued if presented for payment before the 30th day following the date of issue.

Two Men Killed As Auto Crashes

(International News Service)

POTTSVILLE, Pa., July 20—Two men were killed Thursday and a third injured when their automobile failed to round a sharp curve and crashed into a telegraph pole at Schuylkill Haven.

The dead were Delbert Clem and John Dolan, both of Schuylkill Haven.

John Brown, who was riding with them, was believed not seriously injured. He was rushed to the hospital.

Dolan was dead when reached by witnesses and Clem died shortly after he was admitted to the hospital.

Crippled Slayer Commits Suicide

Find Young Man Dead In Cell, Was Sentenced To Prison For Life

(International News Service)

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., July 20.—Grimly determined to "beat a living death in the pen," Arthur J. Wahl, 21-year-old cripple, hanged himself in the Broome county jail shortly before he was to have started for Attica State prison to start serving a 20-year to life sentence for murder.

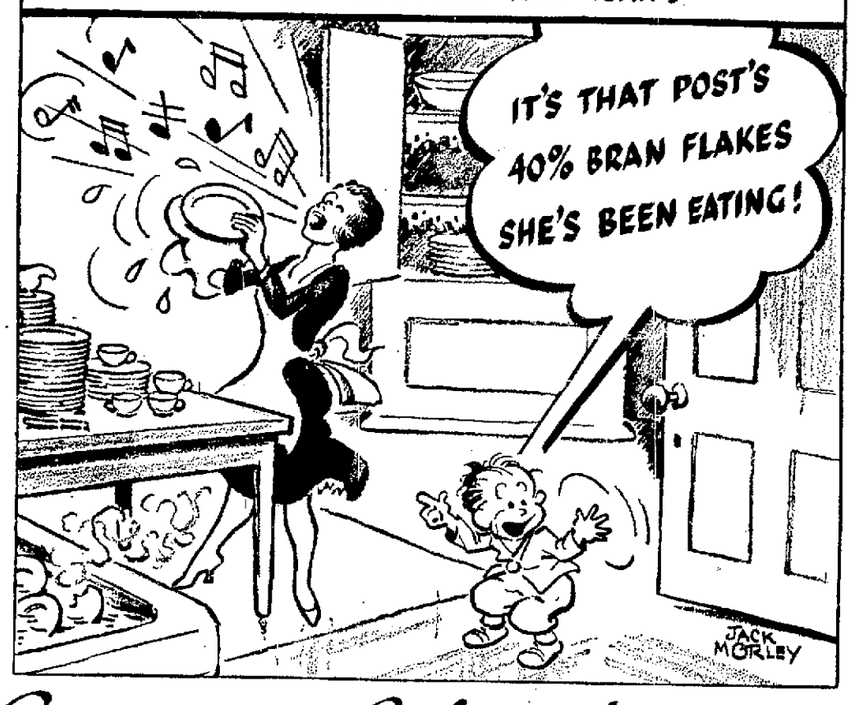

Wahl was convicted two days ago of the slaying of Clifford H. Clark in a robbery at Endicott, N. Y.

As he was taken to a cell following imposition of sentence, Wahl told guards he would "beat a living death" which his long sentence apparently foreshadowed for him.

A turnkey approached his cell to order him to prepare for the trip to the State prison.

In a corner of the cell Wahl's lifeless form hung suspended from a pipe by strips torn from his shirt and fashioned into a crude noose.

IT'S THE FIRST TIME BIG SISTER HAS DONE A LICK OF WORK, ...SINCE SHE GRADUATED LAST YEAR!

Come, come, Johnny!

IT'S hard to believe that this big change in sister is entirely due to Post's 40% Bran Flakes!

However, we'd like to say this much, quite seriously, to everyone: If you're feeling kind of "slow on the up-grade" and generally below par, it may be that you have a sluggish intestine . . . due to lack of bulk in the diet.

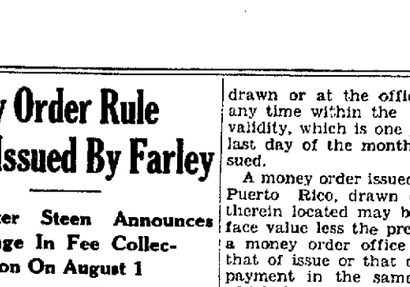

So why don't you eat Post's 40% Bran Flakes every morning? It contains bran to supply that bulk you need, to help keep food wastes moving along the intestinal tract . . . and to promote regular elimination. It also contains other parts of wheat, to supply that appetizing flavor. You'll love it!

Forest Fires In State Have Done $105,000 Damage

Some Three Thousand Fires Have Burned Over 165,000 Acres Of Land

CCC BOYS HAVE RENDERED SERVICE

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, July 20.—Thus far this year about 3,000 forest fires have occurred throughout the state, burning over 165,000 acres at a cost of the commonwealth of $105,000, according to H. B. Rowland, assistant director of bureau of forests protection of the state department of forests and waters.

Commenting on this loss, Rowland said:

"This is not the highest spring record by any means, but is considerably more severe than the average spring season which for the last 10 years, has been 2,043 fires burning 93,088 acreas at a cost of extinction of $88,123.

"The average acreage was 6 acres per fire as against 45 for the past 10 seasons. The number of fires has been exceeded only in the spring of 1930 during the past decade, and the area burned exceeded in that period only by the spring of 1926. In the decade previous to the last the number of fires never exceeded that of this year, but the area burned was exceeded 8 out of the 10 years and was doubled on three occasions."

An unusual feature of forest fires this year was the high winds of May 7 on which date about half the acreage thus far reported was burned, Rowland said.

The bureau director said the boys of the C. C. C. were a valuable aid in fighting forest fires. He added:

"To the credit of the C. C. C. and somewhat to the contrary of some preconceived notions that greenhorns and non-woodsmen are a menace when put into the woods, practically no fires were attributed to C. C. C. activities or the carelessness of the men in the camps despite the fact that some 20,000 of these were suddenly housed in our forest lands both for work and recreation."

Elijah Hears God's Voice

"Brass Tacks" On The Sunday School Lesson

The Golden Text

I Samuel 3:9—"Speak, Lord; for thy servant heareth."

By DR. ALVIN E. BELL

(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for July 22 is I Kings, 19:9-21, the Golden Text being I Samuel, 3:9, "Speak, Lord; for thy servant heareth".)

Periods of depression come into the lives of individuals as they come in the life of the world. They often follow closely upon the heels of great successes and enshroud the whole life in gloom.

From the mountain peak of high enthusiasm in his conflict with the 850 false prophets on Mt. Carmel, Elijah slumped speedily into the valley of despondency as he fled from the wrath of the wicked Queen Jezebel and hid himself under the juniper bush, begging God to take his life. Here was a prophet down in the dumps! If we inquire the secret of his being here, we find it in his centering his thought too much upon himself and his opponents and not enough on God: "And he said, I have been very jealous for the Lord, the God of hosts; for the children of Israel have forsaken thy covenant, thrown down thine altars, and slain thy prophets with the sword; and I, even I only, am left; and they seek my life to take it away." Self-pity is a dangerous and desolating attitude for anyone to assume. Our sense of perspective is always wretchedly poor when we are down in the dumps. Elijah saw his enemies enlarged and this enlorgement shut out his vision of God. He saw himself enlarged and this shut out his vision of 7,000 others as loyal to Jehovah as he. Not only is there this wretchedly inaccurate perspective down in the dumps, but everything is seen through blue glasses, and we get a clear view of nothing about us or above us. Down in the dumps is no place for a Christian, and so God says, "What doest thou here, Elijah?"

The Cure For The Dumps

God's cure for the dumps in Elijah's case was to give him a new vision of God and of the work God still had for Elijah to do, "And he said, Go forth, and stand upon the mount before the Lord. And, behold, the Lord passed by, and a great and strong wind rent the mountains, and brake in pieces the rocks before the Lord; but the Lord was not in the earthquake: and after the earthquake a fire; but the Lord was not in the fire: and after the fire a still small voice. And it was so when Elijah heard it, that he wrapped his face in his mantle, and went out, and stood in the entering in of the cave."

This vision of God was his method of teaching the prophet that God's chosen method with men was not that of destructive forces arousing fear as Elijah had invoked them on Carmel, but rather the gentler and winsome methods of love and grace. Elijah was expecting too much from radical remedies. God's method is seen best in Jesus, of whom it was prophesied, "He shall not strive, nor cry aloud; neither shall any one hear his voice in the streets. A bruised reed shall he not break, and smoking flax shall he not quench, till he send forth judgment into victory."

Having lifted the prophet from the dumps by this new vision of himself, God gave him a new vision of his life's unfinished task and sent him out to anoint kings and prepare his own successor in the person of Elisha upon whose shoulders he casts his own prophetic mantle.

Money Order Rule Issued By Farley

Postmaster Steen Announces Change In Fee Collection On August 1

Postmaster Richard A. Steen has been notified, through the Postal Bulletin that Postmaster General James A. Farley has issued an order effective August 1 calling for the collection of fees for payment of money orders at offices other than those on which they are drawn.

The order reads in part:

"Under such rules and regulations as the postmaster general shall prescribe postal money orders may be issued payable at any money-order office, and on and after the date upon which such rules become effective all money orders shall be legally payable at any money order post office, although drawn on a specified office: and as compensation for the extra labor involved in paying a money order at an office other than that on which the order is drawn the postmaster general is authorized to exact a fee of the same amount as that charged for the issue of the order.

An original domestic money order is to be paid at its full face value if presented at the office at which drawn or at the office of issue at any time within the period of its validity, which is one year from the last day of the month in which issued.

A money order issued in Hawaii or Puerto Rico, drawn on an office therein located may be paid for its face value less the prescribed fee at a money order office other than that of issue or that designated for payment in the same territory in which issued if presented for payment before the 30th day following the date of issue.

Two Men Killed As Auto Crashes

(International News Service)

POTTSVILLE, Pa., July 20—Two men were killed Thursday and a third injured when their automobile failed to round a sharp curve and crashed into a telegraph pole at Schuylkill Haven.

The dead were Delbert Clem and John Dolan, both of Schuylkill Haven.

John Brown, who was riding with them, was believed not seriously injured. He was rushed to the hospital.

Dolan was dead when reached by witnesses and Clem died shortly after he was admitted to the hospital.

Crippled Slayer Commits Suicide

Find Young Man Dead In Cell, Was Sentenced To Prison For Life

(International News Service)

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., July 20.—Grimly determined to "beat a living death in the pen," Arthur J. Wahl, 21-year-old cripple, hanged himself in the Broome county jail shortly before he was to have started for Attica State prison to start serving a 20-year to life sentence for murder.

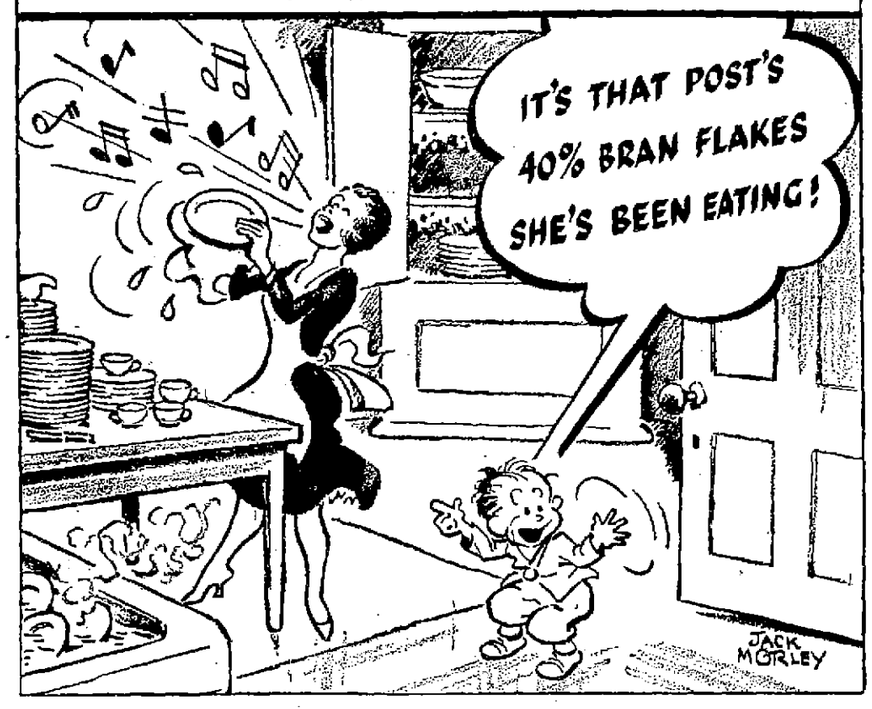

Wahl was convicted two days ago of the slaying of Clifford H. Clark in a robbery at Endicott, N. Y.

As he was taken to a cell following imposition of sentence, Wahl told guards he would "beat a living death" which his long sentence apparently foreshadowed for him.

A turnkey approached his cell to order him to prepare for the trip to the State prison.

In a corner of the cell Wahl's lifeless form hung suspended from a pipe by strips torn from his shirt and fashioned into a crude noose.

IT'S THE FIRST TIME BIG SISTER HAS DONE A LICK OF WORK, ...SINCE SHE GRADUATED LAST YEAR!

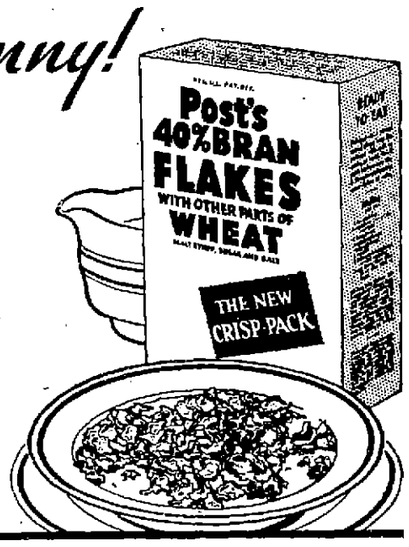

Come, come, Johnny!

IT'S hard to believe that this big change in sister is entirely due to Post's 40% Bran Flakes!

However, we'd like to say this much, quite seriously, to everyone: If you're feeling kind of "slow on the up-grade" and generally below par, it may be that you have a sluggish intestine . . . due to lack of bulk in the diet.

So why don't you eat Post's 40% Bran Flakes every morning? It contains bran to supply that bulk you need, to help keep food wastes moving along the intestinal tract . . . and to promote regular elimination. It also contains other parts of wheat, to supply that appetizing flavor. You'll love it!

The order reads in part:

"Under such rules and regulations as the postmaster general shall prescribe postal money orders may be issued payable at any money-order office, and on and after the date upon which such rules become effective all money orders shall be legally payable at any money order post office, although drawn on a specified office: and as compensation for the extra labor involved in paying a money order at an office other than that on which the order is drawn the postmaster general is authorized to exact a fee of the same amount as that charged for the issue of the order.

An original domestic money order is to be paid at its full face value if presented at the office at which drawn or at the office of issue at any time within the period of its validity, which is one year from the last day of the month in which issued.

A money order issued in Hawaii or Puerto Rico, drawn on an office therein located may be paid for its face value less the prescribed fee at a money order office other than that of issue or that designated for payment in the same territory in which issued if presented for payment before the 30th day following the date of issue.

Two Men Killed As Auto Crashes

(International News Service)

POTTSVILLE, Pa., July 20—Two men were killed Thursday and a third injured when their automobile failed to round a sharp curve and crashed into a telegraph pole at Schuylkill Haven.

The dead were Delbert Clem and John Dolan, both of Schuylkill Haven.

John Brown, who was riding with them, was believed not seriously injured. He was rushed to the hospital.

Dolan was dead when reached by witnesses and Clem died shortly after he was admitted to the hospital.

Crippled Slayer Commits Suicide

Find Young Man Dead In Cell, Was Sentenced To Prison For Life

(International News Service)

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., July 20.—Grimly determined to "beat a living death in the pen," Arthur J. Wahl, 21-year-old cripple, hanged himself in the Broome county jail shortly before he was to have started for Attica State prison to start serving a 20-year to life sentence for murder.

Wahl was convicted two days ago of the slaying of Clifford H. Clark in a robbery at Endicott, N. Y.

As he was taken to a cell following imposition of sentence, Wahl told guards he would "beat a living death" which his long sentence apparently foreshadowed for him.

A turnkey approached his cell to order him to prepare for the trip to the State prison.

In a corner of the cell Wahl's lifeless form hung suspended from a pipe by strips torn from his shirt and fashioned into a crude noose.

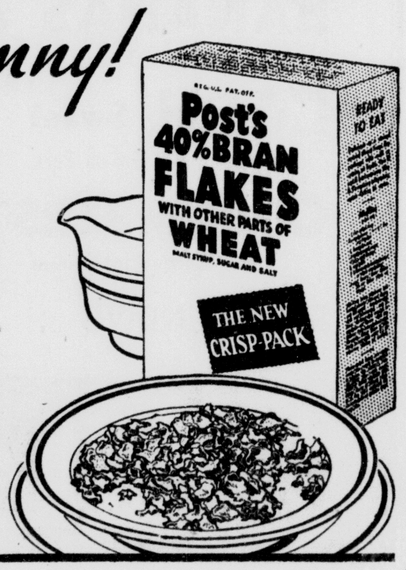

Come, come, Johnny!

IT'S hard to believe that this big change in sister is entirely due to Post's 40% Bran Flakes!

However, we'd like to say this much, quite seriously, to everyone: If you're feeling kind of "slow on the up-grade" and generally below par, it may be that you have a sluggish intestine . . . due to lack of bulk in the diet.

So why don't you eat Post's 40% Bran Flakes every morning? It contains bran to supply that bulk you need, to help keep food wastes moving along the intestinal tract . . . and to promote regular elimination. It also contains other parts of wheat, to supply that appetizing flavor. You'll love it!

Trouble Looms For Fairbanks

New Accusations Against Former Famous American Film Star

LORD ASHLEY HAS NEW COMPLAINT

(International News Service)

LONDON, July 20.—New troubles loomed ahead today for Douglas Fairbanks, the vibrant American film star, and Lady Ashley, whose husband is suing for divorce, naming Fairbanks as correspondent.

The additional grief that lurks in the offing, it was learned Thursday, concern new charges, other than the misconduct alleged in the original divorce bill, based on the continued association of Lady Ashley and Fairbanks since the divorce petition was filed last February. Lord Ashley, it was understood, has instructed his solicitors to file a supplementary petition covering part of the period since the suit was instituted.

New Accusations

Lord Ashley's solicitors refused to confirm or deny the report they admitted they they still were "investigating".

"It is premature to state additional charges have been filed," one of the solicitors said, "but as in all cases of this nature the solicitors must examine all information coming into their hands."

For some time Fairbanks has maintained an elaborate country estate at North Mimms, near Elstree, where he lived while engaged in making the film "The Private Life of Don Juan". It was understood that Lord Ashley's new charges will deal with alleged associations between Lady Ashley and the film star during the time the film was being made.

Day Camp Plans About Complete

Daytime Camp To Be Conducted For Girl Scouts August 6 To 11, At Cascade Park

Girl Scout "day camp" plans have progressed to the place where they about stand complete, according to announcement today by the day camp committee. The five big days of camping will take place at Cascade Park, August 6 to 11; the purpose is to bring all Girl Scouts the activities and instruction they would have had if they had attended camp at Kennedy's Mills this year.

A fine group of counselors (eighteen in number) will be in attendance for the five days of camp, the majority of whom are leaders of scout troops in New Castle and have had special leaders' training in various training camps this summer.

There will be a greater variety of scout activities offered to the girls this year than last. These activities will include map making, nature, handcraft, signalling and campcraft. The swimming will be a big feature for the girls and will be enjoyed each morning in the Cascade Park pool.

Girl Scouts will bring their noonday luncheon; milk will be served to them.

Plans have been made so that the girls will have all the joy of real camp life. There will be a camp nurse in attendance every day and a swimming instructor will supervise the water sports. Each morning of camp will be spent in scout work and each afternoon will be spent in having scout fun such as treasure hunts, camp fires, new songs, games and a real good time for all in attendance.

All girls who are planning to attend should register before July 21. They should get in touch with their captains who will give them registration cards. All scout captains should turn in all registration cards not later than July 21 to Mrs. Sidney Smith, camp director.

All girls who are registered scouts and who are not attending regular camp at Camp Phillips may attend day camp.

National Farm Outlook

By ARTHUR H. JENKINS
Editor, The Farm Journal
Written for Central Press

The annual meeting of the Institute of Co-Operation at Madison, Wis., reminds us of what a good many people have doubtless forgotten—that the farm cooperative selling organizations are still going strong.

With the roar and confusion of the last 16 months over plow-up campaigns, little-pig massacres, sign-up drives, processing taxes, floor taxes, benefit and rental payments, volume control taxes, marketing agreements and license violations, the poor co-ops have been in danger of complete swamping and oblivion.

They are, however, very much alive, as the Wisconsin meeting shows. Such seasoned organizations as the Dairymen's league in New York and the Citrus exchange in California, have gone their way in spite of difficult times with prices, and more or less outside interference.

Even the new crop of co-operatives that developed under the federal farm board have done fairly well, particularly the wheat, cotton and livestock co-ops. The last-named, particularly, have kept on with their methodical marketing of hogs and cattle, and if I recall correctly, handled more animals last year than ever before.

That shows, I think, that there is a certain percentage of farmers who are co-operative minded—those who believe that the collective selling of their products will get them, in the long run, the most money.

These men are mentally convinced of the soundness of the method, and will stick to it even in the face of discouragement. In New York, for example, most members of the Dairymen's league are perfectly well aware that their actual net price on milk is lower than that received by many non-members, and probably always will be.

Why then do they stick to the league? It is because they believe that without this organization the city dealer and consumer would completely dominate the business, and they would go back to the old days of meekly accepting whatever pittance the buyers were willing to hand over.

In other words, the farm co-operator compares his prices, not with the higher prices outsiders often get, but with the lower prices everybody would get if there were no powerful bargaining organization in the field.

One problem the co-operatives have not been able to solve—overproduction of the great staples. When the co-operatives were at their best under the federal farm board was precisely the time when the vast surpluses of wheat, cotton and tobacco were built up.

Indeed, it is likely that the existence of the co-operatives had something to do with it, since many outsiders increased their plantings on the theory that the co-ops would succeed in raising prices and the outsiders would get the benefit.

But other factors entered into this acreage increase, and it would be unfair to blame the co-operatives for more than a small share.

Volume control, however, remains the Gordian knot of farm economics. The AAA has attempted to cut it with the sword of the processing tax and acreage reduction. Even AAA, however, does not think this a permanent system, and what will have taken its place five years from now is anybody's guess.

The old and seasoned co-operatives, however, will still be doing business. They probably will have no more control over the volume their members produce than they have now. But they will be prepared to get for their members the highest prices that can be obtained, under existing supply-and-demand conditions.

If in the meantime the government has made progress in some of its plans for throwing unproductive land out of cultivation and keeping it out, the surplus problem will be eased by just so much.

Girls, Too, Like 'Bargain Swims'

Girls, as well as boys, are keeping swimming instructors at the Y. M. C. A. rushed these days—they go, in no small manner, for the "nickel swims" which is making the association's pool popular as the days pass.

Forty girls took dips yesterday. Their turn comes every Wednesday. Boys occupy the pool the rest of the time.

You'll Save on a Ford V-8 from the day you buy it

LOW FIRST COST

$505 and up, F. O. B. Detroit. Ford V-8 prices are at their 1934 low.

LOW UPKEEP COST

The new Ford V-8 is the most economical car to run that Ford has ever built.

HIGH TURN-IN VALUE

Year after year the record shows that Ford cars retain an unusually great percentage of their original value.

THE Ford V-8 would be a great buy even at a much higher price. It's the only V-8 selling for less than $2500. Ford alone has been able to put a V-8 engine in a low price car.

The first cost of a Ford V-8 is decidedly low. But that saving is only the beginning . . .

Ford V-8 valves never need grinding. Carbon removal is virtually eliminated. The new Ford V-8 consumes less gasoline and oil than last year's Ford which made such a great record for economy. And Ford V-8 parts cost from 23 to 54% less than parts for any other car.

In addition, on that distant day your Ford V-8 earns its honorable retirement, you'll find that it has a high trade-in value. The record of years proves it.

The annual meeting of the Institute of Co-Operation at Madison, Wis., reminds us of what a good many people have doubtless forgotten—that the farm cooperative selling organizations are still going strong.

With the roar and confusion of the last 16 months over plow-up campaigns, little-pig massacres, sign-up drives, processing taxes, floor taxes, benefit and rental payments, volume control taxes, marketing agreements and license violations, the poor co-ops have been in danger of complete swamping and oblivion.

They are, however, very much alive, as the Wisconsin meeting shows. Such seasoned organizations as the Dairymen's league in New York and the Citrus exchange in California, have gone their way in spite of difficult times with prices, and more or less outside interference.

Even the new crop of co-operatives that developed under the federal farm board have done fairly well, particularly the wheat, cotton and livestock co-ops. The last-named, particularly, have kept on with their methodical marketing of hogs and cattle, and if I recall correctly, handled more animals last year than ever before.

That shows, I think, that there is a certain percentage of farmers who are co-operative minded—those who believe that the collective selling of their products will get them, in the long run, the most money.

These men are mentally convinced of the soundness of the method, and will stick to it even in the face of discouragement. In New York, for example, most members of the Dairymen's league are perfectly well aware that their actual net price on milk is lower than that received by many non-members, and probably always will be.

Why then do they stick to the league? It is because they believe that without this organization the city dealer and consumer would completely dominate the business, and they would go back to the old days of meekly accepting whatever pittance the buyers were willing to hand over.

In other words, the farm co-operator compares his prices, not with the higher prices outsiders often get, but with the lower prices everybody would get if there were no powerful bargaining organization in the field.

One problem the co-operatives have not been able to solve—overproduction of the great staples. When the co-operatives were at their best under the federal farm board was precisely the time when the vast surpluses of wheat, cotton and tobacco were built up.

Indeed, it is likely that the existence of the co-operatives had something to do with it, since many outsiders increased their plantings on the theory that the co-ops would succeed in raising prices and the outsiders would get the benefit.

But other factors entered into this acreage increase, and it would be unfair to blame the co-operatives for more than a small share.

Volume control, however, remains the Gordian knot of farm economics. The AAA has attempted to cut it with the sword of the processing tax and acreage reduction. Even AAA, however, does not think this a permanent system, and what will have taken its place five years from now is anybody's guess.

The old and seasoned co-operatives, however, will still be doing business. They probably will have no more control over the volume their members produce than they have now. But they will be prepared to get for their members the highest prices that can be obtained, under existing supply-and-demand conditions.

If in the meantime the government has made progress in some of its plans for throwing unproductive land out of cultivation and keeping it out, the surplus problem will be eased by just so much.

Girls, Too, Like 'Bargain Swims'

Girls, as well as boys, are keeping swimming instructors at the Y. M. C. A. rushed these days—they go, in no small manner, for the "nickel swims" which is making the association's pool popular as the days pass.

Forty girls took dips yesterday. Their turn comes every Wednesday.

Boys occupy the pool the rest of the time.

Discontinuance Of Railroad Line To Be Protested Here

Organized Protest To Be Registered Against Proposed Plan Of B. & O.

ELLWOOD CITY, July 20.—Machinery for registration of an organized and vigorous protest against the plan of the B. and O. Railroad here to discontinue the use of the line here, is already in motion at Ellwood City.

A committee headed by Burgess Judd C. Turner is rapidly organizing a strong campaign against the above plan. The protest will come from every industrial and influential person in the city.

The plan of the company is to discontinue the use of one of its lines and use the P. and L. E. tracks from West Pittsburgh to McKeesport which would cut the running time about 40 minutes. This plan would take away much needed passenger and freight service.

To Attend Young Peoples Conference

ELLWOOD CITY, July 20.—Several delegates of the local Slippery Rock Presbyterian will attend the Young People's Bible conference at Allegheny College, Meadville, Pa., from July 23 to 30. Seventy of these conferences will be held simultaneously over the United States.

Those to attend the conference are the Misses Sara Steele, Frances Worrel, Gladys Houk, Russ Myers, Donald Wilson, Belle McMunn, and Richard Wilson and Allan Berger.

Rotary Hears Talk By College Dean

Club Opposes Move Of B. And O. To Change Use Of Main Line Route

ELLWOOD CITY, July 20.—Members of the Ellwood City Rotary club enjoyed an interesting talk at their weekly meeting in the First Presbyterian church last night.

The speaker was Dr. J. A. Calderwood, dean of men at Grove City college. His topic was "The Crossroads of the World". This was mostly a talk on Constantinople and how that city had withstood the Mohammedan horde, when it was making a bid to conquer the world. The speaker also talked on the World war and the changes brought about by it.

The club at this time went on record as opposing the move of the B. & O. railroad to change operations of trains so that the main line through Ellwood City would be little used. The B. & O. is planning use of P. & L. E. lines from New Castle Junction to Pittsburgh.

Marriage Of Local Girl Is Revealed

ELLWOOD CITY, July 20.—The marriage of Miss Dorothy Phenice, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Phenice of near Ellwood City to Therman O. Bookamer of Wampum was revealed today.

The marriage was solemnized last Saturday by the Rev. Ellenberger of the Christian Alliance at the parsonage at Castlewood.

The bride is a graduate of the local high school and Mr. Bookamer is employed by the National Tube Company of this city.

ELLWOOD PERSONALS

T. O. B. Club Enjoys Swim And Picnic

ELLWOOD CITY, July 20—Members of the T. O. B. Club journeyed out to Ewing park last evening where they enjoyed a delicious picnic dinner. Covers were laid for ten.

After the dinner all came to the Shelby Club house to swim in the indoor pool. Later they adjourned to the home of Mrs. Paul Shaffer on Crescent avenue where two tables of bridge were in play. Mrs. George Fosnought and Mrs. Bruce Myers won the high score awards.

A luncheon was served by the hostess with the assistance of Mrs. Myers. The club plans to hold a ham fry next Thursday at Cascade Park.

Breakfast Held By Ladies Aid

ELLWOOD CITY, July 20. — Ladies Aid Society of the M. E. church enjoyed a fine breakfast Thursday morning on the lawn at the home of Mrs. S. Y. Douds on Spring avenue. An informal social period with visiting and chat followed. Twenty-two were present at the time.

The society plans to hold a tureen dinner in two weeks.

Credit Exchange To Meet At Park

Will Have Dinner And Meeting In Park Dining Room, August 2

Credit Exchange members will have their next meeting of the membership at Cascade Park Thursday evening, Aug. 2.

Dinner will be served in the dining room at the park at six o'clock, which will be followed by a program. T. W. McCullough, secretary of the Retail Food and Grocery Distributors Code Authority in district 5, which comprises Lawrence and Beaver counties, will be the speaker.

A special invitation has been issued to the ladies to attend this meeting, as dancing will conclude the program at the park pavilion.

Discharges Bomb In Seventh Ward

Man Imbibes Freely And Prematurely Discharges Noise Maker

Bennie Nocera imbibed too freely last night and some time early this morning he is alleged to set off a celebration bomb in the Seventh ward. The noise awakened persons in South Wabash avenue and he was taken into custody by city police.

Today Mayor Mayne explained to Nocera that discharge of fireworks here without a permit could be punished by a $100.00 fine. He promised Nocera that if such an act occurred again he would be fined $200.00, after which he was allowed to go free.

Louis Dando, rear 142 Long avenue, faced the mayor also. He was arrested while intoxicated early this morning. He was questioned as to where he obtained his liquor as he is under age. Dando told where he had been. He was discharged.

Two Small Fires Found Thursday

City firemen answered two alarms Thursday afternoon for small fires in different sections of the city.

At 3:40 they were summoned to 1407 Delaware avenue, where a short in the wiring had set fire to the footboards of the auto of Charles F. Streib. The blaze was extinguished with but small damage to the car.

At 5:40 they were summoned to the home of Walter Kirkwood of 619 Long avenue, where some mattresses had been afire, but had been extinguished by members of the family. They asked firemen to come and see that the fire was entirely out.

The United States furnishes nearly one-half of the world trade in tobacco.

Discontinuance Of Railroad Line To Be Protested Here

Organized Protest To Be Registered Against Proposed Plan Of B. & O.

ELLWOOD CITY, July 20.—Machinery for registration of an organized and vigorous protest against the plan of the B. and O. Railroad here to discontinue the use of the line here, is already in motion at Ellwood City.

A committee headed by Burgess Judd C. Turner is rapidly organizing a strong campaign against the above plan. The protest will come from every industrial and influential person in the city.

The plan of the company is to discontinue the use of one of its lines and use the P. and L. E. tracks from West Pittsburgh to McKeesport which would cut the running time about 40 minutes. This plan would take away much needed passenger and freight service.

To Attend Young Peoples Conference

ELLWOOD CITY, July 20.—Several delegates of the local Slippery Rock Presbyterian will attend the Young People's Bible conference at Allegheny College, Meadville, Pa., from July 23 to 30. Seventy of these conferences will be held simultaneously over the United States.

Rotary Hears Talk By College Dean

Club Opposes Move Of B. And O. To Change Use Of Main Line Route

ELLWOOD CITY, July 20.—Members of the Ellwood City Rotary club enjoyed an interesting talk at their weekly meeting in the First Presbyterian church last night.

The speaker was Dr. J. A. Calderwood, dean of men at Grove City college. His topic was "The Crossroads of the World". This was mostly a talk on Constantinople and how that city had withstood the Mohammedan horde, when it was making a bid to conquer the world. The speaker also talked on the World war and the changes brought about by it.

The club at this time went on record as opposing the move of the B. & O. railroad to change operations of trains so that the main line through Ellwood City would be little used. The B. & O. is planning use of P. & L. E. lines from New Castle Junction to Pittsburgh.

Discharges Bomb In Seventh Ward

Man Imbibes Freely And Prematurely Discharges Noise Maker

Bennie Nocera imbibed too freely last night and some time early this morning he is alleged to set off a celebration bomb in the Seventh ward. The noise awakened persons in South Wabash avenue and he was taken into custody by city police.

Today Mayor Mayne explained to Nocera that discharge of fireworks here without a permit could be punished by a $100.00 fine. He promised Nocera that if such an act occurred again he would be fined $200.00, after which he was allowed to go free.

Louis Dando, rear 142 Long avenue, faced the mayor also. He was arrested while intoxicated early this morning. He was questioned as to where he obtained his liquor as he is under age. Dando told where he had been. He was discharged.

Two Small Fires Found Thursday

City firemen answered two alarms Thursday afternoon for small fires in different sections of the city.

At 3:40 they were summoned to 1407 Delaware avenue, where a short in the wiring had set fire to the footboards of the auto of Charles F. Streib. The blaze was extinguished with but small damage to the car.

At 5:40 they were summoned to the home of Walter Kirkwood of 619 Long avenue, where some mattresses had been afire, but had been extinguished by members of the family. They asked firemen to come and see that the fire was entirely out.

The United States furnishes nearly one-half of the world trade in tobacco.

NEW CASTLE

Act Of Mercy Is Performed By U.S. Liner Manhattan

Doctor From Big Liner Attends Sick Chief Officer On Italian Boat

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, July 20.—Answering a call for help last night from the Italian freighter, Alberta, the United States liner Manhattan today steamed to the place where the freighter lay at anchor and while its 1,000 passengers bound for Europe lined the rails, performed an act of mercy.

Chief officer Pertot, or the freighter had become sick last night with a high fever and intestinal obstruction.

The giant liner sided up to the smaller ship today and Dr. Matthews was rowed through large swells to the freighter. He ordered Pertot transferred to the sick bay of the Manhattan, where, possibly an operation will be performed.

After the sick man was removed, the freighter continued to Italian ports, and the Manhattan resumed its voyage to England.

May Fingerprint Every Person In Entire Country

By ROBERT S. THORNBURGH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 20.—Eventual fingerprinting of all persons in the United States to afford a perfect identification system was visualized today by department of justice officials.

In discussing the department's identification bureau, which contains more than 4,400,000 fingerprints, mostly of law violators, Attorney General Cummings declared the system "is bound to grow."

Thousands of persons disappear annually, vanishing into a port of missing men and women, to a large extent because of the inability to identify those who have lost their memory—either voluntarily or involuntarily—as victims of accidents, or of disease.

While admitting the difficulty of such an undertaking and that the public must be educated to such a project, officials said it is not beyond the realm of possibility.

Such a record would form an invaluable aid to law enforcement officers as well as in case where no criminal activities are involved.

The investigation unit of the justice department has the largest file of fingerprints in the world. The war and navy departments have a tremendous file of fingerprints of past and present members of the military establishment.

Discussing the department's identification unit Cummings said that criminals were classified as to crimes committed and technique of operation. Several thousand records of kidnapers, bank robbers, extortionists and other offenders against the federal law have been segregated.

By studying the methods and technique employed in any particular crime and comparing them with the department file of criminals employing similar methods, it has been possible, on a number of occasions, to identify and arrest the perpetrator.

Rush Work On RWD Projects

Over 500 At Work In Effort To Conclude Projects This Month

Approximately 550 men are at work this week in the RWD projects according to Matthew Gunton, deputy administrator. An attempt is being made to finish as many projects as are possible by the end of the month when the RWD will be closed out. During August it is thought there will be no works division projects under way at all, with a new program scheduled for September.

Work is being rushed on Gunton Park to complete it as much as possible and to get the Elizabeth street entrance finished by the end of this month. Work is also going on at Cunningham and Cascade Parks, the Croton wall and fence and the quarry.

It will be impossible to finish the Croton stone fence but it is thought that this will be among the first projects opened in September.

BREEDING PHEASANTS NEAR SOLUTION

(International News Service)

AMHERST, Mass., July 20.—One of Nature's carefully guarded secrets—the breeding of partridge—is near solution by ornithologists at the Massachusetts State College.

Years of patient research, coupled with persistent experiments, it was announced, are near the end and within a short time it is believed that breeding of the ruffled grouse of partridge in captivity, will be carried on as successfully as is now being done with pheasants and other wild game birds.

Final experiments are being conducted on clusters of eggs collected from abandoned nests by game wardens throughout the state.

Sandalwood, once abundant in the Hawaiian Islands, has been almost entirely cut away.

Bobbie Connor Out Of Danger

Doctors Claim New York State Boy Is On Road To Recovery In Hospital

SUFFERED FROM THIRST-HUNGER

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, July 20.—Little Bobbie Connor is entirely out of danger.

That was the doctor's report today at the White Plains hospital, where he is under treatment for the effects of starvation, thirst and exposure, suffered during the five days he wandered, lost, in the woods in the rear of his Hartsdale Manor home.

The 21-months-old child probably will return home within ten days—there to be given a party by friends and neighbors of the Connor family—if no unforeseen complications arise.

Beer Signs Banner, Bars Advertise Suds

Some Ingenious Ways Are Devised To Get Past The Law

(International News Service)

PORTLAND, Ore.—There is more than one method of spelling forbidden spirituous words, tavern keepers in Oregon and Washington are demonstrating.

The reformed spelling is the result of the latest ruling of the several state liquor control boards prohibiting beer dispensaries from erecting signs on the outside of their establishments bearing the words "beer, wine, bar, barroom, saloon, or words of similar import." The rule has the force of law in both states and is being enforced by police and state officers.

The the word "Beer" no longer flashes in glittering globes or glowing neon, tavern keepers coyly hint that "B——r" may be had within.

Another ingenious dispenser meticulously refrained from mentioning the naughty word but managed to convey the idea by displaying a sign with foaming steins on each end and the word "Suds" in between.

CAPTAIN RETIRES AFTER 57 YEARS AT SEA

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, July 20.—Captain Caeser A. Lainer, veteran seafaring man, has forsaken the "lonely sea and the sky" for the rest of his days, after 57 years of sailing totaling in distance 2,500,000 miles.

The romantic master of many a ship—both sailing and steam-propelled—has retired after years on the bounding main, at the age of 70. The captain recently brought the S. S. Habira his last ship into port here, packed his sea-bag and strode down the gangplank for the last time. He will reside with his family in Yeadon, Pa.

Prominent P. H. C. Leader Is Dead

Word has been received by officers of the Protected Home Circle here, telling of the death of Dr. R. S. Heilman, medical director of the P. H. C., which occurred last night at his home in Sharon.

Funeral services will take place Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Dr. Heilman was well known in local circles through visits to the New Castle circle.

Ah, nothing comes to us too soon but sorrow.—Zailey.

Swimming Holes Closed, Youths Of Denver Rebel

Many Drownings Have Resulted Because Of Steep Banks

(International News Service)

DENVER. —Denver's youngsters are a disagreeable lot this summer. First the city's three municipal bathing beaches were closed, perhaps not to be reopened for the summer because of contamination.

Boys of school age then sought out the old swimming hole type of water filled gravel pits for their bathing. But an unprecedented number of drownings resulted in an official ban on swimming in gravel pits.

Thus, with their chief activity barred to them small boys over the city swept through the residential districts in a wave of vandalism.

Meanwhile the city parks department is endeavoring to make the water of the municipal beaches available for swimming by purification with chemicals. Initial efforts however have been unsuccessful.

In an effort to provide the school youth of the city with their favorite sport, the city attorney now is seeking legal means of forcing owners of sand pits to slope banks of the pits. Officials declare the drownings in the sand pits were due to the fact that the pits have banks that drop perpendicularly from the water's edge.

Biddle's Own Message Will Be Read Here

State Relief Head Cannot Attend Dr. Bennett's Testimonial Monday

Pennsylvania's general director of relief activities, Erie H. Biddle, will be kept in Harrisburg by a meeting of the State Emergency Relief board next Monday, but he plans to send a personal message to be read at the testimonial luncheon for Dr. G. S. Bennett, county relief chairman, at The Castleton.

That word came direct from Mr. Biddle to a committee handling the plans for the luncheon today.

The personal message will come to Executive Director E. H. Robinson of the Lawrence county board, who has been asked to read it, as a representative of the state.

New Castle's three service clubs, Rotary, Kiwanis and the Lions, are sponsoring the community tribute for Dr. Bennett. The general public, however, may attend it.

President Robert A. Eckles of the Rotary club will be toastmaster.

Trouble Looms For Fairbanks

New Accusations Against Former Famous American Film Star

LORD ASHLEY HAS NEW COMPLAINT

(International News Service)

LONDON, July 20.—New troubles loomed ahead today for Douglas Fairbanks, the vibrant American film star, and Lady Ashley, whose husband is suing for divorce, naming Fairbanks as correspondent.

The additional grief that lurks in the offing, it was learned Thursday, concern new charges, other than the misconduct alleged in the original divorce bill, based on the continued association of Lady Ashley and Fairbanks since the divorce petition was filed last February. Lord Ashley, it was understood, has instructed his solicitors to file a supplementary petition covering part of the period since the suit was instituted.

New Accusations

Lord Ashley's solicitors refused to confirm or deny the report they admitted they they still were "investigating".

"It is premature to state additional charges have been filed," one of the solicitors said, "but as in all cases of this nature the solicitors must examine all information coming into their hands."

For some time Fairbanks has maintained an elaborate country estate at North Mimms, near Elstree, where he lived while engaged in making the film "The Private Life of Don Juan". It was understood that Lord Ashley's new charges will deal with alleged associations between Lady Ashley and the film star during the time the film was being made.

Day Camp Plans About Complete

Daytime Camp To Be Conducted For Girl Scouts August 6 To 11, At Cascade Park

Girl Scout "day camp" plans have progressed to the place where they about stand complete, according to announcement today by the day camp committee. The five big days of camping will take place at Cascade Park, August 6 to 11; the purpose is to bring all Girl Scouts the activities and instruction they would have had if they had attended camp at Kennedy's Mills this year.

A fine group of counselors (eighteen in number) will be in attendance for the five days of camp, the majority of whom are leaders of scout troops in New Castle and have had special leaders' training in various training camps this summer.

There will be a greater variety of scout activities offered to the girls this year than last. These activities will include map making, nature, handcraft, signalling and campcraft. The swimming will be a big feature for the girls and will be enjoyed each morning in the Cascade Park pool.

Girl Scouts will bring their noonday luncheon; milk will be served to them.

Plans have been made so that the girls will have all the joy of real camp life. There will be a camp nurse in attendance every day and a swimming instructor will supervise the water sports. Each morning of camp will be spent in scout work and each afternoon will be spent in having scout fun such as treasure hunts, camp fires, new songs, games and a real good time for all in attendance.

All girls who are planning to attend should register before July 21. They should get in touch with their captains who will give them registration cards. All scout captains should turn in all registration cards not later than July 21 to Mrs. Sidney Smith, camp director.

All girls who are registered scouts and who are not attending regular camp at Camp Phillips may attend day camp.

McNees Is Named Campaign Head By State Republicans

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, July 20— Sterling G. McNees, Harrisburg attorney and campaign manager for Attorney General William A. You'll Save on a Ford V-8 from the day you buy it

LOW FIRST COST
$505 and up, F. O. B. Detroit. Ford V-8 prices are at their 1934 low.
LOW UPKEEP COST
The new Ford V-8 is the most economical car to run that Ford has ever built.
HIGH TURN-IN VALUE
Year after year the record shows that Ford cars retain an unusually great percentage of their original value.
THE Ford V-8 would be a great buy even at a much higher price. It's the only V-8 selling for less than $2500. Ford alone has been able to put a V-8 engine in a low price car.
The first cost of a Ford V-8 is decidedly low. But that saving is only the beginning . . .
Ford V-8 valves never need grinding. Carbon removal is virtually eliminated. The new Ford V-8 consumes less gasoline and oil than last year's Ford which made such a great record for economy. And Ford V-8 parts cost from 23 to 54% less than parts for any other car.
In addition, on that distant day your Ford V-8 earns its honorable retirement, you'll find that it has a high trade-in value. The record of years proves it.

National Farm Outlook

By ARTHUR H. JENKINS
Editor, The Farm Journal
Written for Central Press

The annual meeting of the Institute of Co-Operation at Madison, Wis., reminds us of what a good many people have doubtless forgotten—that the farm cooperative selling organizations are still going strong.

With the roar and confusion of the last 16 months over plow-up campaigns, little-pig massacres, sign-up drives, processing taxes, floor taxes, benefit and rental payments, volume control taxes, marketing agreements and license violations, the poor co-ops have been in danger of complete swamping and oblivion.

They are, however, very much alive, as the Wisconsin meeting shows. Such seasoned organizations as the Dairymen's league in New York and the Citrus exchange in California, have gone their way in spite of difficult times with prices, and more or less outside interference.

Even the new crop of co-operatives that developed under the federal farm board have done fairly well, particularly the wheat, cotton and livestock co-ops. The last-named, particularly, have kept on with their methodical marketing of hogs and cattle, and if I recall correctly, handled more animals last year than ever before.

That shows, I think, that there is a certain percentage of farmers who are co-operative minded—those who believe that the collective selling of their products will get them, in the long run, the most money.

These men are mentally convinced of the soundness of the method, and will stick to it even in the face of discouragement. In New York, for example, most members of the Dairymen's league are perfectly well aware that their actual net price on milk is lower than that received by many non-members, and probably always will be.

Why then do they stick to the league? It is because they believe that without this organization the city dealer and consumer would completely dominate the business, and they would go back to the old days of meekly accepting whatever pittance the buyers were willing to hand over.

In other words, the farm co-operator compares his prices, not with the higher prices outsiders often get, but with the lower prices everybody would get if there were no powerful bargaining organization in the field.

One problem the co-operatives have not been able to solve—overproduction of the great staples. When the co-operatives were at their best under the federal farm board was precisely the time when the vast surpluses of wheat, cotton and tobacco were built up.

Indeed, it is likely that the existence of the co-operatives had something to do with it, since many outsiders increased their plantings on the theory that the co-ops would succeed in raising prices and the outsiders would get the benefit.

But other factors entered into this acreage increase, and it would be unfair to blame the co-operatives for more than a small share.

Volume control, however, remains the Gordian knot of farm economics. The AAA has attempted to cut it with the sword of the processing tax and acreage reduction. Even AAA, however, does not think this a permanent system, and what will have taken its place five years from now is anybody's guess.

The old and seasoned co-operatives, however, will still be doing business. They probably will have no more control over the volume their members produce than they have now. But they will be prepared to get for their members the highest prices that can be obtained, under existing supply-and-demand conditions.

If in the meantime the government has made progress in some of its plans for throwing unproductive land out of cultivation and keeping it out, the surplus problem will be eased by just so much.

Girls, Too, Like 'Bargain Swims'

Girls, as well as boys, are keeping swimming instructors at the Y. M. C. A. rushed these days—they go, in no small manner, for the "nickel swims" which is making the association's pool popular as the days pass.

Forty girls took dips yesterday. Their turn comes every Wednesday. Boys occupy the pool the rest of the time.

Act Of Mercy Is Performed By U.S. Liner Manhattan

Doctor From Big Liner Attends Sick Chief Officer On Italian Boat

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, July 20.—Answering a call for help last night from the Italian freighter, Alberta, the United States liner Manhattan today steamed to the place where the freighter lay at anchor and while its 1,000 passengers bound for Europe lined the rails, performed an act of mercy.

Chief officer Pertot, or the freighter had become sick last night with a high fever and intestinal obstruction.

The giant liner sided up to the smaller ship today and Dr. Matthews was rowed through large swells to the freighter. He ordered Pertot transferred to the sick bay of the Manhattan, where, possibly an operation will be performed.

After the sick man was removed, the freighter continued to Italian ports, and the Manhattan resumed its voyage to England.

May Fingerprint Every Person In Entire Country

By ROBERT S. THORNBURGH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 20.—Eventual fingerprinting of all persons in the United States to afford a perfect identification system was visualized today by department of justice officials.

In discussing the department's identification bureau, which contains more than 4,400,000 fingerprints, mostly of law violators, Attorney General Cummings declared the system "is bound to grow."

Thousands of persons disappear annually, vanishing into a port of missing men and women, to a large extent because of the inability to identify those who have lost their memory—either voluntarily or involuntarily—as victims of accidents, or of disease.

White admitting the difficulty of such an undertaking and that the public must be educated to such a project, officials said it is not beyond the realm of possibility.

Such a record would form an invaluable aid to law enforcement officers as well as in case where no criminal activities are involved.

The investigation unit of the justice department has the largest file of fingerprints in the world. The war and navy departments have a tremendous file of fingerprints of past and present members of the military establishment.

Discussing the department's identification unit Cummings said that criminals were classified as to crimes committed and technique of operation. Several thousand records of kidnapers, bank robbers, extortionists and other offenders against the federal law have been segregated.

By studying the methods and technique employed in any particular crime and comparing them with the department file of criminals employing similar methods, it has been possible, on a number of occasions, to identify and arrest the perpetrator.

Rush Work On RWD Projects

Over 500 At Work In Effort To Conclude Projects This Month

Approximately 550 men are at work this week in the RWD projects according to Matthew Gunton, deputy administrator. An attempt is being made to finish as many projects as are possible by the end of the month when the RWD will be closed out. During August it is thought there will be no works division projects under way at all, with a new program scheduled for September.

Work is being rushed on Gunton Park to complete it as much as possible and to get the Elizabeth street entrance finished by the end of this month. Work is also going on at Cunningham and Cascade Parks, the Croton wall and fence and the quarry.

It will be impossible to finish the Croton stone fence but it is thought that this will be among the first projects opened in September.

BREEDING PHEASANTS NEAR SOLUTION

(International News Service)

AMHERST, Mass., July 20.—One of Nature's carefully guarded secrets—the breeding of partridge—is near solution by ornithologists at the Massachusetts State College.

Years of patient research, coupled with persistent experiments, it was announced, are near the end and within a short time it is believed that breeding of the ruffled grouse of partridge in captivity, will be carried on as successfully as is now being done with pheasants and other wild game birds.

Final experiments are being conducted on clusters of eggs collected from abandoned nests by game wardens throughout the state.

Sandalwood, once abundant in the Hawaiian Islands, has been almost entirely cut away.

Bobbie Connor Out Of Danger

Doctors Claim New York State Boy Is On Road To Recovery In Hospital

SUFFERED FROM THIRST-HUNGER

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, July 20.—Little Bobbie Connor is entirely out of danger.

That was the doctor's report today at the White Plains hospital, where he is under treatment for the effects of starvation, thirst and exposure, suffered during the five days he wandered, lost, in the woods in the rear of his Hartsdale Manor home.

The 21-months-old child probably will return home within ten days—there to be given a party by friends and neighbors of the Connor family—if no unforeseen complications arise.

Beer Signs Banner, Bars Advertise Suds

Some Ingenious Ways Are Devised To Get Past The Law

(International News Service)

PORTLAND, Ore.—There is more than one method of spelling forbidden spirituous words, tavern keepers in Oregon and Washington are demonstrating.

The reformed spelling is the result of the latest ruling of the several state liquor control boards prohibiting beer dispensaries from erecting signs on the outside of their establishments bearing the words "beer, wine, bar, barroom, saloon, or words of similar import." The rule has the force of law in both states and is being enforced by police and state officers.

The the word "Beer" no longer flashes in glittering globes or glowing neon, tavern keepers coyly hint that "B——r" may be had within.

Another ingenious dispenser meticulously refrained from mentioning the naughty word but managed to convey the idea by displaying a sign with foaming steins on each end and the word "Suds" in between.

CAPTAIN RETIRES AFTER 57 YEARS AT SEA

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, July 20.—Captain Caeser A. Laimer, veteran seafaring man, has forsaken the "lonely sea and the sky" for the rest of his days, after 57 years of sailing totaling in distance 2,500,000 miles. The romantic master of many a ship—both sailing and steam-propelled—has retired after years on the bounding main, at the age of 70. The captain recently brought the S. S. Habira his last ship into port here, packed his sea-bag and strode down the gangplank for the last time. He will reside with his family in Yeadon, Pa.

Prominent P. H. C. Leader Is Dead

Word has been received by officers of the Protected Home Circle here, telling of the death of Dr. R. S. Heilman, medical director of the P. H. C., which occurred last night at his home in Sharon.

Funeral services will take place Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Dr. Heilman was well known in local circles through visits to the New Castle circle.

Swimming Holes Closed, Youths Of Denver Rebel

Many Drownings Have Resulted Because Of Steep Banks

(International News Service)

DENVER, —Denver's youngsters are a disagreeable lot this summer. First the city's three municipal bathing beaches were closed, perhaps not to be reopened for the summer because of contamination.

Boys of school age then sought out the old swimming hole type of water filled gravel pits for their bathing. But an unprecedented number of drownings resulted in an official ban on swimming in gravel pits.

Thus, with their chief activity barred to them small boys over the city swept through the residential districts in a wave of vandalism.

Meanwhile the city parks department is endeavoring to make the water of the municipal beaches available for swimming by purification with chemicals. Initial efforts however have been unsuccessful.

In an effort to provide the school youth of the city with their favorite sport, the city attorney now is seeking legtl means of forcing owners of sand pits to slope banks of the pits. Officials declare the drownings in the sand pits were due to the fact that the pits have banks that drop perpendicularly from the water's edge.

Giants Marching Towards Pennant

Easily Trim Cincinnati Reds —Cubs Beat The Phillies

BROOKLYN WINS OVER PIRATES

By GENE LAWRENCE
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, July 20—Finding the Cincinnati Reds a welcome letdown after that "crooc1al" series with the Chicago Cubs, the Giants today had tucked another victory away and continued their serene way on the path they hope leads to the National league pennant.

The supple arm of Hal Schumacher, who likes nothing better than to pitch against the Reds, accounted for the New Yorkers registering an east 4-0 shutout and hold their three game lead over the second place Cubs who turned back the Philadelphia Phillies, 2 to 1.

Although Schumaker allowed 12 hits, he kept them well spread and received splendid support from his mates to chalk up his ninth straight mound victory of the year.

A timely double by "Chuck" Klein scored Woody English in the sixth inning with what ultimately proved to be winning run for the Cubs over the Phillies. Pat Malone and Lon Warneke set the Phils down with four hits.

The St. Louis Cardinals tightened their grip on third place winning from the Boston Braves, 4 to 2 behind Jerome Dean's seven hit pitching. Pepper Martin hit a homer in the ninth to help the Cards' cause.

Thanks to a homer by Linus Frey with Ralph Boyle on base in the ninth inning the Brooklyn Dodgers conquered the Pittsburgh Pirates 4 to 2, and moved into a sixth place tie with the Phillies.

Great joy reigns among the Brooklyn Burgers today and Frey is a hero. His smash broke up a four inning duel between Bill Swift of the Pirates and Emil Dutch Leonard. The victory was the sixth this year for Leonard.

The New York Yankees cut the Detroit Tigers lead to two games when they beat the Chicago White Sox, 4 to 3. Ben Chapman's double in the eighth scored Earl Combs and Jack Saltgaver to win the game.

The Cleveland Indians moved closer to the third place Boston Red Sox defeating them 6 to 5 in a great ninth inning rally during which they scored 5 runs.

Mickey Cochrane's Tigers were given a day of rest when their game with the Philadelphia Athletics at Detroit was postponed on account of rain.

The St. Louis Browns pulled a close one out of the fire when they beat the Washington Senators 8 to 7. Manager Hornsby, entering the game as a pinch hitter in the seventh, drove in the winning tally when he hit a grounder to Joe Cronin.

Presbyterians Take Lead In Church League

Jimmy Smith And Hackett Kennedy Record 37's At Castle Hills Course

First Presbyterian "A" and "B" teams will rule the waves this week as a result of their performance last night at the Castle Hills golf course in the New Castle Church golfing league. The two teams from the First Presbyterian church are tied with four points apiece.

Last night witnessed the start of the second round of the league and the evening was one of the most enjoyable of the year.

Trinity by handing the First Christians a 3½ to 2½ defeat take third place and St. Marys and St. Josephs by deadlocking with First Methodists at 3-3, take fourth place along with the Methodists. The Highland U. P. team tangled with the First Presbyterian "B" team and lost 4 to 2. The First Presbyterian "A" team handed the First U. P. team a 4 to 2 defeat.

Medalists honors were divided last night between Jimmy Smith of the Highland U. P. team with a scorching 37 and Hackett Kennedy of the St. Mary's-St. Josephs team with a 37. George Trainor had a brilliant 38 and so did Mont Magill of the First Presbyterian team who turned in a brilliant 38 score. Other low scores turned in were—Robert M. Garland 40, Sam Lewis 40, Myron Rice, 41. Jimmy Von Dereau 41, J. B. Waddington 42, Charles "Bugs" Walther 42. Cliff Young 42, George Johnson 43, H. G. Preston 42, Bill Howe 42, Dr. W. W. Horner 42, H. A. Wilkinson 42, Al Ingels 42, Joe Fletcher 42, J. Daugherty 42, Dr. W. P. Felch 42, Elmer Whittaker 42.

Some mighty fine golf was played in the league last night and out of 48 players in the league there was not one man in the 50 class for nine holes. The league is getting faster each week. There is considerable enthusiasm being shown.

FIELD CLUB WINS

New Castle Field club caddies handed the Castle Hills golf course caddies a 10 to 5 defeat at the Castle Hills course, with Frank Annecillo the medalist of the event with a brilliant 78 score. William Duncho scored an 84, and Pete Evangelist shot an 89. Albert Abode had a 89, and John Petro shot a 92. For the Field Club—Jerry Pia had a 85, and Tony Baily had 86.

Beaver-Lawrence County Champions

New Castle has some expert bowlers and the team sponsored by the M. Dale Andrews, of Mt. Jackson, walked off with first money and a good share of the individual prizes for the second consecutive year as members of the Beaver-Lawrence counties Ten Pin league.

The Beaver-Lawrence league closed its sixth year about the middle of June with a schedule of 36 matches with a total of 108 games which started in September. It is comprised of five teams from Beaver and five from Lawrence county.

The Andrews bowlers are probably the classiest group ever assembled in this city. They were organized by Captain Joe Dixon who pulls a B. and O. throttle as a major vocation. He has been bowling 33 years been in 16 A B C tourneys and still finishes in the first 10 when the averages for the season are compiled. They cracked the league record for the high three game total with 3155; that's getting wood. They finished second for single game high with 1103, topped by American Legion of Beaver Falls with 1109.

Cangey, McCormick, Harmon and Dixon finished in the first 10 of the league's roster of average pins per game. Dave Smith placed third for individual high with 267 and they rolled six matches with over 3000 pins. The personnel of the team consisted of Dixon, Harmon, Cangey, Gilmore, McCormick and Smith.

When the schedule was finished in June and the standing of the teams for the 108 games was compiled Andrews and Unions of Beaver Falls were in a tie. They rolled it off in Beaver Falls and the Andrews took all three games though they were close for their margin was only 70 pins for the three game total. The team will be back in the league next year.

Walter Johnson To Be Retained

Cleveland Indians Signs Johnson To Contract For Season Of 1935

(International News Service)

CLEVELAND, O., July 20.— The raging fire of criticism which has surrounded Manager Walter Johnson of the Cleveland Indians was extinguished today as a surprised fandom pondered an announcement that the "big train" will held the tribe again in 1935.

Alva Bradley, owner of the Indians, made the announcement last night by the latter's alleged "mishandling of the best pitching staff in the leagues."

SPYING ON SPORTS

The world's lightweight champion is going to get a vacation.

That goes also for the world's junior welterweight champion.

They get the break because the world's welterweight champion has decided to meet Jimmy McLarnin again for no apparent reason than it's a good money bout.

If this doesn't make sense just remember that the world's lightweight, junior lightweight and welterweight champions are all the same person—Barney Ross, the Chicago title collector.

When Tony Canzoneri recently licked Frankie Klick, who held a decision over Ross, it looked as though Ross needs must defend his lightweight and possibly his junior welterweight and welterweight titles once more in a bout with Tony.

In fact, fight folks were waiting for announcement of the time and place for the third Ross-Canzoneri bout when the news broke that Ross had decided to give McLarnin a chance to get his welterweight title back.

So, Lightweight Champion Ross and Junior Lightweight Champion Ross will keep those crowns in cold storage for a bit longer while Welterweight Champion Ross goes back to the wars.

It's beginning to look as though it's twice or no count in Ross' case. He's rapidly becoming the Return Bout Kid, he's boxed so many sequels with the same fighters.

In his brief career Ross has fought Tony Canzoneri, Billy Petrolle Johnny Farr and Joe Borola twice and Young Terry three times. Now he's going to fight McLarnin for a second time.

Frankly, there seems to exist more reasons why Ross should meet Canzoneri a third time than there is why he ought to give McLarnin a return engagement—outside, of course, boxoffice reasons.

In their New York fight in which he wrested the welter crown from Jimmy's Irish curls, Barney pretty well established that he was master of the hard-punching Mick.

However, in the two shows with Canzoneri, Ross displayed no such advantage. The first brawl, in Chicago, was as close as M and N are in the alphabet and the second setto, in New York, was just a trifle more decisive, if you can call it that.

McLarnin, apparently, is planning to call it a career pretty soon. He never has cared a tremendous amount about his trade and he's got what it takes to make bank presidents bow to you. Sometime ago we chiseled out a paragraph containing the thought that perhaps the fundamental reason James looked so ineffective against Ross in their first meeting was because Jimmy had lost his driving incentive.

After looking over all the angles of the question of whether Ross should meet McLarnin or Canzoneri first (not that it matters, for McLarnin already has the assignment) one comes to at least one conclusion.

And that's this:

Not only is Ross one of the finest fighting champions we've had in many seasons and a very courageous young man to boot but he's also a canny boxing business man.

From his experiences with them he must have learned that for his style, Canzoneri is the stronger foe. So, he'll meet McLarnin first—and then take on Tony.

Unions Defeat Bessemer 8 To 0

Al Ritchie Pitches Great Three-Hit Game As Unions Upset Bessemer

Union Brewery softball team defeated the Bessemer Boosters, a strong aggregation at the Bessemer field last night 8 to 0 in a well played game. Al Ritchie was the star of the battle, allowing the heavy slugging Bessemers only three scratch hits. He fanned 12 men.

The Unions got to Plevnic for 11 hits, with Testa, Joe Fair, Merando and Clause doing some yoemen work with the willow.

Tonight at the B. & O. Field the Scarazzos and Unions will tangle in what looms as one of the best softball games of the year. The Scarazzos have won three games and the Unions one. This will be a league game. The game will start at 6 o'clock. The Unions have won 29 games this year.

Score by innings—

	R.	H.	E.
Unions	000 000 035	8	11 1
Bessemer	000 000 000	0	3 3

Batteries: Unions—Al Ritchie and Merando, Bessemer—Plevnic and Samsa.

Two Games In National Loop

Two games will be played in the National Independent baseball league tonight. The games will start at 5:30 o'clock. The East New Castle Merchants will go to Rose Point for a battle, and the Clifton Flats team boasting a 21 straight game record will play Ryantown at Ryantown.

Coates will likely be the pitching selection for the Flats with Hill Davies ready to try and stop the Flats team. Clifton Flats may send their mound ace C. Van Eman in against the Ryantowners. E. Van-Eman is a hard pitcher to beat.

The Coallown team having folded up this second half the scheduled game with the Mahoning Indies will be a forefit for the Seventh Warders.

Two Games Carded For Saturday And Also Two For Sunday Afternoon

Bessemer will play Wampum at Wampum and Mahoning will tackle West Pittsburg in Lawrence county league games Saturday afternoon. On Sunday, the Polish will meet Bessemer at Bessemer and Wampum will play West Pittsburg at West Pittsburg.

Mrs. Matthews Winner At Golf

In a ladies' event of match play against par at the New Castle Field club course Mrs. J. B. Matthews was the winner, being but one down. Mrs. J. E. Elliott finished second, being two down. Miss Clara A. Hartsuff was three down, as was Mrs. W. W. Horner. Mrs. J. P. Lockhart finished four down and so did Mrs. J. E. Elliott.

Little Change In Standing Of City Golf League

Teams Battle On Even Terms In Matches Played Last Evening

There was little change in the standing of the teams in the New Castle golf league as they played their semi-final match last evening.

East Side Service managed to hang onto their slim lead to retain top honors while the Unions advanced to within one point of them by virtue of their victory over The News. Rieck-McJunkin, halving their match with the Hardware Merchants, were nosed back into third place.

Mose Mancine, who has been burning up the Muny course during the past few weeks, shot two under par, while his teammate, Willie Grommes parred the first nine.

Tucker Nolan and M. K. Gilliland shot 38's and Bob Thompson and Matt Honkonen were close behind with 39's. Scores of 40 were shot by Art Prioletti, Bill Twaddle, Jimmie Pagley, George Sargent and Charles Kay.

The results of the matches and standing are as follows:

Pennsylvania Power defeated Pennsylvania R. R. 5 to 1. Hardware and Rieck-McJunkin halved at 3 to 3, McCoy's and East Side Service split even at 3 to 3, Reynolds, Summers & McCann nosed out Universal Sanitary Manufacturing company 3½ to 2½. Union Brewery defeated New Castle News 4 to 2 and Blair Strip Steel and Shenango Tin tied up at 3 all.

Ruth Will Be Out Of Game For Week

(International News Service)

CLEVELAND, O., July 20.— Babe Ruth, injured in Wednesday's game here against the Cleveland Indians, probably will return to the Yankees at Chicago tomorrow. Dr. Edward B. Castle, attending physician, said here today.

However, the sultan of swat will not be able to take his place in right field for a week or ten days, the physician said.

Name Steiner, Brady, Judges

Mike Graynak Agrees To Fight Adamo; Arkett-Gray Match In Making

Now that the amateur fistic carnival is scheduled for Taggart stadium, August 10, it might be mentioned that Lou Brady and Harry Steiner two of the keenest judges of boxing hereabouts have been selected to act as judges for the eight or 10 bouts now being arranged for the Police Department benefit. All of the monies derived from the boxing show will be expended for equipment.

Brady and Steiner were selected yesterday from a list of persons, some of whom will be named to serve as alternates.

Boxing in Pennsylvania is permitted by state law and the bouts here will be staged under the jurisdiction of the Amateur union with the State Athletic commission naming the referee. It is not yet known who will be named to act as the third man. His identity will not be known until the day of the battles.

Arkett Rugged Boxer

One of the choice matches will be Sammy Crocetti of this city against Joey Evans of Ellwood City. They were to have joined the professional ranks but have postponed their leap into the money ring until after August 10. Another bout which was arranged yesterday was that which will bring together Mike Graynak of Ellwood City and Tony Adamo of this city. They are sluggers

Charlie Arkett who punches under the direction of Paris Kid Cangey of the Seventh ward comes from West Pittsburg and if Ray Gray, the South Side boxer wants to oppose Arkett he can have the match. Both weigh 142 pounds. Arkett has fought Nick Rossi here, made good and Gray has not yet lost a match, according to Dry Williams, South Side businessman.

Three Games In Softball League

Three games will be played in the American softball league tonight at three different fields. The games will start at 6 o'clock.

The league leading Scarazos will play the Unions at the B. and O. field in the feature game on the bill. The Tolans and Saks will battle at Centennial Field and the Pumps and Hannons will play at Canyon Field.

Rotary Hears Talk By College Dean

Club Opposes Move Of B. And O. To Change Use Of Main Line Route

ELLWOOD CITY, July 20.—Members of the Ellwood City Rotary club enjoyed an interesting talk at their weekly meeting in the First Presbyterian church last night.

The speaker was Dr. J. A. Calderwood, dean of men at Grove City college. His topic was "The Crossroads of the World". This was mostly a talk on Constantinople and how that city had withstood the Mohammedan horde, when it was making a bid to conquer the world. The speaker also talked on the World war and the changes brought about by it.

The club at this time went on record as opposing the move of the B. & O. railroad to change operations of trains so that the main line through Ellwood City would be little used. The B. & O. is planning use of P. & L. E. lines from New Castle Junction to Pittsburgh.

Dinner will be served in the dining room at the park at six o'clock, which will be followed by a program. T. W. McCullough, secretary of the Retail Food and Grocery Distributors Code Authority in district 5, which comprises Lawrence and Beaver counties, will be the speaker.

A special invitation has been issued to the ladies to attend this meeting, as dancing will conclude the program at the park pavilion.

Discharges Bomb In Seventh Ward

Man Imbibes Freely And Prematurely Discharges Noise Maker

Bennie Nocera imbibed too freely last night and some time early this morning he is alleged to set off a celebration bomb in the Seventh ward. The noise awakened persons in South Wabash avenue and he was taken into custody by city police.

Today Mayor Mayne explained to Nocera that discharge of fireworks here without a permit could be punished by a $100.00 fine. He promised Nocera that if such an act occurred again he would be fined $200.00, after which he was allowed to go free.

Louis Dando, rear 142 Long avenue, faced the mayor also. He was arrested while intoxicated early this morning. He was questioned as to where he obtained his liquor as he is under age. Dando told where he had been. He was discharged.

Two Small Fires Found Thursday

City firemen answered two alarms Thursday afternoon for small fires in different sections of the city.

At 3:40 they were summoned to 1407 Delaware avenue, where a short in the wiring had set fire to the footboards of the auto of Charles F. Streib. The blaze was extinguished with but small damage to the car.

At 5:40 they were summoned to the home of Walter Kirkwood of 619 Long avenue, where some mattresses had been afire, but had been extinguished by members of the family. They asked firemen to come and see that the fire was entirely out.

Giants Marching Towards Pennant

Easily Trim Cincinnati Reds —Cubs Beat The Phillies

BROOKLYN WINS OVER PIRATES

By GENE LAWRENCE
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, July 20—Finding the Cincinnati Reds a welcome letdown after that "croocial" series with the Chicago Cubs, the Giants today had tucked another victory away and continued their serene way on the path they hope leads to the National league pennant.

The supple arm of Hal Schumacher, who likes nothing better than to pitch against the Reds, accounted for the New Yorkers registering an east 4-0 shutout and hold their three game lead over the second place Cubs who turned back the Philadelphia Phillies, 2 to 1.

Although Schumaker allowed 12 hits, he kept them well spread and received splendid support from his mates to chalk up his ninth straight mound victory of the year.

A timely double by "Chuck" Klein scored Woody English in the sixth inning with what ultimately proved to be winning run for the Cubs over the Phillies. Pat Malone and Lon Warneke set the Phils down with four hits.

The St. Louis Cardinals tightened their grip on third place winning from the Boston Braves, 4 to 2 behind Jerome Dean's seven hit pitching. Pepper Martin hit a homer in the ninth to help the Cards' cause.

Thanks to a homer by Linus Frey with Ralph Boyle on base in the ninth inning the Brooklyn Dodgers conquered the Pittsburgh Pirates 4 to 2, and moved into a sixth place tie with the Phillies.

Great joy reigns among the Brooklyn Burgers today and Frey is a hero. His smash broke up a four inning duel between Bill Swift of the Pirates and Emil Dutch Leonard. The victory was the sixth this year for Leonard.

The New York Yankees cut the Detroit Tigers lead to two games when they beat the Chicago White Sox, 4 to 3. Ben Chapman's double in the eighth scored Earl Combs and Jack Saltgaver to win the game.

The Cleveland Indians moved closer to the third place Boston Red Sox defeating them 6 to 5 in a great ninth inning rally during which they scored 5 runs.

Mickey Cochrane's Tigers were given a day of rest when their game with the Philadelphia Athletics at Detroit was postponed on account of rain.

The St. Louis Browns pulled a close one out of the fire when they beat the Washington Senators 8 to 7. Manager Hornsby, entering the game as a pinch hitter in the seventh, drove in the winning tally when he hit a grounder to Joe Cronin.

Presbyterians Take Lead In Church League

Jimmy Smith And Hackett Kennedy Record 37's At Castle Hills Course

First Presbyterian "A" and "B" teams will rule the waves this week as a result of their performance last night at the Castle Hills golf course in the New Castle Church golfing league. The two teams from the First Presbyterian church are tied with four points apiece.

Last night witnessed the start of the second round of the league and the evening was one of the most enjoyable of the year.

Trinity by handing the First Christians a 3½ to 2½ defeat take third place and St. Marys and St. Josephs by deadlocking with First Methodists at 3-3, take fourth place along with the Methodists. The Highland U. P. team tangled with the First Presbyterian "B" team and lost 4 to 2. The First Presbyterian "A" team handed the First U. P. team a 4 to 2 defeat.

Medalists honors were divided last night between Jimmy Smith of the Highland U. P. team with a scorching 37 and Hackett Kennedy of the St. Mary's-St. Josephs team with a 37. George Trainor had a brilliant 38 and so did Mont Magill of the First Presbyterian team who turned in a brilliant 38 score. Other low scores turned in were—Robert M. Garland 40, Sam Lewis 40, Myron Rice, 41, Jimmy Von Dereau 41, J. B. Waddington 42, Charles "Bugs" Walther 42, Cliff Young 42, George Johnson 43, H. G. Preston 42, Bill Howe 42, Dr. W. W. Horner 42, H. A. Wilkinson 42, Al Ingels 42, Joe Fletcher 42, J. Daugherty 42, Dr. W. P. Felch 42, Elmer Whittaker 42.

Some mighty fine golf was played in the league last night and out of 48 players in the league there was not one man in the 50 class for nine holes. The league is getting faster each week. There is considerable enthusiasm being shown.

FIELD CLUB WINS

New Castle Field club caddies handed the Castle Hills golf course caddies a 10 to 5 defeat at the Castle Hills course, with Frank Annecillo the medalist of the event with a brilliant 78 score. William Duncho scored an 84, and Pete Evangelist shot an 89. Albert Abode had a 89, and John Petro shot a 92. For the Field Club—Jerry Pia had a 85, and Tony Baily had 86.

Beaver-Lawrence County Champions

New Castle has some expert bowlers and the team sponsored by the M. Dale Andrews, of Mt. Jackson, walked off with first money and a good share of the individual prizes for the second consecutive year as members of the Beaver-Lawrence counties Ten Pin league.

The Beaver-Lawrence league closed its sixth year about the middle of June with a schedule of 36 matches with a total of 108 games which started in September. It is composed of five teams from Beaver and five from Lawrence county.

The Andrews bowlers are probably the classiest group ever assembled in this city. They were organized by Captain Joe Dixon who pulls a B. and O. throttle as a major vocation. He has been bowling 33 years been in 16 A B C tourneys and still finishes in the first 10 when the averages for the season are compiled. They cracked the league record for the high three game total with 3155: that's getting wood. They finished second for single game high with 1103, topped by American Legion of Beaver Falls with 1109.

Cangey, McCormick, Harmon and Dixon finished in the first 10 of the league's roster of average pins per game. Dave Smith placed third for individual high with 267 and they rolled six matches with over 3000 pins. The personnel of the team consisted of Dixon, Harmon, Cangey, Gilmore, McCormick and Smith.

When the schedule was finished in June and the standing of the teams for the 108 games was compiled Andrews and Unions of Beaver Falls were in a tie. They rolled it off in Beaver Falls and the Andrews took all three games though they were close for their margin was only 70 pins for the three game total. The team will be back in the league next year.

Walter Johnson To Be Retained

Cleveland Indians Signs Johnson To Contract For Season Of 1935

(International News Service)

CLEVELAND, O., July 20.— The raging fire of criticism which has surrounded Manager Walter Johnson of the Cleveland Indians was extinguished today as a surprised fandom pondered an announcement that the "big train" will held the tribe again in 1935.

Alva Bradley, owner of the Indians, made the announcement last night by the latter's alleged "mishandling of the best pitching staff in the leagues."

SANDLOT JIBJABS

WESTSIDE WINS

The West Side Sluggers emerged victoriously in a game with the Shenango Midgets by a score of 4-2. The game was called in the seventh The dazzling speed of "Red" Kelley who allowed only three hits was a feature of the game, while the heavy hitting of B. Maher, Fee, Murray, Hoffman and Grieve also featured. Joe Howley, umpire.

AIELLO A. C. WINS

Aiello A. C. softball team handed the Yo Yos a defeat, 5 to 0, at Carnegie Field, yesterday afternoon. It was the 17th victory of the year for the Aiellos. Sam Caiazza the Aiello star moundsman pitched a no-run and no-hit game. Joe Lamorella was the star batter.

CHAMPIONS WIN GAME

Champions baseball team handed the South Side Ramblers a 7 to 0 defeat yesterday at the Clifton Flats Field. Morrison entered the sandlot hall of fame by pitching a no-hit game against the Ramblers. He fanned eight men. J. Dubrock, R. Dubrock, Houk and Eve hit the ball hard. Colaluca and Hordig were the losing pitchers.

POLISH A. C. WINS

Polish A. C. handed the Tube Town Tigers a defeat 6 to 5 in a baseball game at Glasser Field. The Polish boys started a rally in the final inning to score five runs. Cwynar hit a homer to cinch the game. Mescall pitched a fine game for the Polish A. C. allowing five hits and fanning 15 men. Chmura was hit safely ten times by the Polish boys.

WANT TENNIS GAMES

The Audia tennis team with Joseph "Flash" Audia at the head, would like to book tennis matches. The boys use the courts near the New Castle hospital and the courts are in fine shape. For matches call 9098.

HAZEL BULLDOGS WIN

Hazel Bulldogs baseball team handed the Elder A. C. Juniors, a defeat at Elders Field 9 to 6, with McCaskey pitching a four hit game. He fanned 13 men. Miller featured the game with a homer.

AIELLO A. C. WINS

Aiello A. C. softball team handed the Home Street Pirates a 17 to 10 defeat at Carnegie Field. Santangelo and Scarazzo banged out home runs.

CROTON MERCHANTS WIN

Croton Merchants softball team handed the Pump Stations a 27 to 10 walloping at Smith Field, with Snow, Perry, Patton, Gibson and C. Book hitting out home runs. The game was featured by the slugging of the Crotonites who had 28 hits. Book was the winning pitcher and Filban the losing pitcher.

SPYING ON SPORTS

The world's lightweight champion is going to get a vacation.

That goes also for the world's junior welterweight champion.

They get the break because the world's welterweight champion has decided to meet Jimmy McLarnin again for no apparent reason than it's a good money bout.

If this doesn't make sense just remember that the world's lightweight, junior lightweight and welterweight champions are all the same person—Barney Ross, the Chicago title collector.

When Tony Canzoneri recently licked Frankie Klick, who held a decision over Ross, it looked as though Ross needs must defend his lightweight and possibly his junior welterweight and welterweight titles once more in a bout with Tony.

In fact, fight folks were waiting for announcement of the time and place for the third Ross-Canzoneri bout when the news broke that Ross had decided to give McLarnin a chance to get his welterweight title back.

So, Lightweight Champion Ross and Junior Lightweight Champion Ross will keep those crowns in cold storage for a bit longer while Welterweight Champion Ross goes back to the wars.

It's beginning to look as though it's twice or no count in Ross' case. He's rapidly becoming the Return Bout Kid, he's boxed so many sequels with the same fighters.

In his brief career Ross has fought Tony Canzoneri, Billy Petrolle Johnny Farr and Joe Borola twice and Young Terry three times. Now he's going to fight McLarnin for a second time.

Frankly, there seems to exist more reasons why Ross should meet Canzoneri a third time than there is why he ought to give McLarnin a return engagement—outside, of course, boxoffice reasons.

In their New York fight in which he wrested the welter crown from Jimmy's Irish curls, Barney pretty well established that he was master of the hard-punching Mick.

However, in the two shows with Canzoneri, Ross displayed no such advantage. The first brawl, in Chicago, was as close as M and N are in the alphabet and the second setto, in New York, was just a trifle more decisive, if you can call it that.

McLarnin, apparently, is planning to call it a career pretty soon. He never has cared a tremendous amount about his trade and he's got what it takes to make bank presidents bow to you . Sometime ago we chiseled out a paragraph containing the thought that perhaps the fundamental reason James looked so ineffective against Ross in their first meeting was because Jimmy had lost his driving incentive.

After looking over all the angles of the question of whether Ross should meet McLarnin or Canzoneri first (not that it matters, for McLarnin already has the assignment) one comes to at least one conclusion.

And that's this:

Not only is Ross one of the finest fighting champions we've had in many seasons and a very courageous young man to boot but he's also a canny boxing business man.

From his experiences with them he must have learned that for his style, Canzoneri is the stronger foe. So, he'll meet McLarnin first—and then take on Tony.

Unions Defeat Bessemer 8 To 0

Al Ritchie Pitches Great Three-Hit Game As Unions Upset Bessemer

Union Brewery softball team defeated the Bessemer Boosters, a strong agrregation at the Bessemer field last night 8 to 0 in a well played game. Al Ritchie was the star of the battle, allowing the heavy slugging Bessemers only three scratch hits. He fanned 12 men.

The Unions got to Plevnic for 11 hits, with Testa, Joe Fair, Merando and Clause doing some yoemen work with the willow.

Tonight at the B. & O. Field the Scarazzos and Unions will tangle in what looms as one of the best softball games of the year. The Scarazzos have won three games and the Unions one. This will be a league game. The game will start at 6 o'clock. The Unions have won 29 games this year.

Score by innings—

	R.	H.	E.
Unions	000 000 035	8	11 1
Bessemer	000 000 000	0	3 3

Batteries: Unions—Al Ritchie and Merando. Bessemer—Plevnic and Samsa.

Two Games In National Loop

Two games will be played in the National Independent baseball league tonight. The games will start at 5:30 o'clock. The East New Castle Merchants will go to Rose Point for a battle, and the Clifton Flats team boasting a 21 straight game record will play Ryantown at Ryantown.

Coates will likely be the pitching selection for the Flats with Hill Davies ready to try and stop the Flats team. Clifton Flats may send their mound ace C. Van Eman in against the Ryantowners. E. Van-Eman is a hard pitcher to beat.

The Coaltown team having folded up this second half the scheduled game with the Mahoning Indies will be a forefit for the Seventh Wards.

As Mussolini figures it, the more Italians multiply, the more other lands must divide.

Lawrence County Circuit Clashes

Two Games Carded For Saturday And Also Two For Sunday Afternoon

Bessemer will play Wampum at Wampum and Mahoning will tackle West Pittsburg in Lawrence county league games Saturday afternoon. On Sunday, the Polish will meet Bessemer at Bessemer and Wampum will play West Pittsburg at West Pittsburg.

Mrs. Matthews Winner At Golf

In a ladies' event of match play against par at the New Castle Field club course Mrs. J. B. Matthews was the winner, being but one down. Mrs. J. E. Elliott finished second, being two down. Miss Clara A. Hartsuff was three down, as was Mrs. W. W. Horner. Mrs. J. P. Lockhart finished four down and so did Mrs. J. E. Elliott.

Little Change In Standing Of City Golf League

Teams Battle On Even Terms In Matches Played Last Evening

There was little change in the standing of the teams in the New Castle golf league as they played their semi-final match last evening.

East Side Service managed to hang onto their slim lead to retain top honors while the Unions advanced to within one point of them by virtue of their victory over The News. Rieck-McJunkin, halving their match with the Hardware Merchants, were nosed back into third place.

Mose Mancine, who has been burning up the Muny course during the past few weeks, shot two under par, while his teammate, Willie Grommes parred the first nine.

Tucker Nolan and M. K. Gilliland shot 38's and Bob Thompson and Matt Honkonen were close behind with 39's. Scores of 40 were shot by Art Prioletti, Bill Twaddle, Jimmie Pagley, George Sargent and Charles Kay.

The results of the matches and standing are as follows:

Pennsylvania Power defeated Pennsylvania R. R. 5 to 1, Hardware and Rieck-McJunkin halved at 3 to 3, McCoy's and East Side Service split even at 3 to 3, Reynolds, Summers & McCann nosed out Universal Sanitary Manufacturing company 3½ to 2½, Union Brewery defeated New Castle News 4 to 2 and Blair Strip Steel and Shenango Tin tied up at 3 all.

Ruth Will Be Out Of Game For Week

(International News Service)

CLEVELAND, O., July 20.— Babe Ruth, injured in Wednesday's game here against the Cleveland Indians, probably will return to the Yankees at Chicago tomorrow, Dr. Edward B. Castle, attending physician, said here today.

However, the sultan of swat will not be able to take his place in right field for a week or ten days, the physician said.

Name Steiner, Brady, Judges

Mike Graynak Agrees To Fight Adamo; Arkett-Gray Match In Making

Now that the amateur fistic carnival is scheduled for Taggart stadium, August 10, it might be mentioned that Lou Brady and Harry Steiner two of the keenest judges of boxing hereabouts have been selected to act as judges for the eight or 10 bouts now being arranged for the Police Department benefit. All of the monies derived from the boxing show will be expended for equipment.

Brady and Steiner were selected yesterday from a list of persons, some of whom will be named to serve as alternates.

Boxing in Pennsylvania is permitted by state law and the bouts here will be staged under the juridiction of the Amateur union with the State Athletic commission naming the referee. It is not yet known who will be named to act as the third man. His identity will not be known until the day of the battles.

Arkett Rugged Boxer

One of the choice matches will be Sammy Crocetti of this city against Joey Evans of Ellwood City. They were to have joined the professional ranks but have postponed their leap into the money ring until after August 10. Another bout which was arranged yesterday was that which will bring together Mike Graynak of Ellwood City and Tony Adamo of this city. They are sluggers.

Charlie Arkett who punches under the direction of Paris Kid Cangey of the Seventh ward comes from West Pittsburg and if Ray Gray, the South Side boxer wants to oppose Arkett he can have the match. Both weigh 142 pounds. Arkett has fought Nick Rossi here, made good and Gray has not yet lost a match, according to Dry Williams, South Side businessman.

Three Games In Softball League

Three games will be played in the American softball league tonight at three different fields. The games will start at 6 o'clock.

The league leading Scarazos will play the Unions at the B. and O. field in the feature game on the bill. The Tolans and Saks will battle at Centennial Field and the Pumps and Hannons will play at Canyon Field.

15% to 20% More Smooth Power Shown in Auto Test

To lift the world's tallest building off the ground is a task to stagger the imagination. And yet, one gallon of the powerful, new Sinclair H-C Gasoline could hoist the Empire State Building 1¾ inches, if all of its potential energy could be used.

In a recent road test, where the new H-C Gasoline was tried out against 12 other gasolines, the new H-C gave from 15% to 20% more smooth power. Ask the Sinclair dealer for his "99 Million Foot-Pound" folder.

National Radiators Upset Ellwood City 4 To 0 At Radiator Field

National Radiators handed the Ellwood City Millers a 4 to 0 defeat last night at the Radiator field before a crowd of 1,000 fans. The Rads got to Hauserman in the first inning for three runs, and scored one more in the sixth. Ellwood City would not hit Bonfield when hits meant runs. He held the Millers to seven hits. The Rads only had six hits off of Hauserman and Gallagher.

A single, double, base on balls, and an error gave the Rads three markers in the first inning. Bonfield in addition to pitching a fine game, got his first hit of the season in a league game. Three errors contributed to the downfall of the Millers.

The victory gives the Radiators undisputed possession of first place in the league.

Act Of Mercy Is Performed By U.S. Liner Manhattan

Doctor From Big Liner Attends Sick Chief Officer On Italian Boat

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, July 20.—Answering a call for help last night from the Italian freighter, Alberta, the United States liner Manhattan today steamed to the place where the freighter lay at anchor and while its 1,000 passengers bound for Europe lined the rails, performed an act of mercy.

Chief officer Pertot, or the freighter had become sick last night with a high fever and intestinal obstruction.

The giant liner sided up to the smaller ship today and Dr. Matthews was rowed through large swells to the freighter. He ordered Pertot transferred to the sick bay of the Manhattan, where, possibly an operation will be performed.

After the sick man was removed, the freighter continued to Italian ports, and the Manhattan resumed its voyage to England.

May Fingerprint Every Person In Entire Country

By ROBERT S. THORNBURGH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 20.—Eventual fingerprinting of all persons in the United States to afford a perfect identification system was visualized today by department of justice officials.

In discussing the department's identification bureau, which contains more than 4,400,000 fingerprints, mostly of law violators, Attorney General Cummings declared the system "is bound to grow."

Thousands of persons disappear annually, vanishing into a port of missing men and women, to a large extent because of the inability to identify those who have lost their memory—either voluntarily or involuntarily—as victims of accidents, or of disease.

White admitting the difficulty of such an undertaking and that the public must be educated to such a project, officials said it is not beyond the realm of possibility.

Such a record would form an invaluable aid to law enforcement officers as well as in case where no criminal activities are involved.

The investigation unit of the justice department has the largest file of fingerprints in the world. The war and navy departments have a tremendous file of fingerprints of past and present members of the military establishment.

Discussing the department's identification unit Cummings said that criminals were classified as to crimes committed and technique of operation. Several thousand records of kidnapers, bank robbers, extortionists and other offenders against the federal law have been segregated.

By studying the methods and technique employed in any particular crime and comparing them with the department file of criminals employing similar methods, it has been possible, on a number of occasions, to identify and arrest the perpetrator.

Rush Work On RWD Projects

Over 500 At Work In Effort To Conclude Projects This Month

Approximately 550 men are at work this week in the RWD projects according to Matthew Gunton, deputy administrator. An attempt is being made to finish as many projects as are possible by the end of the month when the RWD will be closed out. During August it is thought there will be no works division projects under way at all, with a new program scheduled for September.

Work is being rushed on Gunton Park to complete it as much as possible and to get the Elizabeth street entrance finished by the end of this month. Work is also going on at Cunningham and Cascade Parks, the Croton wall and fence and the quarry.

It will be impossible to finish the Croton stone fence but it is thought that this will be among the first projects opened in September.

BREEDING PHEASANTS NEAR SOLUTION

(International News Service)

AMHERST, Mass., July 20.—One of Nature's carefully guarded secrets—the breeding of partridge—is near solution by ornithologists at the Massachusetts State College.

Years of patient research, coupled with persistent experiments, it was announced, are near the end and within a short time it is believed that breeding of the ruffled grouse of partridge in captivity, will be carried on as successfully as is now being done with pheasants and other wild game birds.

Final experiments are being conducted on clusters of eggs collected from abandoned nests by game wardens throughout the state.

Sandalwood, once abundant in the Hawaiian Islands, has been almost entirely cut away.

Doctors Claim New York State Boy Is On Road To Recovery In Hospital

SUFFERED FROM THIRST-HUNGER

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, July 20.—Little Bobbie Connor is entirely out of danger.

That was the doctor's report today at the White Plains hospital, where he is under treatment for the effects of starvation, thirst and exposure, suffered during the five days he wandered, lost, in the woods in the rear of his Hartsdale Manor home.

The 21-months-old child probably will return home within ten days—there to be given a party by friends and neighbors of the Connor family—if no unforeseen complications arise.

Beer Signs Banner, Bars Advertise Suds

Some Ingenious Ways Are Devised To Get Past The Law

(International News Service)

PORTLAND, Ore.—There is more than one method of spelling forbidden spirituous words, tavern keepers in Oregon and Washington are demonstrating.

The reformed spelling is the result of the latest ruling of the several state liquor control boards prohibiting beer dispensaries from erecting signs on the outside of their establishments bearing the words "beer, wine, bar, barroom, saloon, or words of similar import." The rule has the force of law in both states and is being enforced by police and state officers.

The the word "Beer" no longer flashes in glittering globes or glowing neon, tavern keepers coyly hint that "B——r" may be had within.

Another ingenious dispenser meticulously refrained from mentioning the naughty word but managed to convey the idea by displaying a sign with foaming steins on each end and the word "Suds" in between.

CAPTAIN RETIRES AFTER 57 YEARS AT SEA

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, July 20.—Captain Caeser A. Laimer, veteran seafaring man, has forsaken the "lonely sea and the sky" for the rest of his days, after 57 years of sailing totaling in distance 2,500,000 miles.

The romantic master of many a ship—both sailing and steam-propelled—has retired after years on the bounding main, at the age of 70. The captain recently brought the S. S. Hapira his last ship into port here, packed his sea-bag and strode down the gangplank for the last time. He will reside with his family in Yeadon, Pa.

Swimming Holes Closed, Youths Of Denver Rebel

Many Drownings Have Resulted Because Of Steep Banks

(International News Service)

DENVER, —Denver's youngsters are a disagreeable lot this summer. First the city's three municipal bathing beaches were closed, perhaps not to be reopened for the summer because of contamination.

Boys of school age then sought out the old swimming hole type of water filled gravel pits for their bathing. But an unprecedented number of drownings resulted in an official ban on swimming in gravel pits.

Thus, with their chief activity barred to them small boys over the city swept through the residential districts in a wave of vandalism.

Meanwhile the city parks department is endeavoring to make the water of the municipal beaches available for swimming by purification with chemicals. Initial efforts however have been unsuccessful.

In an effort to provide the school youth of the city with their favorite sport, the city attorney now is seeking legal means of forcing owners of sand pits to slope banks of the pits. Officials declare the drownings in the sand pits were due to the fact that the pits have banks that drop perpendicularly from the water's edge.

FRANK (Fleetwing) Dewberry and his battle axe and all the little chips were out to Cascade Park for a picnic one evening last week and the dear old park looks better than ever. Frank has been in parks from Boston to Arizona and from Canada to Florida but he has yet to see a park that is as pretty as Cascade. Its natural beauty is magnificient and every citizen of New Castle should be proud of it. We tax payers own it and we should support it not only financially but by giving it our presence not once but many times each summer. 1t—6

The Town Crier All New Castle Listens To....

When your grandfather's grand-dad had merchandise to sell or rooms at his inn to let he told the town crier about it. The crier told the rest of the village and grand-dad paid him plenty to do it.

Daily News Ads took over the town crier's job long ago. They don't have to depend on lung-power to get results . . . wise buyers check the Want Ads without being told. Daily News Want Ads get those results at lowest cost too—as you've found out if you have used them. And, best of all, they get them FAST!

Hannons Defeat Scarazzos 11 To 7

One of the biggest upsets of the softball season to date occurred at the B. & O. Field last night in a postponed game when the Hannons defeated the Scarazzos 11 to 7, with Johnny Roman pitching a fine game, allowing only four hits. He whiffed seven batters. The Hannons found Maiella and Bartlett easy to hit and had 15 safe blows.

The heaviest hitting was done by Gallagher and A. Bartlett for the winners, the former having a homer with two men on in the final inning. Bartlett and Must came through with timely hits. Goclano had a triple and double to his credit. Tippy Richards featured for the losers with a long triple. Must and Gallagher pulled several sensational fielding plays.

Score by innings:

	R.	H.	E.
Hannons .....001 000 316—11	15	2
Scarazzos 000 034 000 7	4	0

Batteries: Scarazzos, Maiella, Bartlett and Richards; Hannons: Roman and Briggs.

Grove City ...000 000 000— 0 2 0

Batteries—Grove City, Basham and Hill; Tolans, Rogers and Robinson.

Scientists can now trace almost everything to its beginning except an idle rumor.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Eddie Zivic of Pittsburgh demonstrated his superiority over Joey Costa of New York. He knocked out the easterner in the ninth round. Costa was on the canvas for a count in the fourth round.

With rumors permeating the baseball world that Walter Johnson would be let go after the 1934 season President Alva Bradley of the Indians nailed the rumor to the floor by signing Johnson as manager for 1935.

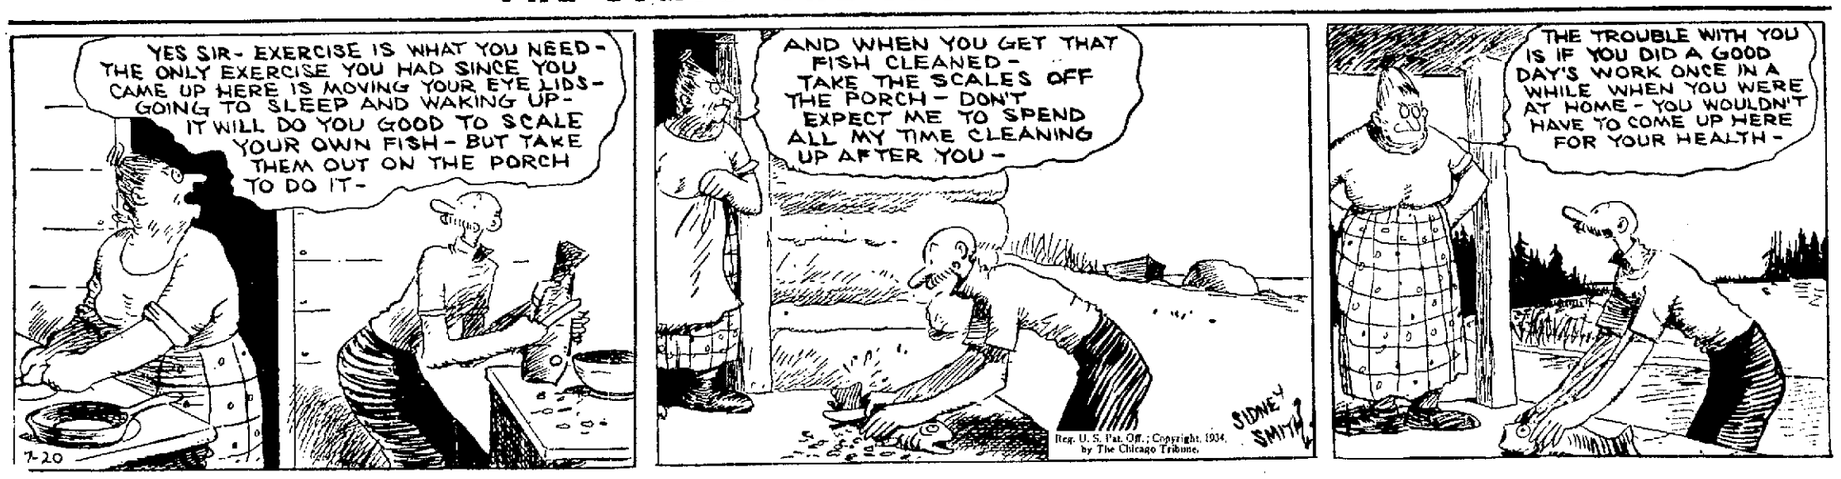

Yankee of Boston, leading aspirant for the defense of the America's cup suffered a severe loss yesterday when Captain Gus Olsen sustained a fracture of his right leg when it was caught in the loop of a jib sheet and jammed against a block off Newport, R. I.

Ziggy Sears, umpire in the Texas league, has been elevated to the National league staff and today will start from Dallas to take up his duties. He was an outstanding fielder for Fort Worth from 1920 to 1929, then turned umpire.

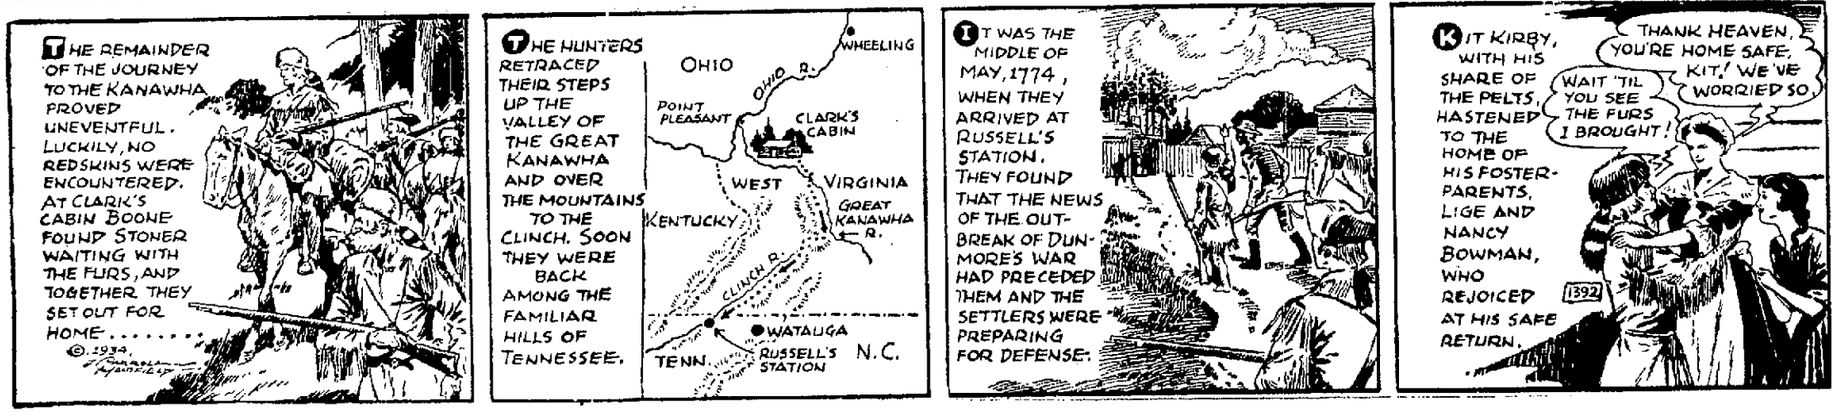

MERCER A. C. WINS

The Mercer A. C. defeated the Offutts at Dave's Field in a softball game 13 to 5. The stars of the game were Guido Rozzi, and Vincent. The Mercer A. C. will next play the Division Street A. C. at Dave's Field. The Mercer A. C. handed the Red Sox a 14 to 4 at the B. & O. Field in a league game Thursday morning.

Giants Marching Towards Pennant

Easily Trim Cincinnati Reds —Cubs Beat The Phillies

BROOKLYN WINS OVER PIRATES

By GENE LAWRENCE
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, July 20—Finding the Cincinnati Reds a welcome letdown after that "croocial" series with the Chicago Cubs, the Giants today had tucked another victory away and continued their serene way on the path they hope leads to the National league pennant.

The supple arm of Hal Schumacher, who likes nothing better than to pitch against the Reds, accounted for the New Yorkers registering an east 4-0 shutout and hold their three game lead over the second place Cubs who turned back the Philadelphia Phillies, 2 to 1.

Although Schumaker allowed 12 hits, he kept them well spread and received splendid support from his mates to chalk up his ninth straight mound victory of the year.

A timely double by "Chuck" Klein scored Woody English in the sixth inning with what ultimately proved to be winning run for the Cubs over the Phillies. Pat Malone and Lon Warneke set the Phils down with four hits.

The St. Louis Cardinals tightened their grip on third place winning from the Boston Braves, 4 to 2 behind Jerome Dean's seven hit pitching. Pepper Martin hit a homer in the ninth to help the Cards' cause.

Thanks to a homer by Linus Frey with Ralph Boyle on base in the ninth inning the Brooklyn Dodgers conquered the Pittsburgh Pirates 4 to 2, and moved into a sixth place tie with the Phillies.

Great joy reigns among the Brooklyn Burgers today and Frey is a hero. His smash broke up a four inning duel between Bill Swift of the Pirates and Emil Dutch Leonard. The victory was the sixth this year for Leonard.

The New York Yankees cut the Detroit Tigers lead to two games when they beat the Chicago White Sox, 4 to 3. Ben Chapman's double in the eighth scored Earl Combs and Jack Saltgaver to win the game.

The Cleveland Indians moved closer to the third place Boston Red Sox defeating them 6 to 5 in a great ninth inning rally during which they scored 5 runs.

Mickey Cochrane's Tigers were given a day of rest when their game with the Philadelphia Athletics at Detroit was postponed on account of rain.

The St. Louis Browns pulled a close one out of the fire when they beat the Washington Senators 8 to 7. Manager Hornsby, entering the game as a pinch hitter in the seventh, drove in the winning tally when he hit a grounder to Joe Cronin.

Presbyterians Take Lead In Church League

Jimmy Smith And Hackett Kennedy Record 37's At Castle Hills Course

First Presbyterian "A" and "B" teams will rule the waves this week as a result of their performance last night at the Castle Hills golf course in the New Castle Church golfing league. The two teams from the First Presbyterian church are tied with four points apiece.

Last night witnessed the start of the second round of the league and the evening was one of the most enjoyable of the year.

Trinity by handing the First Christians a 3½ to 2½ defeat take third place and St. Marys and St. Josephs by deadlocking with First Methodists at 3-3, take fourth place along with the Methodists. The Highland U. P. team tangled with the First Presbyterian "B" team and lost 4 to 2. The First Presbyterian "A" team handed the First U. P. team a 4 to 2 defeat.

Medalists honors were divided last night between Jimmy Smith of the Highland U. P. team with a scorching 37 and Hackett Kennedy of the St. Mary's-St. Josephs team with a 37. George Trainor had a brilliant 38 and so did Mont Magill of the First Presbyterian team who turned in a brilliant 38 score. Other low scores turned in were—Robert M. Garland 40, Sam Lewis 40, Myron Rice, 41, Jimmy Von Dereau 41, J. E. Waddington 42, Charles "Bugs" Walther 42, Cliff Young 42, George Johnson 43, H. G. Preston 42, Bill Howe 42, Dr. W. W. Horner 42, H. A. Wilkinson 42, Al Ingels 42, Joe Fletcher 42, J. Daugherty 42, Dr. W. P. Felch 42, Elmer Whittaker 42.

Some mighty fine golf was played in the league last night and out of 48 players in the league there was not one man in the 50 class for nine holes. The league is getting faster each week. There is considerable enthusiasm being shown.

FIELD CLUB WINS

New Castle Field club caddies handed the Castle Hills golf course caddies a 10 to 5 defeat at the Castle Hills course, with Frank Annecillo the medalist of the event with a brilliant 78 score. William Duncho scored an 84, and Pete Evangelist shot an 89. Albert Abode had a 89, and John Petro shot a 92. For the Field Club—Jerry Pia had a 85, and Tony Baily had 86.

Beaver-Lawrence County Champions

New Castle has some expert bowlers and the team sponsored by the M. Dale Andrews, of Mt. Jackson, walked off with first money and a good share of the individual prizes for the second consecutive year as members of the Beaver-Lawrence counties Ten Pin league.

The Beaver-Lawrence league closed its sixth year about the middle of June with a schedule of 36 matches with a total of 108 games which started in September. It is comprised of five teams from Beaver and five from Lawrence county.

The Andrews bowlers are probably the classiest group ever assembled in this city. They were organized by Captain Joe Dixon who pulls a B. and O. throttle as a major vocation. He has been bowling 33 years been in 16 A B C tourneys and still finishes in the first 10 when the averages for the season are compiled. They cracked the league record for the high three game total with 3155: that's getting wood. They finished second for single game high with 1103, topped by American Legion of Beaver Falls with 1109.

Cangey, McCormick, Harmon and Dixon finished in the first 10 of the league's roster of average pins per game. Dave Smith placed third for individual high with 267 and they rolled six matches with over 3000 pins. The personnel of the team consisted of Dixon, Harmon, Cangey, Gilmore, McCormick and Smith.

When the schedule was finished in June and the standing of the teams for the 108 games was compiled Andrews and Unions of Beaver Falls were in a tie. They rolled it off in Beaver Falls and the Andrews took all three games though they were close for their margin was only 70 pins for the three game total. The team will be back in the league next year.

Walter Johnson To Be Retained

Cleveland Indians Signs Johnson To Contract For Season Of 1935

(International News Service)

CLEVELAND, O., July 20.— The raging fire of criticism which has surrounded Manager Walter Johnson of the Cleveland Indians was extinguished today as a surprised fandom pondered an announcement that the "big train" will hold the tribe again in 1935.

Alva Bradley, owner of the Indians, made the announcement last night by the latter's alleged "mishandling of the best pitching staff in the leagues."

WESTSIDE WINS

The West Side Sluggers emerged victoriously in a game with the Shenango Midgets by a score of 4-2. The game was called in the seventh The dazzling speed of "Red" Kelley who allowed only three hits was a feature of the game, while the heavy hitting of B. Maher, Fee, Murray, Hoffman and Grieve also featured. Joe Howley, umpire.

AIELLO A. C. WINS

Aiello A. C. softball team handed the Yo Yos a defeat, 5 to 0, at Carnegie Field, yesterday afternoon. It was the 17th victory of the year for the Aiellos. Sam Caiazza the Aiello star moundsman pitched a no-run and no-hit game. Joe Lamorella was the star batter.

CHAMPIONS WIN GAME

Champions baseball team handed the South Side Ramblers a 7 to 0 defeat yesterday at the Clifton Flats Field. Morrison entered the sandlot hall of fame by pitching a no-hit game against the Ramblers. He fanned eight men. J. Dubrock, R. Dubrock, Houk and Eve hit the ball hard. Colaluca and Hordig were the losing pitchers.

POLISH A. C. WINS

Polish A. C. handed the Tube Town Tigers a defeat 6 to 5 in a baseball game at Glasser Field. The Polish boys started a rally in the final inning to score five runs. Cwynar hit a homer to cinch the game. Mescall pitched a fine game for the Polish A. C. allowing five hits and fanning 15 men. Chmura was hit safely ten times by the Polish boys.

SPYING ON SPORTS

The world's lightweight champion is going to get a vacation.

That goes also for the world's junior welterweight champion.

They get the break because the world's welterweight champion has decided to meet Jimmy McLarnin again for no apparent reason than it's a good money bout.

If this doesn't make sense just remember that the world's lightweight, junior lightweight and welterweight champions are all the same person—Barney Ross, the Chicago title collector.

When Tony Canzoneri recently licked Frankie Klick, who held a decision over Ross, it looked as though Ross needs must defend his lightweight and possibly his junior welterweight and welterweight titles once more in a bout with Tony.

In fact, fight folks were waiting for announcement of the time and place for the third Ross-Canzoneri bout when the news broke that Ross had decided to give McLarnin a chance to get his welterweight title back.

So, Lightweight Champion Ross and Junior Lightweight Champion Ross will keep those crowns in cold storage for a bit longer while Welterweight Champion Ross goes back to the wars.

It's beginning to look as though it's twice or no count in Ross' case. He's rapidly becoming the Return Bout Kid, he's boxed so many sequels with the same fighters.

In his brief career Ross has fought Tony Canzoneri, Billy Petrolle Johnny Farr and Joe Borola twice and Young Terry three times. Now he's going to fight McLarnin for a second time.

Frankly, there seems to exist more reasons why Ross should meet Canzoneri a third time than there is why he ought to give McLarnin a return engagement—outside, of course, boxoffice reasons.

In their New York fight in which he wrested the welter crown from Jimmy's Irish curls, Barney pretty well established that he was master of the hard-punching Mick.

However, in the two shows with Canzoneri, Ross displayed no such advantage. The first brawl, in Chicago, was as close as M and N are in the alphabet and the second setto, in New York, was just a trifle more decisive, if you can call it that.

McLarnin, apparently, is planning to call it a career pretty soon. He never has cared a tremendous amount about his trade and he's got what it takes to make bank presidents bow to you. Sometime ago we chiseled out a paragraph containing the thought that perhaps the fundamental reason James looked so ineffective against Ross in their first meeting was because Jimmy had lost his driving incentive.

After looking over all the angles of the question of whether Ross should meet McLarnin or Canzoneri first (not that it matters, for McLarnin already has the assignment) one comes to at least one conclusion. And that's this:

Not only is Ross one of the finest fighting champions we've had in many seasons and a very courageous young man to boot but he's also a canny boxing business man.

From his experiences with them he must have learned that for his style, Canzoneri is the stronger foe. So, he'll meet McLarnin first—and then take on Tony.

Unions Defeat Bessemer 8 To 0

Al Ritchie Pitches Great Three-Hit Game As Unions Upset Bessemer

Union Brewery softball team defeated the Bessemer Boosters, a strong aggregation at the Bessemer field last night 8 to 0 in a well played game. Al Ritchie was the star of the battle, allowing the heavy slugging Bessemers only three scratch hits. He fanned 12 men.

The Unions got to Plevnic for 11 hits, with Testa, Joe Fair, Merando and Clause doing some yoemen work with the willow.

Tonight at the B. & O. Field the Scarazzos and Unions will tangle in what looms as one of the best softball games of the year. The Scarazzos have won three games and the Unions one. This will be a league game. The game will start at 6 o'clock. The Unions have won 29 games this year.

Score by innings—

	R.	H.	E.
Unions	000 000 035	8	11 1
Bessemer	000 000 000	0	3 3

Batteries: Unions—Al Ritchie and Merando. Bessemer—Plevnic and Samsa.

Two Games In National Loop

Two games will be played in the National Independent baseball league tonight. The games will start at 5:30 o'clock. The East New Castle Merchants will go to Rose Point for a battle, and the Clifton Flats team boasting a 21 straight game record will play Ryantown at Ryantown.

Coates will likely be the pitching selection for the Flats with Hill Davies ready to try and stop the Flats team. Clifton Flats may send their mound ace C. Van Eman in against the Ryantowners. E. Van-Eman is a hard pitcher to beat.

The Coaltown team having folded up this second half the scheduled game with the Mahoning Indies will be a forefit for the Seventh Warders.

Mrs. Matthews Winner At Golf

In a ladies' event of match play against par at the New Castle Field club course Mrs. J. B. Matthews was the winner, being but one down. Mrs. J. E. Elliott finished second, being two down. Miss Clara A. Hartsuff was three down, as was Mrs. W. W. Horner. Mrs. J. P. Lockhart finished four down and so did Mrs. J. E. Elliott.

Ruth Will Be Out Of Game For Week

(International News Service)

CLEVELAND, O., July 20.— Babe Ruth, injured in Wednesday's game here against the Cleveland Indians, probably will return to the Yankees at Chicago tomorrow, Dr. Edward B. Castle, attending physician, said here today.

However, the sultan of swat will not be able to take his place in right field for a week or ten days, the physician said.

Little Change In Standing Of City Golf League

Teams Battle On Even Terms In Matches Played Last Evening

There was little change in the standing of the teams in the New Castle golf league as they played their semi-final match last evening.

East Side Service managed to hang onto their slim lead to retain top honors while the Unions advanced to within one point of them by virtue of their victory over The News. Rieck-McJunkin, halving their match with the Hardware Merchants, were nosed back into third place.

Mose Mancine, who has been burning up the Muny course during the past few weeks, shot two under par, while his teammate, Willie Grommes parred the first nine.

Tucker Nolan and M. K. Gilliland shot 38's and Bob Thompson and Matt Honkonen were close behind with 39's. Scores of 40 were shot by Art Prioletti, Bill Twaddle, Jimmie Pagley, George Sargent and Charles Kay.

The results of the matches and standing are as follows:

Pennsylvania Power defeated Pennsylvania R. R. 5 to 1, Hardware and Rieck-McJunkin halved at 3 to 3, McCoy's and East Side Service split even at 3 to 3, Reynolds, Summers & McCann nosed out Universal Sanitary Manufacturing company 3½ to 2½. Union Brewery defeated New Castle News 4 to 2 and Blair Strip Steel and Shenango Tin tied up at 3 all.

Name Steiner, Brady, Judges

Mike Graynak Agrees To Fight Adamo; Arkett-Gray Match In Making

Now that the amateur fistic carnival is scheduled for Taggart stadium, August 10, it might be mentioned that Lou Brady and Harry Steiner two of the keenest judges of boxing hereabouts have been selected to act as judges for the eight or 10 bouts now being arranged for the Police Department benefit. All of the monies derived from the boxing show will be expended for equipment.

Brady and Steiner were selected yesterday from a list of persons, some of whom will be named to serve as alternates.

Boxing in Pennsylvania is permitted by state law and the bouts here will be staged under the juridiction of the Amateur union with the State Athletic commission naming the referee. It is not yet known who will be named to act as the third man. His identity will not be known until the day of the battles.

Arkett Rugged Boxer

One of the choice matches will be Sammy Crocetti of this city against Joey Evans of Ellwood City. They were to have joined the professional ranks but have postponed their leap into the money ring until after August 10. Another bout which was arranged yesterday was that which will bring together Mike Graynak of Ellwood City and Tony Adamo of this city. They are sluggers.

Charlie Arkett who punches under the direction of Paris Kid Cangey of the Seventh ward comes from West Pittsburg and if Ray Gray, the South Side boxer wants to oppose Arkett he can have the match. Both weigh 142 pounds. Arkett has fought Nick Rossi here, made good and Gray has not yet lost a match, according to Dry Williams, South Side businessman.

Three Games In Softball League

Three games will be played in the American softball league tonight at three different fields. The games will start at 6 o'clock.

The league leading Scarazos will play the Unions at the B. and O. field in the feature game on the bill. The Tolans and Saks will battle at Centennial Field and the Pumps and Hannons will play at Canyon Field.

The Town Crier All New Castle Listens To . . . .

When your grandfather's grand-dad had merchandise to sell or rooms at his inn to let he told the town crier about it. The crier told the rest of the village and grand-dad paid him plenty to do it.

Daily News Ads took over the town crier's job long ago. They don't have to depend on lung-power to get results . . . wise buyers check the Want Ads without being told. Daily News Want Ads get those results at lowest cost too—as you've found out if you have used them. And, best of all, they get them FAST!

Hannons Defeat Scarazzos 11 To 7

One of the biggest upsets of the softball season to date occurred at the B. & O. Field last night in a postponed game when the Hannons defeated the Scarazzos 11 to 7, with Johnny Roman pitching a fine game, allowing only four hits. He whiffed seven batters. The Hannons found Maiella and Bartlett easy to hit and had 15 safe blows.

The heaviest hitting was done by Gallagher and A. Bartlett for the winners, the former having a homer with two men on in the final inning. Bartlett and Must came through with timely hits. Goclano had a triple and double to his credit. Tippy Richards featured for the losers with a long triple. Must and Gallagher pulled several sensational fielding plays.

Score by innings:

	R.	H.	E.
Hannons 001 000 316	11	15	2
Scarazzos 000 034 000	7	4	0

Batteries: Scarazzos, Maiella, Bartlett and Richards; Hannons: Roman and Briggs.

Tolan A. C. Tops Grove City 10-0

Tolan A. C. softball team topped the Grove City All-Stars last evening 10 to 0. Rogers held the heavy hitting Grove City team to two hits. He had 15 strikeouts. Engs, Robinson and Webber were the heaviest hitters of the battle. Basham pitched for the Grove Cityians and was found for 11 hits by the Tolans.

The Tolans played a head-up game all the way and were errorless for the evening.

Score by innings:

	R.	H.	E.
Tolans 102 020 050	10	11	0
Grove City ...000 000 000	0	2	0

Batteries—Grove City, Basham and Hill; Tolans, Rogers and Robinson.

Scientists can now trace almost everything to its beginning except an idle rumor.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Eddie Zivic of Pittsburgh demonstrated his superiority over Joey Costa of New York. He knocked out the easterner in the ninth round. Costa was on the canvas for a count in the fourth round.

With rumors permeating the baseball world that Walter Johnson would be let go after the 1934 season President Alva Bradley of the Indians nailed the rumor to the floor by signing Johnson as manager for 1935.

Yankee of Boston, leading aspirant for the defense of the America's cup suffered a severe loss yesterday when Captain Gus Olsen sustained a fracture of his right leg when it was caught in the loop of a jib sheet and jammed against a block off Newport, R. I.

Ziggy Sears, umpire in the Texas league, has been elevated to the National league staff and today will start from Dallas to take up his duties. He was an outstanding fielder for Fort Worth from 1920 to 1929, then turned umpire.

MERCER A. C. WINS

The Mercer A. C. defeated the Offutts at Dave's Field in a softball game 13 to 5. The stars of the game were Guido Rozzi, and Vincent. The Mercer A. C. will next play the Division Street A. C. at Dave's Field. The Mercer A. C. handed the Red Sox a 14 to 4 at the B. & O. Field in a league game Thursday morning.

Stock Market Is Dull Today

Stocks Move In Decidedly Dull Trading, Despite Commodity Market Strength

RAIL STOCKS ARE UNDER PRESSURE

(International News Service)

NEW YORK July 20—Stocks moved in decidedly dull trading today.

Despite renewed strength in commodity markets there was no disposition on the part of traders to enter the market on the buying side.

United States steel and other steel shares continued to meet with some offerings and receded fractionally. The selling in U. S. Steel was apparently due to yesterday's disclosure of a rise in floating supply indicating investment selling.

The motor stocks were quiet and dull with both General Motors and Chryslers showing little change.

Allied chemical was a weak spot in the chemical shares losing about two points and influencing the rest of the list lower.

Mining shares which had been under considerable pressure yesterday were quiet and generally steady today.

Particular pressure continued to be exerted on rails with the New York Central, Southern Railway, Atchison and Southern Pacific suffered losses running to half a point.

Utilities continued to mark time in light trading, oils, aviations, specialties showed negligible changes from yesterday's closing.

Germany Faces Choice of Peace or Straitjacket

On iron ring around Nazi Germany is the threat Chancellor Adolf Hitler faces, with a new entente between Great Britain and France forming the strongest links in the chain. In the plan for safeguarding the peace of Europe, Germany is invited to sign with Poland, Russia, Czechoslovakia and the three Baltic powers of Latvia, Esthonia and Lithuania, "a general pledge of mutual assistance against an aggressor." Italy, the only one of the larger powers still outside the chain, is to be visited by French Foreign Minister Louis Barthou who expect Mussolini's support because of Italy's opposition to efforts to force Austria to submit to Nazi domination.

Kirol And Balla Enter Hall Of Fame As Slovaks Defeat Wampum

Kirol and Balla entered the Lawrence County hall of fame last evening at the Wampum field by letting the Wampum team of the American Independent league down without a hit or run. The Slovaks won the game 5 to 2.

Kirol went along smooth up until the sixth inning when he got wild and walked three men, and one man reached first on an error. Balla went to the box with the bases full and none out and permitted just one more run to cross the plate. Kirol fanned five men and Balla whiffed three. Kirol granted six walks. Beatrice pitched a fine game for Wampum, being touched for nine hits, but he fanned seven men.

Wrona was the batting star of the game with three hits, including a triple. Zidow also had a triple. Koszella of the Slovaks played a sensational fielding game in center, making catches of several hard line drives.

This was a league game.

Radiators Trim Ellwood Millers

National Radiators Upset Ellwood City 4 To 0 At Radiator Field

National Radiators handed the Ellwood City Millers a 4 to 0 defeat last night at the Radiator field before a crowd of 1,000 fans. The Rads got to Hauserman in the first inning for three runs, and scored one more in the sixth. Ellwood City would not hit Bonfield when hits meant runs. He held the Millers to seven hits. The Rads only had six hits off of Hauserman and Gallagher.

A single, double, base on balls, and an error gave the Rads three markers in the first inning. Bonfield in addition to pitching a fine game, got his first hit of the season in a league game. Three errors contributed to the downfall of the Millers.

The victory gives the Radiators undisputed possession of first place in the league.

Score by innings: R. H. E.

Stock Market Is Dull Today

Stocks Move In Decidedly Dull Trading, Despite Commodity Market Strength

RAIL STOCKS ARE UNDER PRESSURE

(International News Service)

NEW YORK July 20—Stocks moved in decidedly dull trading today.

Despite renewed strength in commodity markets there was no disposition on the part of traders to enter the market on the buying side.

United States steel and other steel shares continued to meet with some offerings and receded fractionally. The selling in U. S. Steel was apparently due to yesterday's disclosure of a rise in floating supply indicating investment selling.

The motor stocks were quiet and dull with both General Motors and Chryslers showing little change.

Allied chemical was a weak spot in the chemical shares losing about two points and influencing the rest of the list lower.

Mining shares which had been under considerable pressure yesterday were quiet and generally steady today.

Particular pressure continued to be exerted on rails with the New York Central, Southern Railway, Atchison and Southern Pacific suffered losses running to half a point.

Utilities continued to mark time in light trading, oils, aviations, specialties showed negligible changes from yesterday's closing.

Italy, the only one of the larger powers still outside the chain, is to be visited by French Foreign Minister Louis Barthou who expects Mussolini's support because of Italy's opposition to efforts to force Austria to submit to Nazi domination.

SAIL RED IS THE SHADE, MATERIAL IS LINEN

Down to the sea in uncrushable Irish linen in sail red—that's where these young ladies are going, and don't they look smart and gay? The suits consist of shorts with top, jacket and wrap-around skirts, with bright anchor buttons for fastening. Then there's the waterproof beauty kits, covered in sea-green linen fabrikoid and containing sunburn lotion, lipstick, mirror, bathing cap, comb

Report Astor Has Settled $500,000 On His New Bride

By DAVID P. SENTNER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, July 20.—A wise little birdie (a sky blueblood) is chirping that John Jacob Astor, III, has just concluded arrangements for a trust fund of $500,000 for his bride, the former Ellen Tuck French.

This amount is the same young Astor planned to settle on Eileen Gillespie, his first fiancee.

None of those who should know would venture to disagree with the little birdie although they declined to confirm the report.

Settlement Denied.

Francis Ormond French, father of Ellen, today told International News Service via telephone from his home in Dedham, Mass., that he had not heard of such a settlement on his daughter.

The settlement was reported to have been arranged through a New York law firm.

The newlyweds are in New York City after spending their honeymoon in Vancouver and Seattle.

Mrs. Astor's father scoffed at reports that his daughter and husband had cut short their Pacific coast jaunt on account of the strike or for any other reason.

"They only intend to stay out west for ten days or so," French said. "They are planning to return to Newport in a few days where they will remain for the summer."

Christopher Writes From Strike 'Front'

Letter, Dated Before 'Frisco Trouble Ended, Gives Vivid Story

A well known New Castle young man, Charles F. Christopher, experienced the paralyzing effect of San Francisco's general strike a few days ago, it was revealed in a letter received from him today by The News.

Christopher only recently resigned a position as school teacher here to go west.

Written at the height of the strike, Christopher's letter said in part:

"Everyone is feeling the full effect of the strike. People stocked up on foodstuffs but fresh vegetables, fruit and meat are scarce. Only ice, milk and bread are being delivered. All other trucking is at a standstill. Theatres are dark, street cars are not running, taxis are garaged, gasoline stations are closed, restaurants and many other places of business are closed and all construction work has ceased on two immense bridges being built here."

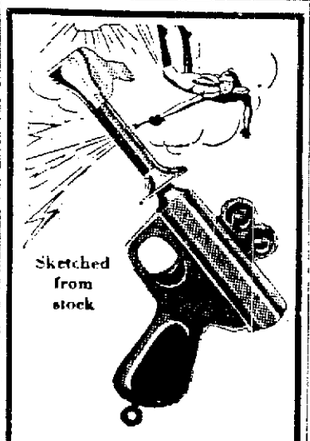

At the time he wrote there were 4,000 National Guardsmen guarding the docks and 1,500 police were on duty downtown 'Frisco.

Woman Dies In Leap From Hotel

Middle Aged Woman Drops From Eighth Floor Of Philadelphia Hotel

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, July 20—Attired only in underclothing, a 55 year old woman leaped or fell to her death today from the eighth floor of a downtown hotel here.

The woman was Mrs. Rebecca String, a notary public employed by an insurance company.

Two weeks ago Mrs. String suffered a stroke and since that time she has been attended by a doctor and nurse. Police expressed the belief illness prompted the woman to end her wife, but a search of her room failed to disclose any note or letter of explanation.

Water Pageant At Y. W. Camp Tonight

Parents, Friends, Will Gather For Final Event At Camp East Brook

At 7:00 o'clock tonight a water pageant, marking the climax and conclusion to twelve days of camping for about a half hundred young girls, will be presented at Camp East Brook for the entertainment of the parents and friends.

All of the girls will take part and the event promises to be interesting and refreshing.

Thursday night a puppet show was enjoyed. The girls had made and dressed all of the puppets and arranged a pretty stage under the supervision of Miss Mary McBride.

Wednesday evening a picnic at the summer home of Mrs. Robert Eckles furnished enjoyment for the girls. They had a hobo hike to the Eckles place and a fine lunch upon arrival.

The campers are busy practicing for tonight's water pageant, for, in addition to the main spectacle there will be numerous demonstrations in swimming in which all will take part.

Two Hundred At Friday Frolic

Boy Scout Troop Has Outdoor Lunch And Entertainment Last Evening

Two hundred people of Mahoningtown bought tickets to the Boy Scout frolic which was held on the lawn of the Madison Avenue Christian church last night and made the affair a success greater than anticipated. A fund large enough to send a group of boys to the Mahoningtown Boy Scout camp along the Hickory Creek next week was secured.

The frolic was an unusually fine one. Drills and demonstrations were given by the scouts during the late afternoon and at about seven o'clock the serving of refreshments was underway. The evening was ideal for such an event and it proved very enjoyable to every person attending.

Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Ramsey and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Ramsey, of near Hershey, Pa., are expected in this vicinity Saturday or Sunday for a week's visit with relatives and friends.

Please Pay!

A number of people are rather careless about paying their newsboy, and it places a hardship on him, as he pays for your paper a week in advance. He is an individual merchant, and is in business for himself.

Class Has Supper In Cascade Grove

A picnic supper was enjoyed by the members of the Sunday School class of the Mahoning M. E. church taught by Mrs. Q. E. Davy, at Cascade Park, Thursday evening.

Fifteen members sat down to the delicious tureen supper at 6 p. m.

Swimming was another enjoyable feature of the evening.

LIGHTS AT COURT

Night horseshoe pitching has been inaugurated at the Madison Avenue courts. Four electric lights have been strung around the two courts and have made it possible to continue interesting games without the aid of the smiling sun.

WORKS MAIL ROUTE

Ernest Clair, of the New Castle postoffice is working the mail route usually covered by W. C. Woods, of the Mahoningtown postoffice. Mr. Woods is taking care of the route usually covered by W. F. Reed, who is enpoying a ten day vacation.

HOMEMADE AUTO

All C. F. Meyers, of near Elkhart, Indiana, had toward an automobile two months ago was an old engine he had picked up for $3.50 from a junk dealer. He tuned the motor up, looked around auto wrecking centers and found a much abused but stubborn chassis. A body was added later and all together the car cost $12.50 minus license plates. Meyers stopped in seventh ward for dinner Thursday whene enroute on a motor trip to Florida.

BREAKFAST AT PARK

Twenty five O. R. C. Auxiliary members and their families gathered for breakfast Thursday morning at Cascade Park. The later hours of the morning were devoted to the playing of games and a number of the picnickers enjoyed swimming in the Park pool.

SEVENTH WARD PERSONALS

Miss Thea Carson, of Wilkinsburg, was a Thursday visitor here.

Gerald Blair, of near Coitsville, spent Thursday afternoon here.

Mr. and Mrs. Cy Goodall, of Pittsburgh, were Wednesday visitors here.

Miss Maryanne Evans, of Pittsburgh, visited relatives in seventh ward Thursday.

W. E. Howard, of this ward, has returned home after a few days at Charleston, W. Va.

Samuel Davy, of North Cedar street, has returned home after a visit in Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio.

Q. E. Davy, who is employed at Cleveland, O., will spend Sunday at his home, North Cedar street.

S. E. Park and Stevie Hutnick, of Cherry street, have returned home from Washington, D. C.

Edward Bevan, who has been spending the summer at Cottage Grove, was in seventh ward Thursday.

Margaret Howard, of this ward, returned home last evening after a visit in Cleveland, O., and Niagara Falls, N. Y.

Mrs. Lena Solomon, of West Madison avenue, recently returned home from Wheeling, W. Va., where she spent a number of weeks as a deputy to the sheriff.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Thompson, of Mt. Jackson, accompanied by their daughter, Miss Sarah Thompson, have returned home from Michigan, where the latter spent a number of weeks at a camp.

LEFT HUGE ESTATE

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, July 20.—A transfer tax appraisal on file today reveals that the estate of Harry Payne Whitney, financier and sportsman, who died October 26, 1930, was valued at $72,740,838 gross and $62,808,829 net at the time of his passing. It was estimated there had been a shrinkage of about 20 per cent in the value of the estate in the last four years.

RUN OVER BY 2 TRAINS

(International News Service)

GLENWOOD SPRINGS, Colo.—An eastbound freight train ran over an unidentified man in the local yards. Paul Limestrom of Pueblo, riding the train, saw the accident and notified Sheriff George Winters. Before the officer could reach the scene, another train, westbound, ran over the body.

RAZE HISTORIC TREE

(International News Service)

BROOKLINE, Mass.—An ash tree, believed to be 200 years old, and which marked the rallying place of Brookline soldiers at the time of the American Revolution, is soon to be removed from its place on land adjoining the first church. City forestry officials decided to raze the tree after discovering a large crack in the ground near its base.

Hannons Defeat Scarazzos 11 To 7

One of the biggest upsets of the softball season to date occurred at the B. & O. Field last night in a postponed game when the Hannons defeated the Scarazzos 11 to 7, with Johnny Roman pitching a fine game, allowing only four hits. He whiffed seven batters. The Hannons found Maiella and Bartlett easy to hit and had 15 safe blows.

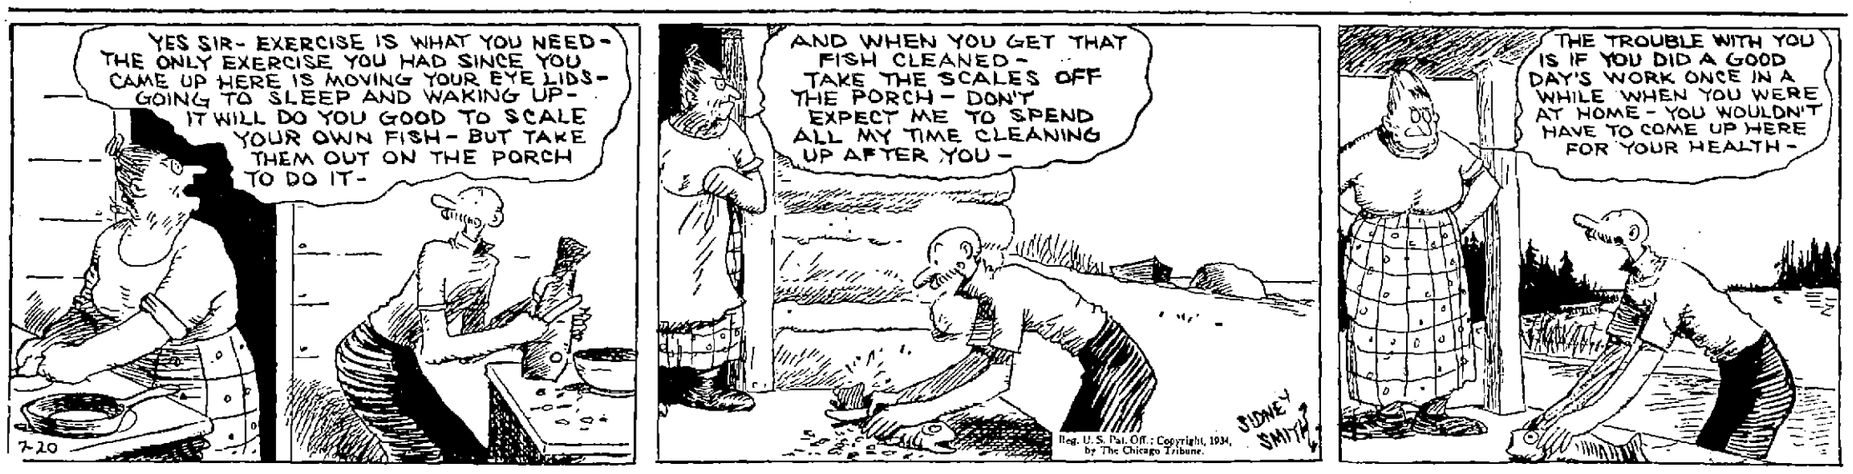

The heaviest hitting was done by Gallagher and A. Bartlett for the winners, the former having a homer with two men on in the final inning. Bartlett and Must came through with timely hits. Goclano had a triple and double to his credit. Tippy Richards featured for the losers with a long triple. Must and Gallagher pulled several sensational fielding plays.

Score by innings:

	R.	H.	E.
Hannons 001 000 316	11	15	2
Scarazzos 000 034 000	7	4	0

Batteries: Scarazzos, Maiella, Bartlett and Richards; Hannons: Roman and Briggs.

Tolan A. C. Tops Grove City 10-0

Tolan A. C. softball team topped the Grove City All-Stars last evening 10 to 0. Rogers held the heavy hitting Grove City team to two hits. He had 15 strikeouts. Engs, Robinson and Webber were the heaviest hitters of the battle. Basham pitched for the Grove Cityians and was found for 11 hits by the Tolans.

The Tolans played a head-up game all the way and were errorless for the evening.

Score by innings: R. H. E.
Tolans .....102 020 050—10 11 0
Grove City ...000 000 000— 0 2 0

Batteries—Grove City, Basham and Hill; Tolans, Rogers and Robinson.

Scientists can now trace almost everything to its beginning except an idle rumor.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Eddie Zivic of Pittsburgh demonstrated his superiority over Joey Costa of New York. He knocked out the easterner in the ninth round. Costa was on the canvas for a count in the fourth round

With rumors permeating the baseball world that Walter Johnson would be let go after the 1934 season President Alva Bradley of the Indians nailed the rumor to the floor by signing Johnson as manager for 1935.

Yankee of Boston, leading aspirant for the defense of the America's cup suffered a severe loss yesterday when Captain Gus Olsen sustained a fracture of his right leg when it was caught in the loop of a jib sheet and jammed against a block off Newport, R. I.

Ziggy Sears, umpire in the Texas league, has been elevated to the National league staff and today will start from Dallas to take up his duties. He was an outstanding fielder for Fort Worth from 1920 to 1929, then turned umpire.

MERCER A. C. WINS

The Mercer A. C. defeated the Offutts at Dave's Field in a softball game 13 to 5. The stars of the game were Guido Rozzi, and Vincent. The Mercer A. C. will next play the Division Street A. C. at Dave's Field. The Mercer A. C. handed the Red Sox a 14 to 4 at the B. & O. Field in a league game Thursday morning.

Report Astor Has Settled $500,000 On His New Bride

By DAVID P. SENTNER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, July 20.—A wise little birdie (a sky blueblood) is chirping that John Jacob Astor, III, has just concluded arrangements for a trust fund of $500,000 for his bride, the former Ellen Tuck French.

This amount is the same young Astor planned to settle on Eileen Gillespie, his first fiancee.

None of those who should know would venture to disagree with the little birdie although they declined to confirm the report.

Settlement Denied.

Francis Ormond French, father of Ellen, today told International News Service via telephone from his home in Dedham, Mass., that he had not heard of such a settlement on his daughter.

The settlement was reported to have been arranged through a New York law firm.

The newlyweds are in New York City after spending their honeymoon in Vancouver and Seattle.

Mrs. Astor's father scoffed at reports that his daughter and husband had cut short their Pacific coast jaunt on account of the strike or for any other reason.

"They only intend to stay out west for ten days or so," French said. "They are planning to return to Newport in a few days where they will remain for the summer."

Christopher Writes From Strike 'Front'

Letter, Dated Before 'Frisco Trouble Ended, Gives Vivid Story

A well known New Castle young man, Charles F. Christopher, experienced the paralyzing effect of San Francisco's general strike a few days ago, it was revealed in a letter received from him today by The News.

Christopher only recently resigned a position as school teacher here to go west.

Written at the height of the strike, Christopher's letter said in part:

"Everyone is feeling the full effect of the strike. People stocked up on foodstuffs but fresh vegetables, fruit and meat are scarce. Only ice, milk and bread are being delivered. All other trucking is at a standstill. Theatres are dark, street cars are not running, taxis are garaged, gasoline stations are closed, restaurants and many other places of business are closed and all construction work has ceased on two immense bridges being built here."

At the time he wrote there were 4,000 National Guardsmen guarding the docks and 1,500 police were on duty downtown 'Frisco.

Woman Dies In Leap From Hotel

Middle Aged Woman Drops From Eighth Floor Of Philadelphia Hotel

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, July 20—Attired only in underclothing, a 55 year old woman leaped or fell to her death today from the eighth floor of a downtown hotel here.

The woman was Mrs. Rebecca String, a notary public employed by an insurance company.

Two weeks ago Mrs. String suffered a stroke and since that time she has been attended by a doctor and nurse. Police expressed the belief illness prompted the woman to end her wife, but a search of her room failed to disclose any note or letter of explanation.

Water Pageant At Y. W. Camp Tonight

Parents, Friends, Will Gather For Final Event At Camp East Brook

At 7:00 o'clock tonight a water pageant, marking the climax and conclusion to twelve days of camping for about a half hundred young girls, will be presented at Camp East Brook for the entertainment of the parents and friends.

All of the girls will take part and the event promises to be interesting and refreshing.

Thursday night a puppet show was enjoyed. The girls had made and dressed all of the puppets and arranged a pretty stage under the supervision of Miss Mary McBride.

Wednesday evening a picnic at the summer home of Mrs. Robert Eckles furnished enjoyment for the girls. They had a hobo hike to the Eckles place and a fine lunch upon arrival.

The campers are busy practicing for tonight's water pageant, for, in addition to the main spectacle there will be numerous demonstrations in swimming in which all will take part.

Two Hundred At Friday Frolic

Boy Scout Troop Has Outdoor Lunch And Entertainment Last Evening

Two hundred people of Mahoningtown bought tickets to the Boy Scout frolic which was held on the lawn of the Madison Avenue Christian church last night and made the affair a success greater than anticipated. A fund large enough to send a group of boys to the Mahoningtown Boy Scout camp along the Hickory Creek next week was secured.

The frolic was an unusually fine one. Drills and demonstrations were given by the scouts during the late afternoon and at about seven o'clock the serving of refreshments was underway. The evening was ideal for such an event and it proved very enjoyable to every person attending.

Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Ramsey and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Ramsey, of near Hershey, Pa., are expected in this vicinity Saturday or Sunday for a week's visit with relatives and friends.

Please Pay!

A number of people are rather careless about paying their newsboy, and it places a hardship on him, as he pays for your paper a week in advance. He is an individual merchant, and is in business for himself.

GLENWOOD SPRINGS, Colo.—An eastbound freight train ran over an unidenified man in the local yards. Paul Limestrom of Pueblo, riding the train, saw the accident and noified Sheriff George Winters. Before the officer could reach the scene, another train, westbound, ran over the body.

RAZE HISTORIC TREE

(International News Service)

BROOKLINE, Mass.—An ash tree, believed to be 200 years old, and which marked the rallying place of Brookline soldiers at the time of the American Revolution, is soon to be removed from its place on land adjoining the first church. City forestry officials decided to raze the tree after discovering a large crack in the ground near its base.

Stock Market Is Dull Today

Stocks Move In Decidedly Dull Trading, Despite Commodity Market Strength

RAIL STOCKS ARE UNDER PRESSURE

(International News Service)

NEW YORK July 20—Stocks moved in decidedly dull trading today.

Despite renewed strength in commodity markets, there was no disposition on the part of traders to enter the market on the buying side.

United States steel and other steel shares continued to meet with some offerings and receded fractionally. The selling in U. S. Steel was apparently due to yesterday's disclosure of a rise in floating supply indicating investment selling.

The motor stocks were quiet and dull with both General Motors and Chryslers showing little change.

Allied chemical was a weak spot in the chemical shares losing about two points and influencing the rest of the list lower.

Mining shares which had been under considerable pressure yesterday were quiet and generally steady today.

Particular pressure continued to be exerted on rails as the New York Central, Southern Railway, Atchison and Southern Pacific suffered losses running to half a point.

Utilities continued to mark time in light trading, oils, aviations, specialties showed negligible changes from yesterday's closing.

POLICE CHIEF'S WIFE SOLAR-PLEXES THIEF

STERLING, Colo.—Add hints to holdups: don't pick on the police chief's wife.

Mrs. H. D. Alford, wife of Sterling's chief of police, was returning from a church meeting when a young man seized a dishpan she was carrying, presumably in the belief that it contained the receipts of a dinner served by a women's organization, and attempted to make off with it. Mrs. Alford struck the thug in the stomach and ran into a nearby house.

Police failed to find the young man.

Germany Faces Choice of Peace or Straitjacket

On iron ring around Nazi Germany is the threat Chancellor Adolf Hitler faces, with a new entente between Great Britain and France forming the strongest links in the chain. In the plan for safeguarding the peace of Europe, Germany is invited to sign with Poland, Russia, Czechoslovakia and the three Baltic powers of Latvia, Esthonia and Lithuania, "a general pledge of mutual assistance against an aggressor." Italy, the only one of the larger powers still outside the chain, is to be visited by French Foreign Minister Louis Barthou who expects Mussolini's support because of Italy's opposition to efforts to force Austria to submit to Nazi domination.

Another Clue On Dillinger Proves False

Chicago Police Called To Y. M. C. A. Where Dillinger Is Supposed To Have Stayed

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, July 20.—Once more John Dillinger (or someone who looks like him) has slipped the police dragnet, it appeared today.

But just why the phantom killer and two of his desperadoes would choose the Lawson branch of the Y. M. C. A. as a stopping place puzzled the police raiders.

On a report that Dillinger, John Hamilton and George "Baby Face" Nelson had registered there, a score of detectives attached to the Dillinger detail closed in.

The police found that the trio fitting descriptions of the Dillingerites had just checked out and had departed in two automobiles, each driven by a woman.

Hosiery Mill To Reopen Monday

Tennessee Mill Will Be Reopened Under Blue Eagle; Idle For Nine Months

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, July 20.—Idle hands of 600 textile workers will return to their machines on Monday under the NRA's Blue Eagle, in the little mill town of Harriman, Tenn.

NRA officials and Harriman representatives reached a settlement of the nine months battle between the hosiery mill and the NRA.

Terms of the settlement were not divulged by the recovery administration, but it was reported that most of the concessions leading to the agreement were made by officials of the hosiery mill.

The Harriman Hosiery Mill has been idle for the past three weeks as the result of the withdrawal of the Blue Eagle. As the result of the withdrawal of the NRA emblem. The company was unable to distribute its goods, and in one instance lost a single order for 3,000 dozen pairs of hose to the state of Pennsylvania.

Held In Violation

The company was held in violation of the wage and hour provisions of the hosiery code, after workers charged discrimination. Several months ago, recovery administrator Hugh S. Johnson ordered the removal of the company's blue eagle. In retaliation, a great proportion of the town's merchants advised Johnson they would surrender their blue eagles. The mill is the largest industry in the community, and as a result of its idleness, the town suffered a severe financial blow.

Steel Industry Rejects Changes

Changes In Code Proposed By General Johnson Are Rejected Today

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, July 20.—The steel industry today rejected the changes of the code proposed by Gen. Hugh S. Johnson relating to the structural steel and fabricating divisions.

The opposition was voiced at the meeting of directors of the American Institute of Steel Construction, which has a membership of 680 firms and employes upwards of 50,000 men.

Many of Gen. Johnson's suggested changes involved labor and pay schedules, and the board in its attack asserted that the "proposed deletion of the provisions of our code relating to erection work would so vitiate practically all the articles and schedules as to render impossible any intelligent interpretation, application or administration."

Gems And Gold Being Smuggled Out Of Germany

(International News Service)

LONDON, July 20.—Gems and gold worth hundreds of thousands of pounds sterling are being smuggled out of Germany, the News Chronicle declared today, quoting an unnamed London broker as saying:

"Rich Germans believe there will be a complete economic collapse followed by a revolution before Christmas."

DR. HEILMAN DIES

Boy Completes "Reading Tour"

One youthful reader at the New Castle free public library's juvenile department has concluded a "summer tour" of book reading. He is Everett Hoffman and has completed the reading of ten recommended books.

Henry Grooms is coming in a close second, having finished the reading of eight books.

RAIN CLOGS SEWER

Street department officials today received several complaints as the result of last night's heavy rainstorm. A sewer at the intersection of East Washington street and Butler avenue clogged and Director B. F. Butler said one or two other complaints as the aftermath of the storm were received.

Gulistan was the most famous work of the Persian poet Sadi.

Hundreds of persons witnessed the burning.

Report Astor Has Settled $500,000 On His New Bride

By DAVID P. SENTNER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, July 20.—A wise little birdie (a sky bluebood) is chirping that John Jacob Astor, III, has just concluded arrangements for a trust fund of $500,000 for his bride, the former Ellen Tuck French.

This amount is the same young Astor planned to settle on Eileen Gillespie, his first fiancee.

None of those who should know would venture to disagree with the little birdie although they declined to confirm the report.

Settlement Denied.

Francis Ormond French, father of Ellen, today told International News Service via telephone from his home in Dedham, Mass., that he had not heard of such a settlement on his daughter.

The settlement was reported to have been arranged through a New York law firm.

The newlyweds are in New York City after spending their honeymoon in Vancouver and Seattle.

Mrs. Astor's father scoffed at reports that his daughter and husband had cut short their Pacific coast jaunt on account of the strike or for any other reason.

"They only intend to stay out west for ten days or so," French said. "They are planning to return to Newport in a few days where they will remain for the summer."

Christopher Writes From Strike 'Front'

Letter, Dated Before 'Frisco Trouble Ended, Gives Vivid Story

A well known New Castle young man, Charles F. Christopher, experienced the paralyzing effect of San Francisco's general strike a few days ago, it was revealed in a letter received from him today by The News.

Christopher only recently resigned a position as school teacher here to go west.

Written at the height of the strike, Christopher's letter said in part:

"Everyone is feeling the full effect of the strike. People stocked up on foodstuffs but fresh vegetables, fruit and meat are scarce. Only ice, milk and bread are being delivered. All other trucking is at a standstill. Theatres are dark, street cars are not running, taxis are garaged, gasoline stations are closed, restaurants and many other places of business are closed and all construction work has ceased on two immense bridges being built here."

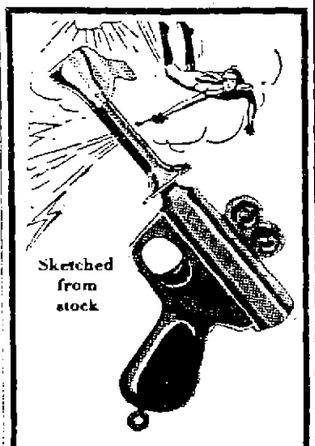

At the time he wrote there were 4,000 National Guardsmen guarding the docks and 1,500 police were on duty downtown 'Frisco.

Woman Dies In Leap From Hotel

Middle Aged Woman Drops From Eighth Floor Of Philadelphia Hotel

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, July 20—Attired only in underclothing, a 55 year old woman leaped or fell to her death today from the eighth floor of a downtown hotel here.

The woman was Mrs. Rebecca String, a notary public employed by an insurance company.

Two weeks ago Mrs. String suffered a stroke and since that time she has been attended by a doctor and nurse. Police expressed the belief illness prompted the woman to end her wife, but a search of her room failed to disclose any note or letter of explanation.

Water Pageant At Y. W. Camp Tonight

Parents, Friends, Will Gather For Final Event At Camp East Brook

At 7:00 o'clock tonight a water pageant, marking the climax and conclusion to twelve days of camping for about a half hundred young girls, will be presented at Camp East Brook for the entertainment of the parents and friends.

All of the girls will take part and the event promises to be interesting and refreshing.

Thursday night a puppet show was enjoyed. The girls had made and dressed all of the puppets and arranged a pretty stage under the supervision of Miss Mary McBride.

Wednesday evening a picnic at the summer home of Mrs. Robert Eckles furnished enjoyment for the girls. They had a hobo hike to the Eckles place and a fine lunch upon arrival.

The campers are busy practicing for tonight's water pageant, for, in addition to the main spectacle there will be numerous demonstrations in swimming in which all will take part.

Two Hundred At Friday Frolic

Boy Scout Troop Has Outdoor Lunch And Entertainment Last Evening

Two hundred people of Mahoningtown bought tickets to the Boy Scout frolic which was held on the lawn of the Madison Avenue Christian church last night and made the affair a success greater than anticipated. A fund large enough to send a group of boys to the Mahoningtown Boy Scout camp along the Hickory Creek next week was secured.

The frolic was an unusually fine one. Drills and demonstrations were given by the scouts during the late afternoon and at about seven o'clock the serving of refreshments was underway. The evening was ideal for such an event and it proved very enjoyable to every person attending.

Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Ramsey and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Ramsey, of near Hershey, Pa., are expected in this vicinity Saturday or Sunday for a week's visit with relatives and friends.

Please Pay!

A number of people are rather careless about paying their newsboy, and it places a hardship on him, as he pays for your paper a week in advance. He is an individual merchant, and is in business for himself.
